The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, MAY 5, 1871.

THE Ku-Klux legislation of Congress and President Grant's announced determination to act upon it, are said to have already operated very beneficially in the South, the democrats in many parts having concluded that they had better carry out the laws themselves than to have the general government do it. The moral effect of the passage of the Ku-Klux bill is immense, and the knowledge that the President has been fully empowered to use the military if necessary to enforce the laws, will probably do away with all necessity for their use. The tax-payers of South Carolina are to hold a convention Tuesday, May 9, to devise some plan of conciliation that will bring harmony to that State. The plan proposed is understood to be, first, a stoppage of the Ku-Klux outrages; second, the removal by the Governor of incompetent officials; third, that an effort shall be made to secure a law, providing for minority representation by a system of cumulative voting; fourth, a rigid economy in the management of the finances of the State.

THE Biddeford Democrat says a somewhat curious accident occured on Factory Island, on the 22d ult. A man was riding through the covered bridge from the west to the east side, when the horse becoming unmanageable, ran off towards the wharf. As they reached the canal the driver managed to rein up the horse a little, but by so doing upset the wagon, throwing the man completely through through Cutter's coal office door which was closed and locked. The man was more frightened than hurt.

THE coin balance on hand in the U. S. Treasury is $106,000,000, or $12,000,000 more than the liabilities which the Treasurer may be called upon to meet any day. As fast as the five-twenty bonds are purchased by the treasury they are immediately destroyed, and the interest does not accumulate, assupposed. Not only are these bonds destroyed, but the plates from which they were printed have also been destroyed, making it beyond the control of the department to again issue them.

SOME of the southern democratic editors are earnestly advocating new immigration from the North. Are "carpet-baggers" for Ku-Kluxing getting scarce in that quarter? If the southerners really want northern men to help them regain the lost prosperity of their section of the Union, they must do something else than shoot and hang them for being "carpet-baggers" when they come there.

A dentist on trial in Lockport, Connecticut, on a suit for damages for injuries done a boy ten years of age by the use of laughing gas. It is charged that he gave assurances that the gas, which was administered in January, was harmless, and that, on the contrary since that time the boy suffered from fits and a kind of dementia, as a direct consequence of its use.

A special election in Lewiston, Me., for an alderman in place of a Democrat in Ward 6, resigned, resulted in the choice of a Republican by 27 majority. This election changes the political character of the board of aldermen, making it Republican.

ANNA A. Pomeroy, wife of "Brick" Pomeroy, has had a divorce granted her and $20,000 alimony by the Milwaukee circuit court. Wonder how "Brick" feels now when Saturday nights come around?

THE Pullman cars at the Eastern Railroad Station at Boston are palatial, and are daily visited by many admirers of their arrangements for the comfort of the Bangor travellers.

MR. David Harrington, aged 75 years, was instantly killed at Oak Hill Station, Brunswick, while attempting to put the mail bag into the cars, being struck by a car.

THE Connecticut legislature has adjourned to May 10th to await the report of the committee appointed to examine into the errors at New Haven, Cheshire and Enfield.

THE Eastern Railroad Station at Beverly is being raised; some persons think such a dark structure ought to be razed.

THE Chicago Mail favors the nomination of Secretary Boutwell as the Republican candidate for President.

SACO people take more books from Biddeford's public library than Biddeford people do.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

THE officers of the Nashua, Acton & Boston R. R. are sending circulars over the country inviting subscriptions to the stock in their road as the road is only chartered in Massachusetts, and can have no legal existence in New Hampshire, till chartered in this State next June by the Legislature. The managers may be said to be running the thing at least fully up to time.

The old 3d regiment will have a reunion at Hampton Beach, Sept. 6 and 7.

The Dover Enquirer contradicts the statement which we copied from another paper that Mrs. M. M. Ricker of Dover has sued the Selectmen of Ward 3 for refusing her ballot at the late election.

LONDON papers report that "M. Thiers has received petitions bearing the signatures of a great number of Belgian Catholics, requesting French intervention for the maintenance of the temporal power of the Pope." This request seems more like a huge joke than anything else, in view of the fact that France is having plenty of work to do in maintaining her own "temporal power." It is hard to tell whether the assembly at Versailles is the government, or whether "Paris is France," as it claims to be; the Communal disturbance has been in progress more than a month, and though always on the point of being crushed by the Versaillists, manifests far more vitality and much less bloodthirsty ferocity than was anticipated. It is doubtful if either party can whip the other, and the only prospect of immediate peace is found in the German threats to interfere—for if those old Dutchmen have to commence fighting again, they will conquer a peace, sure.

THE contributions to the proposed Museum of Fine Arts in Boston are being made from various professions and occupations in the modern Athens already. A daily paper says "some" one hundred and fifty gentlemen assembled, passing an evening of rare literary entertainment this week, where Fields, Whipple and others spoke. The paper adds "the occasion was of unusual interest, both on account of the excellence of the addresses and the presence of many of the magnates of the shoe and leather interest." It is to be inferred that if the "magnates" have taken steps to insure the raising of funds for the institution, the success may be regarded as on a sound footing.

SINNERS.—Parson O. used to tell the following story with evident relish. As was the custom in those days, he had taken into his family a poor lad as "chore boy." It occurred to him, one day, that he ought to interest himself in the lad's welfare. Acting upon the thought, he at once called him into the study, and with visage solemnly composed, according to the pattern then desirable when religion was the topic, addressed the urchin as follows:—

"Sam, do you know you are a sinner?"

"Yes," falteringly replied Sam.

"Do you know what will become of you, if you do not repent?"

Receiving no coherent reply, he launched into repentance and redemption, encouraged by the evident impression made by his words, and feeling no small compunction, the while, that he had so long neglected a "subject of grace" so promising.

At last a vacant and wandering look roused a sudden suspicion, to verify which he inquired:—

"Sam, what is a sinner?"

Imagine the situation when the "subject of grace" promptly responded:—

"Sinner, sir? Yes, sir; sinners is strings in turkey's legs, sir."

The sinews of the parson's face relaxed.

—The Columbia river of Oregon is magnificent. A correspondent says: I have followed it 350 miles from its mouth, and struck it again at a distance of nearly 800 miles, and it is beautiful everywhere. In years to come it will be the bourne of many a pilgrim worshipping at the altar of nature. Its entrance, eight miles in width, is guarded by batteries at Fort Stevens and Cape Disappointment, the last named a rugged and rock-bound promontory. I have seen the breakers dash forty feet upward against its perpendicular sides. On its summit is a light-house with its huge lantern 300 feet above the sea, to warn the benighted mariner of the shoals that stretch nearly across. Eight miles to the south, directly across the entrance, lies Fort Stevens, on a level plain. Here the flowers bloom winter and summer in 46 10 north latitude. To the east stretches the broad river, or, more properly speaking, the bay, visible for 18 miles, with the historic village of Astoria plainly in sight. To the west rolls the vast, illimitable ocean, 6,000 miles, without an island or a rock, the earth's convexity shutting out the view of Yeddo and Hakodadi.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

We should not hesitate to recommend to any friend of ours, Parsons' Purgative Pills; they are scientifically prepared and are adapted to all the purposes of a good purgative medicine.

Decidedly the best remedy that has ever been discovered for rheumatism, swollen or stiff joints, flesh wounds, sprains, bruises, cuts and burns, is Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. We use it and always recommend it to our friends. ap29

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Preventive Medication.

A radical change has been introduced in the practice of medicine. Physicians have ceased to torture and prostrate their patients. Instead of pulling down, they build up; instead of assaulting nature, they assist her. Capping, leeching, blistering, venesection, calomel, antimony, stupifying narcotics and rasping purgatives, once the favorite resources of the faculty, are now rarely resorted to even by the most dogmatic members of the profession. The old creed was that disease was something which must be expelled by violent artificial means, irrespective of the wear and tear of the vital organization in the process. The new creed recognizes the improvement of the general health as essential to the cure of all local ailments. Hence it is that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the most potent vegetable tonic that pharmacy has ever brought to the assistance of nature in her struggles with disease, has been cordially approved by practitioners of the modern school. It is pleasant to reflect that reason and philosophy have at last been victorious over the errors of the past, and that thousands and tens of thousands, of human beings are alive and well to-day who would indubitably be mouldering in their graves had they been subjected to the pains and penalties which were deemed orthodox and indispensable thirty or forty years ago.

Preventive medication was scarcely thought of then; but now it is considered of paramount importance, and the celebrity of the standard invigorant, alterative and restorative of the age, (a title which Hostetter's Bitters have fairly earned by their long career of success,) is mainly due to its efficiency as a protective preparation.

A course of the Bitters is urgently recommended as a safe and certain antidote to intermittent and remittent fevers, diarrhœa, dysentery and other maladies.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

New Advertisements to-day.

Body Found.

It is reported that Capt. Albert Rand of this city has purchased the steam tug Clara Bateman for $4000.

It is urged by the friends of annexation of Newcastle that the Portsmouth people can have the benefit of the Public Library at Newcastle, which is likely to come into existence before ours sees light.

The dead body of an unknown man has been washed ashore in Newington. An advertisement in another column, containing a list of articles found in his pockets, will probably lead to identification by his friends.

A correspondent maintains that travellers on Middle Street are hopeful of repairs upon that avenue the present season, unless prevented by the modesty of the Mayor and prominent Aldermen who reside upon the street, who might insist upon attending to others before their own thoroughfare, which needs so much looking after.

The largest school of whales ever seen in this vicinity appeared off the Shoals on Wednesday. A fisherman reports that a whale, 50 feet in length, came up within ten feet of his boat. From Boon Island to Duck Island schools of herring were as thick as blackberries. It is reported that the whales are commissioned by lobbyists to spout against the laying of the submarine cable from the Shoals to this city, and that they have been buttonholing the herring to assist in defeating the common enemy. As the whales seldom open their mouths for nothing, it is evident they are well paid. At last accounts they were still off their stamping grounds, awaiting the report of a delegation of herring, now consulting the lobsters in the lower harbor.

P. S.—The lobsters have assented, being s(h)ellfish, and agree to draw the electricity from the wire after it is laid, but it is reported that the clams have rejected a proposition to join hands with them, as they anticipate the laying of the cable will be beneficial to them by making the water higher, that they may be happier and live less in the mud. On the reception of the clam report, old Nep's ambassadors put to sea in disgust, swallowing the herring by thousands, because of the total failure of the negotiations.

SCHOONER Nellie Staples, which went ashore on Race Point last autumn, laid there all winter, was got off this spring and taken into Provincetown, left that place April 28, badly hogged and leaking 1500 strokes per hour,—filled and capsized the same evening when about thirty miles from Highland, was abandoned by her crew and afterwards fallen in with and stripped by another vessel. On the morning of May 2d the drifting wreck was found by schooner Sahwa, Capt. Kelly, of Jonesport, about eighty miles southeast from Thacher's Island, and taken in tow, the two vessels arriving off this harbor on the evening of the 3d. The U. S. relief steamer Speedwell was sent for, and brought them up to Pier Wharf on Thursday morning.

The Nellie Staples was a handsome three-masted schooner, about two years old, but has been called "unlucky" by sailors ever since her launch. Her second trip, we are informed, was to this port with coal for the Navy Yard, on which occasion she parted her anchor chains and was near going through the boat house at the Yard, scraping it hard enough to knock off a few clapboards. Since then she has met with various slight mishaps, winding up by getting ashore on Cape Cod and finally being abandoned at sea. Her owner, Mr. Staples, was on board during her last unfortunate trip, and being very fleshy and unable to extricate himself from the wreck, was drowned when she went over.

The wreckers who stripped the vessel made very clean work of it, removing everything but her windlass and masts — and the latter were cut away and the movable gear of the former taken—the capstan on the forecastle being cut around and removed. As she laid at the wharf Thursday morning, full of water, with masts broken, decks cut and torn up and butts open, she did not look to be worth much money. Capt. Kelly, of the Sahwa, thinks the body of Mr. Staples is yet in the schooner, and search is to be made for it as soon as practicable.

The Kentucky Democrats have nominated P. H. Leslie, who had 638 votes on the 6th ballot and J. Proctor Knott 432.

A $1,200,000 fund has been discovered in the revenue department at Baltimore.

OUT OF THE OLD HOUSE, NANCY.

BY WILL. M. CARLETON.

Out of the old house, Nancy—moved up into the new;
All the hurry and worry are just as good as through.
Only a bounden duty remains for you and I,
And that's to stand on the doorstep here, and bid the old house good-bye.

What a shell we've lived in these nineteen or twenty years!
Wonder it hadn't smashed in and tumbled about our ears;
Wonder it's stuck together and answered till today,
But every individual log was put up here to stay.

Things looked rather new, though, when this old house was built,
And things that blossomed, you would have made some women wilt;
And every other day, then, as sure as day would break,
My neighbor Ager come this way, invitin' me to "shake."

And you for want of neighbors was sometimes blue and sad,
For wolves and bears and wild cats were the nearest ones you had;
But lookin' ahead to the clearin' we worked with all our might,
Until we was fairly out of the woods, and things were goin' right.

Look up there at our new house!—ain't it a thing to see.
Tall and big and handsome, and now as new can be.

All in apple-pie order, especially the shelves,
And never a debt to say but what we own it all ourselves.

Look at our old log house—how little it now appears!
But it's never gone back on us for nineteen or twenty years;
An' I won't go back on it now, or go to pokin' fun,
There's such a thing as praising a thing for the good that it has done.

Probably you remember how rich we was that night,
When we was fairly settled, an' had things snug and tight.
We feel as proud as you please, Nancy, over our house that's now;
But we felt as proud under this old roof, and a good deal prouder, too.

Never a handsomer house was seen beneath the sun,
Kitchen and parlor and bedroom—we had 'em all in one;
And the fat old wooden clock that we bought when we come West
Was tickin' away in the corner, there, an' doin' its level best.

Trees were all around us, a whisperin' cheerin' words,
Loud was the squirrel's chatter, and sweet the songs of birds;
And home grew sweeter and brighter—our courage began to mount—
And things looked hearty and happy, then, and work appeared to count.

And here one night it happened, when things were going on bad,
We fell in a deep old quarrel—the first we ever had;
And when you give out and cried, then I like a fool give in,
An' then we agreed to rub all out, and start the thing up in.

Here it was, you remember, we sat when the day was done,
And you was a makin' clothing that wasn't for either one;
And often a soft word of love I was soft enough to say,
And the wolves were howlin' I was soft enough to stay,
Until the wolves were howlin' in the woods not twenty rods away.

Then our first-born baby—a regular little joy,
Though I fretted a little, because it wasn't a boy;
Wasn't she a little flirt, though, with all her pouts and smiles?
Why, settlers come, to see that show, a half-a-dozen miles.

Yonder sat the cradle,—a homely, home-made thing,
And many a night I rocked it, providin' you would sing;
And many a little squatter brought up with us to stay,
And so that cradle, for many a year, was never put away.

How they kept a comin'! so cunnin' and fat and small!
How they crowed! t'was a wonder how we found room for 'em all;
But though the house was crowded, it empty seemed that day,
When Jennie lay by the fire-place there an' moaned her life away.

And right in there the preacher with Bible and hymn-book stood,
"Twixt the dead and the living," and "hoped 'twould do us good;"
And the little white-wood coffin on the table there was set.
And now, as I rub my eyes, it seems as if I could see it yet.

Then, that fit of sickness it brought on you, you know;
Just by a thread you hung, and you e'en a'most let go;
And here is the spot I tumbled, an' give the Lord his due,
When the doctor said the fever'd turned, an' he could fetch you through.

Yes, a deal has happened to make this old house dear—
Christenin's, funerals, wedding's—what haven't we had here?
Not a log in this buildin' but its memories has got,
And not a nail in this old floor but touches a tender spot.

Out of the old house, Nancy—moved up into the new;
All the hurry and worry is just as good as thro';
But I tell you a right thing here that I ain't ashamed to say,
There's precious things in this old house we never can take away.

Here the old house will stand, but not as it stood before;
Winds will whistle through it and rains will flood the floor.
And over the hearth, once blazing, the snow-drifts off will pile,
And the old thing will seem to be mournin' all the while.

Fare you well, old house! you're nought that can feel or see,
But you seem like a human being—a dear old friend, to me;
And we never will have a better home, if my opinion stands,
Until we commence a keepin' house in the house not made with hands.

Consumption,

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE.

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would have lived.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid this is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The fact that he can cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-asserting, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the defiled citadel of the mortal is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the rationale of cure, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophyllum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsibly, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent Father to suffering mankind. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the blood. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten tissue that it compelled is removed and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or care cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this season of the year and in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet: they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pain and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 12 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are found to be in necessary excess; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them. First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the depuating at once be of good choice. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in time of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a specific, a moral preventive against consumption in any of its forms. Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

7-30 GOLD LOAN

—OF THE—

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

RAPID PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

The building of the Northern Pacific Railroad, (begun July last,) is being pushed forward with great energy from both extremities of the line. Several thousand men are employed in Minnesota and on the Pacific coast. The grade is nearly completed 246 miles westward from Lake Superior; trains are running over 130 miles of finished road, and track-laying is rapidly progressing toward the eastern border of Dakota. Including its purchase of the St. Paul & Pacific Road, the Northern Pacific Company now has 413 miles of completed road, and by September next this will be increased to at least 560.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.—Jay Cooke & Co. are now selling and unhesitatingly recommend, as a Profitable and perfectly Safe investment, the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They have 30 years to run, bear Seven and Three-Tenths' per cent. gold interest (more than 8 per cent. currency) and are secured by first and only mortgage on the ENTIRE ROAD AND ITS EQUIPMENTS and also, as fast as the Road is completed, on 23,000 ACRES OF LAND to every mile of track, or 300 Acres for each $1,000 Bond. They are exempt from U. S. Tax; Principal and Interest are payable in Gold; Denominations; Coupons, $100 to $1,000; Registered, $100 to $10,000.

LAND FOR GOLD BONDS.—Northern Pacific 7-30's are at all times receivable at TEN PER CENT. ABOVE PAR, in exchange for the Company's Lands, at their lowest cash price. This renders them practically INTEREST BEARING LAND WARRANTS.

SINKING FUNDS.—The proceeds of all sales of Lands are required to be devoted to the re-purchase and cancellation of the First Mortgage Bonds of the Company. The Land Grant of the Road exceeds Fifty Million Acres. This immense Land Grant with undoubtedly enhance the principal of the Company's bonded debt before it falls due. With their ample security and high rate of interest, there is no investment, accessible to the people, which is more PROFITABLE OR SAFE.

EXCHANGING U. S. FIVE-TWENTIES.—The success of the New Government 5 per cent. Loan will compel the early surrender of United States 6 per cents. Many holders of Five-Twenties are now exchanging them for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties, this realizing a handsome profit and greatly increasing their yearly income.

OTHER SECURITIES.—All marketable Stocks and Bonds will be received at their highest current price in exchange for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties. EXPRESS CHARGES on Money or Bonds received and on Seven-Thirties sent in return, will be paid by the Financial Agents. Full information, maps, pamphlets, etc., can be obtained on application at any agency, or from the undersigned. For sale by

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market 90 price—and placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. f24dWaS

PRACTICAL APPLICATION OF

HAMLET'S SOLILOQUY.

To insure or not to insure? That is the question.
Whether t'will be nobler for my family to suffer
The stings and arrows of outrageous fortune
Or take a policy against those dangers,
And, by insuring, end them? To fret, to fear,
No more; and by a policy to end
The heartache and the thousand natural shocks
That flesh is heir to. Yes, my application 's
Devoutly to be wished; apply, insure,
To pay the premium: ay—there's the rub
For in that time what premiums may come
Before I shuffle off this mortal coil
Does make me pause, tightens my purse,
And makes me rather pay the bills I have
Than fly to others I know not of.
Thus does meanness make brutes of us all.

plant his standard over the city of New York, and dictate terms to the people of the North. Inspired with this hope, Longstreet's splendid crops was brought up from Suffolk and added to Lee's army, swelling it to about 90,000 men. With this great army, flushed with recent victory, Lee struck his tents and started upon his great offensive campaign. Swiftly marching through Culpepper he crossed the Blue Ridge Mountains, and massed in the valley beyond. Then sending his cavalry under Stuart, Hampton, and Fitz Lee, through Ashby's Gap, as a feint on Washington, and to delay the Army of the Potomac, his heavy columns again moved out in rapid march for the upper fords of the Potomac.

Ewell's corps, far in advance, soon reached Pennsylvania, and on the 24th of June the two corps of Hill and Longstreet reached Hagerstown—thus giving Lee, with the troops he had picked up along the valley, over 100,000 men. Hooker's army numbered less than 80,000. Up to this time Lee's invasion had been a most complete success; but as yet he had met with little or no opposition. Mountain ranges concealed his grand movements, while his cavalry and detached divisions of infantry spread terror and ruin in all directions. On the 29th, while the corps of Hill and Longstreet were at Chambersburg—west of Gettysburg—Ewell's corps at York, Jenkins' Rebel brigade in sight of Harrisburg, and rebel cavalry near Baltimore—Lee heard for the first time that the Army of the Potomac had reached Frederick City, and was marching to strike him in flank. He instantly started the corps of Hill and Longstreet towards Gettysburg to meet the Army of the Potomac, and sent couriers after Ewell with orders to return to the same spot.

Lee's real objective point is, I believe, as yet unknown—yet there can be no doubt that his great desire was to meet and dispose of the Army of the Potomac first, and then let circumstances determine his future movements. Not only do these orders of Lee to his troops indicate a previous design on his part to fight the Army of the Potomac at Gettysburg, but if the reader will place one point of a pair of dividers at Gettysburg on the map, and make a circle with a radius of the distance to York, it will be found that all of Lee's columns were within this small circle on the 29th of June, when the Union Army first drew near him; showing that Lee had chosen the rugged country about Gettysburg as the spot on which he could most quickly mass his forces for battle.

Gen. Imboden says in his article that "Gen. Lee's opinion was that he lost the battle because Pickett was not supported as he was to have been," referring of course to the last great charge on the 3d of July. The truth is, Lee lost the battle because he was compelled to give battle to the Army of the Potomac, when he intended to conduct his march in such a manner that he could concentrate all his forces at any moment to be in position, selected by himself, to receive battle; for although he knew that he outnumbered our army by many thousand men, yet he knew also by sad experience that he could not give open battle to the army of the Potomac. On the first of July, while the corps of the Union army were all swiftly marching on the different roads, Buford's cavalry, which had passed through Gettysburg, going West on the Chambersburg pike, met the rebel corps of Hill and instantly gave battle. Dismounting his carbineers, the gallant Buford fought desperately, disputing the ground inch by inch with the advancing rebels, who swung line after line of infantry upon his flanks, and pressed resistlessly on the centre with troops in column and batteries of artillery. The heroic Reynolds, with the First Corps, hastened on towards the rear of Buford's battle, and, dashing through Gettysburg, met the exultant rebels on Seminary Ridge beyond, and threw his veterans against the overwhelming odds. Scarcely had the battle opened when Reynolds, far in advance, was killed by a discharge of musketry, and Doubleday took command.

Let the reader imagine a broad turnpike running straight westward from Gettysburg across an open country slightly rolling, with rich farms, orchards and scattered groves. Two miles beyond Gettysburg, on this highway, the first corps is stretched across the pike and fields along a little ridge, desperately fighting twice its numbers in the heat and dust of a July day. Noon comes and passes, with no help for the Spartan band, and the rebel lines are steadily swinging farther and farther around the First corps' flank, when, at one o'clock, Howard arrives. Barlow's and Schurz's division dash into line on the right of the First corps. Steinwehr's division halts on Cemetery Ridge. Until nearly four o'clock the decimated divisions struggle against Hill's 16,000 men, and not until the corps of Ewell came in from York and struck our heroic troops in flank and rear, did they yield the field. There were now 40,000 rebels against less than 15,000 of our men, and soon the hard-pressed lines gave way, and finally broke into retreat and rushed tumultuously back through the town; but just as all hope seemed lost, the guns on Cemetery Ridge blazed forth, checked the wild pursuit and enabled the weary columns to reform.

The losses had been awful. The Iron Brigade which went into action in the morning with over 1,800 men, reached Cemetery Ridge with only 700; and the brigade at its side which counted 1,500 at noon, lost 1,380 before the sun went down. The rebel General Hill, who had been ordered by Lee to take and hold the Ridge at all hazards, amazed at the splendid fighting of our handful of brave men, made no further efforts to carry the chosen position, and thus lost to Lee the battle line of Gettysburg. All the next day he made desperate efforts to seize the decisive points in our line, but was everywhere met and hurled back; and the morning of the 2d of July found the two great armies facing each other across an extended plain covered with heaps of dead and wounded, swollen and blackening in the hot Summer sun.

Concluded in our next.

THE census often shows the drift of farm-life more accurately than any partial observation, however minute. It is quite clear, from the returns already examined, that there is a decrease in the amount of live-stock in the New England and Middle States during the past decade, and likewise a decrease in the yield of staple grains, while there will be shown a large increase in crops of vegetables and in garden products. This shows pretty conclusively that grain-farming and live-stock raising, does not pay so well as some other branches of farming. The city and village population has increased, and the farmers in the immediate vicinity of these large towns are turning their attention more and more to supplying their daily wants. They can sell potatoes and turnips every day in the year if they have them, and garden products all through the summer and fall. There is, however, a brisk demand for poultry, eggs, milk, calves, lambs and swine, and they very properly raise what the market demands.

—Two gentlemen in St. Joseph, Mo., one a farmer and the other a miller, both Hixites, got into a discussion the other day as to the relative merit of their-teams, and their power to pull heavy loads. It was contrary to Quaker discipline to bet on results, and so they got around it in this wise:—The farmer said to the miller, "Thomas, if thee will pull with thy two ponies 76 bushels of wheat from farm to mill, doing the work on the square, I will give thee a dollar and a half a bushel, which is three prices." To which the miller responded, in nothing loth, not less decorous phrase. "If I do not do it, Thomas, I will charge thee nothing." The contest came off and the miller won.

These are, beyond all comparison, the most extraordinary works on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the MARRIED OR BEFORE OF EITHER SEX, can ever require or wish to know, but what is fully explained, and many matters of the most important and interesting character are introduced to which no allusion even can be found in any other works in our language. All the NEW DISCOVERIES of the author, whose experience is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any man, are given in full. No person should be without these valuable books.

VALUABLE BOOKS.—We have now of the valuable medical works published by the Peabody Medical Institute. These books are of actual merit, and should find a place in every intelligent family. They are not the cheap order of abominable trash, published by irresponsible parties, and purchased to gratify coarse tastes, but are written by a responsible professional gentleman of eminence, as a source of in-truction on vital matters, concerning which lamentable ignorance exists. The important subjects presented are treated with delicacy, ability and care, and, as an appendix, many useful prescriptions for prevailing complaints are added."—Coos Republican, Lancaster, N. H.

"The author of these books is one of the most learned and popular physicians of the day, and is entitled to the gratitude of our race for these productions. It seems to be his aim to induce men and women to avoid the cause of those diseases to which they are subject, and he tells them how to avoid them and when to do it."—Chronicle, Farmington, Maine, Sept. 7, 1869.

N. B. The Author of the above-named medical works is the Chief Consulting Physician of the Peabody Medical Institute, and is so constantly employed in consultation with invalids from all parts of the country, that he has no time to attend to mere business details. Therefore all letters should be addressed to the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, or to Dr. W. H. "I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY: Your success for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. "LEE AT GETTYSBURG."

BY GEN. KILPATRICK.

Concluded.

On the evening of the second, just after the Sixth corps had so magnificently repulsed the last desperate charge of the enemy at Round Top, Meade gathered his Generals about him and the anxious inquiry was, "what shall we do now?" And yet nobody knew whether the whole of the rebel army was in our front or not, and it was said that while Hill and Longstreet's corps were holding the army of the Potomac at Gettysburg, Ewell, with Stonewall Jackson's famous flanking corps, was marching past our right and rear upon Baltimore and Washington; and had General Lee been the great General his friends would have the world believe, that is just what he would have done. Had he done so the army of the Potomac would have had no alternative but to fall back, and that, with the acknowledgement of defeat and prospect of utter ruin. No one felt like sleeping that night, and while general headquarters were busy planning for the coming morrow, the Secret Service department was closely examining every prisoner brought in, for information from the enemy. About nine o'clock a fresh squad of prisoners was brought in from the front, and as one of Gen. Sharpe's staff was questioning them, the General suddenly started up, exclaiming:

"Why, that man's regiment is in Ewell's corps. Prisoner, what's your brigade?"

"Hay's Louisana Brigade," replied the man.

"Whose division?"

"Gen. Early's."

"I told you so," cried Sharpe, to the group of others about him; "Ewell is here, the whole rebel army is in our front, and I am off to tell Gen. Meade;" and springing upon his horse he galloped away to headquarters. Other prisoners confirmed the story, and that information removing all thought of falling back, daylight found our lines all strengthened, and resolved to fight it out then and there.

All are familiar with the great battle of the next and the last day. Had I time, I should like to describe fully the scene as it appeared on that July day. What a picture might be drawn! The groups of rebel horseman beyond the valley—evidently officers studying our positions; white-topped wagon trains far beyond the openings in the woods, moving slowly along; the bands playing among the troops, and everybody wondering if there would be another fight. Then the signal of attack, the terrible artillery fire, the splendid advance of the rebel columns, the magnificent cavalry engagements on the right, between Custer, and Gregg, and Hampton; the desperate charges of the old Third Cavalry Division, and the Regular brigade on the flank of Longstreet's charging columns, (although Gen. Imboden says in his article that no cavalry attack was made upon the flanks,) and the final repulse and defeat of the rebel army—all this I should like to give in detail—but I must hurry on over the mountains to Hagerstown and Williamsport, where General Imboden with 2,100 men saved the rebel army and Richmond to the Confederacy for a year or two longer.

The next day Lee gathered his shattered army about him and started for the Potomac. At daylight on the morning of the 4th, I received a communication from Gen. Pleasanton, complimenting, in the name of General Meade, the cavalry under my command, for its daring and successful operations on the enemy's right flank, at the critical moment of the great attack of the day before. With this came an order directing me to march with all haste across the mountains and strike the foe, routed now in full retreat, in flank, and rear—burn bridges, obstruct the roads, and delay his march at all hazards. Generals Meade's and Pleasonton's grateful acknowledgements of duty nobly done by the cavalry, was received by those tired troopers with the wildest demonstrations, and forgetting the hardships of the last six days and nights of incessant battle and marches they hailed with delight the bugle's call, and in less than twenty minutes were off on their rapid march.

At Emmetsburg, a brigade from Greggs' Division joined us, giving me three brigades and sixteen pieces of artillery.

Here we heard that a large wagon train, guarded by cavalry, was passing over the mountain from Gettysburg, to my right. I had intended to pass further down along the eastern side of the mountain and cross opposite Smoketown, and place my command in front, on the line of the rebel retreat. But now satisfied that it was too late, I determined to strike the train at the nearest point—so turning sharp to the right, off we dashed, and in less than an hour were rapidly marching up the narrow mountain road.

Night had now come on, and I began to realize for the first time the perilous task before us; we were upon a narrow, winding road— but two horsemen could ride abreast—steep acclivities rose up

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, MAY 6, 1871.

THE President has issued a proclamation calling on the people of the South to prevent, so far as it is in their power, any continuance of the Ku-Klux outrages, and warning them that, if necessary, he will exhaust the power given him by Congress to protect loyal men everywhere. We give it in full in another column. The tone is both conciliatory and warning, urging the local authorities everywhere to enforce the law themselves, failing which the national power will do it. Temperate and firm, there is in the proclamation no trace of the "military usurper and tyrant," nor of the vacillating politician; and it will do more towards restoring peace and prosperity to the South than a thousand tirades on the "unconstitutionality of the reconstruction acts" could effect.

THE Kentucky Democrats have just got through with their State Convention. They "resolved" that the present mode of raising revenue ought to be abolished, and "that the preservation of liberty is possible only through the States;" they "endorse" (but do not explain) that wondrously muddy document, "the address of the democratic members of Congress," and sing the good old song they have sung so many times before, about "unconstitutional" and "despotic power," and the loveliness of State Sovereignty. But the most surprising "resolution" they made was, that "Kentucky is unalterably opposed to every form of lawlessness, whether committed under cover of unconstitutional enactments or organized bands," and pledging the Kentucky democracy to use every legal means to put down lawlessness by organized bands, and "furnish protection to life, liberty and property under laws enacted by our own legislature and administered by our own courts." Actions speak louder than words; and the punishment of a few score of the Ku-Klux assassins and outlaws by the Kentucky courts would be a much more convincing proof of the desire to have peace than the passage of high sounding resolutions by a copperhead convention. They don't like the enforcement act, that's certain.

CONNECTICUT.—The legislative committee on the canvass of votes examined the ballot-box at Enfield on the 4th. The evidence previously taken showed that 24 more votes were declared than there were names checked on the list. Both parties believed there was error in the count. The ballot-box was sealed at the close of the count. On opening the ballot-box, the legislative committee found one package of votes for the democratic State ticket which had been called off to the tally-man, election day, as containing 96 votes. It really contained only 76 votes. This mistake occurred by the manner in which the figures indorsed on the package were made. The 7 was rounded at the top, so that by turning the figures bottom side up it looked like a 6, and looking at it in this way when calling it off, the counter gave it to the tally-man as 96. This takes 20 from English's total vote.

Evidence taken in the Cheshire case, showed that 283 votes were counted for Jewell and 216 for English, and so declared and returned by the republican moderator, while the democratic moderator declared the vote of Jewell 210 and English 214, and so returned it, deducting 23 votes from the republican ticket, on the ground that 23 names were informally registered! There was no dispute about the count, and no evidence to show for whom the 23 men voted; in fact it appeared that only 21 of them voted at all. All had been admitted as electors and registered. A deduction of 23 was made by the democratic presiding officer from all republican candidates. This is about as cool a piece of democratic fogling as has yet been made public, and is worthy of Tammany itself.

The committee went to New Haven on Friday. Should they find no errors in the count there, the real vote, according to the present developments, would stand—English, 47,476; Jewell, 47,473; scattering, 11. Neither English nor Jewell would therefore have a majority of all the votes cast, and the legislature would have to choose a governor by ballot.

SOUTH Carolina has no scruples about using her penal laws to reduce the "radical vote," if she has against using them to protect the lives of radical voters. A white democrat named Stevens having been murdered in that State, twelve black men have already been hung for the crime.

A PROCLAMATION.

The act of Congress entitled "An act to enforce the provisions of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and for other purposes," approved April 29, in the year of our Lord 1871, being a law of extraordinary public importance, I consider it my duty to issue this my proclamation calling the attention of the people of the United States thereto, enjoining upon all good citizens, and especially upon public officers, to be zealous in the enforcement thereof, and warning all persons to abstain from committing any of the acts thereby prohibited. The law of Congress applies to all parts of the United States, and will be enforced everywhere to the extent of the powers vested in the Executive.

But inasmuch as the necessity therefor is well known to have been created chiefly by persistent violations of the rights of citizens of the United States by combinations of lawless and disaffected persons in certain localities, lately the theatre of insurrection and military conflict, I do particularly exhort the people of those parts of the country to suppress all such combinations by their voluntary efforts, through the agency of local laws, and to maintain the rights of all citizens of the United States, and to secure to all such citizens the equal protection of the laws. Fully sensible of the responsibility imposed upon the executive by the act of Congress to which public opinion is now called, and reluctant to call into exercise any of the extraordinary powers thereby conferred upon me, except in cases of imperative necessity, I do nevertheless deem it my duty to make known that I will not hesitate to exhaust the power thus vested in the executive whenever it shall become necessary to do so for the purpose of securing to all citizens of the United States the peaceful enjoyment of the rights guaranteed to them by the constitution and laws. It is my earnest wish that peace and cheerful obedience to the law may prevail throughout the land, and that all traces of our late unhappy civil strife may be speedily removed. These ends can be easily reached by acquiescence in the results of the conflict now written in our constitution, and by the due and proper enforcement of equal, just and impartial laws in every part of our country. The failure of local communities to furnish such means for the attainment of the results so earnestly desired, imposes upon the national government the duty of putting forth all its energies for the protection of its citizens of every race and color, and for the restoration of peace and order throughout the entire country.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this third day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one, and of the independence of the United States the ninety-fifth.

[Signed] U. S. GRANT.

FRANCE.—The Versailles government sent out three divisions on Tuesday night toward the city. The approaches d'Issy are rapidly finishing, so the fort will soon be untenable.

Paris has, with its love of ceremony and theatrical display, armed the women to defend the barricades. The Orleans princes have been invited to leave Paris for a time. Whether they will comply with the request of the Commune is not known. Delescluze and Amoroux, leading Communists, have been dangerously wounded.

Rumors are circulating that the insurrection in Algeria is extending, and that the Versailles government is heedless of the growing danger.

The Communist position at Saguet Mill was carried by the Versailles troops at the point of the bayonet. The Communists lost 150 killed, 300 prisoners, and 10 pieces of cannon. The victors were afterward driven from the position by artillery. Both sides claim to be gaining strength, and each quite capable of destroying the other.

Bismarck announces that he favors a plebiscitum as the most practical means of terminating the civil war in France, and considers that such a course would prove most satisfactory to all parties. He intimates however, that Germany reserves the right to dictate the terms on which the plebiscitum, if eventually adopted, shall proceed.

At the charter election at Greenbush, N. Y., May 4, on closing the polls a gang of ruffians made an attack on the Inspectors of one of the districts, seized the ballot box and smashed it. A terrible fight ensued. Notwithstanding the destruction of the ballot box, the Inspectors proceeded to declare the result of the election in favor of the Citizen's ticket. The riot was a democratic one.

THE workmen in one of the coal mines at Scranton (Penn.) have suspended again for fear of violence. Other miners work under arms. The opinion is generally expressed that the only hope of resumption is through local arbitration.

THE laborers on the break in the Erie Canal have been amusing themselves with a strike and riot, and two companies of soldiers have gone to quiet them. The fighting is said not to be serious.

Two lieutenants and six soldiers, stationed at Fort Niagara, were drowned by the upsetting of a boat, May 4th.

IMMENSE icebergs and ice fields are reported to nearly surround Newfoundland, and fears are entertained for the safety of several of the sealing fleet.

A tornado at Baton Rouge, La., May 4th, blew down buildings, tore off roofs, killed some persons, and seriously injured many others. The loss will be about $400,000.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL.—The reports received by Mr. Loring B. Barnes, Secretary of the Handel and Haydn Society, indicate a great interest throughout the country in the approaching festival, which is to commence in this city on Tuesday evening next and continue one week. The chorus on this occasion will in many respects surpass any ever heard in this city, as the rehearsals have been fully attended. Madame Rudersdorff, who is to appear, has a world-wide reputation, and that she will sustain her transatlantic fame is assured. Mr. W. H. Cummings, Miss Adelaide Phillipps and other popular soloists will assist. A large number of strangers will visit the city, and the demand for tickets is excellent.—Boston Journal.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THE COMMUNITY quickly discerns between real merit and pretensions. For more than thirty years the name of Lewis Rice, of the AMERICAN HOUSE, BOSTON, has been a synonym for good quarters for the traveller. In company with his son, this first-class hotel still maintains its high reputation.

The Times says Dr. Walpole has lost his beautiful chestnut mare. She died suddenly in harness, it is supposed from bots or pin worms. If the Doctor had used Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, he would no doubt have had his mare to-day—they are death on worms.

Chapped hands are very common with those who have their hands much in water. A few drops of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment rubbed over the hands two or three times a day, will keep them soft and white. Fishermen, sailors, and others will do well to remember this.

Address R. V. Pierce, M. D., 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y., and get a pamphlet on Catarrh free, or send sixty cents and get Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. $500 reward is offered by the proprietor for a case of Catarrh which he cannot cure. Sold by druggists. Cut this out, as you may never see it again.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Quit Drugging.

This is now admitted by the medical profession as a fundamental principle of healing science. It is wisely provided by the human economy that whenever anything is wrong in the physical system the natural forces of the body are brought to bear to expel the disease. The great aim, therefore, is to strengthen the natural powers. This has been kept in view by the skillful compounders of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which operates to give fresh vitality to all the organs of the body. The effect of this medicine upon the stomach, the liver and the kidneys, is prompt and decisive. The patient, who is wise enough to quit drugging and try the bitters, soon feels as if he had taken a new lease of life, and as he continues the use of the article, he is overjoyed to find the streams of health coursing through his frame. It is prepared with great care, and its component parts are entirely vegetable. It is free from the objections so often urged against preparations of the kind. As a medicinal agent it has no equal, while its pleasing flavor and healthful effects have made it a general favorite. It is free from all properties calculated to impair the system, and its operations are at once mild, soothing and efficient. All who have used Hostetter's Stomach Bitters attest its virtues and commend it.

Even those who are in the enjoyment of perfect health frequently have need to have recourse to tonic as preventives of disease. We are never too well armed against the assaults of "the ills that flesh is heir to." In health or sickness this tonic cannot be taken regularly without giving vitality and elasticity to the system.

DEATH IN THE HAIR!

Remember every hair is a tube. Don't fill these tubes with poison. Any desired shade of color can be obtained without the slightest danger. Have you read Professor CHILTON'S statement (made after analysis,) that is absolutely harmless? Nothing can be more conclusive. If you wish to change the color of your hair to a magnificent black or brown, and to use the Excelsior Dye. Beware of unauthenticated nostrums. A good dressing is necessary after dyeing, and the best is ap27dawlm

COMBINE SAFETY WITH BEAUTY,

....The schooner Northern Light from Philadelphia, loaded with coal, while coming up to Slee's Wharf, Tuesday, was struck by an eddy, sending her with some force against the landing, smashing in one side considerably, beside tearing away a part of the rigging, and causing other damages to the amount of several hundred dollars. THE Merrimac Valley Dental Association commenced a two days' session at Manchester on Thursday, May 4, the President, Dr. A. P. Stevens of this city in the chair. Essays were read by Dr. J. H. Kidder of Lawrence, Dr. Brockway of Boston, and others. The meeting was well attended, and members were present from Biddeford, Portland, Boston, Worcester, Lowell, Lawrence, Salem, and the principal towns in the southern portion of this State.

THE presence of William Horn was required on Thursday as a witness, to give evidence before Moses N. Jenkins, J. P. Mr. Horn was duly summoned, but refused to appear, for which little exhibition of obstinacy he was fined $5, with $5.79 costs, by the Justice. Contempt of court is never a paying amusement, as Mr. Horn and many others have found out to their cost; and Mr. Jenkins did a proper thing when he asserted and maintained the rights and dignity of his position.

THE common council of Boston have passed an order appropriating $200 to each of the ten posts of the Grand Army of the Republic in that city, to assist in the proper observance of Decoration Day. Is Portsmouth intending to do anything in that line? We suppose so, as the city, has in years past suitably noticed Memorial Day and the claims of the gallant dead to be remembered and honored. We understand the G. A. R. are making unusual preparations for the ceremonies of Decoration Day this year.

Our Correspondence.

DEERFIELD, May 5.

The rains so long desired, have come, just in the right way, falling slowly, and gradually saturating the ground. The mill streams are filled and the deep wells begin to rise, more than for a year past. The grass looks promising, very little of it is winter killed. The last year's drought may benefit the crops of this year.

For several years before 1870, grass had been good, and the heavy crops began to exhaust the soil. It needed rest, and had it, last summer. It was like letting it lie fallow for a year, only the drought kept the weeds down.

Again, in a long drought, the air comes more freely in contact with the soil, and imparts to it some chemical properties which render it more productive. The salts which in wet seasons would be dissolved and washed out, are retained in a dry soil and stimulate the growth of the crops.

In California and in Palestine, the soil which for several months of the dry season has been aired, at the fall of rains becomes very productive. So, in those countries where little rain falls, the soil which can be irrigated from some mountain stream, seems to furnish plant food more freely than that in many well watered sections of country.

It is very probable that some lands, now barren on account of excess of alkali in the soil, may, after a few years of irrigation, become very fertile, suited especially to some particular crops.

It is nearly 3 months since I heard of a marriage or death in this town; but I give you a record of the deaths which occurred in February:

" 12, Mrs. Susan Sawyer, aged 95.
" 14, Mrs. Fogg, aged 73.

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputable proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the skilled in the laws of vitality and reproduction that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assaulted. Dyspepsia is the cause of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the mucoidal tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating assault, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no nauseousness of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to a suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes on to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. The patient cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of pathemisis it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten tissue that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially, in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (250) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind, Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Of returning health appetite is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the designing or unskilled beware. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7 half dozen. The Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

7-30 GOLD LOAN

—OF THE—

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

RAPID PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

The building of the Northern Pacific Railroad, (begun July last,) is being pushed forward with great energy from both extremities of the line. Several thousand men are employed in Minnesota and on the Pacific coast. The grade is nearly completed 256 miles westward from Lake Superior; trains are running over 130 miles of finished road, and track-laying is rapidly progressing toward the eastern border of Dakota. Including its purchase of the St. Paul & Pacific Road the Northern Pacific Company now has 412 miles of completed road, and by September next this will be increased to at least 500.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.—Jay Cooke & Co. are now selling and unhesitatingly recommend as a Profitable and perfectly Safe investment, the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They have 30 years to run, bear Seven and Three-Tenths per cent. in gold interest (more than 8 per cent. currency) and are secured by first and only mortgage on the ENTIRE ROAD AND ITS EQUIPMENTS and also, as fast as the Road is completed, on

23,000 ACRES OF LAND to every mile of track, or 500 Acres for each $1,00 Bond. They are exempt from U. S. Tax; Principal and Interest are payable in Gold; Denominations: Coupons, $100 to $1,000; Registered, $100 to $10,000.

LANDS FOR BONDS.—Northern Pacific 7-30's are at all times receivable at THE PAR OBNY ABOVE PAR, in exchange for the Company's Lands, at their lowest cash price. This renders them practically INTEREST BEARING LAND WARRANTS.

SINKING FUNDS.—The proceeds of all sales of Lands are required to be devoted to the re-purchase and cancellation of the First Mortgage Bonds of the Company. The Land Grant of the Road exceeds Fifty Million Acres. This immense Sinking Fund will undoubtedly cancel the principal of the Company's bonded debt before it falls due. With their ample security and high rate of interest, there is no investment, accessible to the people, which is more PROFITABLE OR SAFE.

EXCHANGING U. S. FIVE-TWENTIES.—The success of the New Government 5 per cent. Loan will compel the early surrender of United States 6 per cents. Many holders of Five-Twenties are now exchanging them for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties, thus realizing a handsome profit and greatly increasing their yearly income.

OTHER SECURITIES.—All marketable Stocks and Bonds will be received at their highest current price in exchange for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties. EXPRESS CHARGES on Money or Bonds received and on Seven-Thirties sent in returns, will be paid by the Financial Agents. Full information, maps, pamphlets, etc., can be obtained on application at any agency, or from the undersigned. For sale by

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 50 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All available Government securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. d2dWs8

PRACTICAL APPLICATION OF

HAMLET'S SOLILOQUY.

To insure or not to insure? That is the question.
Whether t'will be nobler for my family to suffer
The stings and arrows of outrageous fortune
Or take a policy against those dangers,
And, by insuring, end them? To rest, to fear,
No more; and by a policy to end
The heartache and the thousand natural shocks
That flesh is heir to. Yes, my application 'o
Devoutly to be wished; apply, insure,
And pay the premium: ay—there's the rub
For in that time what premiums may come
Before I shuffle off this mortal coil
Does make me pause, tightens my purse,
And makes me rather pay the bills I have
Than fly to others I know not of.
Thus does meanness make brutes of us all.

along our right, and our left was flanked by chasms and deep gorges, through which rushed a mountain stream, swollen by the heavy rains which now came down in torrents.

Through the pitchy darkness of the night not a foe could be distinguished—but the steady tramp of the horses—the ring of steel scabbards, and the stern command from time to time, "Close up!" "Steady, men!" could be heard for miles far down in the valley below, as the anxious column pressed up towards the mountain top.

Young Custer's Michigan Brigade had the front—with division headquarters escort under Captain Jones, in advance. A brave boy found at one of the mountain houses, who was acting as our guide, now told us that we were nearing the top; a moment later we made a turn to the right, and suddenly came full upon the enemy. The challenge, "Who comes there?" was instantly followed by the rapid discharges of artillery and musketry in our very faces.

For a moment all was confusion, but the troops quickly recovered, and dashing forward, captured the artillery and four hundred prisoners.

The enemy's wagon train could now be distinctly heard rolling on down the mountain road not half a mile away.

"There goes their train," shouted Custer.

"Yes, I hear it; what's to be done?"

"Why, go for it, that's all."

"Will you lead?"

"Of course I will."

"Hold on then, till we can give them some artillery, and under cover you can charge."

The artillery was brought up, and opened on the train, a citizen directing where to fire. Then Custer, at the head of his gallant brigade, dashed down the road through the night.

The artillery ceased firing, and we held our breath in excited expectation. Five minutes hardly had elapsed when we heard our bugles sounding the charge. Then came a crash of musketry, mingled with the wild shouts of the men as they charged upon the train. In a moment all was over. Custer struck the train, and then facing in the direction of Gettysburg, held the road, while the entire column passed on down to the valley below. Here, parking and burning a wagon train over five miles long, we moved on to Smoketown, where we successfully repulsed an attack made by Stuart, and drove him off in the direction of Hagerstown. That night we encamped at Boonsboro, and the next day drove the enemy out of Hagerstown. Lee all this time was pressing on by a different route to the Potomac.

Buford, in the meantime, had crossed South Mountain, and early in the morning of this day sent me word that a large wagon train was parked at Williamsport, and that he intended to destroy it, and asked me to hold the roads from the direction of Hagerstown. About two o'clock P. M., we heard his artillery, and knew he was at work. We had been fighting Stuart's cavalry all day, and could have held for ever the roads and high hills against this foe; but now word was brought that rebel infantry was moving up the road, not two miles away. I knew that I could resist but an hour more at best. Lee's army was nearing Hagerstown, so, leaving a brigade under Richmond, with Elder's Battery to hold the road to the last, I sent word to Buford that if the train was to be burned it must be done within the next hour, and that if he would press forward, Custer would charge.

He answered back, "all right; in ten minutes I will advance, and then you pitch in."

Custer had already formed his command—Hamilton and Pennington galloped down with their guns and unlimbered within less than 800 yards of the enemy's position, in spite of the terrible fire from twenty pieces of artillery. Every moment was precious—twice had Fitz Hugh Lee desperately charged the position held by the gallant Richmond. Once his troopers rode over Elder's battery—but they were driven back, and again the guns blazed forth. At last Custer was ready—it had seemed an age—his bugles sounded the charge, and then the lines dashed forward; the regiments had reached the enemy's flank, hundreds of wagons were already in a blaze, fired by Buford's men, and in five minutes more Imboden, with all his wagons, prisoners, and wounded, would have been ours, when an officer, covered with blood, dashed up from the rear, with word from Richmond that he could not hold his position another minute. In fact he was now falling back, but fighting. Infantry was pressing on his centre and masses of cavalry were sweeping on his flanks; twice I ordered Custer to retire, but it took a third order to force him from the fight, and then only when he saw that ruin and capture awaited us if we delayed another moment. Word was sent to Buford that we must retire. The brigades were then united, and we all fell slowly back, disputing every inch of ground till night came on.

Let me repeat. Lee's original and irretrievable error was failure to seize and hold the line of hills at Gettysburg, and more particularly Culp's Hill, the commanding point of our position. Once having lost this golden opportunity, and Reynolds and Buford having secured the position for our own army, his experience of the skill of our officers, and the spirit of our troops, should have deterred him from attacking our lines even with his superior numbers. But recent success had effaced the memory of Antietam. He hurled his columns against the firm front of the Army of the Potomac, and they were dashed to pieces. It may be that his broken and disorganized command ought not to have been suffered to escape across the swollen Potomac; but it is the merest justice to the memory of Buford, and to his gallant comrades, living and dead, to affirm that if there was anything like uncertainty or sluggishness in the pursuit of the routed enemy, most assuredly this imputation ought not to rest upon the cavalry or its leaders. I have not at hand details of the operations of the division of Buford and Gregg. But I can say that the Third Division alone concluded sixteen days of incessant fighting by destroying Ewell's train, capturing nearly 5,000 prisoners, nine guns and eleven battle-flags, and in conjunction with Buford would have captured Imboden's command and the larger train at Williamsport, but for the unexpected arrival of Stuart's entire corps and the advance of the rebel army in its precipitate retreat.

THE METHODIST, of New York, has always been edited with marked ability by Rev. Dr. CROOKS. Its publishers have just added to its editorial corps, Rev. TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.
OF A HIGHER CLASS than any other proprietary medicine of the day stands
Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient.
And for this reason: It is an exact counterpart of one of the most valuable natural medicines in the world. We refer to the great Seltzer Spring of Germany, to which thousands of the dyspeptic, the bilious, the rheumatic, and the victims of renal diseases resort annually, and return to their homes in a vigorous condition. The Aperient is one of the first, and by far the most successful of all the efforts made to reproduce, in a portable form, the popular mineral waters of Europe. See that you purchase only the genuine article.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS.
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,
Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.
They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.
FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.
FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.
They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, passessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawf6l6

THERE is evidently a mistake somewhere in the Pomeroy divorce case. General Butler writes: "Mrs. Pomeroy applied to me, in a very lady-like and proper note, stating that she desired to engage my services as counsel, and I saw no objection to taking a retainer in the case." Brick Pomeroy writes: "Mrs. Pomeroy never applied to B. F. Butler, never retained him as counsel for any suit, never asked his advice in any matter." This seems very like a contradiction; who tells the truth? Butler has been accused by his enemies with being a great rascal, liar and thief, but in no single instance has anything been proved against him. Pomeroy is said to be a Methodist class-leader, wrote a series of articles full of hypocritical cant on "Saturday nights," and has proved him-self to be the most thorough-going blackguard connected with the American copperhead press—which is saying a great deal. Perhaps Miss—something, who was Mrs. Brick Pomeroy, will let an anxious public know who of the two lies.

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.—We have a vast country. Once, and within the memory of many now living, the West was New York and Pennsylvania, or at the farthest, Ohio and Indiana. But within a few years Texas and California have been found, and the Union Pacific Railroad running away on to near the Pacific coast and over mountains the highest of any in the world over which a locomotive passes, it is found that the West is far away towards sunset, and we have some idea of the greatness of our domain.

But we do not know all yet. Resources are the gift of Providence, developing them is the duty of man. Our recent trials in war were great, but it is interesting to know in the midst of them, Congress provided for the Union Pacific Railroad as if there was faith that the nation would overcome its conflicts, live and prosper. And since the war and the completion of that road, attention has been turned to the great Northwest, and the Northern Pacific Railroad fixed upon. To help in this, Congress made a land grant in the Winnipeg region alone of more than fifty millions of acres.

The building of this road was commenced last July, and already the cars run 130 miles, while twice that distance is graded, and much is being done at the western end.

Now just consider one or two facts. There are 1200 miles of lake navigation, and then at Duluth, near Lake Superior, is the initial point of this railroad. This is a thousand miles from Buffalo and in fact about midway of the continent. Then this road is to stretch on and on through a vast region, a fine country for wheat and other productions, with a climate such that in large portions cattle can subsist in winter without barns or being fed on hay.

The land is waiting the plow, and we can look forward but a little time to see there happy homes, waving fields of grain, and many States teeming with a population industrious and wealthy. Our nation is not only to be very large, as now appears, but with education and virtue, the most happy and powerful of any on earth. J.

—A new style of ladies' hats that is out, is said to "resemble a pen-wiper with a fringe, and to be quite becoming."

—The question, Does getting drunk ever advance one's happiness? would seem to be put to rest by the Irishman who went courting when drunk, and was asked what pleasure he found in whiskey,—"Oh, Biddy, it's a trate intirely, to see two of your swate purty faces instead of one."

—One in every fourteen of the persons insured under two hundred and fifteen thousand general accident policies, issued by the Travelers Life and Accident Insurance Company, have been the recipients of benefits, by cash payments of $5 to $10,000 each.—Travelers Record.

—A Norwich family, in which an Italian bandmaid from the classic shades of Ballyshannon is employed to wrestle with the crockery, found a mysterious mixture in the coffee-pot the other morning, which it was explained was due to "there not being much coffee in the house, mum, and I put in a little tay to fill up."

PURIFY THE BLOOD AND BEAUTIFY THE COMPLEXION by using HELMBOLD'S

Catawba Grape-Juice Pills

and HELMBOLD'S highly-concentrated

Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla.

In the Spring and Summer months the system undergoes a change. This is the time to use good blood-renewing, purifying and invigorating medicines. HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA and HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT GRAPE-JUICE PILLS are the best and most reliable.

ONE BOTTLE of Helmbold's Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla equals in strength one gallon of the syrup or decoction as made by druggists, and a wine-glass added to a pint of water equals the celebrated Lisbon diet drink, a delightful and healthful beverage.

The Grape-Juice Pill is composed of fluid extract Catawba grape-juice and FLUID EXTRACT RHUBARB. Useful in all diseases requiring a cathartic remedy, and far superior to all other purgatives, such as salts, magnesia, &c. Helmbold's Grape-Juice Pill is not a patented pill, put up as those ordinarily vended, but the result of ten years' experimenting and great care in preparation.

SAFE FOR AND TAKEN BY CHILDREN; NO NAUSEA; NO GRIPING PAINS; BUT MILD, PLEASANT, AND SAFE IN OPERATION.

Two bottles of the Fluid Extract of Sarsaparilla and one bottle of the Grape-Juice Pills are worth their weight in gold to those suffering from bad blood, poor complexion, headache, nervousness, wakefulness at night, costiveness and irregularities, and to those suffering from broken and delicate constitutions it will give new blood, new vigor and new life.

The Catawba Grape Pills are done up with great care and in handsome bottles, and will surpass all those vended in wooden boxes and carelessly prepared by inexperienced men, comparing with the French and English style of manufacturing.

All of H. T. HELMBOLD'S Preparations are Pharmaceutical, not a single one being patented, but all on their own merits. To dispel any impression or prejudice that might exist in the minds of many against my Preparations, from the publicity given through advertising, and that I am and have been a druggist for a period of twenty years and more, conclusively to prove this, See letter.

MONDAY, MAY 8, 1871.

CONNECTICUT.—"New York democrats have the secret of carrying elections," said the N. Y. World. So have the New Haven democrats—apparently the very same secret. The cool effrontery of one copperhead official in striking off 23 votes from the republican total, because he considered that number of persons (whether republicans or democrats there was nothing to show), improperly registered, is eclipsed by the proceedings of the jolly dogs in New Haven's fourth ward. The legislative committee met there on Friday, to inquire into the fourth ward vote. The town clerk of New Haven was examined and testified as to the whereabouts of the boxes since election. He was to produce the fourth ward State box. He could not identify it. The moderator of the fourth ward identified the box and swore as to the correctness of the count, how taken and reported. The registrar identified the box and swore to the accuracy of the checking. The certified check-list was produced and sworn to by the town clerk. The box was then produced and the votes recounted. In it were found six packages for Jewell,—three containing 100 ballots each, two 50 each, one 63, and 16 scattering for him; total for Jewell, 479. For English, 5 packages of 100 each, one of 98, one marked "scratched" of 112 and 14 scattering for him; total for English, 719. Jewell's vote on the recount was 100 less than the official return. The recount of the representatives gives the same result as the official return—democrats, 605; republicans, 579. The committee meet again to-day.

The box has of course been tampered with since election day; it was locked with a common key, and not sealed! A fraud of 200 votes is plain—English has exactly 100 more than the copperhead ticket; Jewell exactly 100 less than the republican one. It is morally certain that the 100 excess reported for English by the copperhead officials on election day, has been fixed up all right by them since, by the transfer of 100 votes that were thrown for Jewell,—making the latter's vote just that number less than they themselves reported it to be at first. Whether this unblushing swindle can be punished or not is a question; for men who would be guilty of such acts would not for a moment hesitate at perjury to cover up their villainy.

A copperhead exchange says that the republican charges of ballot-box stuffing "will not have much effect when it is remembered that the moderator and most of the ward officers are republicans." But the fourth ward of New Haven is democratic and gave last year a copperhead majority of 250,—and the fondness of copperhead majorities for electing republican officials is well known. The moderator is a democrat, English lives in that ward, and among the counters are English's nephew and Sam Bishop, the latter of whom is said by the Connecticut papers to be one of the win-at-any-price democrats. Tammany has established a branch office in New Haven, for sure. How the old thing will work, in the end, remains to be seen.

THE treaty framed by the joint commission was laid before the cabinet Friday. Every American member of the commission expresses his unhesitating belief that it will be ratified, and Judge Nelson, who is the democratic member, is enthusiastic in his admiration for its provisions. He says: "No fair-minded American, who examines the subject intelligently and with candor, can fail to approve the treaty in all its points." The report that Mr. Sumner's writing a speech in opposition to the treaty, is unfounded. Among the few things positively known concerning it is, that it will provide only for the adjudication of the claims of both the United States and Great Britain, arising from 1861 until the close of the war in 1865. The probability is that there will be a fall Senate on Wednesday next.

THE New York Bar Association condemns in the strongest terms the recent changes in the code of procedure by the legislature.

—The strike at the break on the Erie Canal is at an end.

—The Comanche indians are disgusted with the employment of colored troops on the frontier, they are so difficult to scalp.

—A Vermonter has had $3 damages awarded him for being butted over a fence by his neighbor's bull. The smallness of the sum is due to the plaintiff's avowal that he was trying to get over the fence as quickly as possible, so that the bull only helped him in carrying out an intention conceived of his own free will.

THE Alabama Claims just now excite public attention, as the Report of the Joint High Commission is anxiously awaited. Mr. Charles C. Beaman, Jr., of New York, who has most thoroughly investigated the subject in detail, has published a book of 358 pages containing a resume of the case, with statements of losses and claims.

He quotes Cobden against his own government:—"You have been carrying on hostilities from these shores against the people of the United States, and have been inflicting an amount of damage on that country greater than would be produced by many ordinary wars."

The captures are as follows:—the Alabama captured 70 vessels, the Florida 36, the Georgia 9, the Shenandoah 36, the tenders 34, the Sumter 18, the Tallahassee 29, and the Nashville 2.

Tables gives the claims filed by the United States citizens for the losses of these vessels and their cargoes by the four vessels first named, amount as follows:

Alabama	$5,301,264
Florida	2,791,591
Georgia	332,351
Shenandoah	4,405,178
	$12,830,384

The claims for losses by the other vessels, and other claims that have not yet been filed, will probably bring the gross amount claimed for the property destroyed to at least $18,000,000, even after making a large deduction of some claims which may be over estimated. This is the estimated value of the property at the time of its destruction.

When hereafter, it shall have been determined or admitted that Great Britain ought to pay for the destruction by the Alabama and other cruisers of the ships and cargoes belonging to citizens of the United States, it will be first necessary to determine what was the value of that property destroyed, and then it will be necessary to determine what damage the owner has experienced in being deprived of the use and fruits of his property, from the time it was destroyed till the date of the award.

After quoting authorities, Mr. Beaman sums up the case as follows:—

"The only question for Great Britain to consider, supposing that her liability had been established, is, what is the amount of damages that have been caused by her negligence. This is the answer; The national damages are at least a year of war, hundreds of lives, hundreds of million of debt, and the destruction of the commerce of the United States. The private damages amount to about twenty millions of dollars."

ADVICES from the South indicate that the enforcement-act powers of the President will have to be quickly brought into use, if the Ku-Klux are to be checked before they have murdered all the union men in that section. Particulars have been received of numerous outrages perpetrated during the past seven days in South Carolina, mainly in Fairfield, Clarendon and Newburg counties. Mr. Reuben, school commissioner on Clarendon county, was killed April 29, and the house of State Senator Barber of Fairfield county was visited, but Mr. Barber, being warned of the contemplated visit, escaped from the county. Several Fairfield officeholders have tendered their resignations to Governor Scott, alleging that their lives are in danger while in office. In Florence several negroes have been shot down in broad daylight in presence of the civil authorities, but the latter did not dare to arrest the guilty parties. Numerous cases of whipping and house-breaking are reported. From Alabama come accounts of a general movement against all republican sheriffs and officers of courts, to compel them to resign or fly the country, and leave all controlling power over elections in the hands of the Ku-Klux.

THE Washington Chronicle, referring to the report (extensively published by the democratic papers, some of them putting it in "leaded italics" with lots of capitals,) that Gen. Sherman discredits the accounts of Ku-Klux outrages at the South, says: "We do not believe that Gen. Sherman said any such thing, because only a short time since we heard him express in very strong terms exactly the contrary opinion."

THE Boston Nine defeated the Olympic Base Ball Club at Washington, May 5, 20 to 18. The game was an up hill one for the Bostons, who were behind until the last inning, and had to contend with manifest unfriendliness in the spectators and unfairness in the umpire, who was one of the organizers of the Olympics.

—Wife beating is called "spousal castigation" in Chicago.

—The Chicago Times, announcing the fact that a man married there to get out of jail, remarks that "some chaps have a queer idea of liberty."

FRANCE.—The commune has abolished all political and professional oaths. Their official journal admits severe losses during the past week. Other reports estimate their loss at 2000 in killed, wounded and captured.

Quertier and Favre have gone to Frankfort to see Bismark. The object of their mission is to see about German intervention and to discuss some disagreements by the commissioners at Brussels. Bismark has gone to meet them.

The insurrection in Algeria is beyond any power of the government to suppress. The town of Palestro has been sacked and entirely destroyed, and the inhabitants, with the whites in the town, cruelly massacred. The whole of the Kabyles are in arms against the French. They form nearly half the entire population, and are the most warlike race in northern Africa.

The telegraph reported on Saturday that a grand attack was to be made by the Versailists on Sunday night, the German authorities having notified them that if they do not enter Paris on Monday the Prussians will on Tuesday.

DEATHS from the yellow fever in Buenos Ayres have increased to 700 a day.

—Jubal Early indignantly denies that he burned Montgomery Blair's house in 1864; but he acknowledges, with pardonable pride, that he did burn the city of Chambersburg the same year.

—The Louisville Ledger says all Kentucky Democrats would go for General Buell for Governor of that State. They certainly did "go for him" in 1862, and may be they would like to repeat the experiment.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The Times says Dr. Walpole has lost his beautiful chestnut mare. She died suddenly in harness, it is supposed from bots or pin worms. If the Doctor had used Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, he would no doubt have had his mare to-day—they are death on worms.

Chapped hands are very common with those who have their hands much in water. A few drops of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment rubbed over the hands two or three times a day, will keep them soft and white. Fishermen, sailors, and others will do well to remember this.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Quit Drugging.

This is now admitted by the medical profession as a fundamental principle of healing science. It is wisely provided by the human economy that whenever anything is wrong in the physical system the natural forces of the body are brought to bear to expel the disease. The great aim, therefore, is to strengthen the natural powers. This has been kept in view by the skillful compounders of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which operates to give fresh vitality to all the organs of the body. The effect of this medicine upon the stomach, the liver and the kidneys, is prompt and decisive. The patient, who is wise enough to quit drugging and try the bitters, soon feels as if he had taken a new lease of life, and as he continues the use of the article, he is overjoyed to find the streams of health coursing through his frame. It is prepared with great care, and its component parts are entirely vegetable. It is free from the objections so often urged against preparations of the kind. As a medicinal agent it has no equal, while its pleasing flavor and healthful effects have made it a general favorite. It is free from all properties calculated to impair the system, and its operations are at once mild, soothing and efficient. All who have used Hostetter's Stomach Bitters attest its virtues and commend it.

Even those who are in the enjoyment of perfect health frequently have need to have recourse to tonic as preventive of diseases. We are never too well armed against the assaults of "the ills that flesh is heir to." In health or sickness this tonic cannot be taken regularly without giving vitality and elasticity to the system.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the WANTED, at this office, to complete files, copies of the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE dated March 18, April 8 and April 15.

Two Pullman cars on the Eastern Railroad reached this city Saturday morning for the first time. The train made but a brief stop, and kept on to Portland.

THE Concord Monitor has an applauding "echo" in this city, in the local copperhead sheet. The Monitor tells us how to conduct the Chronicle, politically,—but we know how to do it so well now that we are never insulted with copperhead commendation, which is more than some so-called republican papers can say.

NAVAL Constructor Thomas E. Webb has been detached from the Norfork navy yard and ordered to this station, in place of Naval Constructor John W. Easby, detached and ordered to the Norfork yard. Naval Constructor Samuel G. Pook has been detached from the Boston navy yard and ordered to report to the chief of the bureau of construction for duty.

THE work of remodelling the old Franklin House and the block on the corner of Market Street and Market Square, is progressing steadily; the workmen on the latter have knocked a big hole in the face of the building, and the stone and iron countenance for the lower story of the Franklin House is about half put in place. The fine stores at the Franklin will command a good rental when finished, no doubt, the stand being a first rate one for business.

THE store of Mr. George Stott, corner of Hanover and Bridge Streets, was entered Thursday night between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock, by persons who broke in a window, sash and all, to effect their purpose. The thieves secured some fifteen dollars or so, in torn and defaced scrip, drew off some liquor which they carried away or drank and a little more which they spilled, and escaped undetected. Several persons have been arrested, but no evidence found to hold them.

THE "copper horn" endeavors to make political capital from a circular just issued by a recently discharged "boss" at the Navy Yard, which circular contains lots of hifalutin bosh and many misstatements. They are (and he is) welcome to all the good they can get out of it, but the many creditors of the injured boss think he would have done quite as well to have applied the money he paid for printing and sending round his wonderful document to the payment of a small percentage of his debts in this city.

THE New Bedford Standard, in an article eulogizing evening drawing schools, of which a course has been recently held in that city, pays a high compliment to Mr. Wm. E. Hoyt, son of Mr. A. M. Hoyt of this city. It says that the whole course "has been under the able management of Mr. Wm. E. Hoyt, assistant professor of mechanical drawing and engineering in the Institute of Technology in Boston. He has taken the deepest interest in the undertaking, and his oversight and explanations evinced great intelligence and skill. He has been assisted by Mr. I. S. P. Weeks and Mr. Henry Lee, also of the Institute, and by Mr. J. Rogers Rich, one of the assistants of Dr. Rimmer in the School of Art. These are all accomplished teachers." If Portsmouth isn't very lively as a business place, it stands high as a producer of men who make their mark in other cities.

NINE watchmen were removed from their positions on the Navy Yard, Saturday, and nine marines put on to fill—or at least occupy—their places. This would be a proper move in the direction of economy, if it would work well; but marines are only men, and in most instances, we regret to say, not very favorable specimens of sober men, so we fear that the Navy Yard authorities will soon have to go back to civilians. Not a great while ago the watchman was removed from Seavey's Island bridge, and a marine with musket and bayonet placed there. Soon after, when some official went to see how he was getting along, it was found that the arduous duties of the post had been too much for the son of Mars, and the musket and bayonet were all there was left of him. Unless the nine marine watchmen are selected from better material than that which frequently comes to this city to get drunk, they will need eighteen others to watch them when they are on duty.

THE Rochester Courier says "it is understood that the next State Fair will be held either at Dover or Great Falls." Perhaps so, but the question is not decided yet, and Portsmouth may be the place after all.

SCHOONER Sullote was floated off the rocks at Grogan's Point, where she has been lying several weeks, and taken on the shelving beach near the Badger's Island shipyard, Saturday. A very high tide favored the removal, which was effected through the aid of several scows.

CONSIDERABLE surprise has been manifested by those who voted for Weston for Governor, on the ground that his election would establish an era of free rum, at the result of a recent vote in a ward in Lawrence, where with a substantial Democratic majority it was voted to endure the law that prohibits the sale of beer, in Massachusetts. Perhaps the Lawrence Democrats are of the same mind as the unterrified voter in Water Street, who on being told by one of the rallying committee of Ward Three that if Ex-Mayor Jones was chosen Senator, beer in New Hampshire would be as free as water, remarked, "Frank Jones' ale may be a good enough tipple for women and boys, but for a steady drink, give me rum." But whatever the reason for their prohibition vote, we are pleased with it, and would like to see the whole democratic party become as favorably inclined towards the temperance cause as the republican party is—for their own good and the people's.

MR. Robert Drew, who has done himself and the city credit by the erection of a number of fine buildings heretofore, has commenced another extensive job,—to put up a very handsome structure for Jos. M. Edmonds, Esq., on premises opposite the Academy. The main building is to be 15x32 feet, with an ell 20x27 feet; two stories in height, with two stores on the ground floor and a dwelling house overhead. The Academy neighborhood has improved in appearance most wonderfully of late years. The removal of the huge trees on the Academy corner was a good move, the more recent widening of the street at the opposite corner was another, and the very handsome building which the plans and specifications give promise of to take the place of the somewhat antiquated structure which was recently moved back from the street and refitted as a dwelling, will make the locality a much more pleasant one to the eye than we remember it to have ever been in the past.

THE Concord Monitor undertakes to read us a lesson as to what course we should pursue in journalism and politics, not liking it that we oppose the Monitor's motion for a compromise with the copperheads in organizing the Senate. It adds:

The Chronicle forgets that the five Democratic Senators have precisely the same power to prevent the organization of the Senate as the five Republican Senators, and that they may have more interest to prevent an organization of the Legislature than any Republicans can possibly have.

We don't forget any such thing, nor do we believe about that "more interest" &c.; and we said before, and now say again, that we prefer a deadlock to a compromise, and that we think the State would suffer little by the cessation of legislation for a year—especially such legislation as the copperheads promised, in the shape of overturning the judiciary and gerrymanding the State so as to give them a preponderance of power with a minority of voters, at the time when they felt sure of the Legislature. Let them dead-lock if they want to.

THERE is a freshet in the Hudson, and the lower streets of Albany are flooded.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING.—We have made great additions to our jobbing facilities—a mammoth Hand Press (the largest in Portsmouth,) new Display Type, Borders of various styles, &c.—and are prepared to execute with neatness and dispatch, all orders for FULL SHEET POSTERS, DATE SLIPS, PAMPHLETS, SERMONS, ADDRESSES, AUCTION BILLS, CONSTITUTIONS, BY LAWS, PROGRAMMES, HANDBILLS, CIRCULARS, ORDERS DANCES, BLANKS, BILL HEADS, RECEIPTS, TICKETS, BUSINESS, MARRIAGE, ADDRESS AND VISITING CARDS, LABELS, TAGS, and in fact PRINTING OF ANY DESCRIPTION, at SATISFACTORY PRICES. Consumption,

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, what vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is startling, its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a generally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the due morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophyllum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more fatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest ordeal. Further cure yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the hitherto dead, diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and by it in a very short time the lungs, as vacuoles, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, for the lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet, they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week. I then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only twenty-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed unintermitted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than ample instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, eat to it fortes. Let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows the commencement, the cough at once is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption, as it is for its forte.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

7-30 GOLD LOAN

—OF THE—

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

RAPID PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

The building of the Northern Pacific Railroad, (begun July last), is being pushed forward with great energy from both extremities of the line. Several thousand men are employed in Minnesota and on the Pacific coast. The grade is nearly completed 266 miles westward from Lake Superior; trains are running over 130 miles of finished road, and track-laying is rapidly progressing toward the eastern border of Dakota. Including the grades of the St. Paul & Pacific Road, the Northern Pacific Company now has 413 miles of completed road, and by September next this will be increased to at least 560.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.—Jay Cooke & Co. are now selling and unhesitatingly recommend, as a Profitable and perfectly Safe investment, the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They have 30 years to run, bear Seven and Three-Tenths per cent. gold interest (more than 8 per cent. currency) and are secured by first and only mortgage on the ENTIRE ROAD AND ITS EQUIPMENTS and also, as fast as the Road is completed, on

23,000 ACRES OF LAND to every mile of track, or 500 Acres for each $1,00 Bond. They are exempt from U. S. Tax; Principal and Interest are payable in Gold; Denominations; Coupons, $100 to $1,000; Registered, $100 to $10,000.

LANDS FOR BONDS.—Northern Pacific 7-30's are at all times receivable at TEN PER CENT. ABOVE PAR, in exchange for the Company's Lands, at their lowest cash price. This renders them practically INTEREST BEARING LAND WARRANTS.

SINKING FUNDS.—The proceeds of all sales of Lands are required to be devoted to the re-purchase and cancellation of the First Mortgage Bonds of the Company. The Land Grant of the Road exceeds Fifty Million Acres. This immense Sinking Fund will undoubtedly cancel the principal of the Company's bonded debt before it falls due. With their ample security and high rate of interest, there is no investment offered to the people, which is more PROFITABLE OR SAFE.

EXCHANGING U. S. FIVE-TWENTIES.—The success of the New Government 5 per cent. Loan will compel the early surrender of United States 6 per cents. Many holders of Five-Twenties are now exchanging them for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties, thus realizing a handsome profit and greatly increasing their yearly income.

OTHER SECURITIES.—All marketable Stocks and Bonds will be received and their highest current price in exchange for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties. EXPRESS CHARGES on Money or Bonds received and on Seven-Thirties sent in return, will be paid by the Financial Agents. Full information, maps, pamphlets, etc., can be obtained on application at any agency, or from the undersigned. For sale by

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 2½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. f24dWaS

PRACTICAL APPLICATION OF

HAMLET'S SOLILOQUY.

To insure or not to insure? That is the question.
Whether t'will be nobler for my family to suffer
The stings and arrows of outrageous fortune
Or take a policy against those dangers,
And, by insuring, end them? To fret, to fear,
No more; and by a policy to end
The heartache and the thousand natural shocks
That flesh is heir to. Yes, my application 's
Devoutly to be wished; apply, insure,
And pay the premium: ay—there's the rub
For in that time what premiums may come
Before I shuffle off this mortal coil
Does make me pause, tightens on my purse,
And makes me rather pay the bills I have
Than fly to others I know not of.
Thus does meanness make brutes of us all.

ATTRACTION.

"Gris," who has the funny "sit" on the Cincinnati Times, and from time to time gives a chapter to drive dull care away, recently was in a scientific mood and gave an easy lesson in science, explaining "attraction." He thus dilates:

To the young there is no great attraction in science, mainly because it is not made sufficiently attractive. Hoping to attract attention to scientific subjects we take attraction for our first theme.

There are several varieties of attraction—attraction of gravitation, magnetic attraction, electric attraction, attraction of cohesion, attraction of adhesion, capillary attraction, chemical attraction, and the mutual attraction of young people of opposite sexes for each other.

Sir Isaac Newton discovered attraction of gravitation in a singular manner. He was sleeping off his beer under an apple tree one afternoon when a pound-sweet fell and busted him on the snoot. This set his nose to bleeding and himself to thinking. He wanted to know what caused that apple to fall when it wasn't a fall apple. "Why," asked Newton, "when that stem gave way, did not that apple shoot upwards as the sparks do, and fly away, instead of coming down, and that, too, when, according to the market reports, apples were not coming down."

To our eye, although it may be all in our eye, Sir Ike, sitting in the grass under that apple tree studying out attraction of gravitation while trying to stop the nose-bleed, was one of the most striking and interesting pictures in history.

"I have it!" cried Newton, exultingly, and just then another fell and hit him top of the head, satisfying him there was something in it. "It's attraction—attraction of gravitation!" and it has been attraction of gravitation ever since. Even the apple didn't know why it fell any more than Adam did, who was the first to taste one, until Newton found it out.

Large objects attract smaller ones, as we sometimes see a little man cutting around with a big woman. If the earth had been smaller than the apple the earth would have gone to the apple, if it had to climb the tree. Newton, who knew ton of things, knew that, though it may be news to you.

The earth attracts everything to itself within reach. No "star" can draw like it. And it is this attraction of gravity that establishes weight. Tumble out of a sixth-story window, though, and you can't wait, you have to go right along.

To some people there is no attraction of gravity, let us be grave as we may.

Magnetic attraction is developed in the loadstone, when it attracts steel. Some people's fingers are loadstones, irresistibly attracted to steal. This kind of attraction is called kleptomania.

Electrial attraction is another thing. When lightning strikes a man that is electrical attraction. An enthusiastic electrician went out one day during a thunder shower in a steel overcoat to get struck by lightning, and write up his experience. But, poor fellow! he was never able to right up himself and tell how it seemed to strike him.

Attraction of cohesion is the force which holds together the parts of a body, whether fluid or solid. Attraction of adhesion is that which holds dissimilar bodies together when brought into close contract. Mixed drinks are held together by attraction of adhesion. When a man takes too many of them and flies to pieces he loses his cohesion and comes more or less incoherent.

Capillary attraction is the adhesion of liquid to the interior of small tubes. It is a mistake to suppose the term originated in the attraction many people had toward the pillory in the days of that time-honored institution. Capillary is from the Latin capillus, the hair, and applies to the small tubes of animals and plants. We have capillary doctors who (ca) pill-us to death. For them we have no capillary attraction.

Chemical attraction is the force which holds dissimilar bodies together, and thus generates a third, different from either. It is bad when chemical attraction takes a man and woman of dissimilar tastes and holds them together in the bonds of wedlock. A third product is apt to be generated called Domestic Discord.

The above are the principal varieties of attraction that natural science records.

THE PARIS STRUGGLE.—A Paris correspondent describes the character of the civil war now raging around Paris in the following terse sentences:

"The fighting begins every morning and concludes every evening with great regularity. But there begins and ends the regularity. In every other respect the civil war is dire confusion. Such advances and retreats, such ebbings and flowings of the angry billows, such whirlings here and tumblings there—it is all past comprehension or assortment. The Versailles troops will fight, and with great pluck, for a while, and the Paris troops will give way, but there the contest pauses until it is resumed by the victorious dash of Paris and an ignominious skedaddle of Versailles. Both sides are brave and both sides are cowardly; both succeed; both fail; both are cruel and revengeful, and each is recruited by deserters from the other."

Stephen Tibbitts, while engaged in blasting rocks on the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad extension at West Ossipee, was badly injured by flying pieces of stone, and cannot recover.

Nashua has been badly scared by a prospective small-pox epedemic, but the doctors say there is no danger.

At Piscataquog a few days since, Frederic Worthen and Eugene Smith got into a friendly scuffle, against the continuance of which the latter finally protested. Worthen struck Smith, who retreated and caught up a sort of pick with which he hit Worthen, fracturing his skull and inflicting serious and perhaps fatal injury. The wounded man exonerates Smith from blame.

THE METHODIST, of New York, has always been edited with marked ability by Rev. Dr. CROOKS. Its publishers have just added to its editorial corps, Rev. A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS.
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,
Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.
They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.
FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.
FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn or womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.
They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawfebl6

"REPEATING" IN NEW YORK.—The year before last, a friend of mine ran for office in one of the eastern districts. He was a young man, utterly inexperienced in regard to office, and he ran against a Tammany candidate. I need scarcely say that he was well beaten. He is a good, veracious citizen, well brought up—(he was formerly in my office, and he could not be hired to lie!)—and he told me that on the day of election he went in his own interest, with his own brother, to look after things. He repeatedly saw men walk in and deposit their votes, then walk out, take their caps and turn them—backs to the front, fronts to the rear—and then walk back again, and say to the inspector, "Don't you see I am a different man? My cap has been changed;" and then they would immediately vote again. He saw those men go out again and put their pantaloons into their boots, and then, returning, say, "Don't you see I'm another man? I am going to vote again. And, what is more, I intend to go on voting. Next I shall take off my coat and my waistcoat, and I will go on voting until all is ended—and after, if I please." and when my friend protested against these acts, a policeman who was present said, "You look here, you must not be interfering with this election!"

"Anarchy plus a constable," but such a constable as Carlyle never dreamed of! We all know that they voted on dead men's names—yes, and on live men's, too. Over and over again good Democrats went to the polls and found their names had been voted on. Why, Democrats were cheated as Republicans were. At night, when the polls were closed, my friend thought it his right to go and see how the count was going. Well, he saw them take bunches of his ballots, and throw them into the fire and burn them; he saw them tear others up. When he protested against these acts—half-crazy as he was—he was arrested and taken to the station-house for "interfering with the count." The police captain, a very respectable and worthy man, said to the policeman, "Why, you have done very wrong; what right had you to arrest him? He had a right to examine the count." His tongue was in his cheek; he was winking to his man; he knew what he was doing. When my friend was released, he walked back again, and then he was told that the count was closed. And mind you, these are the very persons who were complaining that they could not stand federal bayonets.—Judge Barrett's Speech.

BURST HIS COAT.—One evening, Carlotta Patti sang in one of our large American cities.

Just as Ferranti, the buffo, was leading her out of the door, upon the platform, some one in the ante-room behind him cried out to him that his coat was burst at the seam in the back.

It was too late to go back, for the audience had seen him, and the two singers advanced to the footlights.

The knowledge of his mishap took all the humor out of Ferranti, and the duet—which was sung in Italian—was so dolefully devoid of its usual humor that Patti noticed it before they were half through, and dropping the text of the duet, she fitted the following words to it, in Italian:

"What is the matter with you to night? I don't understand your nervousness. Nobody laughs at you."

Whereupon Ferranti, in mellifluous Italian, responded;

"By the saints, I have bursted my coat? Everybody will laugh when I go off the stage, if they don't now!"

At this most unexpected interchange of personal feelings, Maz Maretzek and his orchestra began to laugh immoderately. Then the people in the front seats, seeing the orchestra and the artists laughing, joined in themselves, and the merriment presently broke out in applause all over the house.

"Ah," said one of the papers next morning, "there is always something majestic in Ferranti's singing of that song. People burst into sympathetic laughter without being able to tell why."

—A precocious boy in a public school out West, who stands high in geography, was recently asked by his teacher where Africa was located. He promptly answered: "All over the United States."

—A female lecturer said "Get married, young men, and be quick about it; don't wait for the millennium for the girls to become angels. You'd look well beside an angel, wouldn't you, you blockheads?"

—The successful photographer's appeal to the baby:—"Hi yi! (Begins to dance.) Howdy dowdy! Ding-ling-ling! Whoopee! (Throws up arms.) You! you! you! Bah-ah-h-h! (Scowls horribly.) See here! There! there! there! Ching chung! Ratty tat! tat! (Demoniacal grin.) Teety-teety! Diddle-diddle-diddle! Boo! Boo! BOO! Oh, now! Look here! here! Dad! dad! dad! Sugar! sugar! sugar! sugar! Rickety-rickety-rickety! Bum! bum! bum! Ah-h-h! There! there!" (Rag falls. Artist perspires. Mamma delighted.)

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

A Book for every Man.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR SELF-PRESERVATION. A Medical Treatise on the Cause and Cure of EXHAUSTED VITALITY, PREMATURE DECLINE IN MAN, NERVOUS AND PHYSICAL DEBILITY, HYPOCHONDRIA, and all or the diseases arising from the EXCESS OF YOUTH, OR THE INDISCRETIONS OR EXCESSES of mature years. This is indeed a book for every man. Price only $1.00. 295 pages, bound in cloth.

A Book for Every Woman,

Entitled SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF WOMAN, AND HER DISEASES; or, WOMAN TREATED PHYSIOLOGICALLY AND PATHOLOGICALLY FROM INFANCY TO OLD AGE, with elegant ILLUSTRATIVE ENGRAVINGS. 350 pages, bound in beautiful French cloth. Price $2.00.

A Book for Everybody.

Flattered by the reception of, and great demand for, the above valuable and timely treatises, and also to meet a great need of the present age, the author has just published a new book, treating exclusively of NERVOUS AND MENTAL DISEASES. 150 pp. cloth Price $1, or SENT FREE on receipt of $3 for the other two books, postpage paid.

These are, beyond all comparison, the most extraordinary works on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the MARRIED OR SINGLE, of EITHER SEX, can either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained, and many matters of the most important and interesting character are introduced to which no allusion even can be found in any other works in our language. All the NEW DISCOVERIES of the author, whose experience is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any man, are given in full. No person should be without these valuable books.

"VALUABLE BOOKS.—We have received the valuable medical works published by the Peabody Medical Institute. These books are of actual merit, and should find a place in every intelligent family. They are not the cheap order of abominable trash, published by irresponsible parties, and purchased to gratify coarse tastes, but are written by a responsible professional gentleman of eminence, as a source of instruction on vital matters, concerning which lamentable ignorance exists. The important subjects presented are treated with delicacy, ability and care, and, as an appendix, many useful prescriptions for prevailing complaints are added."—Cons Republican, Lancaster, N. H.

"The author of these books is one of the most learned and popular physicians of the day, and is entitled to the gratitude of our race for these invaluable productions. It seems to be his aim to induce men and women to avoid the causes of those diseases to which they are subject, and he tells them just how and when to do it."—Chronicle, Farmington, Maine, Sept. 7, 1869.

Either book sent by mail on receipt of price.

TUESDAY, MAY 9, 1871.

THE Tammany branch office in Connecticut does not seem to work well, owing to the fact that a republican legislature appointed a committee to investigate what were manifestly fraudulent returns, instead of declaring that such frauds had "legally" elected a governor. The copperhead press have had much to say about the illegality of the investigation; but that was to be expected, for everything is illegal, according to their ideas, except selling rum and voting the democratic ticket as often as may be necessary to make up any required majority, or making false returns of the number of votes cast for the copperhead candidates when such number does not quite suit the democratic requirements. They think it all right and "legal" to make the "mistake" of calling a packet of 76 democratic votes 96, and can see no fraud in a copperhead official throwing out a score or more of republican votes, in his pious zeal to secure a party victory, because he "considers" that number of names wrongfully registered—his action being based on the well known fact that no copperhead voter ever voted illegally! Neither could they see anything wrong in the returning of 100 more votes for English, in the fourth ward of New Haven, than were put in the ballot-box; it was neccessary that Connecticut should go democratic, fraud only would accomplish it, therefore fraud was all right and proper. And didn't some of them sing sweet songs of triumph over the legislative recount of the votes, when Jewell was found to have 100 votes less than the copperhead officials themselves at first admitted? This, if allowed, would have given English the gubernatorial chair; but, unfortunately, Tammany cannot dictate effectively to Connecticut—and though but 479 votes for Jewell were found in the fourth ward ballot-box, five hundred and twenty men have already (in one day) testified that they voted for him! proving conclusively that Marshall Jewell was elected by the people, and that the democracy have endeavored to swindle them out of their choice. Perhaps the copperhead press will now proceed to favor us with some more essays on the "necessity of preserving the purity of the ballot."

TROOPS have been sent to South Carolina to prevent further repetition of the Ku-Klux outrages, and it is settled that they must cease. In Florida there remain but few republicans to murder, but the lawless gangs still find an occasional victim; Mr. Mahoney, a republican member of the Florida legislature, was murdered at Lake City on April 26. In Virginia, according to a correspondent of the Boston News, "the democratic Legislature and democratic Judges have left little room for the Ku-Klux. Most candid people who visit Richmond and learn in person the facts in regard to the old Chahoon contest for the mayoralty, conclude that he was elected Mayor beyond question, and is a true martyr for liberty. He has suffered in prison nine months, and yet pursues his defence. The proscription of Northern people in the State who have any character of their own, is severe."

LAWRENCE, Kansas, has a first-class sensation. One Isaac J. Ruth recently died, and his wife made her children vow vengeance, in presence of the dead body, on one Dr. Medlicott, whom she said was his murderer. Since then her feelings seem to have swung round the circle, and she and Medlicott were to have been married; but her former husband's body has been disinterred, and a coroner's jury have returned a verdict that Ruth died from the effects of poison administered by Dr. Medlicott. The latter's wife died suddenly some time ago, and he is now suspected of having poisoned her in order to clear the way for his marrying Ruth's widow, after he should have poisoned him also.

Mrs. Ruth was formerly the wife of Seymour Voullaire, a lawyer of St. Louis, from whom she obtained a divorce about four years ago. As the marriage ceremony had been performed in a Catholic church, Mr. Voullaire disputed the validity of the divorce, and still claimed her as his wife. At this stage of the proceedings Mr. Ruth took the lady under his protection and finally married her. The horsewhippings and shootings which occured between Voullaire and Ruth are still fresh in the recollection of those who were living in St. Louis at the time.

THE joint high commissioners met in the State Department and signed the treaty agreed upon, at noon on the 8th.

FRANCE.—General Rossell has formally taken command of the communist forces, re-organized the army, dismissed the commandants of Issy and Vanvres, and finally thrown up his own commission.

Three dispatches received on Saturday illustrate the character of the greater number of those received by the press. First it said: "The commune has ordered the immediate release from confinement of the commandant of Fort Vincennes, recently arrested on suspicion of disloyalty." Next, "The commandant of Fort Vincennes has informed the commune that re-action has reduced the garrison to 150 men, and asks for reinforcements;" and finally, as if to show the authenticity of the two previous despatches, comes the following: "The German commander, General Von der Tann, has, in a communication to the commune, protested against the excess of 200 troops in the garrison of Fort Vincennes."

When Quertier and Favre met Bismark, the former asked for some concession, declaring that it was impossible for France to raise the indemnity which was asked for the possession of the Paris forts, but Bismark demanded a strict compliance with the terms of the convention. The Prussians still intercept provisions designed for Paris.

The communists report the capture of one or two prisoners on Sunday, but the Versailles troops are steadily moving toward the city, and the cannonade continues. The pawnbrokers have become the victims of the commune, and numerous Paris journals have been suspended.

A Paris dispatch of Sunday says that a sortie was made on Saturday, in the direction of Issy, by the communists, and that the insurgents were repulsed with enormous loss, and fled to Paris. They fired on their friends, who refused to open the gates into the Vangirard quarters. There was a panic at Vanvres, where the Nationals deserted their positions. Gen. Rossel has ordered the right sleeve of their uniforms to be cut off as a punishment, so it seems he has not resigned. Rochefort announces that the ammunition is running short. Orders have been issued for the arrest of Gambetta.

Bismark is inclined to give up the forts, but insists on a strict payment of the war indemnity. The main points of the treaty of peace have been agreed on between Bismarck and Favre.

It is reported that Napoleon is in France, and that threats have been made to murder the Archbishop of Paris if Blancqui is not released by the assemblists.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

Hon. Jesse Carr, of Goffstown, now almost 88 years old, went to Manchester May 3d, to attend a Masonic meeting. He is the oldest mason in the state, having been sixty-two years a member of the order.

The Strafford County Teachers' institute will be held in Dover, commencing on the 15th and holding through the week.

The State Prison, since Warden Pillsbury took charge, has cleared more than $5,000 for the state. This has been done, too, in the face of extraordinary expenses.

After many days' hunt, the West Campton bear has been shot. He was eight feet long, weighed 325 pounds, and yielded six gallons of oil.

Mr. E. P. Eastman, recently graduated at the Bangor Theological Seminary, has received a call from the Congregational church at Conway.

The road through the White Mountain Notch is now in good order. A mail is now run from Littleton, to the Crawford House and from there to Conway. There was no snow at the Notch on Tuesday.

A large land-slide took place at Silver Hill, in the south part of Bradford, on Friday. An immense amount of earth, mixed with rocks, one of which probably weighed twenty tons, came down with great rapidity and covered over several acres of land. The highway was rendered impassable.

The leading logs of the annual drive on the Merrimack, which contains about eight million feet, reached Concord on Friday.

On Saturday afternoon the boom in the Nashua River, below the Main Street bridge in Nashua, gave way under the heavy pressure of the current, and logs to the value of $10,000 were precipitated over the falls, and from thence have floated over into the Merrimack River or caught on the banks and shoals. The logs were owned by Messrs. Sargent & Cross.

THE proprietor of the Hong Kong Tea Store in Davenport, Iowa., advertises that he "keeps the best and sells the cheapest." What charming frankness.

THE municipal elections throughout Kentucky on Saturday passed off quietly. The republicans carried Frankfort by a large majority.

THE Nebraska, of the new line, sailed for Australia and New Zealand from San Francisco on Saturday, May 6. She carries 25 cabin passengers, a very light freight and an immense mail.

FOSTER, the murderer of Mr. Putnam in a New York street car, is now said to have killed a man named Newman in 1868, but that no notice of the affair was then taken. He is the discarded son of a wealthy man.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The Times says Dr. Walpole has lost his beautiful chestnut mare. She died suddenly in harness, it is supposed from bots or pin worms. If the Doctor had used Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, he would no doubt have had his mare to-day—they are death on worms.

Chapped hands are very common with those who have their hands much in water. A few drops of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment rubbed over the hands two or three times a day, will keep them soft and white. Fishermen, sailors, and others will do well to remember this.

Address R. V. Pierce, M. D., 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y., and get a pamphlet on Catarrh free, or send sixty cents and get Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. $500 reward is offered by the proprietor for a case of Catarrh which he cannot cure. Sold by druggists. Cut this out, as you may never see it again.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Quit Drugging.

This is now admitted by the medical profession as a fundamental principle of healing science. It is wisely provided by the human economy that whenever anything is wrong in the physical system the natural forces of the body are brought to bear to expel the disease. The great aim, therefore, is to strengthen the natural powers. This has been kept in view by the skillful compounders of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which operates to give fresh vitality to all the organs of the body. The effect of this medicine upon the stomach, the liver and the kidneys, is prompt and decisive. The patient, who is wise enough to quit drugging and try the bitters, soon feels as if he had taken a new lease of life, and as he continues the use of the article, he is overjoyed to find the streams of health coursing through his frame. It is prepared with great care, and its component parts are entirely vegetable. It is free from the objections so often urged against preparations of the kind. As a medicinal agent it has no equal, while its pleasing flavor and healthful effects have made it a general favorite. It is free from all properties calculated to impair the system, and its operations are at once mild, soothing and efficient. All who have used Hostetter's Stomach Bitters attest its virtues and commend it.

Even those who are in the enjoyment of perfect health frequently have need to have recourse to tonic as preventives of diseases. We are never too well armed against the assaults of "the ills that flesh is heir to." In health or sickness this tonic cannot be taken regularly without giving vitality and elasticity to the system.

DR. Goodall has moved into his new quarters in Waldron Block, (No.60 Congress Street,) where he will be pleased to receive his old patrons and the public generally, and perform any required work in dentistry.

THERE are various stories afloat concerning a case of cruel treatment of a seaman named O'Donnell on board the U. S. relief steamer Speedwell, but we have not yet succeeded in learning the facts in the case, and hence shall withhold comment for the present.

RICHARDS AVENUE. — We understand that measures are being taken to commence the improvements on this chief thorough fare, according to will and bequest of Mrs. Cutts. A meeting of leading citizens was held a few days since, at the invitation of Mr. Hackett, one of the executors in charge; and the plan already submitted to the examination of the public, was discussed and substantially approved by those present, including Mr. Elwyn and the Messrs. Peirce, from whose estates the land necessary for the widening of the Avenue must mainly or wholly come.

Accordingly, by order of Mr. Hackett, Surveyor Hoyt is now employed in taking measurements for a profile of the premises, so that Mr. J. R. Holmes may return estimates of the expense of the necessary filling and grading; and thus there now seems a reasonable prospect for the commencement of this much desired public improvement—the delay in which has been caused by sickness and other unavoidable contingencies, and not by any lack of interest on the part of the legal gentlemen who have the matter in hand.

Communicated.

AVERY.—The name Avery appears in the early Chronicles of Strawberry Bank, now Portsmouth; and in that connexion a little information is wanted. According to the ancient Town Records, Thomas Avery was "one of the free comers unto the year 1657," to whom additional lands were granted by the town in 1660. It is supposed a "free comer" was one who was made free by the General Court of "The Bay" or somewhere else before he came. If so, whence and where did Thomas Avery come? His lands here are supposed to have been in Greenland, then a part of the settlement, for he was in the Tything Division of Lieut. Neale, which the old records say, embraced "all the families of Greenland." There is evidence that he was a laboring farmer, working his lands.

We find him contributing to the support of the minister in 1666, working on the highways in 1668 and 1670, contributing his share to the support of Rev. Mr. Moody in 1671, paying his town rate of 3 shillings 6 pence in 1672, working on the highways again in following years up to 1681—and in the Greenland part of the Portsmouth Tax List for the Poor, about 1690, he was assessed one pound six shillings. When seats in the new meeting house were assigned to the congregation in 1693, Thomas Avery's seat was "in the third row of the men's side gallery;" and no other person of the name, male or female, is assigned a seat in the house. The last record of Thomas Avery in the old town books is his recorded vote with that of twenty others in 1696, against allowing the schoolmaster the then enormous salary of thirty pounds for a year's services in teaching the children. Perhaps some of the old settlers who may happen to see these data will be able to give us some additional information concerning Thomas Avery, his kindred, or descendants.

It is stated in some of the old records that John Avery died at Portsmouth in 1654, and that his brother Laurence Avery was heir to his estate, but it is said the town records of that date were destroyed. In the tax for the Poor, however, in 1690, John Avery was assessed one pound in Portsmouth; and Savage, in his Geneaological Dictionary, says: "John Avery of New Hampshire was one of those who solicited the protection of Massachusetts in 1694."

The object of this communication is to invite information in the form of family records, or even tradition, concerning the Averys who first settled, about the middle of the 17th century, here in "old Strawberry Bank." And he who will furnish it may contribute an interesting page to our early history.

THE May term of the U. S. Circuit Court commenced its session in this city on Monday; present, Clifford, Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, and Clark, District Judge.

No jury trial was had on Monday, and the Court were engaged in listening to arguments on a motion to dismiss a suit in equity remaining from the State Court, of Wm. B. Small vs. George Wm. Gordon and others, relating to the property of Mr. Clement March, formerly of Greenland, which is in the hands of Mr. Small as receiver. Marston for Small; C. L. Woodbury and Benjamin Dean of Boston, for Gordon and others.

The indications are that the trial will be brief.

Two men were arrested at Seabrook on Saturday and lodged in the lockup, for drunkenness. They managed to pursuade an officer to removed their handcuffs, and when they were looked for could not be found, having cut their way out and taken to the woods. They were recaptured, and paid a fine. The lockup needs a new plank in it.

MESSRS. James and Edwin Junkins, who live about one mile from North Berwick village, had their horse and wagon stolen from their stable, Sunday night, by a man named J. F. Johnson, who has been at work for them for the past four months. Johnson formerly belonged in Winslow, Me., is about 20 years of age, about 5 feet 9 inches high, dark complexion and weighs about 165 pounds.

THE body of Henry L. Joy—the man who suddenly disappeared a few weeks since, and who was connected with the drowning of Miss Mary McCarthy—was found on Sunday, having washed ashore on Goose Rock, off the mouth of the Saco river. It is stated that the remains were so badly decomposed as to render identification impossible save by the clothing which the deceased had on.

WE print the following irreverent squib just as we clipped it from an exchange, and would inform the meddling editor that if the people of New Hampshire choose to launch their ships into bay-fields, it's none of his business, anyway.

The Concord Statesman prints at the head of its columns the arms of New Hampshire, but we believe it has never explained why the ship in the center should be on the point of launching into the hay-field on the left, when the troutbrook on the right is ready to receive it.

Consumption,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faithful testimonials made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of this malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They correspond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating point, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous torture. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man, Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Pature cooperates, it collects and expels the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of expectoration it prepares the way for destruction, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point gained.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and strengthening the disease that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the doctor, "then looking like a living skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and the result will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the simple instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Of remarkable cases hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a specific bacteric against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

7-30 GOLD LOAN

—OF THE—

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

RAPID PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

The building of the Northern Pacific Railroad, (begun July last,) is being pushed forward with great energy from both extremities of the line. Several thousand men are employed in Minnesota and on the Pacific coast. The track is newly completed 266 miles westward from Lake Superior; trains are running over 130 miles of finished road, and track-laying is rapidly progressing toward the eastern border of Dakota. Including its purchase of the St. Paul & Pacific Road, the Northern Pacific Company now has 413 miles of completed road, and by September next this will be increased to at least 560.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.—Jay Cooke & Co. are now selling their undoubtedly recommend, as a Profitable and perfectly Safe Investment, the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They have 30 years to run, bear Seven and Three-Tenths per cent. gold interest (more than 8 per cent. currency) and are secured by first and only mortgage on the ENTIRE ROAD AND EQUIPMENTS and also, as fast as the Road is completed, on 23,000 ACRES OF LAND to every mile of track, or 500 Acres for each $1,00 Bond. They are exempt from U. S. Tax; Principal and Interest are payable in Gold; Denominations; Coupons, $100 to $1,000; Registered, $100 to $10,000.

LANDS FOR BONDS.—Northern Pacific 7-30's are at all times receivable at TEN PER CENT. ABOVE PAR, in exchange for the Company's Lands, at their lowest cash prices. This renders them practically INTEREST BEARING LAND WARRANTS.

SINKING FUNDS.—The proceeds of all sales of Lands are required to be devoted to the re-purchase and cancellation of the First Mortgage Bonds of the Company. The Land Grant of the Road exceeds Fifty Million Acres. This immense Sinking Fund will undoubtedly cancel the principal of the Company's bonded debt before it falls due. Combining the security and high rate of interest, there is no investment, accessible to the people, which is more PROFITABLE OR SAFE.

EXCHANGING U. S. FIVE-TWENTIES.—The success of the New Government 5 per cent. Loan will compel the early surrender of United States 6 per cents. Many holders of Five-Twenties are now seeking for some thing like Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties, thus realizing a handsome profit and greatly increasing their yearly income.

OTHER SECURITIES.—All marketable Stocks and Bonds will be received at their highest current price in exchange for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties. Expenses Charges on Money or Bonds received and on Seven-Thirties sent in return, will be paid by the Financial Agents. Full information, maps, pamphlets, etc., can be obtained on application at any agency, or from the undersigned. For sale by

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage bonds at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis, for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. Interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. f24dWaS

PRACTICAL APPLICATION OF

HAMLET'S SOLILOQUY.

To insure or not to insure? That is the question.
Whether it will be nobler for my family to suffer
The stings and arrows of outrageous fortune
Or take a policy against those dangers,
And, by insuring, end them? To fret, to fear,
No more; and by a policy to end
The heartache and the thousand natural shocks
That flesh is heir to. Yes, my application 's
Devoutly to be wished; apply, insure,
And pay the premium: ay—there's the rub
For in that time what premiums may come
Before I shuffle off this mortal coil
Does make me pause, tightens my purse,
And makes me rather pay the bills I have
Than fly to others I know not of.
Thus does moaness make brutes of us all.

Morning Chronicle.

SINCE the murder of Mr. Putnam by a New York bully, the papers of that city teem with accounts of violence, outrage and robbery perpetrated on unprotected passengers in public conveyances, the victims of which have hitherto been restrained by fear of the scoundrels or the hopelessness of obtaining redress before the corrupt city courts, from making them public. The New York correspondent of the Boston Journal draws the following pleasant picture of the delights of travel on the New York street railways:—

The foul murder of Mr. Putnam by a drunken rowdy on a city car, has thoroughly roused the entire community. The complicity of conductors with thieves, pickpockets and desperadoes, has long been known. They not only afford no assistance to passengers, but they often lend aid and comfort to desperadoes, or at best keep quiet. Judge Bedford announced from the bench yesterday, that it was his purpose to hold as accessory, conductors who give countenance to villains on the cars. Something should be said on behalf of men who have charge of street cars. There is a gang of roughs who had rather take life than eat. They crowd the platform at night for the express purpose of pillaging. The police are afraid of them, and, when they can, give the wretches a wide berth. They could at any hour of the night strike a conductor on the head, rob him and escape. There is a sort of understanding between the conductor and the robber, that the officials shall be let alone, and that the passengers shall be left to take care of themselves. In the extreme eastern and western parts of the city there is a perfect reign of terror. Merchants who ride nights are arming themselves, and are resolved to shoot down the first villain who insults a lady in a public vehicle.

TYPOGRAPHIC BLUNDERS.—There is no funnier reading in the world than some of the printers' blunders that go the rounds of the papers. Here are a few that a laugh or two may be found in.

In the office of a New York paper there stood in type the report of a sermon, and a paragraph about the career of a mad dog. In "making up" these two got mixed, and the readers of the paper, next day, were astounded by the following melange. "Rev. James Thompson preached to a large audience last Sunday. This was his last sermon previous to his embarkation for Europe. He exhorted his brethren and sisters, and after offering a devout prayer, took a whim to cut up some strange freaks. He ran up Smith Street to Brown, and down Carr Street to College. At this stage of the proceedings some boys seized him, tied a tenkettle to his tail, and let him go. A great crowd gathered, and for a few minutes there was a lively scene. Finally, he was shot by a policeman."

A printer in Syracuse, setting up a book advertisement, thus gave the title of one of Dickens' novels, "Barney, by Rudge, $1.50."

The writer of an obituary notice of an estimable lady, said that the bereaved husband was "hardly able to bear the demise of his wife." Imagine his disgust on reading in print that the bereaved husband was "hardly able to wear the chemise of his wife."

The London Court Journal once in describing a wedding in high life, said that the bride was accompanied to the altar by tight bridesmaids. The lovely young ladies were eight, not tight.

A Providence paper once announced that Rev. Dr. Wayland, president of Brown University, "gave a billiard party." The editor wrote a brilliant party.

The importance of careful punctuation cannot be insisted on too urgently. Here are a few instances which illustrate it. "Wanted a young man to take charge of a pair of horses of a religious turn of mind." "A child was run over by a wagon three years old and cross-eyed, with pantaleets that never spoke afterwards." "The procession was very fine and nearly ten miles in length, as was also the prayer of Dr. Perry, the Chaplain." "Lost, an enamelled lady's gold watch and charms." A toast at a public dinner—"Woman—without her, man is a brute."—"Woman without her man, is a brute."

ADVICE TO GIRLS.—Somebody gives the following advice to girls. It is worth volumes of fiction and sentimentalism:

Men who are worth having want women for wives. A bundle of gewgaws, bound with a string of flats and quavers, sprinkled with cologne and set in a carmine saucer—this is no help for a man who expects to raise a family of boys on veritable bread and meat. The piano and lace frames are good in their places, and so are ribbons, and frills, and tassels; but you cannot make a dinner of the former, nor a bed blanket of the latter—and awful as such idea may seem to you, both dinner and bed blankets are necessary to domestic happiness. Life has its realities, as well as fancies; but you make it all decorations, remembering the tassels and curtains, but forgetting the bedstead. Suppose a man of good sense, and of course good prospects, to be looking for a wife, what chance have you to be chosen? You may cap him, or you may trap him, but how much better to make it an object for him to catch you. Render yourself worth catching, and you will need no shrewd mother or brother to help you find a market.

—New London, Conn., fined a man two dollars for kissing another man's wife. The husband thrashed him, too.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE METHODIST, of New York, has always been edited with marked ability by Rev. Dr. Osborn. Its publishers have not added to its editorial corps, Rev. ABEL STEVENS, an equally experienced journalist, and author of the best History of Methodism extant. They have also engaged contributions and sermons from Rev. T. DEWITT TALMAGE, whose success and popularity as a preacher, writer and lecturer, are almost unexampled, and whose free Tabernacle in Brooklyn, with its congregation of over 3,000 people, is one of the marvels of the age. Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER has a Lecture Room Talk every week.

THE METHODIST abounds in good things, is never dull or dry, has stories for children, hints for the young, and something for everybody. Mrs. Willing's great serial story is almost ready. They offer for the price of one year's subscription ($2.50) to send THE METHODIST from now until July 1st, 1873. Specimen copies free. 114 Nassau Street, New York. m3

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, passessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawhbtb

Lines on the Death of Darling Allie.

God hath called, a darling only child
Has joined the angel band.
Oh, mourn ye not, without all hope;
God hath thy Allie—
Angels hold her tiny hand.

God hath chosen from earth's little ones
A new gem for his crown
For ye on earth, how sad the cross:—
Lean on me, Jesus saith,
And lay all your burdens down.

Those little feet, placed side by side
Shall walk on earth no more;
An angel child at the golden gate
Shall meet her dear ones
When their span of life is o'er.

God hath promised, and wesurely know
That in heaven, the higher home,
Our father shall one day call us all.
Soon shall we hear his voice
Calling Souls, up higher, come.
Our lost, we greet, on that glad day,
And God shall wipe all tears away.

Our Correspondence.

SEABROOK, May 9.

Seaside Division, No. 12, Sons of Temperance, organized at South Seabrook April 24; the following were elected as officers: Rev. Wm. A. Rand, W. P.; Reese Owen, P. W.; H. D. Moreland, R. S.; Joshua Eaton, F. S.; Jonathan S. Dow, Treas.; Joseph Knox, W. C.; Calvin Eaton, I. S.; John S. Bagley, O. S.

A May Festival in behalf of the Preachers' Aid Fund was held in the church at South Seabrook, on the evenings of May 1st and 2d. The Atlantic Cornet Band played (and played well), and tableaux and singing by the children were the other attractions. Good order prevailed, a good time was enjoyed, and the Festival netted $175 for the Preachers' Aid. QUILL.

THE St. Cloud Hotel, New York, has been enlarged by the addition of a fine brown stone high stoop mansion, immediately adjacent to the house in Forty-second street, and which cost $70,000. The St. Cloud is but three blocks distant from the new Vanderbilt depot 42d street, and its situation is most eligible for gentlemen from the East who visit New York on business, as well as for persons on pleasure, who wish to patroiize a first class hotel. The Rand Brothers have been most successful in conducting the St. Cloud, having within a year brought it to the front rank among the public houses of New York. All who find a temporary home beneath their roof find also gentlemanly treatment at the office, and polite attention, whether at their rooms or in the dining hall.

REPUBLICANS are asking what the Concord Monitor hopes to gain from a defeat of the Republican legislative candidates in June; why it continues discussing the Santo Domingo question, which is now a dead issue; and whether it can do the Republican party as much damage by open battle in the enemy's camp as by attempting assassination in a friendly garb. Uncle Tobey's statement that the Monitor had sent its baggage into the Democratic camp, does not seem incorrect in view of its action of late, which speaks louder than words.

THE dastardly vitriol throwing outrage in Stoughton, Mass., was on account of a liquor store proprietor having been recently convicted of being a common seller, and Mrs. Wellman's employer (for whom she was mistaken) having been "blamed" for her connection with the prosecution. After throwing the vitriol in the woman's eyes, the friends choked her to make her answer their questions. She is probably blinded. Another instance of the effect of the beneficent rum-traffic on the morals of those engaged in it.

THE English members of the joint high commission and General Schuck, minister to England, have engaged passages on the Cuba, which leaves on the 24th instant for England.

THE newspaper word "gazette" took its name from a Venetian coin called a "gazet" or "gazetta," which was the price charged for perusing the paper.

REV. Mr. Decamp of Chicoville, Arkansas, was murdered in his pulpit a week ago by an outlaw.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 10, 1871.

THE TREATY OF WASHINGTON.

The joint high commissioners met at the State department on the 7th and formally signed the convention agreed upon by them as representatives of Great Britain and the United States. It was engrossed in duplicate and one copy furnished to the English commissioners and one reserved for the State department. The President will transmit the treaty to the Senate, accompanied with a brief message to-day. There seems to be a general desire to work as ambitiously as possible and to effect an early adjournment.

The Washington National Republican publishes the following authoritative official statement.

The treaty is to be known as the treaty of Washington, for the adjustment of claims of injury, alleged by the United States, on account of the escaps of Confederate cruisers from British ports, and depredations committed by those vessels during the late rebellion in this country.

A tribunal of arbitration is constituted to consist of five arbitrators, one appointed by the United States, one by Great Britain, and the other three, each by a designated sovereign state of Europe or America. The treaty establishes special rules of national duty and obligation, in addition to the generally received public law, which rules, although not admitted by the British commissioners to have been in force at the time, are yet, it is agreed to retroact and to govern the decisions of the tribunal.

The arbitration of this tribunal may either award damages in detail or in the gross at its discretion, or it may refer this duty to a board of assessors sitting in the United States, who shall report from time to time, the payment to be accordingly. The British government frankly expresses its regret for the occurrence of the incidents complained of by the United States.

For the adjudication of all other claims of citizens of the United States against Great Britain or of the subjects of Great Britain against the United States during the same period—that is, from the 13th of April, 1861, to the 9th of April, 1865—an ordinary mixed commission is provided, to sit at Washington with an umpire to be nominated, if necessary, by a designated friendly power.

This limitation of the time is material, in substance, for it confines reclamation against the United States to incidents of actual war. It is accompanied also with a declaration on the part of the British commissioners to the effect of excluding claims on account of slave property. Great Britain does not recognize the claims of her subjects for the seizure of cotton in cases where they took up their abode in the South, as they became subject to the exigencies of war.

In regard to the fishery question, in addition to the liberty already secured to them by the treaty of 1818, the fishermen of the United States shall have the liberty to take sea fish on the seacoast and shores, and in the bays, harbors and creeks of the provinces of Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick and the colony of Prince Edward's Island and islands adjacent, without being restricted to any distance from the shore, with permission to land upon such coasts, shores and islands, and also upon the Magdalen islands, for the purpose of drying their nets and curing their fish, subject, of course, in this respect, to the local rights of private property; and the same liberty is granted to British subjects on the eastern coasts and shores of the United States, north of the 39th parallel of latitude.

This liberty is not to include on either side shell-fish or salmon, or the shad fisheries or other fisheries in rivers, and at the mouths of rivers. It is also agreed further that fish oil and fish of all kinds, except of the inland lakes and their rivers, and except fish preserved in oil, the produce of the fisheries of the United States or the Dominion of Canada or Prince Edward Island, shall be admitted into each country, respectively, free of duty. The privileges thus conceded to the United States are obviously most important ones. It is asserted by the British Government, but not admitted by the United States, that the privileges accorded to the United States are of greater value than those accorded to the subjects of Great Britain; and to prevent and avoid controversy on this point it is agreed that a mixed commission, with an umpire appointed by a designated friendly power, shall determine whether there shall be any compensation for such alleged excess of privileges, and if so, how much ought to be paid by the United States.

Next comes the various questions of navigation and commercial transit, which are disposed of by declaring the navigation of the rivers St. Lawrence, Yucan, Porcupine and Stilline forever free and open to the citizens or subjects of both countries; by providing for the equal use of the Welland, St. Lawrence and other canals in the Dominion, on the one hand, and Lake Michigan and the St. Clair flats on the other; by providing for the free transit of merchandise to and from, as well in the British Possessions as in the United States, and abolishing the provisional export duty on American lumber on the river St. John. All the provisions concerning the fisheries and commercial transit are, of course, made contingent upon their being approved by the Congress of the United States, the Parliaments of Great Britain and Canada and the Legislature of Prince Edward Island. By these various stipulations all the privileges of fishery, navigation and transit accorded to the United States by the treaty of 1854 are once more obtained, and in a better form and without the burdensome conditions of that treaty in the reciprocal importations. Of the pending subjects of controversy between the two Governments there remains to be considered the question of the northwestern boundary line.

It is to be remembered that the line of the treaty of 1846 runs by the middle of the channel which separates the continent from Vancouver's Island. But several such channels exist. Great Britain contends that the channel of that treaty is Rosario Straits, and the United States, that it is the Canal Debaro, the two channels being separated by the Island of San Juan. This question having once been reported on by a mixed commission—that for a survey of the line—the United States are not content to refer it to another such commission, for has it been deemed convenient, even though such a tribunal be appointed by a friendly sovereign power. Instead of this it has been agreed by the present treaty to submit the question directly to a neutral power, and the Emperor of Germany has been selected for that purpose. The Government of the United States has in its hands documentary evidence in support of its pretensions, not heretofore made use of, and on that, as well as on other grounds, is confident of the better reason its side has to assure to the United States the possession of the Island of San Juan. Such are the outlines of the considerations which have commended it to the approbation of the President.

CONNECTICUT.—The second session of the legislative committee was held at New Haven on Monday. A memorial with 553 signatures of citizens who voted for Jewell was presented in evidence. The testimony of the counters was received to prove Jewell's vote, tied up in packages of one hundred each, and outside testimony to show 579 to be the Republican vote announced at the polls. To complete the testimony all the citizens of Ward 4 who voted for Jewell were put on the stand.

THE Cincinnati Commercial (republican) a short time ago published what purported to be a speech by Gen. Sherman, in which he was made to say that he did not believe in the alleged Ku-Klux outrages in the Southern States, which speech was held up by the democratic press all over the North as a proof that life and property are perfectly secure in the South. The Washington Chronicle took the liberty to doubt that Gen. Sherman said anything of the kind, on no better authority than having heard him express exactly contrary views in very decided language, but a few weeks before; on which the copperhead press, with their usual anxiety that every saying attributed to a Union general should be accepted as a "settler," rebuked the Chronicle and every paper that copied its article, in scathing terms. But Gen. Sherman himself, at a complimentary reception and dinner given him by the Union League Club of New Orleans, April 22, said in the course of his speech: "I do not wish my remarks this evening to be reported in the newspapers, for I see that what I said on the occasion of another reception extended to me since my arrival, has been entirely misrepresented, and I am credited with words I did not utter at all." The General will now be abused because he did not say what was attributed to him, probably.

THE democratic programme put forth some weeks since by the party leaders, to the effect that the legislature of this State can elect anybody they choose to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator-elect Thrasher, does not meet with unanimous approval from the party. Samuel B. Page, Esq., gentleman of wide influence in his party, says the only lawful candidates are Dr. Hall of Croydon, the regular republican nominee, and Alvah Smith of Lempster, republican, who received the highest number of scattering votes. Other prominent democrats are reported to entertain the same views. In the evenly balanced state of the parties, but a few votes would be needed to overthrow any unconstitutional movement of either side, and it is not probable that the democrats will attempt to carry out the Bingham scheme, even if they should succeed in organizing the legislature as they wish.

COUNTY OFFICEES.—The following is the official vote for Rockingham county officers:

Register of Deeds.—William H. Belknap, Dem., 5716; George W. Weston, Rep., 5095; scattering, 47. Belknap's plurality, 621.

County Treasurer.—Geo. G. Lougee, Rep., 5515; Nathan H. Leavitt, Dem., 5041; Wesley Poor, 219; scattering, 56. Lougee's plurality, 474.

Commissioner.—Frank D. Pollard, Rep., 5533; Lorenzo Frost, Dem., 5271; scattering, 51. Pollard's plurality, 262.

BASE BALL.—Bostons 25, Atlantics 0.

The Olympic club of Washington will play the Harvards at Boston on the 23d, and on the 24th the return game with the Boston Red Stockings.

White Stockings 14, Cleveland Forest Citys 12.

FRANCE.—The chances of the restoration of the imperial dynasty to the throne of France are increasing. The Bonapartists cause is steadily progressing and gains daily strength and influence. Its agents are numerous and widely scattered over every district in France. They are indefatigable in their labors, and the alarming reaction which is taking place, chiefly in the rural districts, is sufficient evidence of success to their labors.

There is official authority at Berlin for stating that enlistments of men for the support of the cause of the Emperor Napoleon in France are being made in America.

Fort Issy has been captured and is now in possession of the Versailles forces.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The Times says Dr. Walpole has lost his beautiful chestnut mare. She died suddenly in harness, it is supposed from bots or pin worms. If the Doctor had used Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, he would no doubt have had his mare to-day—they are death on worms.

Chapped hands are very common with those who have their hands much in water. A few drops of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment rubbed over the hands two or three times a day, will keep them soft and white. Fishermen, sailors, and others will do well to remember this.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Quit Drugging.

This is now admitted by the medical profession as a fundamental principle of healing science. It is wisely provided by the human economy that whenever anything is wrong in the physical system the natural forces of the body are brought to bear to expel the disease. The great aim, therefore, is to strengthen the natural powers. This has been kept in view by the skillful compounders of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which operates to give fresh vitality to all the organs of the body. The effect of this medicine upon the stomach, the liver and the kidneys, is prompt and decisive. The patient, who is wise enough to quit drugging and try the bitters, soon feels as if he had taken a new lease of life, and as he continues the use of the article, he is overjoyed to find the streams of health coursing through his frame. It is prepared with great care, and its component parts are entirely vegetable. It is free from the objections so often urged against preparations of the kind. As a medicinal agent it has no equal, while its pleasing flavor and healthful effects have made it a general favorite. It is free from all properties calculated to impair the system, and its operations are at once mild, soothing and efficient. All who have used Hostetter's Stomach Bitters attest its virtues and commend it.

Even those who are in the enjoyment of perfect health frequently have need to have recourse to tonic as preventives of diseases. We are never too well armed against the assaults of "the ills that flesh is heir to." In health or sickness this tonic cannot be taken regularly without giving vitality and elasticity to the system.

DEATH IN THE HAIR!

Remember every hair is a tube. Don't fill these tubes with poison. Any desired shade of color can be obtained without the slightest danger. Have you read Professor CHILTON'S statement (made after analysis,) that is absolutely harmless? Nothing can be more conclusive. If you wish to change the color of your hair to a magnificent black or brown, and to

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

New Advertisements to-day.

Dental Card—Dr. Goodall.
Internal Revenue.
Lost—A Pocket-book.

THE U. S. Circuit Court adjourned on Tuesday, to sit again next Monday.

THE Journal says Postmaster Pierce "is the right man in the right place." That's so, every time.

MESSRS. C. H. Mendum & Co. advertise a stock of Mourning Goods, to which we call the attention of those in want of such.

THE Savannah, Ga., Base Ball Club will visit Boston in July and play the Lowells on the 16th and the Bostons on the 17th. They have invited the Granite State Club of this city to play them a friendly game. Mr. Geo. G. Kimball, formerly of the Granite States, is one of Savannahs.

MONDAY evening officer Entwistle arrested a woman of evil fame, on suspicion that she knew something about the recent burglery at Mr. Geo. Stott's store. On arriving at the lockup she confessed, criminating one James Gilcrist, better known as "Scotty," who had before been arrested and discharged, and he was again taken into custody. On Tuesday he was examined and the case continued till to-day. He is a poor stick, whether he is convicted on this charge or not.

DR. Goodall, at his new Dental Rooms in Waldron Block, has fitted up a very convenient place for his patrons to enjoy toothache at their leisure, should they be obliged to wait for his services. His laboratory, operating and waiting rooms are neatly finished in ash and black walnut, and ornamented with pictures and busts, including a fire-proof bust of Shakespeare, which was burned up in the old building and is now nearly as good as new. The operating room is furnished with a newly-invented and very convenient chair, which enables the dentist to place the patient in the exact position required; and this, in connection with the many new and handsome instruments for dental work shown us by the doctor, we should fancy would make it rather a treat to have a few teeth pulled once in a while. Dr. Goodall's advertisement may be found in another column.

WE are informed that a seaman attached to the U. S. relief steamer Speedwell, for some misdemeanor (drunkenness and insolence, our informant stated,) recently had his hands bound together behind him, and was then triced up in such a manner by them as to occasion suffering; that he was kept in this position for about two hours, and when released was completely saturated with sweat wrung from him in his agony. Our informant further stated that the man was afterwards sent to the Hospital by either the executive officer or the commandant of the Yard, and gave us to understand that both those gentlemen severely reprobated the conduct of the Speedwell's commander. That either Com. Pennock or Capt. Fairfax would countenance any such deed of cruelty as is alleged against the other officer, or shield a wrongdoer from the effects of his acts, will not for a moment be imagined by any one; and if the account is correct, we do not question that they will promptly take whatever steps humanity and the best interests of the service demand.

THE Boston Journal of Tuesday says there was a scene quite worthy a New York street car, on the up train from this city to Concord, Monday. Conductor Maynard had some trouble with Samuel Davis, of Candia, on Saturday, when he was insulted by the latter, but no serious disturbance took place. On Monday, Davis had half a dozen companions with him, and the crowd set upon Mr. Maynard in the most unprovoked manner, and beat and choked him brutally until he managed to get out a billy and knock Davis over. Mr. Davis was arrested, and had a trial in the Portsmouth Police Court on Tuesday. The evidence was somewhat contradictory, and the case occupied several hours, ending in Mr. Davis being fined $5, without costs, from which he appealed. The affair was much exaggerated in the Journal, as the light sentence of the court shows,—Mr. Davis being the only person complained of.

AN Indian battle is reported in the Wind River District, Wyoming, on the 8th. Several thousand Indians surprised several hundred U. S. troops and were defeated, losing several hundred, including two chiefs. A general Indian war seems imminent.

SCOLLAY'S BUILDING is so nearly demolished that we can begin to appreciate the vast improvement which its entire removal will make in that great centre of travel. Passing there yesterday we noticed an old, familiar sign, which has been there so long that is has become almost a part of the building itself—that of "S. R. Niles' Advertising Agency." For the past twenty years Mr. Niles has occupied rooms there, and has devoted himself to the business of advertising in the newspapers of all parts of the country. During this long time he has not only built up a large and prosperous business, but has gathered to himself hosts of friends who will wish him continued success in his new location, No. 6 Tremont street. Advertising is in fact, a science, and although it is becoming to be recognized as a primary and unavoidable expense in the prosecution of any business enterprise, and sometimes the only capital in many undertakings, still there are but few who really appreciate its immense importance, or realize the wonders it is capable of performing. When managed with experience, judgment, skill, persistency and liberality, we do not believe there ever was an instance known where it did not yield most gratifying results. From our long business and personal connection with Mr. Niles, we know that he is a master of the art of advertising—that his judgment and advice in advertising may be relied upon—that he has been repeatedly entrusted with the promulgation of great enterprises, and that he enjoys the confidence and respect of the newspaper press and the public to an extent which it is an honor for any man to possess. Boston Journal, 5th.

All who have had business intercourse or personal relations with Mr. Niles can heartily endorse the foregoing. He is as much indentified with Boston as with the extensive business of which he is the head. The confidence reposed in him is never misplaced and the promptness with which he acts is illustrated by an incident which happened while we were whiling away an hour in his office recently. A large advertiser entered late in the afternoon, wanted an immediate insertion in Cincinnati, Detroit, St. Louis and Milwaukee papers, and the advertisement appeared in the dailies of those cities the next morning, having been telegraphed in full. Mr. Niles' old sign, mentioned by the Journal, came down on the 8th. Long may it be ere its owner follows suit, say all his friends and patrons.

—The apparent triumph of the Democratic party at the polls this spring, seems to have infused it with a new life and vitality, judging from the extraordinary efforts its agents make in naturalizing their foreign brethren. Forty-two declarations of intention to become citizens in full were sworn to and filed in court this term, most of which applicants had formerly at some time trod the bogs of "Sweet Ireland," and a large portion of whom signed their names with an X attested by E. H. Bullard, as the files of court show. Is it a wonder that the Democratic party is a conservative party When American born citizens of our State gain a voting residence in another, they are called "carpet-baggers" if they happen to be Republicans. Query—is a man any less a "carpet bagger" because he happens to be foreign born, naturalized and a Democrat?—Keene Sentinel.

The Sentinel don't understand it. "Our foreign-born fellow citizens" from the "ould country" are not called carpet-baggers, because very few few of them bring baggage enough with them to make a carpet bag necessary for transporting it. Shillelahs are more plenty with them than carpet-bags.

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency,

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 30 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obliging the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bondholder, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. 12d WaS

Morning Chronicle.

THE democracy claim to be the people's party, and the copperhead press are never done inveighing against radical legislation in favor of corporations. But the most corporation-ridden State in the Union, New York, is democratic, and the corporations which rule the State are democratic, too. Just now the Bar Associations of New York and Albany are energetically protesting against one of the most outrageous pieces of legislation ever perpetrated, the alteration of the code of civil procedure in the courts, solely in the interests of the great railroad rings of the State, the lawyers (of all parties) saying that the new code "puts the fundamental liberties of the citizen in imminent peril and renders the attainment of justice in a vast number of important suits absolutely impossible."

The Boston Advertiser, commenting on the provisions of the bill passed by the people-loving, corporation-opposing, democratic majority of the New York legislature, says:—

Several of them are clearly intended to enlarge greatly the powers of the supreme court of New York city at the expense of the superior court and the court of common pleas. The supreme court judges are Sutherland, Brady, Cardozo, Ingraham and Barnard; and everybody understands that at least two of them are merely creatures of the Tammany ring. The patronage of these five judges is greatly increased, and the existing right of the final court of appeals to pass upon their proceedings is peremptorily decled as to a large number and wide variety of issues. Either of these five judges may at any time and of his own will remove to his own court any suit now pending, or hereafter brought, in the superior court or court of common pleas, and from his action in this regard there is to be no possible appeal.

The exercise of power thus conferred, Judge Barnard has heretofore audaciously attempted with reference to a considerable number of suits in which Fisk and Gould are interested. His endeavor thus to benefit Erie was, however, unanimously overruled by the higher judges, who not only denied the power he coveted, but held that its exercise would be dangerous to the public welfare. Another provision of the new code utterly takes away the right to have an inspection of the books or papers of a corporate company under any circumstances whatever. Had the bill become a law six days ago Gould could forever have frustrated the effort to make him disclose what has become of the Erie stock owned in England.

Another provision prohibits any stockholder of a corporation from seeking redress against its officers in any other place than the county where they have their principal office,—in other words, every suit against Erie, the New York Central, and half-a-dozen other railroads, must be brought in New York city, and will be at the absolute control of either of the five judges we have named.

And, finally, for we touch on only the chief features of this extraordinary code,—and finally the proposed amendments repeal all existing statutes with reference to contempts, and give each judge authority to define contempts of court according to his own notion, without the benefit of trial by jury or the privilege of appeal. So that, as the Bar Association says, "the free and public discussion of the character of judical tribunals, and even the publication without permission of true and impartial reports of judicial proceedings, are made criminal misdemeanors, and punishable by fine and imprisonment at the arbitrary discretion of the judge."

We ventore the assertion that no such bill as this was ever before passed by a legislative body. Its careful intent and deliberate purpose are clear as sunlight,—to give the five judges in this article mentioned complete control of every suit in which the Tammany ring of the Erie railroad is interested, and to prevent every citizen and every newspaper from discussing the conduct of proceedings in the courts over which these five judges respectively preside. Well may the Bar Association raise the note of alarm; well may it say "the fundamental liberties of the citizen are in imminent peril"; well may it declare that here is an attempt to "silence the bar, "shackle the press and crush public opinion."

—Elder Knapp, whose vigorous preaching here was recently the subject of much comment, has—so the Radical says—"all the ponderous machinery of hell, heated red hot, in successful operation" in Boston. We have also received a tract, or a parody, by Ah Sin (aer), from the Hub. The following extract shows the sad effects of the Elder's preaching, upon the author's spouse:

"Then I looked at my wife,
And she looked upon me,
And she rose with a sigh,
And said, 'Can this be?
Don't the Elder know God from the Devil?'
—N. Y. Globe.

THE only female editor in Mississippi is Miss Piney W. Forest, who controls the Library Advocate. The lady's name is being made the subject of a good deal of poor punning and worse wit by newspaper paragraphists. Here is a sample: "We guess everybody will buy an interest in that pine forest before long, perhaps with a view to girdling it."

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE METHODIST, of New York, has always been edited with marked ability by Rev. Dr. CROOKS. Its publishers have just added to its editorial corps, Rev. ABEL STEVENS, an equally experienced journalist, and author of the best History of Methodism extant. They have also engaged contributions and sermons from Rev. T. DEWITT TALMAGE, whose success and popularity as a preacher, writer and lecturer, are almost unexampled, and whose free Tabernacle in Brooklyn, with its congregation of over 3,000 people, is one of the marvels of the age. Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER has a Lecture Room Talk every week.

THE METHODIST abounds in good things, is never dull or dry, has stories for children, hints for farmers, and something for everybody. Mrs. Willing's great serial story is almost ready. They offer for the price of one year's subscription ($2.50) to send THE METHODIST from now until July 1st, 1872. Specimen copies free. 114 Nassau Street, New York. m3

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. B. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,
No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in these departments. Models or copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS.
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfebl6

The Chronicle.

THE New York Globe thus makes record of the swearers and non swearers of the press of the metropolis: Amos Jay Cummings, of the Sun, never swears, not even when he is mad, but then he never gets mad. Doc. Wood swears fearfully when he gets angry: he never gets angry either. Whitelaw Reid, of the Tribune, never swears. Hon. Horace Greeley never swears. (stamps on it.) In fact nobody about the Tribune swears, not even the compositor nor the pressmen. Jo Howard, Jr., is a poor swearer. His swearing is lacking in force and vitality. Mr. Smith and Mr. Shurtleff, of the Star, are both too gentlemanly to swear; besides they are regular attendants at church. Denyse, of the Leader, swears like a pirate; he lays over Jo Howard, Jr., in that line. Mr. Gordon, Mr. Brown, and Mr. O'Neal of the Leader, are very devout, and consequently never indulge in profanity. Young Jim Bennett is very choice and refined in his selection of profane words; for example, he says "dem me." Dr. Wallace, of the Herald, is too much of a philosopher to swear. The Herald city editor, Kelly, is vicious and ugly in his profanity.

EXCHANGE OF BABIES.—At Quincy, Ill, the other day, a lady got on board the cars, bearing in her arms a handsome little child about four months old, tastefully dressed in white, for which she manifested the deepest affection. When the train reached Shelbina another lady got on board, holding in her arms a four months' old child, the exact counterpart of the one first mentioned, and dressed precisely the same, and took her seat directly in front of the first passenger. Just after the train was in motion, both ladies had ocasion to get up and pass through the car, and each one deposited her baby carefully on the seat. On returning, each mistook her seat, and, singular to relate, made a mistake in the babies. No. 1 carefully lifted in her arms the baby of No. 2. No. 2 caressed most fondly the little cherub belonging to No. 1. For twenty-two miles the mothers rode on the train, each nursing the other's child for her own. On reaching Macon, the Shelbina lady started out of the cars and was on the point of stepping on a platform with the other lady's infant in her arms, when the conductor, who had noticed the involuntary exchange, called her attention to the fact. She was of course greatly surprised, and could scarcely believe it possible; but on returning to the car and comparing notes as well as babies with the other lady, the mistake was discovered and promptly rectified. Each lady pressed closer to her breast the little cherub she had been so near losing, and after a profusion of explanations and apologies, which were only terminated by the ringing of the bell, they separated, and each went on her own way rejoicing.

and HELMBOLD'S highly-concentrated

Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla.

In the Spring and Summer months the system undergoes a change. This is the time to use good blood-renewing, purifying and invigorating medicines. HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA and HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT GRAPE-JUICE PILLS are the best and most reliable.

ONE BOTTLE of Helmbold's Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla equals in strength one gallon of the syrup or decoction as made by druggists, and a wine-glass added to a pint of water equals the celebrated Lisbon diet drink, a delightful and healthful beverage.

The Grape-Juice Pill is composed of fluid extract Catawba grape-juice and FLUID EXTRACT RHUBARB. Useful in all diseases requiring a cathartic remedy, and far superior to all other purgatives, such as salts, magnesia, &c. Helmbold's Grape-Juice Pill is not a patented pill, put up as those ordinarily vended, but the result of ten years' experimenting and great care in preparation.

SAFE FOR AND TAKEN BY CHILDREN; NO NAUSEA; NO GRIPING PAINS; BUT MILD, PLEASANT, AND SAFE IN OPERATION.

Two bottles of the Fluid Extract of Sarsaparilla and one bottle of the Grape-Juice Pills are worth their weight in gold to those suffering from bad blood, poor complexion, headache, nervousness, wakefulness at night, costiveness and irregularities, and to those suffering from broken and delicate constitutions it will give new blood, new vigor and new life.

The Catawba Grape Pills are done up with great care and in handsome bottles, and will surpass all those vended in wooden boxes and carelessly prepared by inexperienced men, comparing with the French and English style of manufacturing.

All of H. T. HELMBOLD'S Preparations are Pharmaceutical, not a single one being patented, but all on their own merits. To dispel any impression or prejudice that might exist in the minds of many against my Preparations, from the publicity given through advertising, and that I am and have been a druggist for a period of twenty years and more, conclusively to prove this, See letter.

The Daily Chronicle.

THURSDAY, MAY 11, 1871.

THE Portsmouth Chronicle fails to inform us how five Republican and five Democratic Senators can organize the Senate, so as to meet the House in convention for the purpose of filling the vacancies in Districts No. 1 and 10, and also for the choice of Governor, without a mutual compromise in the selection of officers. As we understand the situation,—more than a quorum of the Senate having been chosen—an organization of the Senate must be made before it can meet the House in convention to fill vacancies in its own body, or before any legislation can be enacted.

If the Chronicle has any faith that the Republicans have a clear majority in the House sufficient to organize it, and that in the very worst possible event, the Senate will be tied politically, we cannot see its consistency in urging a dead lock of legislation, especially as the Republicans have nothing to gain from it. The Republican party is not so strong in this State that it can block the wheels of our State government with impunity. Our citizens are attached to the forms of constitutional law, and any party which seeks to override them will weaken its hold on the people.

To talk of the Democrats overturning the judiciary and gerrymandering the State, when the Republicans have the House in their hands, and the Senate tied, and a Republican Governor, and a majority of the Executive council, is simply absurd, and shows an utter lack of faith in the ability of the Republicans to organize the House, amounting to a confession that we are beaten, before a trial of our party strength is made in June. We don't propose to share in any such cowardice, and throw up the sponge before 165 Republicans have had a chance to measure strength with 154 Democrats and Labor Reformers in the House. If we are beaten in June, it will be because the Chronicle and like sheets persist in showing the white feather before the contest begins. Screw up your courage, Mr. Chronicle, and don't surrender before gunpowder has been burned.

Look here, Mr. Concord Monitor, which side shows the "white feather," that which advocates compromise with the enemy—or that which urges no compromise and favors straight forward action to defeat copperheadism? Don't credit us with the sentiments of the Exeter News Letter on this subject. In our issue of the 3d, which first stirred up the Monitor's wrath, we said "we prefer a dead-lock, if necessary," and farther on, "we do not see any necessity for compromise." Neither do we see any necessity for a dead lock, but if there should be a necessity a dead lock would be far preferable to allowing the control of the State to go into the hands of our opponents. We do not understand by the Constitution that the Senate must organize before meeting the House in Convention to fill vacancies. Article XXXIV provides that all vacancies in the Senate shall be filled on joint ballot by "the members of the House of Representatives, and such Senators as shall be declared elected."

Article XXXIII provides that the Governor and Council shall issue "summons to such persons as appear to be chosen Senators by a majority of votes, to attend and take their seats" on the first Wednesday of June. This, we regard, as the proper declaration of their election, although the Senate is the final judge of the election of its members. The Senate cannot organize until the Senators elect are sworn, and when sworn the members of the Senate are qualified to meet the members of the House to fill vacancies in the Senate. Our view of the case may be incorrect; we do not profess to be versed in law, but organization does not appear to be necessary before meeting the "members of the House" to fill vacancies. If necessary, a temporary organization may suffice.

Our idea of a dead-lock is this:—If the combined opposition should be able to control the House, the scheme of the Democratic managers to elect Mr. Marcy to fill the vacancy in the first Senatorial District be successful, (a contingency that we do not apprehend,) and the vacancy remain unfilled in the 10th District, that a Democratic organization of the Senate might be effected and the Constitution ignored, it would then be the duty of the Republican members to withdraw from the Senate chamber, leaving the Senate without a quorum, the presence of seven Senators being necessary for the transaction of business, according to Article XXXVII.

We have no doubt that the Republicans have a majority in the legislature, and prefer the dead-lock only in case we are mistaken. The Republicans have all to lose, while the Democrats have nothing to lose and everything to gain. The State can in no wise be the loser should twelve months pass with no legislation.

It is a very singular fact that the Monitor stands alone in attacking the party it pretends to support (through its leaders) in the most cowardly way, and shows the "white feather" by recommending compromise, while the "CHRONICLE and like sheets" (embracing every other Republican paper in New Hampshire) insist on no compromise, no surrender, and claim the House to be Republican by thrice the majority that the Monitor does.

It is now regarded as probable that the legislative committee on the canvass of votes in Connecticut will report to the legislature that Hon. Marshall Jewell, Republican, is elected by the people, and that a resolution will be offered declaring him so elected.

THE EDITORIAL EXCURSION.—The committee appointed to arrange for the excursion of the Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts Editorial Associations have so far completed their arrangements that they can say that the Massachusetts and Maine members will start from Boston on Monday, July 10th. Taking up the New Hampshire and Vermont members on the route they will proceed to Waterbury, Vt., where they will be met by Mr. Bingham, the proprietor of Mount Mansfield, who will take them to Stowe, where they will remain over night. On Tuesday they will go on to the mountain and spend the day there, returning to Stowe Tuesday night Wednesday, go to St. Albans and dine; and in the afternoon go to Montreal. Here they will remain until Thursday, P. M., when they will take the cars again for Newport, Vt., where the party will break up with "appropriate ceremonies" Thursday evening. Arrangements will be made so that those members of the Associations and their ladies who wish can go through the White Mountains at reduced rates of fare. The excursion will undoubtedly be a delightful one. It will be confined exclusively to members of the Associations and their ladies, and tickets will be issued to no persons whose names are not on the Association's books previous to the first of July.

THE St. Louis Democrat recalls the energy with which the democratic party, in 1850 and subsequently, insisted upon the constitutionality of the Fugitive Slave law, and comparing that with the Ku-Klux bill, says: "What democratic journal then thought that States were annihilated, the Constitution defunct, despotism established, and the universe on the point of collapsing? But times have changed. There is now no slavery—nothing but freedom—to be protected. The slave has been atrociously freed and invested with citizenship and now the additional crime is perpetrated of undertaking to maintain that freedom and that citizenship. Hence democratic woe over 'the dead Constitution.'" The Democrat asks a very unkind question. We remember well enough when Boston Court House was "hung in chains" and armed with loaded cannon, while all the U. S. land forces, marines and man-of-war's-men available were on duty in or near the city to support the democratic theory that the national law giving power to the South Carolina slaveholder to hold slaves in Massachusetts was constitutional, all laws of Massachusetts to the contrary; but we don't remember that any democratic journal felt very badly about it, though they all had plenty to say concerning the "supremacy of the Constitution," and the necessity of upholding the laws in spite of the revolutionary and rebellious sophistries and acts of the "black Abolitionists," who insolently refused to eat the dust in presence of the nation's hereditary rulers, the slaveholding aristocracy of the South. It does make a mighty difference who owns the gored ox.

NEW BOOKS.—Roberts Brothers announce for publication on May 15, "The American Religion," by John Weiss; one volume, 16mo; price $1.50. The peculiar views of this able radical thinker will make his book one of special interest. On June 1st, "Little Men; life at Plumfield, with Jo's Boys;" by Louisa M. Alcott, author of Little Women, An Old-Fashioned Girl, Hospital Sketches and Camp and Fireside Stories; illustrated; one volume, uniform with her previous books; price $1.50. "Professor Bhaer," having opened a private school at Plumfield, Aunt "Jo," who, when a girl, was half a boy herself, is now in her element with a baker's dozen of boys around her. This book introduces most of the characters in Little Women, as actors in different vocations of life; will be thought by the boys to be "bully," and by the girls to be "perfectly lovely;" and all their parents will laugh and cry over it in sympathy.

THE Handel and Haydn Festival at Boston is a great success. It continues through the week, closing Sunday evening.

NEW PUBLICATIONS RECEIVED.

Ballou's Magazine for June with a list of twenty-six different articles, some of them handsomely illustrated. The great tale is "The Old Clerk's Secret," written for Ballou's by Levi Beardsley, late special agent of a Washington department, and who has produced a story full of incident and plot of Washington life. But all the stories are good. $1.50 per year, 15 cents single copy. Thomes & Talbot, Pubs., 63 Congress Street, Boston.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

The State prison for the past nine months has earned $5000 above its expenses.

Joe Bell, a Manchester saloon keeper, engaged in a scuffle with Lewis Murcot on the evening of the 9th, and was whirled out of the door, down five or six steps, striking upon a concrete sidewalk and curbstone. He died in four hours.

ADVICES from Buenos Ayres state that the average death-rate from the vomito is 250 daily. Five thousand persons died in five weeks, and 60,000 fled from the city. The vomito is making frightful ravages at Valparaiso.

THE U. S. Senate met in extra session at noon of Wednesday.

THE London Times is pleased with the Treaty of Washington.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The Times says Dr. Walpole has lost his beautiful chestnut mare. She died suddenly in harness, it is supposed from bots or pin worms. If the Doctor had used Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, he would no doubt have had his mare to-day—they are death on worms.

Address R. V. Pierce, M. D., 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y., and get a pamphlet on Catarrh free, or send sixty cents and get Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. $500 reward is offered by the proprietor for a case of Catarrh which he cannot cure. Sold by druggists. Cut this out, as you may never see it again.

Chapped hands are very common with those who have their hands much in water. A few drops of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment rubbed over the hands two or three times a day, will keep them soft and white. Numerous chilblains, and others will do well to remember this.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Quit Drugging.

This is now admitted by the medical profession as a fundamental principle of healing science. It is wisely provided by the human economy that whenever anything is wrong in the physical system the natural forces of the body are brought to bear to expel the disease. The great aim, therefore, is to strengthen the natural powers. This has been kept in view by the skillful compounders of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which operates to give fresh vitality to all the organs of the body. The effect of this medicine upon the stomach, the liver and the kidneys, is prompt and decisive. The patient, who is wise enough to quit drugging and try the bitters, soon feels as if he had taken a new lease of life, and as he continues the use of the article, he is overjoyed to find the streams of health coursing through his frame. It is prepared with great care, and its component parts are entirely vegetable. It is free from the objections so often urged against preparations of the kind. As a medicinal agent it has no equal, while its pleasing flavor and healthful effects have made it a general favorite. It is free from all properties calculated to impair the system and its operations are at once mild, soothing and efficient. All who have used Hostetter's Stomach Bitters attest its virtues and commend it.

Even those who are in the enjoyment of perfect health frequently have need to have recourse to tonic as preventives of disease. We are never too well armed against the assaults of "the ills that flesh is heir to." In health or sickness this tonic cannot be taken regularly without giving vitality and elasticity to the system.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

House and Furniture at Auction.

We regret to learn that on account of the refusal of the Finance Committee of the City Councils to insert in the appropriation bill a sum for sprinkling the public squares and streets, street sprinkling will be abandoned the coming season. Some people live only to die.

E. H. Winchester, Esq., has left on our desk oranges from Los Angelos County, California, each of which measures 12 inches in diameter. They are from a consignment to Messrs. Main & Winchester, the lot averaging 10 inches in diameter. The oranges are of a delicious flavor.

A few days since, as the Navy Yard workmen were crossing the river at their accustomed hurried rate, each boat striving to reach town first, some of them in trying to cross each other's bows mixed up and fouled, and in the melee and scramble harsh and angry words were passed between the skippers of several boats, and a quarrel ensued, which was afterwards settled at the Police Station.

The N. H. Insurance Company have published a large Town and Railroad Map of Southern New Hampshire, embracing all that portion of the State south of a line from Cornish on the Connecticut, through Wilmot, Franklin and Tilton, to Milton on the Maine border. It was compiled and drawn under the direction of Mayor Weston of Manchester, and exhibits town and county lines, railroad stations, &c. John M. Davis, Esq., is the Agent of the New Hampshire in this city.

John Nealor, aged about 30 years, a native of Quebec, Dominion of Canada, and a seaman on board schooner Mary Brewer, Capt. Saunders, bound to Rockland from this port, was knocked overboard by her main boom when off Whale's Back, May 9th, and drowned. He struck on the water face downward, and floated in that position till he was picked up by the schooner's boat, only a few minutes after his fall, when he was found to be dead. The body was landed at Newcastle and buried there on the 10th, after an inquest had been held by John P. Cooper, Esq. Deceased is believed to have been well connected in Quebec. He had on his left wrist the letters J and CCT, in India ink.

We published an article in Wednesday's issue in regard to reported cruel treatment of a seaman on board the U. S. S. Speedwell, wherein the sailor for some misdemeanor was triced up in such a manner as to cause great physical suffering. The published statements were made upon the information of those whom we considered as reliable, and whom we also regarded as disinterested parties. On Wednesday, however, our reporter, by invitation of the commander, Capt. Durand, investigated the facts in the case, and fully satisfied himself that all stories in regard to cruel punishment are fabrications; and in justice we give the following statement of Capt. Durand which is fully corroborated by the other officers of the Speedwell as well as those of the Yard.

The seaman, O'Donnell, came on board the Speedwell in a drunken condition, and was ordered below to his berth. He refused to obey, and with considerable insolence announced his determination to go ashore. In order to preserve the necessary discipline of the vessel and restrain him from carrying out his design of leaving the steamer, he was seated on a box, his arms encircling a stanchion, and single irons placed upon his wrists. A blanket was then thrown over him, and he sat there about two hours, when, becoming more pliable, he was released from his position and put into his berth in double irons, the latter to prevent his successful escape. He was not in a state of perspiration when liberated, as reported, but was in a much better condition than when he made his appearance on board at the time alluded to. His punishment was simply that of confinement in a manner in which he could do no damage, and was of such a nature as to preclude all chance of torture. O'Donnell is now lying in the Hospital, but on account of ailments contracted by his own vicious habits and having no connection whatever with the punishment described. It is also untrue that Capt. Durand was reprimanded by Com. Pennock or Captain Fairfax, neither of those officers knowing anything about the affair until they saw the published account of it. We give this statement as a matter of simple justice towards one whom we are satisfied has been misrepresented in the case.

Edward N. Fuller, Esq., formerly of this city, is about to start a one cent Daily in Newark, N. J.

Communicated.

Messrs. Editors:—I saw an article in the Chronicle recently, in regard to Watchmen on the Navy Yard. I question the economy of putting marines on to do the duties hitherto done by watchmen; the former may do as well for guard duty, to walk a post, but there are occasionally other services required of the watchmen which I question if the marines could perform, and the non-performance of which might cost more than would be saved in many years by the employment of marines on watch duty. Some years since, the U. S. ship Constellation broke adrift on a fearfully stormy night; all the watchmen were called to secure her, and did not get relieved until 11 o'clock the next day, as men could not be procured and a boat would hardly live on the river. Nearly every man was more or less frost bitten. The officers of the station acknowledged that the watchmen saved the ship, and the Boatswain of the Yard was almost extravagant in commending the manner in which they did their duty; the fact was, they were used to the work. Since then, I think, the Minnesota was saved from probably injury in another gale by the watchmen, assisted by workmen from the Yard; and an anchor hoy has also been secured by them, which would otherwise have been injured if not destroyed, by going adrift in the river.

The watchmen depend on the prompt and faithful performance of their duty for retaining their positions; enlisted men do not. If the latter get merry with wine, as rumor says some of them sometimes do, they are all ready for duty again after a little "military remonstrance;" but if the watchmen fail in promptness and sobriety they are discharged.—and they know it, too. The men recently superceded are all intelligent and honest men, and came (and had to come) well recommended and vouched for to the Executive Officer; and mishaps have been prevented at various times by their strict attention to duty, which had they occurred would probably have caused the expenditure of large sums of money. That enlisted men will care more for getting through their watch than for looking out that no damage occurs while they are on it, is but a reasonable supposition; while the watchman's prime care must be to keep things all right while he is on duty, and to leave them secure when he goes off—otherwise his occupation's gone in a hurry.

How the marine would regard it to have to throw down their muskets and fly 'round to get out ropes and secure a breaking adrift ship, I don't know: but possibly the marine officers may believe in it, as it will keep a good lot of them at the Yard if the marines have all the watch and guard duty to do. But in case of any real need of men in an emergency—and such cases may occur again as they have before—I fancy that the substitution of marines for civilians as watchmen on the Navy Yard will be found most unfortunate economy.

The death of Samuel Staples of Lubec, Me., by the loss of the Nellie Staples, has cast a gloom over the village. Formerly he was a shipmaster, but latterly has given his attention to mercantile pursuits. He was a man of great energy of character, and of eminent business qualifications.

Messrs. Curtis & Preble, of Newcastle, are going into the lobster business at that place, and will erect a curing-factory there as soon as possible.

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis, for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the trade of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 99 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the coming year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obliging the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the fixed interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 5½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent, which is all that Governments pay at present prices, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. f21dWeS

Morning Chronicle.

MR. W. Robson, of London, England, an associate editor of The Field, is travelling in the United States, and recently in a letter to Hearth and Home expresses himself delighted with the abundance and size of our fruit. Of the American climate he says:

Americans never blame the climate, for it is an admirable one. The succulent vegetables of the old country grow here, with very few exceptions, and by their side you gather the ears of the stately and graceful maize—most useful of its wonderfully useful family. Muskmelon, better than those which cost an English country gentleman six dollars each to produce in hot-beds and in glass houses, grow side by side with your delicious sweet potato which I used to grow as a curiosity in a hot house.

Our old popular Williams' pear (you call it the Bartlett), larger, sweeter, and more golden than with us, falls by the side of egg plants, with fruit so large as to be a constant cause of surprise to me who had often grown the fruit the size of a turkey egg in hot houses in England. Rosy cheeked English apples are seen above the quaint, large flower of the okra, which to us is an impossible exotic. Blessed be every variety of climate, and with its people not hedged out from each other's improvements by strange tongues, I look forward to the time when this vast country shall be more famous for rural beauty than for the wealth of her many cities.

PROF. Voelcker, the eminent agricultural chemist, without doubt the highest authority upon such matters in Great Britain, in some remarks before the council of the Royal Agricultural Society of England, stated that besides containing potash, wood ashes also contained phosphate of lime in considerable quantity, carbonate of lime and sulphate of lime. He said: "The application of wood ashes amounts to the same thing as a dressing of potash, a dressing of bones, a dressing of gypsum, and a dressing of marl; and this must surely account for the greater benefit which wood ashes produce in comparison with potash alone. I would rather buy wood ashes therefor, by all means, than potash; for potash contains only one of the above constituents. There is a good deal of potash in ashes, and although they may have been washed (leached) they still form silica of potash." After the above, we place greater confidence than ever in ashes, and can with more faith urge our farmers to save and apply them to the land. Just think of it—by using ashes you are the same as applying "a dressing of potash, a dressing of bones, a dressing of gypsum and a dressing of marl." Therefore, save every bushel of ashes, leached or unleached, for your farms.

—A clergyman, a character in his way, and a favorite with his bishop and every one else, had a parish in an extremely swampy district. The bishop, taking the position into consideration, authorized the incumbent to perform duty only every alternate Sunday during the winter. But a complaint having reached his lordship that the reverend gentleman had not had the doors of his church open for the previous six weeks, he was obliged to administer a sharp letter of rebuke. To this the parson replied, "My lord,—I have had the honor to receive your lordship's letter, and all that I have, in explanation to your lordship, to say is, that the devil himself cannot get at my parishioners during the winter, and I promise your lordship to be before him in the spring."

TURNING TO PASTURE.—As a general thing, most persons turn their cattle to pasture too early, when there is little or no feed for them. If so, they roam gloomily over the pastures, poaching them with their feet, exposed to wind and rain, perhaps, and lose both flesh and milk, instead of gaining anything. But they should not be kept out too long. When the grass is an inch high, it is better to have it fed off than to remain longer without being cropped. If kept down to about that point through the season, there will be much more feed and of a better quality. It is then sweet and nutritious.—N. E. Farmer.

—The following item of the new rules for base ball seems to have been accidentally omitted in making up the official edition lately published. Lovers of the noble game, expecting to engage in championship matches, had better cut this out and paste it in their hats for convenient reference: "If Low Jack caroms on the home stretch, and pockets his bat, B, of course, wins; for the stroke our takes the cue in any case, and the trump card counts game on the third inning, provided the off-pitcher sticks by his wicket and makes a ten-strike before reaching the judge's stand."

Consumption,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy needs no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two agents employed which the efficacy of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in a dyspeptic state of stomach, disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the sympathetic action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophyllum Peltatum. Its properties are all the blood-searching, alterative properties of a powerful cathartic. Combined, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and morbid deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, increases and assimilates with the blood. Vivification is now progressing, without its previous torture. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the blood. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and, in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten tissues are excreted by expectoration and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of renewed vigor, stands forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility to life, is cowardly and unchristian. In all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; was like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparation which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of yellow substance every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I now gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and forty-five (245) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He can be seen, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continues to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow them implicitly, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; but three or four doses need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once hear of good cheer. Good food is now allowed, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are unrivalled; as a preparation while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, the Seaweed Tonic, as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers. 3

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters are unrivalled. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

Mr. Nasby Attempts a Ku Klux Enterprise.—The Lamentable Failure of the Expedition.

From the Toledo Blade.

CONFEDRIT X ROADS, (wich is in the State of Kentucky,) April 10, 1871.

We hev our distinct elemance wich go to make up the sum total uv society in this immejit visinity, namely: Regler citizens, niggers, carpet-baggbers, and scalawags. The regler citizens are them wich are white, native, and to the manner born, and which either served in or howled for the confedrit army; the scalawags are white natives uv the sacred soil wich disgraced thairselves sympathizin' with the North doorin' the late fratrisidie struggle; the niggers are niggers uv all colors, and the carpet-baggers and unsettled Northern men, wich come here and buy property and improve it and stay—who are not in akkord with the prevailin' sentiment—which is to say who are not Democrats. Joe Bigler is a scalawag, Pollock is a carpet-bagger, and Elijer Lubbock, the postmaster, is uv course a nigger, and these are fair types uv their class.

The Corners hez alluz felt justly irritated against these last three classes, for combine them and give them a chance, and they reely hev a majority in the township. It took the most vigorous and vociferous countin this Spring to keep Issaker Gavitt from bein beet for Assessor by a nigger named Joins, notwithstandin that our challengin committee all stood at the polls with clubs and kept more than fifty uv em from votin at all. The closenis uv this eleckshen and other causes uv irritashen determined us to clean out the entire bilin uv em. We coodent live with em. They hed got a Justis uv the Peece and a constable over at Garrettstown, and the niggers wich workt for us wood sue us when we refoosed to pay, they woodent paternize Bascom, and stubbonly refoosed to vote the ticket we give em. We wanted no trouble. We wanted em to go peaceable, and then, after we give em warnin to leave the country, and they refoosed to go, we improvized a temprary Ku Klux Klan, uv wich I wuz yoonanimously elected Chief. With my accustomed viggor I called a council and selected the ground onto wich we wuz to operate first. The north road leadin to Garrettstown wuz settled for five miles out with niggers, carpet-baggers and scalawags exclosively, and it wuz resolved to clean that out and I summond the Klan for activ dooty.

We presented a gorgus aspeck. We wuz clothed in long black robes with white skulls and cross-bones profoosely stitched on all over em—our hats wuz uv the Confedrit slouch style, with the same cheerful insignia onto em, and our faces wuz kivered with masks onto wich wuz the letters uv the order, "K. K. K." We wuz armed with rifles, shot guns and knives—each man hevin of course a bottle. We wuz all mounted, and that cussid idee uv mountin was the okkasion uv the fallyoor uv the expedition, so far ez I wuz conserned.

I am not a horseman—I despise a horse. I am afraid uv em, and the broots, with a sagacity hard to account for, know it, and take advantage uv it. I wantid Baskom's mule, wichis a stiddy goin animal, but he wuz a goin to ride that hisself, and I wuz compelled to go to Pollock and hire a hoss uv him. Cusses on that horse!—cusses on Pollock! and espeshly hot cusses on Joe Bigler!

When Joe efinsnsly offered to saddle that hoss and bring him out for me, I instinctively felt that there wuz trouble ahead.

He brought her out, saddled. She wuz a tall, gaunt animal, seventeen hands high, hard-bitted, hard-trottin, and with no more idea uv a gentle amble or gallop than a hog hez of Sunday. She trots—a hard, ugly trot—with the bit atween her teeth, and yoo kid no more stop her when she gits agoin than yoo cood a crowd of Cross-Roaders when somebody sez 'Let's take suthin."

I mounted her, however, and struck out at the head uv the company. I led on a Confedrit sabre, and notwithstandin the fact that I hed to hold on to the mane uv my warlike steed with one hand, to keep on, I managed to ride out with a tollable marshel air.

"Pride goeth for a fall." We hed ridden four miles when I observed a restlessnis on the part uv my steed wich I didn't like. She wuz a shyin from one side uv the road to the other—she wuz a histin up her hind legs and snortin as though she was possessed. At this minit Issaker Gavitt sejestid the propriety of a halt for refreshments.

"Certin," sez I, "ef I kin ever get this cussed mare to stand still long enuff. Whoa, yoo broot!"

I hed jist got my bottle out and hed got it uncorked, when that infooriatyd animal commenst a series uv gyrashens sich ez the world never witnessed afore. She wood elevate her hind legs then paw the air with a runnin accompaniment uv the most feendish snortin. I wuz compelled to relinquish my holt on the bridle, and seeze her mane to hold myself on, but she kicked more than ever.

Here wuz a dilemma! I coodent

FRIDAY, MAY 12, 1871.

CONNECTICUT. — The Connecticut House of Representatives passed a resolution on Wednesday, the 10th, by a strict party vote, 122 to 100, with 17 members absent or not voting, said resolution declaring Marshal Jewell to have been elected governor of Connecticut by a majority of 86 over all others. The report of the investigating committee was exhaustive, and showed conclusively that a double fraud was perpetrated in the fourth ward of New Haven. The speakers on the republican side, in advocating the resolution, dwelt upon the shameful facts of the case with so much force and pungency that the democratic members, who had at first tried to shelter themselves under the plea that to go behind the returns was "unconstitutional," at last fairly sickened, and one of their number finally moved the previous question. A crowd of outsiders was awaiting the result, but so certain was every one of what it would be that there was no excitement and very little said.

The Senate passed the same resolution on the 11th. Governor Jewell will take the oath of office next Thursday.

NOTHING equals the tender regard which the Railroad managers evince for the information of the members elect of the Legislature. Recently the members have been supplied with copies of a Nashua paper with an article in opposition to the new Concord R. R., a map of the proposed Nashua, Acton & Boston R. R., and a subscription heading in case any member desires to "take stock" in the new concern! This week they are treated to an old copy of a Concord paper with John H. George's article from a Boston paper, headed a "Concord Raid," which undertakes to give a sketch of Massachusetts legislation as an example to our Representatives. If the railroad schemers propose to fight it out in the papers, perhaps the State will be saved the cost of supplying the members who will doubtless be furnished by the exertions of the contestants.

THE Charlestown (S. C.) Courier accepts the amendments to the Constitution as accomplished facts, and sees no prospect of relief from the Supreme Court. It urges the democracy to incorporate these articles into their political creed, if they have any desire to elect the President in 1872. When the copperhead press of the whole country take the same view of the case as the Courier, and give the same advice to their readers, then the slaveholder's war will be nearly over.

LADIES who enjoy a nice cup of tea may be interested in knowing that a French chemist asserts that if tea be ground like coffee before hot water is poured upon it, it will yield nearly double the amount of its exhilarating qualities. Another writer says: If you put a piece of lump sugar, the size of a walnut, into a teapot, you will make the tea infuse in half the time.

THE Senate assembled May 10th, and received from the Executive a copy of the treaty of Washington, which was referred to the committee on foreign relations. Mr. Sumner made a speech, advocating the publication of the treaty and the proceedings of the Senate respecting it, but gave no intimation of his views on the question of ratification.

THE national convention of the Grand Army of the Republic assembled in Boston, Wednesday. Business sessions were held during the day and in the evening there was a reception in Faneuil Hall, at which speeches were made by Generals Burnside, Logan, Kilpatrick, Devens, and other officers, Lieutenant-Governor Tucker and Mayor Gaston.

AT Lumberton, Robeson County, N. C., on the night of May 9, a gang of outlaws under one Lowry, a notorious Ku-Klux leader, broke open the jail, released several of his followers and retired without molestation, though a company of United States soldiers were quartered in the town.

THE distillers and bonded warehouse men of New York city and Brooklyn are organizing a decided remonstrance to Secretary Boutwell's order directing the use of the new glass seal locks on and after June 1. One reason given (not by the distillers) for their opposition to the new lock, is that when it is used fraud becomes nearly impossible.

SHIP City of Quebec, from London for Quebec, was wrecked on Dead Island, off the coast of Newfoundland, on the night of the 8th. She is a total loss, and all the crew were drowned.

FRANCE.—The affairs of the communists can hardly become worse. General Rossel has resigned, in a gloomy note, and requests to be imprisoned.

There is wrangling between the central committee and the committee of public safety, and the resignation of the members of the latter body is insisted on by the commune.

The sub-committee of organization has issued a proclamation that no quarter shall be shown to besiegers, and the troops are forbidden to cease firing upon Versailists who may attempt to surrender, while fugitives and stragglers are to be sabred when caught, and if they are in numerous bodies are to be fired into mercilessly by cannon and mitrailleuses.

Favre has notified Thiers of the official ratification of the treaty of peace with Germany.

Gen. Douai has 50,000 men ready for storming the ramparts of Paris.

PRECEDENTS. — In 1846, only five Senators were elected. A chairman was chosen to preside, until a President was chosen. The Senators elect, without transacting any business, proceeded to the House of Representatives, and in joint convention, the vacancies in the Senate were filled. The Senate then chose the officers of that body.

IN 1825, there were but eight members chosen to the Senate, and only six attended; the Senate met the House in Convention to fill vacancies without organizing at all, and after the vacancies were filled elected Hon. Matthew Harvey President, completing the organization a week later, by the choice of Isaac Hill and W. H. Y. Hackett as Clerks.

ASTRONOMICAL. — "Tyro" sends us the following:—The siderial heavens are now made brilliant by the unusual presence of the three most interesting planets of our system,—Jupiter, Venus and Mars. Jupiter will be in conjunction with Venus this morning, and in the evening if the sky should be clear will present a spectacle of unusual and interesting splendor. Venus will apparently be distant about 2 feet from Jupiter, although their real distance will not be short of 422,000,000 miles. Venus will be at her greatest elevation East, July 18th, and her greatest brilliancy will be attained, August 20th. She will pass over the Sun's disc in 1874 and again in 1882. In 1874, she will appear larger and brighter than ever, since her transit over the Sun in 1769, which was observed by the illustrious Capt. Cook in the island of Otaikaite. Mars is now near the zenith and on the meridian at about half past 8 o'clock. Mars is better known to us than any of the planets, and is the only one where we can see with the aid of the telescope, oceans and continents, mornings and evenings, clouds and zones of ice and snow. He appears to us much longer at times; at his near approach he is only about 50,000,000 miles distant, while his greatest distance is 240,000,000 miles, making a difference of 190,000,000 of miles, the diameter of the earth's orbit. Venus and Jupiter set at about 10 o'clock.

THE miners' riot at Hyde Park, Pennsylvania, Tuesday, proves to have been quite as serious as was apprehended, and although comparative order was maintained Wednesday, by the military, a fresh out break is feared. At least three laborers were killed, their bodies being found Wednesday morning. During the riot when the laborers were routed, they fled into the swamp, followed by the infuriated miners, where these three men were beaten and kicked to death. It is reported that another victim has died, and the house of another been robbed and burned. The Irish miners and laborers have resolved to secede from the Welsh and resume work as soon as possible.

AT a meeting of the stock-holders of the Eliot and Kittery Mutual Fire Insurance Company, May 1st, the following named gentlemen were chosen a board of Directors for the ensuing year:

Warrington Paul, E. C. Spinney, Kittery; William Hill, Samuel Clark, Samuel C. Shapleigh, Eliot; Joseph H. Moody and Alexander Thompson, York.

THE city election in Providence, R. I., May 10, resulted in the success of nearly all the republican nominees. The vote was very light. The only contest was by the temperance men to control the Board of Aldermen, but the new board favors the license system.

THE Universal Peace Society celebrated its fifth anniversary May 10, in the Cooper Institute, New York. Mr. Love presided, and one of the principal speakers was Mrs. Doves.

—General Steinmetz, the old hero whose impetuous valor accomplished so much for the German army upon the bloody field of Gravelotte, has been created a field marshal, notwithstanding the fact that he was relieved of his command for "too much fighting" on that eventful day. Having "disciplined" him for the technical act of transcending his orders, the Emperor now pays this deserved compliment to his chivalrous daring and courage.

Two prize fighters, Jem Mace and Joe Coburn, were to fight each other somewhere near Buffalo on Thursday. Fears are entertained that both of them were not killed.

P. S. We received the following dispatch over the International Telegraph Line, Thursday evening: "The Mace and Coburn fight was broken up by the Canadian authorities after the first round, which lasted one hour and a half; neither had the advantage and no blows were given. They skedaddled." What a desperate affair.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The Times says Dr. Walpole has lost his beautiful chestnut mare. She died suddenly in harness, it is supposed from bots or pin worms. If the Doctor had used Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, he would no doubt have had his mare to-day—they are death on worms.

Address R. V. Pierce, M. D., 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y., and get a pamphlet on Catarrh free, or send sixty cents and get Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. $500 reward is offered by the proprietor for a case of Catarrh which he cannot cure. Sold by druggists. Cut this out, as you may never see it agian.

Chapped hands are very common with those who have their hands much in water. A few drops of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment rubbed over the hands two or three times a day, will keep them soft and white. Fishermen, sailors, and others will do well to remember this.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Quit Drugging.

This is now admitted by the medical profession as a fundamental principle of healing science. It is wisely provided by the human economy that whenever anything is wrong in the physical system the natural forces of the body are brought to bear to expel the disease. The great aim, therefore, is to strengthen the natural powers. This has been kept in view by the skillful compounders of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which operates to give fresh vitality to all the organs of the body. The effect of this medicine upon the stomach, the liver and the kidneys, is prompt and decisive. The patient, who is wise enough to quit drugging and try the bitters, soon feels as if he had taken a new lease of life, and as he continues the use of the article, he is overjoyed to find the streams of health coursing through his frame. It is prepared with great care, and its component parts are entirely vegetable. It is free from the objections so often urged against preparations of the kind. As a medicinal agent it has no equal, while its pleasing flavor and healthful effects have made it a general favorite. It is free from all properties calculated to impair the system, and its operations are at once mild, soothing and efficient. All who have used Hostetter's Stomach Bitters attest its virtues and commend it.

Even those who are in the enjoyment of perfect health frequently have need to have recourse to tonic as preventives of disease. We are never too well armed against the assaults of "the ills that flesh is heir to." In health or sickness this tonic cannot be taken regularly without giving vitality and elasticity to the system.

A sale of refuse wood and chips took place at the Navy Yard on Thursday, the material bringing fabulous prices. The practice of selling Navy Yard chips in this manner was abandoned a year or two since, and very unwisely we think, judging from Thursday's sale.

THE petition of Simon Marston and others for the extension of Wibird Street to South Road, entered at the January term of the S. J. Court, was dismissed at the late term, and execution was issued against the petitioners for costs. W. H. Y. Hackett for petitioners; City Solicitor A. F. Howard for City.

PRIZE pumpkins are nowhere now, since an inadvertant mixing up of "diameter" and "circumference" made us the recipients of oranges "12 inches in diameter." We acquit the types and typos—which have to bear the blame of so many newspaper blunders—as we wrote those oranges up ourself; but they are big ones, anyway.

—The question is frequently asked, Why the City Government have as yet taken no action upon the Portsmouth & Dover R. R., matter, and the Portsmouth "Chronicle" hears the rumor that passes have been given the members of our City Government. We have interviewed three or four who deny the charge, and assert that there is no life in the Directors of the Portsmouth & Dover R. R. Corporators. We have about come to the same conclusion and fear it will require the Board of Trade or a public meeting to take hold of this subject before anything can be done.—Dover Local Record.

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at Market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges.

hold on by grippin the mane with one hand any longer—and my spare hand wuz employed in holdin the bottle! I coodent cork the bottle and put it in my pocket, for in the melee I bed lost the cork, and to put in my pocket uncorked wuz to lose all its preshus contents. Never wuz I in such a strate afore. Ef I held to the bottle I shood be thrown—ef I stayed on the infooriated animal's back I'd lose my likker. The hoss decided the matter for me. Takin' the bit in her mouth she started down the road on the keenest kind uv a run. She made a mile in about five minutes, leavin' my command far in the rear. Another mile—yet another, sped that frantic animal, I holdin' onto her mane with one hand, and the bottle with the other. She was already in the enemies' country. Rite ahead uv me was Garretstown, and I cood see the niggers aireddy in the streets watchin' the strange apparition that wuz comin.' Into the village I rode, when the vishus broot turned a corner suddenly, slingin me from his back ez a boy throws a stun. Over and over I went, landin' finally in a ditch aside uv the road, where I lay clutchin' my bottle, but unconscious.

There wuz thirty or forty niggers about me, and I wuz a lyin in front uv the town pump, and immejitly under the spout thereof. One gray headed nigger, who preaches to the rest uv em, remarked:

"Bredin, dis yer misguided man is one ob dem disturbin Ku Kluxes. Wat shel we do wid him?"

"Hang him! hang him!" shoutid they all in korus.

"Mercy! mercy!" I shreeked in agony. "I aint no Ku Klux. I——"

"Don't go fur to add lies to yoor odder sins," sed the old man; "ef you aint no Ku Klux wat does yoo wear dat yooniform fur? Why dis sword and pistols?"

There wuz a brief consultashen uv the elder ones while the young niggers wuz a riggin a rope to a tree, I layin the while shiverin with an ague fit uv fear.

"Hang him!" shouted one.

"Burn him!" shouted another.

"Bredin," said the old man, "dem punishment, is too lite. I'll sarve him out. Put him under the spout," sed the horry-headed wretch, "and—pump viggerous!"

How long that cussed stream wuz poured out unto me I know not, for I wuz in a state of semiunconsbusnis all the time. When they had amoozed theirselves suffishently in that way, the white-headed old villin (he ought to hev been chief torturer in a Spanish Inquisishen) took a quart cup and fillin it with water, sed, without relaxin a single mussle uv his stern face, "Drink it!"

"Man! man!" I shrieked in agony, "hev yoo no mercy! hev yoo no bowels uv compashin! Do yoo know wot yoo require uv me? Take and hang me and be done with it. I will not drink it. I never did—I cannot."

Ber wild with laughter those grinnin feends seezed me and holdin open my jaws pored a full quart uv that floold down me, and peltin me for fifteen minits with mud and sich things, left me.

I don't know how I got home—I only know that I wuz put to bed with inflamashen uv the bowels, and that my life wuz despaired uv for two weeks. I did not lack for attendance. I owe every man in the Corners, and they watched me with tender solissitood. The only gratifiashen I had wuz to know that after my horse run away with me, the rest uv the party made it lively for the niggers and carpet-baggers on the other road. They whipped twelve uv em, shot two who resisted, and burnt three houses and four barns.

I hev written out a statement uv the outrage inflicted onto me and sent it to Washington. But I hev no idee that it will effect anything. I don't suppose that when that butcher Grant reads it that he will admit that we hev to deal with dangerous classes, or will take any steps for protection uv us, or givin' me redress. It will be jest like him to send a squad uv Federal cavalry down here to arrest and imprison us.

PETROLEUM V. NASBY,
(wich wuz Postmaster.)

P. S.—I hev just learned that villin Bigler, aided and abetted by that other villin Pollock, put a plaster uv Spanish flies under the saddle uv the hoss they give me, which article will make a blister in about twenty minits! That akounts for her cavortin—that akounts for her kickin, snortin, and infernal running away! Bigler called on me and confessed it. He said, with a grin on his face, that the mare was duff and lazy, and he desired, for my sake, to improve her ackshen! The scoundrel!

P. V. N.

—The Times and Chronicle, of Cincinnati, says of the income tax:—"We have always regarded the income tax with complacency. It is oppressive to no one—least of all to the poor or to men of moderate means. It comes exclusively upon a class of men who are receiving cash returns on their investments, and who are only required to contribute a very small percentage of the money in hand to the public treasury. It has been ridiculously called unpopular, when in fact it is only paid by a few thousand at all, and of these a large preponderance live in the wealthy cities of the East. Whatever other objection may be urged against it, therefore, it is in no just sense unpopular, but quite the reverse.

—An 1800-pound grindstone burst in the Auburn State Prison, and 90 pounds of it struck a convict in his commissary department. He ceased to care for subluinary affairs.

—A stranger went into a church at Middleton, Conn., on a Sunday recently, and sat down in a pew, when, just as he was getting interested in the sermon, a rough-looking, pious churchmember came in and took him by the collar and threw him in the vestibule. He thought he would stay there and hear the balance of the sermon, when the sexton kicked him off the steps. He went to the side of the church to listen to the sermon through the window, when one of the brethren said "Amen" to something the minister said, and then spit tobacco-juice out of the window into the listener's eyes. He says a man can't enjoy religion much at Middleton, unless he is pretty meek and don't swear at such trifles.

Consumption,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have died.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In his own person he gives a startling presumptious. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works, the theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-asserting, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first means to be used in the treatment of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the absorbent tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's most gifted—the Pelopaldron, or Mandrake. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and morbid deposits in the bronchi and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chyllification is progressing, without the previous torpitures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no excoriation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest blood Purifier ever yet given by any physician! Dr. Schenck's celebrated Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it separates them, for expectoration. In 1 in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the robins come at it occupied by remedial agents and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood restored.

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

To despair of cure afterwards evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption. My friends and my doctor had one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week. I then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of a medicine which had obtained the credit of now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter, and be coughing for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave, and to opposite to my surprise, I found that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since.

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a skeleton, I weighed my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed unimpaired health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can easily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines never need be accompanied with any other instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite; second, tone and invigorate the system; third, welcome symptoms. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood is coming, and with good blood health and sweet is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS,
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, passessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawbi6

E. A. JOY
Has Fitted up a Spacious and Elegant SEWING MACHINE ROOM directly over his Music Store and employs a competent young lady to take charge of the same. A cordial invitation is hereby extended to all the ladies (not having good Sewing Machines of their own) to bring in lots of work and learn to make it up on the Machines. This will cost nothing whether a Machine is purchased or not. If you do not buy now, you will at some future time; for the day is not far distant when a SEWING MACHINE will be considered as indispensable as a Cook-Stove. Come as often and stay as long as you please.

MR. JOY'S business in the Sewing Machine line is very rapidly increasing, which enables him to make the above generous offer.

His long experience in this branch qualifies him to be an excellent judge of the goods he sells; and as he has had the Agency of all kinds offered him at different times it is reasonable to suppose that the Best SEWING MACHINES may always be had at the SEWING MACHINE EMPORIUM, No. 9 PLEASANT ST., nearly opposite the Post Office, Portsmouth, N. THE DESCENT OF MAN.

A CONTINUATION OF AN OLD SONG.

(DARWIN loquitur.)

"Man comes from a Mammal that lived up a tree,
And a great coat of hair on his outside had he,
Very much like the Dreadnaughts we frequently see,—
Which nobody can deny.

He had points to his ears, and a tail to his rump,
To assist him with ease through the branches to jump,—
In some cases quite long, and in some a mere stump,—
Which nobody can deny.

This mammal, abstaining from mischievous pranks,
Was thought worthy in time to be raised from the ranks,
And with some small ado came to stand on two shanks,—
Which nobody can deny.

Thus planted, his course he so prudently steered,
That his hand soon improved and his intellect cleared;
Then his forehead enlarged and his tail disappeared,—
Which nobody can deny.

'Tisn't easy to settle when Man became Man—
When the Monkey type stopped and the Human began;
But some very queer things were involved in the plan,—
Which nobody can deny.

Women plainly had beards and big whiskers at first;
While the man supplied milk when the baby was nursed;
And some other strong facts I could tell,—if I durst,—
Which nobody can deny.

Our arboreal sire had a pedigree too;
The Marsupial system comes here into view;
So we'll trace him, I think, to a Great Kangaroo,
Which nobody can deny.

The Kangaroo's parent, perhaps, was a bird;
But an Ornithorhynchus would not be absurd;
Then to frogs and strange fishes we back are re-ferred,—
Which nobody can deny."

Thus far Darwin has said: But the root of the Tree,
Its nature, its name, and what caused it to be,
Seem a secret to him, just as much as to me,—
Which nobody can deny.

Did it always exist as a great institution?
And what made it start on its first evolution?
As to this our good friend offers no contribution,
Which nobody can deny.

Yet I think that if Darwin would make a clean breast,
Some Botanical views would be frankly confessed,
And that all Flesh is Grass would stand boldly expressed,—
Which nobody can deny.

The Loves of the Plants, so deliciously sung,
Must have softened his heart when his bosom was young,
And the Temple of Nature has prompted his tongue,—
Which nobody can deny.

But now if in future good breeding we prize,
To be cherubs and angels we some day may rise;
And, indeed, some sweet angels are now in my eyes,—
Which nobody can deny.

If this is our wish, we must act with due care;
And in choosing our spouses no pains we should spare,
But select only those that are wise, good and fair,—
Which nobody can deny.

Yet however he came by it, Man has a Soul,
That will not so submit to despotic control,
As to make Monks and Nuns of three-fourths of the whole,—
Which nobody can deny.

The bad may be pretty, the good may be plain;
And sad matches are made from the lucre of gain;
So perhaps as we are, we shall likely remain,—
Which nobody can deny.

After all, then, I ask, what's the object in view?
And what practical good from this creed can ensue?
I can't find in it much that's both useful and new,
Which nobody can deny.

Our old friend Lucretius explained long ago
How the fittest survive and the weak are laid low;
And our friends of the Farm may a thing or two know,—
Which nobody can deny.

I would ne'er take offence at what's honestly meant,
Or that truth should be told of our lowly descent;
To be sprung from the dust I am humbly content—
Which nobody can deny.

But this groping and guessing may all be mistaken,
And in sensitive minds may much trouble awaken,
So I'll shut up my book, and go back to my Bacon—
Which nobody can deny.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, MAY 13, 1871.

THE official vote of Connecticut gives Jewell, Republican, 47,473, English, Democrat, 47,373, Scattering 14. Jewwell's majority 86. The New York Herald's Hartford correspondent, who had claimed English's election, previous to the legislative investigation, says under date of the 10th;—

The report of the committee dealt with the Cheshire and Enfield matter very briefly. The action of the democratic registrar of the former place, in throwing out, on his own responsibility, twenty-three votes out of the 223 cast for Jewell, was denounced, particularly as the registrar had no evidence that the twenty-three men he desired to disfranchise had voted the republican ticket. In regard to the Enfield matter, where an endorsement on a package of seventy-six votes was so much like ninety-six that it was read as such by the counters, the whole thing the committee set down as an "unintentional mistake," and made the mistake a pleasant correction for their own side by declaring that English got just twenty votes less in Enfield than his friends believed he had. So much for a mistake.

In conclusion let me remark that the New Haven democrats should hereafter, when they desire to do a mighty smart thing in the counting line, take a few lessons from New Yorkers for a week or so before every election. The trick practiced this time was a very neat one so far as it went, but it did not go far enough, and that just's where the laugh came in. They relied too much upon the blindness of other folks, being too blind themselves to see their way clearly once they had determined to make a bold stroke for the possession of the flesh pots of the State, for another year to come. To know that other people would know that English had olten before carried the ward far ahead of his ticket, and to hope for that reason the stuffing of a few extra ballots in the box would not be sniffed at afterwards, was indeed quite plausible; but in doing what they desired to be considered a consistency for English's popularity in the ward they forgot to forget the other democrats on the ticket, and so dragged them up to the same height as the great man himself. It was this mistake which lost the hard workers the game. A Tammany counter would have had sense enough to take a hundred Jewell ballots and have scratched his name for that of English, regardless of the rest of the ticket. However, there is no use crying over spilt milk, and no persons know it better now than the Fourth ward counters.

FRANCE.—The final charge of government troops on Paris may take place at any moment. They have continued their preparations without intermission and now the advance guard is only about five hundred yards from the ramparts. The attack is to be made at Pont du Jour. Montrouge and Vanyres have been silenced and the evacuation of the latter is momentarily expected. The little village of Bourg de la Reine has been taken, the insurgents suffering a considerable loss. Fort Vanvres has been captured and recaptured, but it cannot be held by the communists. Rossel, according to late despatches, is outside the walls, but is still ready to help the commune.

The insurrection in Algeria is gradually losing ground.

THE people of Arizona, exasperated by the outrages of the Indians, have commenced hostilities by attacking several hundred Apaches at Camp Grant, who have been getting fed and cared for there, and from whence they have repeatedly gone out to rob and murder. Eighty-five savages were killed and 28 children taken prisoners. Property of several murdered whites was found in the Indian camp and on the dead bodies, proving their guilt in the outrages laid to their charge.

RECENTLY, a man named Grant committed a murder at Demarara, W. I. and fled to a distant port, where he was arrested and put on board a vessel to be returned to Demarara for trial. On arriving in sight of his destination the prisoner jumped overboard, and was immediately seized and devoured by sharks.

JOSEPH R. Lewis, associate justice of Idaho, who lately lost his office through a forged letter of resignation, has received some satisfaction in a nomination to a similar position in the sister territory of New Mexico. His name was among those sent to the Senate May 11.

THE Russian minister has advices that the Russian prince has postponed his visit to this country till October next. All preparations in progress for giving him a grand reception have been abandoned.

THE English Members of the High Commission visited the Banking House of Henry Clews & Co. on Wednesday; also governor Ito of Japan and Governor Walker of virginia.

HARD ON HACKETT.—Mr. Hibbard relates a conversation during his recent stay in Washington, between himself and Albert G. Allen, a former resident of this State. Allen was first assistant clerk, and then clerk of the New Hampshire House of Representatives several years, about a quarter of a century ago, and Hibbard held the same office during the last years of Democratic rule in this State. Allen remarked that he always managed to worry through all the bad writing that he had occasion to read in the House except in one instance, when he came to a dead stand. "That," replied Hibbard, "was my case exactly; I never got stuck but once, so but that by skipping a hard word or calling it something else I could go through without attracting attention." "My trouble," said Allen, "was in attempting to decipher some hieroglyphics of Hackett of Portsmouth." "And so was mine," said Hibbard. Justice requires us to add that William H. Hackett, who has been mentioned as a Republican candidate for Speaker of the House the present year, was too young to be a member of the Legislature in those old democratic times; and so the foregoing does not refer to him; and it may well be remarked that it does not refer to his grandfather either.—Laconia Democrat.

THE coal miners' difficulties are now in a fair way for settlement. An agreement has been drawn up, which is to be submitted to Judge Elwell, by a committee of the Miners' and Laborers' Association and the Anthracite Board of Trade. Work is expected to begin on May 15. A vigilance committee is organizing at Scranton, and the Irish laborers are determined to protect themselves against the Welsh miners. Another Militia company is on the scene. Pittston miners are anxious to resume at once.

A Portland dispatch says Mr. John Sawyer, Railroad Contractor on the Ossipe extension of the Portsmouth, Great Falls and Conway Railroad, while riding Tuesday between Cornish, Me., and Ossipee, N. H., was waylaid by three men in a piece of woods, and robbed of his pocket book containing $4000 in money, with which to pay his men.

A lady teacher of a freedmen's school in South Carolinia has arrived in New York, having been driven away. The whites attacked her school and the negro settlement in which it was located, shooting three negroes dead and beating her assistant, a negro, till he was left for dead.

THE official vote for Railroad Commissioner gives Buckminster, Republican, 34,496; Gilchrist, Democrat, 34,-196; Scattering 1299. Buckminister's plurality 300; Majority against Buckminister, 999.

THE Grand Army of the Republic closed its annual convention, in Boston on the 11th. General Burnside was elected commander-in-chief to succeed General Logan.

AN Akron, Ohio, girl, who performed over 300 jumps over her skipping rope one day, ahd 170 the next, won't jump any more. People where she has gone, fly.

THE chorus of the Boston Handel and Haydn Society consists of 739 members, divided as follows: Tenors 137, basses 174, altos 194, sopranos 239.

NAVAL.—storeship Relief, from New York and Philadelphia, with provisions for the sufferers of France from the late war, has arrived off Scilly Islands.

KATE Reignolds proposes to leave the stage for the platform. The Boston Lyceum Bureau announces that she is prepared to lecture.

PREPARATIONS are making to muster out 4000 regulars before July 1.

THE State Fair will be held at Dover, Sept. 26, 27, 28 and 29.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The Times says Dr. Walpole has lost his beautiful chestnut mare. She died suddenly in harness, it is supposed from bots or pin worms. If the Doctor had used Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, he would no doubt have had his mare to-day—they are death on worms.

Chapped hands are very common with those who have their hands much in water. A few drops of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment rubbed over the hands two or three times a day, will keep them soft and white. Fishermen, sailors, and others will do well to remember this.

IMPROVEMENT is everywhere visible in the AMERICAN HOUSE, BOSTON, notwithstanding it has ever been at the head of New England hotels. Newly fitted and furnished throughout.

The all-gone feeling which people sometimes speak of, is caused by want of proper action of the liver and heart. These may be assisted, and the bowels regulated, by Parson's Purgative Pills in small doses.

Corn and flour are staple articles; but not more so than Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, where known. It is good for children or adults, for any internal soreness of the chest or bowels, and the best Pain Killer prepared, under whatever name.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Persecuted Organ.

The human stomach has been a shamefully persecuted organ. There was a time when for every dereliction of duty it was punished with huge doses of the most disgusting and nauseous drugs. In vain it rejected them, and literally rejected them upon the hands of those who administered them. They were forced upon it again and again, until its solvent power was thoroughly drenched out of it.

The world is wiser now than it was in that dreadful era, when furious purgation and mercurial salivation were what Artemus Ward would have called the "main holt" of the faculty, in cases of dyspepsia and liver complaint.

The great modern remedy for indigestion and biliousness is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a preparation which has the merit of combining a palatable flavor with such tonic, aperient and anti-bilious properties, as were never heretofore united in any medicine.

It has been discovered, at last, that sick people are not like the beleaguered Britons, who fiend prostration so refreshing that, when knocked down, they rose from the earth twice as vigorously as before. When an invalid is prostrated by powerful depleting drugs, he is apt to stay prostrated; and the debilitated being aware of the fact, prefer the backsliding up to the knocking down system of treatment.

Hostetter's Bitters meets the requirements of the rational medical philosophy which at present prevails. It is a perfectly pure vegetable remedy, embracing the three important properties of a preventive, a tonic, and an alterative. It fortifies the body against disease, invigorates and revitalizes the torpid stomach and liver, and effects a most salutary change in the entire system, when in a morbid condition.

In this country where the enfeebling temperature renders the human organization particularly susceptible to unwholesome atmospheric influences, the Bitters should be taken as a protection against epidemic disease.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

New Advertisements to-day.

Notice—G. A. R.
Concert—Barnabee.

SEE advertisement of Barnabee's concert, in another column.

THE Lyre, doubtful authority, is responsible for the statement that Lemuel P. Cooper has an "opinion."

THE Hazelton foundry, lot and buildings, on McDonough Street, will be sold by Auctioneer Morse at noon, to day.

MESSRS. Joseph P. Morse and Wingate N. Ilsley have purchased the Insurance business of John S. Harvey, Esq.

THE new road that is being built in the vicinity of Little Boar's Head by the proprietors of the Farragut House, is nearly completed.

THE new steamboat line from Rye to the Shoals will commence running about July 10th, connecting daily with the Boston & Maine R. R. at Exeter.

A new road from near Jenness' saloonin Rye to the beach, is projected and will probably be laid out by the town authorities or the county commissioners.

DR. Gilbert has for sale at the Daniel Street Fruit Store, fresh Strawberries, Bananas and Pineapples,—cheap and nice. We have tried a liberal sample, and know.

THE balcony of the First National Bank building is being repaired, which gives a friend the opportunity of expressing surprise that an institution so sound within should be so unsound without.

JOHN Stokell & Co. will exhibit to day, in front of their Store on Market Street, a very fine pair of Oxen from the farm of Mr. Jedediah Rand of Rye. They are five years old and weigh 4200 lbs.

THE Navy Yard watchmen were discharged and marines put in their places because the watchmen neglected their duties—so the marine hand-organ says. He mistakes—'twas a marine guard from under whose nose those gun-carriage trucks were stolen awhile ago.

THREE three-masted schooners are at our wharves, laden with Baltimore and Georgetown coal; the largest measures 427 tons and has 619 tons of coal. Two of the vessels are discharging at Sise's wharf and the cargo of the other is to go into the interior, over the C. & P. R. R.

THE Assessors closed their regular session a few days since, and the tax lists are now being made up as far as they can be before the passage of the annual appropriation bill. The balances of Ex-Collector Jeremiah D. Goodrich have all been abated. They were uncollectable, and amounted to $608.64—$44.56 for 1856; $105.28 for 1857; $134.04 for 1858; and $324.76 for 1859.

IT might be inferred by the balmativity of Friday's temperature that summer is approaching, but the deceptitudinosity of the weather-clerk is to such an extent an established surativeness, that the individual who would boldly asseverate that that which "might be" is, could scarcely convince bipedipal mortals of his or her reliability as an authenticated specimen of trustworthytudinality.

SCHOONER Suliote, after laying on the rocks off Grogan's Point for several weeks and stopping another one on the beach near the Badger's Island ship yard, has been sufficiently repaired to float over to Sise's Wharf, where she is now discharging the remnant of her cargo of coal. Mr. Daniel Littlefield (of the firm Tobey & Littlefield) has had full charge of the work, and the manner in which it has been executed bears high testimony to his skill and energy.

WE regret—as will most other lovers of good music in this city—to learn that Mr. G. L. Cushing, the well-known violinist, is about leaving Portsmouth for St. John, New Brunswick, to play in an orchestra with Mr. Muller, whose performances on the violin at the Temple while travelling with Leslie & Locke's Company will be remembered by our theatre goers. Mr. Cushing played with him when that company was here, and will probably leave for St. John to join his orchestra about the 22d of this month. There are few persons in the city who have done more to elevate and refine the musical taste of the community than Mr. Cushing, considering the time has resided here, and he has our hearty good wishes for his future success, wherever he goes.

THE ugliest building of any prominence in this city is the old city building.

DEMOCRATS in this region declare that the Republican victory in Connecticut was occasioned by the migration of the former editor of the Stars and Bars to that State, and claim that they gained 500 votes in New Hampshire in consequence of his departure. They regard his return as a peculiarly unfortunate omen for next March, and are willing to subscribe a small sum towards sending him off again — if he will only remain away.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, May 11, Aldermen Wendell in the Chair, the Mayor being absent;

Petition of North Church to lay drain in Middle Street, was granted.

Petition of Joseph G. Cate, to relay drain in Whidden Street, granted.

Petition of owners of Waldron Block for relay of sidewalk, granted.

Sign on Gardner Street to be granted by Committee on Streets.

Invitation of Storer Encampment, G. A. R., was accepted.

Petition of Frank Jones for gutter front of Rockingham House, granted.

Petition of J. A. Lamprey and others for acceptance of that part of Tanner Street between Islington and Hanover Streets, referred to Committee on Streets.

The Committee on Fire Department report that a practical engineer states that the Steamer Dearborn can be repaired at a cost of $2000,—laid over one week. Voted, That Committee on Fire Department invite the maker of the engines to inspect it.

A resolution for appointment of Committee of Citizens relative to Railroads, as follows, was passed:—

Resolved, That a committee of citizens be appointed by the Mayor to consider the subject of the railroad facilities required by this city; to ascertain and report what measures are desirable to secure a more intimate connection of Portsmouth with the interior of the State, and to make such negotiations and take such action for this purpose as they think proper.

Received from Common Council, a bill entitled, "An Ordnance relating to the Fire Department." Read and referred.

Received from Common Council a joint resolution appropriating $100 for Memorial Day. Read twice (rules suspended) and passed, Aldermen Hatch and Mendum voting "nay."

Received from Common Council a joint resolution concerning sale of Steamer No. 1, and purchase of new engine. Read, and laid over.

WIBIRD STREET.—About three years ago, a petition signed by Simon Marston and numerous other citizens of Portsmouth, asked for the extension of Wibird Street through to South Street. This the Board of Aldermen then declined to do, and last year an appeal was taken to Court, which has just now decided that the petition is defective, in not specifying the precise point of termination on South Street, the law requiring the two termini to be specifically given. So the case is dismissed.

We are informed that the petitioners will immediately present a new petition to the present Board of Mayor and Aldermen, for the laying out of the street—with a probability of success. It is proposed to make it about sixty feet in width, and it will make one of the most beautiful streets in the city. One house has already been built upon the proposed extension, a second is to be put on the corner of South Street, immediately, and a third residence is already begun on South, directly opposite Wibird Street. Several buildings have been erected in this immediate vicinity, and we think a large majority of our citizens to-day would vote in favor of the City building the street.

While speaking of Wibird Street—the location even of which we doubt not many readers are unacquainted with, we will add the following remarks concerning the name, from the Wentworth Genealogy: "About the year 1700, Richard Wibird came to Portsmouth, as poulterer under the steward to one of the King's ships. He married a Mrs. Dove of Hampton, who brought articles to the market to sell, and afterwards kept a retail shop in what is now Market Street. Wibird engaged successfully in navigation, and by the joint endeavors of himself and wife accumulated a large fortune. He erected the first brick house ever built in Portsmouth, became a man of influence and was made one of the King's Council in 1716, and continued such until his death in 1732. Richard Wibird willed property to his brother Anthony, and to his grandson Anthony." Doubtless, the hill on Middle Street, with the street running from it, as well as Anthony Street (next below and opposite it) were all named for Anthony Wibird.

OLD TIME CHRONICLES, No. 32.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

THE JENNESS FAMILY OF DEERFIELD, Second Paper.—An account of Hon. Richard Jenness and the offices he held was given in the last article. By his first wife he had a son Thomas. He was an active business man and kept store. He died August 15, 1836, aged 64 years. He had a large family of children, and few families have occupied higher positions so far as social, intellectual or political conditions are concerned. Some of them have been wealthy, and what is interesting, benevolent. We will name them as far as possible. John S. Jenness engaged first in business in Deerfield, then in Portsmouth and finally in Boston, where he died Sept. 2, 1867, aged 73. The finest monument seen in the country has been erected to his memory in Deerfield, near the old homestead. Some 10 or 12 years ago he made a present of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary to each of the fifteen school districts in Deerfield.

Peter Jenness was a merchant in Portsmouth; representative in the Legislature in 1858 and '59. He died two or three years ago.

Hon. Richard Jenness has long been a resident of Portsmouth and one of its enterprising citizens. He served as Representative in 1839 and '40, and as Senator for District No. 1 in 1849 and '50. About 1844 he became President of the Commercial Bank and served long, and afterwards was President of the Mechanics & Traders Bank. In his benevolence he has remembered Deerfield, his native town, devising five thousand dollars, the income of which is to be appropriated for the aid of schools in the several districts.

Hon. Benning W. Jenness settled in Strafford, at Bow Lake, where he was an active business man. In 1841 he was appointed Judge of Probate for the County of Strafford, and served five years. He finally settled in Ohio, where he still lives.

Thomas settled in Bangor, Me., where he died. There was one more we think, but we have not his name. He died in Bangor, we are informed. These were the sons.

Of the daughters, one married a Whitehouse and lives in Pembroke. One married Hon. Ira St. Clair, a lawyer, Representatives of Deerfield, and for some years Judge of Probate of Rockingham County. The next daughter was unmarried, another H. G. Cilley, a lawyer of Deerfield. He was also Representative of Deerfield, Mrs. Cilley died and he moved to Lewiston, Maine.

Sarah married Hon. Joseph J. Dearborn. He represented Deerfield in the Legislature; was two years Senator from District No. 2. His wife died April 9, 1865, aged 48.

WE copy the following item of news verbatim from a Boston paper: "The dead body of an infant, apparently about six months old, was found yesterday afternoon near a stable on Williams street, Chelsea. It is said that two colored men were seen in that vicinity about two weeks ago." If the Chelsea police want any more clues to the possible murderers of the dead child, we have no objection to letting them know that we saw eight fishermen and two Irish laborers going over Newcastle Bridge about five months since.

THE scheme for making a new roadway in Richards Avenue will probably be abandoned, as it is said the land for the purpose cannot be begged or bought. The owners, however, favor widening the sidewalk, and may "donate" or sell sufficient land for the purpose. The land cannot be taken by law, as the proposed new roadway is not a necessity.

SUMMERY weather causes the dears to doff their winter clothing.

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX.

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. 124dWaS

Morning Chronicle.

THE PROFIT OF BUTING CHURCHES. "Macauley" writes from New York to the Rochester Democrat that he often asked the readiest way of making money, and after much consideration his reply is "Buy a church." Here is the explanation:

The denomination is not important, and even though you be a Presbyterian or an infidel, you will do well to purchase the Laight Street Baptist Church, of which I have spoken. A great many churches have been sold in this city, and I have never heard of a case in which the purchaser did not make a fortune. If you are inclined to doubt, just look at facts. Before giving these, however, let me refer to the growth of business, which has gradually driven the population from the Battery to Spuyten Duyvel Creek, and with the population went the churches.

It seems strange when one traverses such avenues of trade as Exchange place, and Wall, Duane, Nassau, Murray, and other streets, to realize that they once contained churches of great importance, and that here the eloquence of Spring, Alexander, Chapin and DeWitt has been witnessed by admiring audiences. These churches were sold as population receded, and quite remarkably the purchaser in every instance was sure to make this act of church attendance highly profitable.

Grant Thorburn mentions in his memories that great stroke of fortune which made him a rich man, the purchase of the Friend's Meeting House on Liberty street. The Dey Street Church was purchased by Israel Cook, who had been a petty butter-dealer in Washington Market, but who had by this act become a man of wealth. One church was better than the profit on a thousand dairies. In Exchange Place the Old Dutch Church has given way to the spacious and magnificent bank of the State of New York. The Nassau Street Baptist Church is also exchanged for a bank. Chapin's first church in Murray street, was sold at an enormous profit. The Duane Street Presbyterian Church stood a few blocks distant, and its turn soon came. The lot was 100 feet square, and went under the hammer for the trifling sum of $27,000. The lucky purchaser soon after sold it for $45,000, and it is now covered by an enormous warehouse.

The Broadway Tabernacle stood next in the up-town march, and although it possessed a storied interest and an historic character, yet these could not resist the relentless march of progress. It was sold for a large sum, and yet was a fine bargain, and the site is also covered with costly warehouses. The Church of the Messiah (Unitarian) and the Amity Street Church (Baptist) were purchased by A. T. Stewart about six years ago, and have advanced in his hands enormously. Each has been subjected to a strange transformation, for the former is now a theatre, while the latter is used by the owner for his stables, and here the fifty horses and wagons employed in his enormous business are accommodated. How truly may we here apply Hamlet's words, "To what base uses may we come at last!"

THE FRANCO-GERMAN TREATY.—Bismarck has met the requests of the Versailles government in a very liberal spirit. By the treaty of peace just signed, he has agreed to a reduction of the war indemnity by half a milliard of francs—100,000,000 dollars—consequently the Germans will receive immediately the French bonds for 900,000,000 dollars, payable within one year, and endorsed by French and German bankers. The bonds are convertible into stocks or consols, whichever Germany may prefer. 400,000,000 dollars have already been taken by Baron Rothschild and Baron Erlanger, French bankers, and by Herr Hahn, a German banker.

Immediately on the ratification of the treaty of peace a majority of the German forces will leave France and return to Germany. The forts east and north of Paris are to be surrendered to the Versailles government immediately, and all French prisoners in Germany are to be returned to France as rapidly as railroads can transport them. According to the treaty the Germans will hold only Belfort, Longwy and Nancy as hostages till the fulfilment of its conditions. Germany also relinquishes 320,000,000 francs of indemnity, in return for France giving up control of the railway in the ceded territory.

THE great Mace-Coburn prize fight was squelched by the prompt and determined action of a Canadian sheriff and a county judge. Ten steam tugs landed two miles from Port Dover, Ontario, with the prize fighters, and about the same time fifty armed volunteers left Simcoe, about four miles from Port Ryerse, for the battle-ground to prevent the fight. The men entered the ring shortly after noon. During the first round and before a blow was struck, the sheriff and county judge, backed by the soldiers from Simcoe, dispersed the crowd, who fled in every direction. The referee ordered Mace and Coburn to meet at Erie, where he will name a new place for the fight.

GEN George McCook will probably be the democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio.

Consumption,
ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTITE.
By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of some simple, indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly accepted the rightful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Hence, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous torture. Appetite returns, dyspepsia, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and eliminate from human and contagious disease. It collects and ripens the heavy and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and it is in this condition that the mucous membrane, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of renewed vigor, is set forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

To Schenck's cure, after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in the modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week. Then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was well shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, can be consulted to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow those directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, accepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in order to expand the liver, medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them. Firm, good appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, if the directions are followed, the liver, lungs, and blood at once follow, the cough loosens, the night sweats subside. In a short time both of these most alarming symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, can be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS,
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

WEALTH.

Ben Selim found a golden coin one day,
Which he put out at interest with a Jew;
Year after year awaiting him it lay,
Until his coin to twenty pieces grew—
And those to thousands—until people cried:
"How rich Ben Selim is!" and so he died.

Ben Adam had a golden coin that day,
Which to a beggar asking alms he gave—
Who went rejoicing on his lonely way;
Ben Adam died—too poor to own a grave,
But when his soul reached heaven, the heavens alone
Could hold the wealth to which his coin had grown.

—A California paper, in describing a row among the Chinamen, says that they "used iron bars and other sedatives freely."

—A contemporary says of a very prominent militia general, that "his sword was never drawn but once—and then in a raffle."

—Even the derided organ-grinder has his good points—he supplies to the pent up poor one of the greatest luxuries of life—a change of air.

—According to the State Geologist of California, the view from the top of Mount Diablo is the finest in the world, not excepting any in the Alps.

—Luther is reported to have said that "if a man is not handsome at 20, strong at 30, and learned at 40, and rich at 50, he will never be handsome, strong, learned or rich in this world."

—A gentleman lying in bed one morning was informed that he had better get up quick, breakfast was just coming up. "Let it come," he exclaimed defiantly; "It will find me ready to meet it."

—After a miserable existence of twenty-one years, says the Press, the Philadelphia Eclectic Medical College, under the infliction of innumerable aliases and a good sound newspaper diagnosis, is about giving up the ghost. A bill repealing the charter has been introduced in the legislature.

—In Wilmington, Deleware, the trustees of the poor have resolved to revolutionize the method of treatment at the alms-house, and have elected homœopathic physicians in place of those of the allopathic school. The next largest charitable institution at that place has also been placed under homœopathic management.

—From the far West comes the saddest of sad experiences in the remedial way. Six men suffering from scurvy were planted in the earth up to their necks and allowed to stay over night for a cure. The result of the treatment would probably have been satisfactory but for the arrival of a pack of coyotes, who ate all the six heads off.

—Less than thirty-thousand persons own all the real estate in England, including all the owners of city houses and building lots, and one half the land is owned by one hundred and fifty persons! England is said to have fifty-one thousand square miles; taking one half of that and covering it into acres, it will average over one hundred thousand to each person. In Scotland nineteen and a half millions of acres are owned by twelve persons. This is as if all the land in Massachusetts were owned by three persons, each having about five millions of acres.

CRIBBING IN HORSES.—Cribbing or crib-biting in horses is really a vice or bad habit, although many have called it a disease. The courts have decided it unsoundness. It is caused by idleness, indigestion, and is also acquired from other animals addicted to it and standing in the same stable. Keep the horse in the stable as little as possible; feed regularly, and give him regular work or exercise of some kind. Do not confine him in stalls in which are mangers or feed racks. Keep him in a box, stall and feed hay from the floor. Give grain in a loose box, and remove the box as soon as he is done eating. Keep him at pasture this season as much as possible. In this way he may be completely cured of the habit.

BREEDING POULTRY.—Your correspondent, W. S. N., inquires how long after fowls of different breeds have been allowed to run together through autumn and winter, should they be separated before their eggs may be used for raising pure bred fowls. Many breeders allow their birds to run together until eggs are wanted for hatching; then by separating for a short time, eggs are used and sold for breeding purposes. Disappointment has always followed this practice. It is well authenticated fact in breeding with the larger animals, that the first impression has an influence on the system of the female that shows itself in subsequent progeny. Such facts have come under my practical observation in the breeding of the cattle. I would therefore caution breeders of pure bred poultry not to permit their pullets to run with males, not of the same breed. To breed for the greatest perfection, two breeds is one too many for one's premises. If one wishes to breed hodgepodge, keep a dozen breeds, and complete success will attend his efforts.—Cor. Country Gentleman.

A SERENE PROSPECT.— An article which appeared in our columns, two weeks ago, upon the tie in the New Hampshire Senate, has occasioned no little comment. In it we expressed the opinion, that in case it should become necessary in order to prevent our unscrupulous political opponents from getting control of the State government, the five Republican Senators-elect should persistently continue to vote for their candidate for presiding officer, even if the result should be a dead lock in that branch of the legislature. We entertained this opinion in view of the undeniable fact that a majority of the people of New Hampshire are Republicans, and because if no new State government were to be formed, the present officers would hold over.

But several of the leading Democratic journals of the State have assured us that our opinion is erroneous, and that for the five Republican Senators-elect thus to prevent the organization of the Senate, would be, to use their vigorous language, "factious and revolutionary."

In the present aspect of affairs in the House of Representatives these assurances, drawn from Democratic authority, are timely and satisfactory. It seems to be settled that the Republicans have a clear majority in the House; but the Democratic half of the Senators-elect might have given us some trouble, if their duty had not been so neatly defined in advance by their own press. They must do nothing to prevent the organization of the Senate; that would be "factious and revolutionary." They must promptly come forward and aid the Republicans to elect a presiding officer; for in no other way can they conform to the convictions which the Nashua Gazette, the Manchester Union and the Concord Patriot have so thoughtfully put on record.—Exeter News Letter.

COMMISSIONER Pleasanton's decision that the act of Congress reducing internal taxes did not authorize the levying and collecting of the dividend tax on dividends declared in the last five months of 1870, has been overruled by the Attorney General, who decides that the law will not bear Commissioner Pleasanton's construction, and that the taxes must be collected for the period exempted by the ruling of the internal revenue bureau.

—Nothing, to speak plainly, works more prejudice to the prospects of the great Democratic party of the country, and at the very moment when events are ripe for its return to the administration of public affairs, than the repeated but baseless imputation of the radicals that its advent to power will be the signal for an attempt to rescind the constitutional amendments that are claimed as the special fruits of the war.—Boston Post.

Then your Southern allies should not so threaten, and the Northern Democratic press yield to the demand so readily, as they now both are doing.—Commonwealth.

THE late Prof. John S. Woodman was born in the house where he died, a house occupied by the Woodman family, transmitted from father to son for six generations, from its first settlement by white men.

THE Senate has voted the promulgation of the treaty of Washington a breach of privilege, and appointed a committee of five to look after the offender.

THE medical commission appointed by Gov. Hoffman of New York to examine into the alleged insanity of the murderer Ruloff, report that he is perfectly sane; he will do for hanging, well enough.

IN a fight between a posse led by two Sheriffs and a gang of Spanish desperados, in California, one of the Sheriffs was wounded by a murderer named Soto, who was shot dead by the officer. The gang were all captured.

THE New York Sun has been sued for libel by Mr. H. Chauriteau, who lays the damages at $10,000. The action grew out of the Sun's charge against the French consul, of defrauding his government in the purchase of arms.

THEY tried to lay down some concrete pavements in Providence, R. I., the other day, but from the ingenious way in which the thing was done, the citizens carried off most of the stuff on their boots to the manifest injury of carpets, and the encouragement of numerous prospective lawsuits.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

As Mr. A. M. Cogswell, the station-agent at Wentworth, was coupling cars on the freight train, May 12, he slipped and fell on the track, and several cars passing over one of his legs crushed it so badly that it had to be amputated.

A lottery perfume pedler named Charles Wheeler was complained of at Concord May 11, and fined about $60, including costs.

The somewhat celebrated case of the State vs. Rev. Charles Greenwood, now of Massachusetts, charged with burning his own property in Campton, for the purpose of defrauding the insurance companies, has been dismissed by Attorney General Clarke. The respondent has abandoned all claims on his part against the insurance companies. The case was tried last November, exciting great public interest and resulting in a disagreement of the jury.

The town of Nelson wants a physician.

Geo. McIlroy, a lad in the employ of the N. P. Company of Rochester, was seriously injured on the 9th. He fell from the third story and struck on the elevator.

ON Friday an accident occured on the Erie Railway at Griswold station, a few miles from Attica. A heavy freight train, with an engine, car and caboose attached, while going down a grade became uncoupled, leaving the car and caboose. The train was recoupled and started on an ascending grade, when the coupling broke a second time. When being recoupled, and before the signal could be reset, an extra freight train came thundering down the grade and collided, crushing every thing before it. Thirty passengers were in the car, and five children were killed and about twenty adults more or less injured.

SCHOONER Jas. Baker, of Beverly, Capt. Reuben McLaren, was run into May 8th, by an unknown bark, while at anchor in the Middle Ground, White Head. The bowsprit and windlass gear were torn out, and several hundred feet of new cable and an anchor lost. Capt. McLaren's leg was broken. The bark was hailed to heave to, but no attention was given except the answer, "Go to ——!" The schooner went to Halifax, N. S., which was not where the rascal on board the other vessel told her to go.

THE first examination of the State Normal School took place at Plymouth on Thursday—in the morning and afternoon at the Academy Building, in the evening at Cook's Hall. The institution has been in operation but eight weeks, and at the close of the present term numbered 73 pupils—56 females, 17 males. The following persons compose the Board of Instructors:—Principal, S. H. Pearl, formerly Principal of the Vermont Normal School; Associate Principal, Amos Hadley; Alice M. Guernsey, a graduate of the Salem Normal School, and Abbie Holton, a graduate of the Westfield Normal School, Assistants; Alice P. Goodwin, of Franklin, teacher of French and Music; Mrs. H. M. P. Miller, of Concord, Teacher of Elocution; Mr. C. J. Brown, of Plymouth, Teacher of Penmanship.

The exercises in the morning consisted of exhibitions in Mental Arithmetic, Arithmetic, History and Calisthenics; in the afternoon, Mental Arithmetic, Grammar, showing the method of teaching, Geography and Calisthenics.—These were followed by remarks by Hon. Ellery A. Hibbard, M. C., Col. Peter Sanborn, Messrs. Daniel Barnard, E. S. Averill, of Milford, S. B. Page, Moses Humphrey, Geo. H. Jenks, of Concord, and Daniel Beede, of Sandwich.

The evening exercises at the Hall were Marching, Gymnastics, Rhetorical Exercises, conducted by Mrs. Miller, and Music, after which the pupils adjourned to the School Boarding House and accepted the congratulations of State Superintendent Hardy.

The exercises were participated in by the district school, taught by Misses S. E. Eastman and M. A. Perkins, of the Normal; it numbers 78 pupils and is called the Model School.

The State Normal School is established beyond a doubt, and is well worthy the support of the Legislature, which body should provide for the erection of suitable School and Boarding Houses. The district school house, given by the town of Plymouth, is now used, but it is too small and wholly unfit. The next term commences the first Wednesday in September.

[Our report of the exercises was crowded out of Saturday's issue by other matter which would not "keep" so well.]

—Mrs. Lincoln is hereafter to reside in Chicago with her son Robert.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The all-gone feeling which people sometimes speak of, is caused by want of proper action of the liver and heart. These may be assisted, and the bowels regulated, by Parson's Purgative Pills in small doses.

Corn and flour are staple articles; but not more so than Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, where known. It is good for children or adults, for any internal soreness of the chest or bowels, and the best Pain Killer prepared, under whatever name.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Persecuted Organ.

The human stomach has been a shamefully persecuted organ. There was a time when for every dereliction of duty it was punished with huge doses of the most disgusting and nauseous drugs. In vain it rejected them, and literally returned them upon the hands of those who administered them. They were forced upon it again and again, until its solvent power was thoroughly drenched out of it.

The world is wiser now than it was in that drastic era, when furious purgation and mercurial salivation were what Artemas Ward would have called the "main hoss" of the faculty, in cases of dyspepsia and liver complaint.

The great modern remedy for indigestion and biliousness is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a preparation which has the merit of combining a palatable flavor with such tonic, aperient and anti-bilious properties, as were never heretofore united in any medicine.

It has been discovered, at last, that sick people are not like the fabled Titans, who found prostration so refreshing that, when knocked down, they rose from the earth twice as vigorously as before. When an invalid is prostrated by powerful depleting drugs, he is apt to stay prostrated; and the debilitated being aware of the fact, prefer the building up to the knocking down system of treatment.

Hostetter's Bitters meets the requirements of the rational medical philosophy which at present prevails. It is a perfectly pure vegetable remedy, embracing the three important properties of a preventive, a tonic, and an alternative. It fortifies the body against disease, invigorates and revitalizes the torpid stomach and liver, and effects a most salutary change in the entire system, when in a morbid condition.

In this country where the enfeebling temperature renders the human organization particularly susceptible to unwholesome atmospheric influences, the Bitters should be taken as a protection against epidemic disease.

PRACTICAL APPLICATION OF

HAMLET'S SOLILOQUY.

To insure or not to insure? That is the question.
Whether t'will be nobler for my family to suffer
The stings and arrows of outrageous fortune
Or take a policy against those dangers,
And, by insuring, end them? To fret, to fear,
No more; and by a policy to end
The heartache and the thousand natural shocks
That flesh is heir to. Yes, my application 's
Devoutly to be wished; apply, insure,
And pay the premium! ay—there's the rub
For in that time what premiums may come
Before I shuffle off this mortal coil
Does take me pause, tightens my purse,
And makes me rather pay the bills I have
Than fly to others I know not of.
Thus does meanness make brutes of us all.

AUCTIONEER Morse sold the lot and buildings formerly occupied by the late Ira Hazelton as a foundry, to B. F. Webster for $1500, on Saturday.

WINTER weather is gone for good, now,—the pear trees in the lot back of our office are blossomed out, and we saw a man wearing a Panama hat in the street on Saturday.

WILLIAM DIXON, Esq., of Kittery, launched a yacht, May 12th. She is named "Bismarck," is very handsome, and some of her admirers think she will beat almost anything afloat, of the same length of keel.

WE are informed by a Kittery correspondent that "apothecaries dare not sell intoxicating liquors in Kittery now, for medicinal, mechanical, 'religious' or any other purposes. I can't say what is up, unless a raid is expected—but it is getting very dry over here, notwithstanding the late heavy rains."

TO-MORROW, the Directors of the Eastern, and Portland, Saco & Portsmouth, the Maine Central and the European and North American Railroads, several prominent railroad and business men, and other invited guests will make an excursion in the Pullman Palace train from Boston to Bangor, via the Portland and Kennebec division of the Maine Central road, stopping Tuesday night at Bangor, and then proceeding next day to Mattawamkeag, the Eastern terminus of the European & North American road. The train will pass through this city before the arrival of the regular morning train from Boston.

By the sale of the Insurance Business of Mr. John S. Harvey to Messrs. Joseph P. Morse and Wingate N. Ilsley, another of the old citizens doing business in Portsmouth partially relinquishes active duty, although Mr. Harvey remains connected with the new firm as solicitor. In 1821, Mr. Harvey came to this city from Sanbornton, and was a clerk with the late Joseph Wiggin for six years. In 1827, he commenced business for himself as a Stock and Exchange Broker; in 1832 was engaged in the grocery business, and continued in it, at the corner of Congress and Vaughan Streets, until 1836, when he went into the wholesale grocery business in Boston with the late Thomas D. Bailey, returning to Portsmouth in 1839 to engage in Exchange and Real Estate. Mr. Harvey purchased the Bookstore of S. A. Badger in 1852, sold out in 1857 and returned to the Insurance Business, which he successfully prosecuted up to his retirement, having been in business for himself 44 years.

Messrs. Morse & Ilsley are experienced business men, who need no introduction. Everybody knows them and they know everybody. The Companies for which they are Agents may be congratulated on having such reliable persons to deal with. The public, who are interested to a great extent in the character of the men they deal with, can always depend on prompt attention from either or both members of the new firm.

THOMAS cats generally are not celebrated for their talents, except in the musical line, but there is one owned just at the edge of this city who makes himself agreeable in a way not often adopted by his kind. He has long had a habit of following members of the family in which he resides into the city, and we have it from one of the gentlemen that his right arm has been elongated three inches within the last year by his constant throwing of stones to drive back the cat; notwithstanding which treatment, he generally finds pussy awaiting him on the road home, when he is going towards it late at night, and frequently a half-mile or more from the house, to which Thomas always returns with the "last one of the family home," positively refusing to enter the door until the last one is housed. Recently the gentleman turned his flock of hens out to grass, in his own domain; but, as is the custom with hens, they prefer to go into a neighbor's field. The cat, having seen the raiding hens driven from the field several times by their owner, has at length mastered the situation and appointed himself a guard; and no sooner does a hen creep through or fly over the fence than the cat goes for and circumnavigates her, drives her back across the road to her lawful scratching grounds, and then quietly resumes his watch in the cellar window. It is supposed that this cat could speak good English if he chose.

"DUMMY" Cusick had an additional bump on his cranium, Saturday morning, showing the "fury of a woman corned." The way "Dummy" explains matters is peculiarly interesting and painful. By means of his pantomimical gestures, assisted by a watch and the indistinct mumbling by which the unfortunate man endeavors to explain, we were enabled to understand his statement of the case. Shortly after 9 o'clock, A. M., Mrs. Cusick seems to have been entertaining an Irish friend in a manner entirely at variance with the law of the State. Her husband is dumb, but not wholly deaf; he heard a whistle, he suspected, he watched and Mrs. C. found herself in his grasp. Annoyed, she seized a stick of wood and raised his bump of Cautiousness about 160° degrees to the inch, showing how exhilarating are the effects of whiskey. Mortal man could not stand such injury added to insult, and "Dummy" retaliated with a flat-iron which lay handily near, at the same time clawing her nose with his left hand as if he were drowning and grasping at a straw. Mrs. Cusick's nose is by no means a straw, however. Her hair came down in the muss, rendering her a hideous object after the application of the flat-iron. "Dummy's" attempt to iron her out of existence failed, and the unhappy couple went to the Police Station, Cusick's bump continually on the rise and Mrs. Cusick's life blood trickling down over her forehead and nose in a continuous stream. Thomas C. was locked up and the City Physician dressed Mrs. C.'s wounds, which are not serious.

Before the Police Court, Thomas and Hannah were found guilty of brawl and tumult, and fined severally $1 and half the costs of Court, amounting in all to $10.54, which Thomas must pay because he is the husband of his wife. Moral—let the women do as they will; never interfere.

HARD ON HIBBARD.—Saturday morning we met Mr. Hackett, "justice requires us to add not the Hackett who has been mentioned as a Republican candidate for Speaker," and after a hearty laugh, which shew how much he enjoyed Mr. Hibbard's joke about his inability "to decipher some of the hieroglyphics of Hackett of Portsmouth,' he said he thought the story would not materially injure his clerical reputation in Belknap County, where in his youth he was several seasons a schoolmaster and taught some of the best penmanship in the County. He added, "if Mr. Hibbard had enjoyed the advantage of having been one of his pupils, one of Mr. Hibbard's constituents, to whom a few days ago he franked a public document, would have been saved the trouble of taking the envelope to the town clerk to try to ascertain who had sent it to him."

THE New York Express train over the Boston & Albany Railroad after this week leaves Boston at nine o'clock, A. M., instead of at half past eight. How would it do to express the first Portsmouth train over a part of the Eastern Railroad, until the new morning express comes into operation, so a person could take an early breakfast in Portsmouth and a late dinner in New York! Fifteen minutes saved in running on this road would afford ample time to make the connection. We hope that ere the Maine travel goes via Rochester and Nashua to New York, the Boston & Albany managers will see the propriety of sending their cars to the Eastern Station in Boston for passengers bound to New York.

OUR "devil" came in late on Saturday, and this was the excuse he gave: "The police found a little child in the street and asked me to go to the Police Station and play with it, until they could find its mother." Of course he went. As an amusist he was always successful. It was ascertained that the waif, "which his name was Jones," resided on Church Hill, and his mother gladly welcomed the reappearance of the lost darling. Small Brooks then returned to duty.

The Dover City Councils have appointed a committee of five to petition the Legislature of this State, in the name of the city, to pass a law authorizing the cities of Dover and Portsmouth, and any towns laying between them to guaranty the payment of semi-annual dividends on the shares of the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad, with certain provisos when it shall be built.

THE residence of Mr. Ivory Knight (a Navy Yard workman) in South Berwick was burned Saturday afternoon. Part of the furniture was burned after it was taken out of the house. The fire was probably caused by a defect in the chimney. Loss $4500; insured for $1200.

THE Lynn Light Infantry will visit this city June 7th.

THE foundation stone for the new light-house at Whale's Back was laid on the 12th.

THE Post Band (Harlow's) gave an open air concert as advertised, Saturday evening, at Haymarket Square. The music was good and drew quite a crowd of listeners, although the high wind which blew the dust about in clouds and made standing still much too cool for comfort, doubtless prevented many from attending.

A little son of Mr. Melvin O. Stimson, a watchman at the Navy Yard, narrowly escaped drowning Friday afternoon, in Spruce Creek, near Kittery Point Bridge, where he and an older brother had gone to await the return of their father. On missing her children from the house, their mother hastened to the Creek, and on nearing it heard the screams of the oldest boy, "Oscar is overboard," and saw the little fellow floating in the water. Her screams for help brought the gate keeper, Mr. Corliss, from the toll house at the bridge, and the boy was rescued in an apparently lifeless condition; and it was only after some five hours' constant exertion by his friends that he was pronounced out of danger by a physician.

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 3½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Government pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 23 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. f24dWaS

Morning Chronicle.

Frightful Result of an Attempt to Bull the Cut Market.

The following unusual and significant advertisement was posted day before yesterday on a three-story brick building just opposite the Galt House:

Wanted—5,000 cats; the highest cash price will be paid for good cats. Inquire up stairs.

This singular notice at first caused a good deal of dubiety in the minds of mercantile citizens as to what was meant exactly by the term "cats." Those who are wicked enough to be familiar with the slang phrases of sporting men, thought it was an advertisement for recruits from Brigham Young or Jim Fisk, but as no agent was in the city to substantiate this idea, the excited crowd in front of the advertisement settled down to the belief that the genuine old-fashioned feline animal was the thing called for. It was immediately inferred that a new branch of industry had been opened in Louisville, and that the cat trade would hereafter exert a noticeable influence on the general market.

We understand that large numbers have already been brought up and caged, and there is danger that the vicinity of the Galt House will be charmed to exasperation by a series of serenades and vocal concerts, which, for acoustic interest, will be unexcelled by any charivari that was ever performed.

Indeed, there was considerable disturbance all day yesterday in the cat-advertising neighborhood. Negroes would come in every five or ten minutes with a brace or more of gentle felines, and a few market gardeners and butchers, who had observed the advertisement, called yesterday afternoon with chicken coops full of sure-enough common, every-day cats. The holders of this singular merchandise climbed the stairs, according to published directorys, but found the office on the second floor either vacated or locked. On ascending the third floor they encountered two worthy Dutchman, who professed to be wholly ignorant of the advertisement, and who showed uncommon indignation on having their business interrupted by such callers. "Vat in de duyvel do ve vant mit kats?" asked these honest Teutons; but instead of a satisfactory answer they only received fresh cats. Cats, cats, in rapid succession up to midnight, when our reporter left the scene.

A general row ensued among the disappointed dispensers of the live feline commodity, and our third-story German friends became so much exasperated that they called in the police. An indignation meeting was also held by the guests of the Galt House, over the way, and the Chief of Police sent up thirty or forty men to restore order. At the sight of this martial array the marketmen disappeared, leaving some fifteen hundred town and country cats in possession of the field. These destructive animals retired precipitately to the wholesale pork houses in the neighborhood, where they propose to locate permanently, and it is believed that several law suits will grow out of the occurrence. There was either a great mistake in regard to the location of the cat market advertised on Tuesday, or else some fiendish individual has gotten up the disturbance to gratify his morbid sense of humor. Cats are cats.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

Consumption,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known, simple remedies, until it was too late. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they called in and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalids made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-astering, self-evidencing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of cases of confirmed consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach, will respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, Dr. Schenck's medicines are as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-astering, self-evidencing.

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND".

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are purged. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous torture. Appetite becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once into the work which Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gathering phlegm, it is ripened for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten tissue that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the vigor of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house, the guest not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great secret to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is fatal. Dr. Schenck's personal attendance to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as the matter was all ripe, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have growed fat, and have good health. Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE METHODIST, of New York, has always been edited with marked ability by Rev. Dr. GROSS. Its publishers have just added to its editorial corps, Rev. ABEL STEVENS, an equally experienced journalist, and author of the best History of Methodism extant. They have also engaged contributions and sermons from Rev. T. DEWITT TALMAGE, whose success and popularity as a preacher, writer and lecturer, are almost unexampled, and whose free Tabernacle in Brooklyn, with its congregation of over 3,000 people, is one of the marvels of the age. Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER has a Lecture Room Talk every week.

THE METHODIST abounds in good things, is never dull or dry, has stories for children, hints for farmers, and something for everybody. Mrs. Stilling's great serial story is almost ready. They offer for the price of one year's subscription ($2.50) to send THE METHODIST from now until July 1st, 1872. Specimen copies free. 114 Nassau Street, New York. m3

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

"VALUABLE BOOKS.—We have received the valuable medical works published by the Peabody Medical Institute. These books are of actual merit, and should find a place in every intelligent family. They are not the cheap order of abominable trash, published by irresponsible parties, and purchased to gratify coarse tastes, but are written by a responsible professional gentleman of eminence, as a source of instruction on vital matters, concerning which lamentable ignorance exists. The important subjects presented are treated with delicacy, ability and care, and, as an appendix, many useful prescriptions for prevailing complaints are added."—Coos Republican, Lancaster, N. H.

"The author of these books is one of the most learned and popular physicians of the day, and is entitled to the gratitude of our race for these invaluable productions. The Chronicle.

THE Aurora Herald tells a queer story of a pleasure trip a couple of young men with their sweethearts took on the river at that place, in a dilapidated boat. For a while the fun was exhilarating, but the sequel proved anything but that. The Herald gives the following account of it:

In rocking the boat, one of the girls gave it, as she said, "a glorious old dip," and the gentleman who was dipping the water out, fearing it would go over, jumped to the other side, striking with his whole weight, and down went the bottom boards, and he after them, till his feet struck the ground, and there he stood in about four feet of water, with the boat floating about his neck. The girls, true to their womanhood, screamed, and he, in trying to hold the boat from sinking, tipped it over, and into the water all went. (So they were not smiling then as they had been.) The water, however, was not over four feet deep at this place, so they had no difficulty in getting to dry land, but they had ruined all of their fine clothes, and all of the girls felt very badly about that. They sat down on the banks to dry, while the gallants went for the team and carriage, and then the ducks went home.

SAD FATE OF A MOTHER AND DAUGHTER.—The wife of Mr. Henry Biegan died yesterday morning at his residence, corner of Stagg street and Graham avenue, Williamsburg, and when her death was announced to her mother she, too, expired from the combined effects of fear and grief, superinduced by the following circumstances: On Thursday night last, between the hours of eleven and twelve o'clock, three or four fellows effected an entrance to Mrs. Biegan's sick chamber while she was alone with her aged mother. Their intention was, it appears, to rob the store below by secreting themselves in the bedroom until Mr. Biegan closed up his business for the night. Their untimely appearance so excited and alarmed Mrs. Biegan and her mother that they screamed and swooned. Their screams caused the marauders to beat a hasty retreat and brought Mr. Biegan and others from the store to the scene. By this time the mother and daughter were completely prostrated, and, although every effort was made to rally them, they expired at the time mentioned.

Mrs. Biegan was only twenty-four years of age. She leaves two young children. Her mother was far advanced in life, and previous to the shock that caused her death was greatly exhausted by incessant watching over her sick daughter.

The Grape-Juice Pill is composed of Fluid Extract of Catawba Grape-Juice and Useful in all diseases requiring a cathartic remedy, and far superior to all other purgatives, such as salts, magnesia, &c.

Helmbold's Grape-Juice Pill

TUESDAY, MAY 16, 1871.

SENATORIAL VACANCIES AGAIN.—The Portsmouth Chronicle comes down to hard pan now in talking of the organization of the Senate. * * * It says: "Our idea of a dead-lock is this: If the combined opposition should be able to control the House, the scheme of the Democratic managers to elect Mr. Marcy to fill the vacancy in the first Senatorial District be successful (a contingency that we do not apprehend,) and the vacancy remain unfilled in the 10th District, that a Democratic organization of the Senate might be effected and the Constitution ignored, it would then be the duty of the Republican members to withdraw from the Senate chamber, leaving the Senate without a quorum."

Don't the Chronicle see that the course it advises is the only way by which the Democrats can organize the Senate? Suppose Mr. Marcy should be elected to fill the vacancy in District No. 1, and that the vacancy in No. 10 should be unfilled, and that the five Republican Senators should resign, what is then to hinder the six Democratic Senators from meeting the House in convention at any time and filling the vacancy in No. 10, thus making a quorum again in the Senate and enabling them to have the entire organization of the Senate? Concord Monitor.

The Monitor persists in placing us in a false light. We did not suggest that the five Republican Senators resign. We did and do say that under certain contingencies they should "withdraw from the Senate chamber." Were the Democratic Senators then to proceed to the House to help fill the vacancy in the 10th District, can the Monitor find any means of preventing the five Republican members from doing likewise? Notwithstanding the pressure made, there are Democratic members of the Legislature who cannot be persuaded to ignore the Constitution, and these men will vote for one of the two highest candidates. We see no reason to doubt the selection of Messrs. Martin and Hall, Republicans, in the 1st and 10th Districts.

FRANCE.—The Thiers troops have captured Fort Vanvres, with several hundred prisoners and 60 cannon. They are now close to the walls of Paris, and the Commune is evidently being hard pressed.

RUSSIA has a rebellion on hand, in Khiva, a portion of Turkistan, Central Asia.

IT is asserted postively that Fisk and Gould are trying to sell out Erie to Vanderbilt.

THE London Times is perfectly satisfied with the treaty of Washington and thinks it will be ratified.

THREE steamers arrived at San Francisco on Saturday with long passenger-lists and valuable cargos.

IT now seems probable that a strong effort will be made in the Senate to amend the Treaty of Washington.

THE returns at the census office of the colored population for the States and Territories make it about 4,857,000.

THE Louisville (Ky.) negroes are triumphant, for the horse railway companies find that they must let them ride on any street car they please.

THE general opinion in Washington now is that the Alabama treaty will be reported back unamended, and in its original shape. Nearly all the articles have been approved.

THE St. Louis board of trade wants Congress to try the floating dock plan for conveying vessels over the Mississippi bar, instead of spending money in removing the obstructions in the river.

Two Spaniards were hung at New Orleans, May 13, for murdering a sailor about a year ago. One of them observed "Carrajo!" to the crowd, when on the scaffold. He evidently felt annoyed at his situation.

THE Apaches are coming it strong in California and New Mexico. Twenty cavalrymen were recently routed and the lieutenant commanding killed, near Whetstone Mountain. Troops are in pursuit of the savages.

IN a New York Catholic church on Sunday, the 14th, a maniac attacked the figure of the crucifixion with an axe, and stabbed an usher in the forehead with a knife. The madman was secured, but it is feared the usher will die.

THE iron-clads now at Key West and in the tropic have been ordered to northern navy yards, and will, during the ensuing summer, be thoroughly overhauled and cleansed. Wooden vessels will take their place as being cooler and more comfortable in the warmer climates.

A CONCLUSIVE PRECEDENT.—A legal gentleman at Concord, who has given much attention to the subject, furnishes us with the facts in a case which seems to be a conclusive precedent for the settlement of the senatorial vacancy question in the tenth district.

In 1813 a vacancy occurred in the senate. On examination of the returns of the votes it appeared that Flanders and Folsom were the two highest candidates at the general election, after Mr. Peabody, who was elected and subsequently died. But it was well known that Flanders was ineligible on account of the property qualification which then disgraced the constitution. So Folsom was the only constitutionally eligible candidate, and the convention elected him to fill the vacancy, notwithstanding the fact that he belonged to the political party that was then in the minority in the legislature.

This precedent, occurring so soon after the adoption of the constitution, and in a legislature that may be presumed to have had among its members some who were members of the constitutional convention, establishes beyond question the construction that was put upon that instrument by those who had the best means of knowing what was the proper construction to be given to it.

In this instance there was but one eligible candidate, yet the convention, with that high regard for the constitution which was characteristic of the fathers, and in order that its provisions might be carried out to the letter, actually elected a man who was politically opposed to a majority of that body. In this case we see that the convention not only considered it their duty to fill the vacancy, but they considered themselves bound to take the only man voted for at the general election who was eligible, and place him in the office in spite of the fact of his adverse politics.

If any case could arise within the range of probability where the convention would be justified in going to the district at large for a candidate, as the Democrats propose to do in the tenth district, that case was the one we have cited. But the journals of the convention and contemporaneous writings do not indicate that any such absurd proposition was ever hinted at.—Nashua Telegraph.

THE "manly art of self-defence" is upheld in this country, as in every other, by the most brutal specimens of humanity (or inhumanity) that can be picked out from the dregs of the degraded and dangerous classes. Coburn's wife died from too much whiskey just on the eve of his "battle" with Mace, but he didn't let such a trifling matter interfere with his "business." Another of the manly-art professors, Ned O'Baldwin, the Irish giant, was to have been arrested in New York, Saturday morning, for beating a couple of defenceless women in that city the day before, but he hastened away to Philadelphia. Now Coburn challenges Mace to fight for $10,000 within fifty miles of New York, and one Tom Allen offers to fight Coburn for $5000 or O'Baldwin for $1000 a side. If they would only kill each other, all 'round, spectators and all, the public would gain much from their contests.

THE Capital gives currency to this bit of Washington gossip:—"Mrs. Blaine, the accomplished wife of the Speaker, had a difficulty with Mrs. Stockton, the charming better half of the Senator, about a cook. Meeting at a dinner table, with only the Hon. Fernando Wood between them, Mrs. Stockton, leaning forward, said, "I am sorry, Mrs. Blaine, that we have anything disagreeable between us." Hon. Fernando was considerably embarrassed, not having heard the interesting story of the cook.

The Prussian papers, and also the French, are loud in their praises of Clara Barton for her services in behalf of the sick and wounded of the two armies. Her humane efforts at Strasbourg are especially glorified. Every American will rejoice at the honors paid to our philantropic countrywoman, the best and noblest of the noted women of our time.

THE WORLD is tender footed as a class. Whatever shall answer best for wet weather and dry, for sea and shore, is bound to be popular whether or no; and it would be a bootless attempt stemming the great popularity gained by the Cable Screw Wire Boots and Shoes in the six months just passed. They claim much, but the public has endorsed that claim.

The all-gone feeling which people sometimes speak of, is caused by want of proper action of the liver and heart. These may be assisted, and the bowels regulated, by Parson's Purgative Pills in small doses.

Address R. V. Pierce, M. D., 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y., and get a pamphlet on Catarrh free, or send sixty cents and get Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. $500 reward is offered by the proprietor for a case of Catarrh which he cannot cure. Sold by druggists. Cut this out, as you may never see it again.

Corn and flour are staple articles; but not more so than Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, where known. It is good for children or adults, for any internal soreness of the chest or bowels, and the best Pain Killer prepared, under whatever name.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Persecuted Organ.

The human stomach has been shamefully persecuted organ. There was a time when for every description of duty it was punished with huge doses of the most disgusting and nauseous drugs. In vain it rejected them, and literally returned them upon the hands of those who administered them. They were forced upon it again and again, until its solvent power was thoroughly drenched out of it.

The world is wiser now than it was in that drastic era, when furious purgation and mercurial salivation were what Artemus Ward would have called the "main hole" of the faculty, in cases of dyspepsia and liver complaint.

The great modern remedy for indigestion and biliousness is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a preparation which has the merit of combining a palatable flavor with such tonic, aperient and anti-bilious properties, as were never heretofore united in any medicine.

It has been discovered, at last, that sick people are not like the fabled Titans, who found prostration so refreshing that, when knocked down, they rose from the earth twice as vigorously as before. When an invalid is prostrated by powerful depleting drugs, he is apt to stay prostrated; and the debilitated being aware of the fact, prefer the building up to the knocking down system of treatment.

Hostetter's Bitters meets the requirements of the rational medical philosophy which at present prevails. It is a purely vegetable remedy, embracing the three important properties of a preventive, a tonic, and an alterative. It fortifies the body against disease, invigorates and revitalizes the torpid stomach and liver, and effects a most salutary change in the entire system, when in a morbid condition.

In this country where the enfeebling temperature renders the human organization particularly susceptible to unwholesome atmospheric influences, the Bitters should be taken as a protection against epidemic disease.

RESPECTING STREETS, AND THEIR NAMES.—Messrs. Editors: Perhaps you will permit me to make a few remarks, suggested by recent allusions in your columns. The information as to the name of Wibird Street and Anthony Street, is of public value; and all who feel any interest in historical matters, will regret that the name of Anthony has been changed, as too many others of our old streets, and hope that Wibird never will be. And in this connection, allow me to thank the owners of the new buildings for retaining the old and significant names of Bell Tavern and Waldron Blocks.

Your item of Saturday, as to the proposed improvements of Richards Avenue, might be taken to mean that the street is not to be changed much; but I hope such is not the fact—for the condition of this, as a principal promenade, is a positive disgrace and reproach to the City — especially so, when compared with the mile or two of far better streets which have been built near it within a few years, by the enterprise of a single private individual.

Richards Avenue, for one thing, is miserably narrow. It is now but fifty feet wide, when it should be at least one hundred,—and two hundred would be far better. You state that the owners of the land will not give or sell any to widen the street, but may allow a little for a better sidewalk. Also, that the land cannot be taken, as the new street is not a necessity. Now as to this latter, did anybody ever hear of a proposed street that was not opposed as unnecessary? And indeed but very few streets are absolutely necessary, provided people are content to go far enough 'round to get at an old one. But I feel entirely sure that any Court would allow the widening of this Avenue under the circumstances, on petitions, although I presume nobody ever thought of attempting it in any such way.

But let us look at the facts of the case. Mrs. Cutts left nearly $20,000 for the improvement of Richards Avenue—a larger sum, I think, than was ever before donated for the benefit of this city—and it will redound to the lasting disgrace of all concerned, if this handsome gift shall fail to greatly benefit the community through all time. No person of taste, appreciation and knowledge in such matters, will be satisfied with anything less than double the present width—and so as far as I know, the proposition of the executors of the will, to construct a new Cutts Avenue, of the width of fifty feet at least, to the east of and directly alongside the present Avenue, is the most popular and feasible plan proposed. This should be used for foot passengers only, no carriage being admitted except at funerals; and it would be far better, as the old portion of the street is so wretchedly narrow, if the new Avenue could skirt the shore of the South Pond, and be entered at Rogers Street.

This plan would cost more money than Mrs. Cutts gave, but could not the sum be easily doubled for the purpose, by other subscriptions. The land needed is not of great present income or value to the owners and the remainder would then be worth far more than the whole is now—and the beauty of all would be greatly improved. I have always thought, and still think, that with a proper representation of the case, the gentlemen owning the land, would allow its being used for this purpose; and that any additional funds needed, could easily be raised by private subscriptions by those interested in the welfare and progress of OLD PORTSMOUTH.

THE Nashua Telegraph says of Barnabee:—To criticize him would be superflous, inasmuch as he is sui generis, and there is no standard by which to judge him in his speciality.

PELETIAH Moulton decamped from the City Farm with a hoe on Monday, peddled it for a pint of rum, was found boozy, brought up at the Police Court and was sentenced to the House of Correction for two months and six days.

THE match between Frank Jones stallion Fearnaught Prince and Woodbury Looke's gray mare Nellie Locke will come off at the Fair Grounds in September. The money was put up, Monday. The match is for a purse of $2000.

THE Directors' Excursion in the Pullman Palace Cars comes off to-day. The train leaves Boston for Bangor at 7.45 A. M., arriving here ahead of the train due at 10 o'clock. The excursionists leave Bangor for Boston on Thursday at 8 A. M.

THERE will be fun alive at the Police Court this A. M., at 11 o'clock. Capt. Robert Shillaber, while doing his duty, Sunday, in driving cows to the Pound, assisted by Mr. Larkin, was assaulted by two gentlemen of foreign extraction and stoned, and the cows rescued. Warrants have been issued against the assailants, and a large audience will listen to the testimony.

THE high wind of Saturday and Sunday lifted the dust from the streets in blinding clouds, and deposited it in the eyes and on the clothing of every one who had the misfortune to be out, piled it up on window sills and in doorways, and liberally deposited it on the carpets, mantels and furniture in the "best rooms" of careful housewives. The street sprinkler would have been a luxury on either of those days, as it was a necessity, notwithstanding the coolness of the atmosphere. Concord commenced street sprinkling some time ago, and Portsmouth should follow suit at once, for economy's sake, if not for comfort. We hope the City Councils will appropriate a reasonable sum towards sprinkling the streets, believing that it will save the streets themselves from considerable injury by being blown over high fences and into people's eyes, while at the same time pedestrians will be benefitted and the grand total of bad language used in the city be very much reduced.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—The Grand Jury came in on Monday afternoon, presented nine indictments and were discharged. One indictment is against John Smith for running a distillery without license, at Manchester, now being tried; two are against Sawyer & Stone of Pittsfield, for not paying a special tax for running a sawmill; one against McDermott of Manchester, for not keeping books as a wholesale liquor dealer.

In case U. S. vs. O'Neil & Wentworth, convicted here last May, the motion in arrest of judgement for the reason of defective indictment was decided by Judge Clark, and the respondents, who were convicted of using fraudulent papers in support of Hannah Smith's claim for a pension, were discharged, as the indictment was held to beb ad.

In case U. S. vs Brown, for not affixing a ten cent stamp to a bill, the motion in behalf of the respondent was overruled and judgment on the verdict rendered against the defendant.

Judge Clark read opinions in both of the above cases. No case has as yet been tried by the jury.

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago, 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 99 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9¼ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. f21dWeS

Morning Chronicle.

THE glory of Indiana divorces is gone. The law which for so many years was a beacon light of joy for distressed husbands and wives, has been so amended that it offers now only the merest glimmer of hope to the would-be-divorced. Three years' residence is required before a divorce for any cause can be obtained, and in case the application being made on the grounds of acts committed in another State, it must be shown that those acts are legal grounds for a divorce in the State where they were committed. Outraged parties can no longer hope for redress from the laws of Indiana, and the hundreds of lawyers in New York city who have luxuriased and grown rich by the harvest, will now be obliged to seek other professions.

A sharp swindling trick has lately been practiced upon farmers and others. A party is induced to accept an agency for some patented article, and signs a note which purports to promise the payment of ten dollars to the bearer after two hundred and seventy-five dollars worth of the article shall have been sold. The document is so drawn that that by cutting off one-third of its length, a note, regularly worded, for two hundred and seventy-five dollars remains, which the unwary victim has become under obligations to pay.

BASE BALL.—On Saturday the Nationals at Washington beat the Baltimore Pastimes, 21 to 19; Eckfords at New York, the Crescents, 73 to nothing; the White Stockings the Kekiongas at Fort Wayne, Indiana, 14 to 5; the Olympics at Washington the Forest Citys of Cleveland, 12 to 8; the Athletics of Philadelphia the Trentons, 20 to nothing.

—Lemuel Lyons, United States consul at Yokohama, Japan, died there of softening of the brain on the 6th ult.

A GOOD OFFER TO THE Ladies of Portsmouth and Vicinity.

E. A. JOY

Has Fitted up a Spacious and Elegant SEWING MACHINE ROOM directly over his Music Store and employs a competent young lady to take charge of the same. A cordial invitation is hereby extended to all the ladies (not having good Sewing Machines of their own) to bring in lots of work and learn to make it up on the Machines. This will cost nothing whether a Machine is purchased or not. If you do not buy now, you will at some future time; for the day is not far distant when a SEWING MACHINE will be considered as indispensable as a Cook-Stove. Come as often and stay as long as you please.

MR. JOY'S business in the Sewing Machine line is very rapidly increasing which enables him to make the above generous offer.

His long experience in this branch qualifies him to be an excellent judge of the goods he sells; and as he has had the Agency of all kinds offered him at different times it is reasonable to suppose that the Best SEWING MACHINES may always be had at the SEWING MACHINE EMPORIUM, No. 3 PLEASANT ST., directly opposite the Post Office, Portsmouth, N. H. Twelve Different Kinds to Select from. mh7

THE other night a flock of wild geese became bewildered at the light as they passed over the town of New Bloomfield, Pa., and circled around several times, flying so low that the noise of their wings could be distinctly heard. A portion of the flock afterwards "alighted in the hollow back of William McKee's." If McKee's back is so hollow as that, he must be full-breasted as a drum major.

—A story is told of a young couple in Hartford who wanted to hear Dickens read. They could hardly afford it, but screwed up their extravagance to the necessary pitch. As they had concluded to invest, they bethought themselves of a poorer family near by who were suffering from lack of work. So they gave up Dickens and the price of two tickets to their impoverished neighbors. The poor people took the money, bought tickets with it, and attended the readings.

Consumption,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and hitherto proved means of cure. These near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the resistless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own care proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made a representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two remedies with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Indian vegetable medicine. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach lends new energy, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is accomplished, without the agency of tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is soon to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given for an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters the stomach and by chemical action, we are bold to say, it converts some do not like to call it, because it has never failed to cure, thereby losing the sale of hundreds of dollars of remedies that never cure.) $1 a bottle, sold everywhere. Send for free circulars. H. D. ROWLE, Chemist, Boston.

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility is heresy, a libel on the Creator; to aid others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption and was given up to my bed, and some time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the prepared medicines which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. Soon gained my strength, and have enjoyed good health ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He only his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continues to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the simple instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, eat it will cure, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the coughing ceases, the night sweats abate. In a short time both of these mortal symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE METHODIST, of New York, has always been edited with marked ability by Rev. Dr. CROOKS. Its publishers have just added to its editorial corps, Rev. ABEL STEVENS, an equally experienced journalist, and author of the best History of Methodism extant. They have also engaged contributions and sermons from Rev. T. DEWITT TALMAGE, whose success and popularity as a preacher, writer and lecturer, are almost unexampled, and whose free Tabernacle in Brooklyn, with its congregation of over 3,000 people, is one of the marvels of the age. Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER has a Lecture Room Talk every week.

THE METHODIST abounds in good things, is never dull or dry, has stories for the children, hints for farmers, and something for everybody. Mrs. Willing's great serial story is almost ready. They offer for the price of one year's subscription ($2.50) to send THE METHODIST from now until July 1st, 1872. Specimen copies free. 114 Nassau Street, New York. m3

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever, you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot soda without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NEW PUBLICATIONS RECEIVED.

The June number of Scribner's Monthly contains eight illustrated articles—the first in importance and interest being the second paper by Gov. Langford on "The Wonders of the Yellowstone." Another very valuable and entertaining article is Mr. Twombly's description of the St. Louis Bridge, one of the greatest engineering undertakings of the age. Mrs. Oliphant continues and concludes her admirable novelette of "Norah: The Story of a Wild Irish Girl;" Miss Trafton furnishes another powerful story, "The Shadow that Came Between;" and in "Wilfrid Cumbermede," MacDonald has some very characteristic talk about ministry, the law, and the mystery of Death. Dr. Holland in "Topics of the Time" writes about "Living with Windows Open" and "The French Republic;" "The Old Cabinet" contains "Confessions of a Conceited Man" and "Two Weddings," and other editorials are on English Pauperage, Wagner in the Bowery, The Kindergarten, etc. The Etchings by Hopkins are very clever, and tell "The True Story of the Capture of Pegasus." This number contains nearly fifty pictures and is extremely attractive throughout.

Godey's Lady's Book for June, completes its 41st year. "Towing the Prize," is the title of the steel plate and a six-figure colored fashion plate, contains walking dresses, evening dresses, etc.; a beautiful wood-cut illustration of four children fighting with leaves; and another entitled "The Lily."

Peterson's Magazine for June has "The Spring of Life" for a frontispiece, nice stories, fashion plates and fashion talk, besides the regular instalment of cooking receipts.

The June number of Harper's Magazine, commencing the Forty-third Volume, opens with a poem by William Allen Butler, entitled "General Average." The illustrations are as charistic as the poem itself. "Along the Florida Reef," by Dr. J. R. Holder, is continued, with its entertaining and instructive descriptions, supplemented by numerous illustrations. Porte Crayon contributes "An Excursion to Watkins Glen," illustrated by his own pencil, "Anne Furness," "The American Baron," and "Anteros" are continued.

An Icelander, who recently lectured upon his country, its physical features, &c., in London, called attention to a common mistake of foreigners in regard to the famous hot springs. The principal of these is called Geyser, and from this we call them geysers, which is as absurd to an Icelander as an Englishman would seem if he spoke of all the rivers in England as Thameses, or as if an American termed all his native streams Mississippi.

The Norwich Bulletin says: "Stone & Murray's circus appeared, Tuesday morning. The balloon ascension in the afternoon was eminently different in this from the ability shown by the crowd in trampling down the early corn and peas, in the growth of which John Trankla's soul has taken pleasure. The balloon ascended to the height of about three hundred feet, and descended with a velocity suggestive of funeral expenses."

—Hand-organ grinders make from fifteen to twenty dollars a day in New London. The liberality of New London people to organ grinders is proverbial.—Exchange.

We wonder what evil the people of New London can have done to that editor, that he should thus attack them. But his malicious endeavor to make them all insane will fail, for a good many of the organ grinders cannot read.

Jim Smith and John Green, after having a grand bout one night, concluded to go home. Arriving at Smith's house, which they knew by some peculiarity that even a drunken man couldn' mistake, they commenced to shout:

"Missus Sum—hic—mith! Ho, Mssusmith!"

"What do you want, you drunken brutes?" shouted Mrs. Smith from the window.

"Ec yourn Miss Mith?"

"Yes I am. Who are you and what do you want?"

"Ef yer Mrs. Sm—hic—ith, come 'ere and pick out Missur Smif, fur Johner Green wants ter go 'om."

He has spent much time experimenting and investigating as to the most efficient preparation from it, for popular use, and has for some time used in his own practice with most happy results the effectual medicine now presented to the public as

WEDNESDAY, MAY 16, 1871.

THAT TREATY THEFT.—There is a large amount of cheap talk over the fact of the premature publication of the Washington treaty of the Joint High Commission. An investigation seems to us very much like locking the stable door after the escaped horse. The daily meetings of a committee appointed for the purpose of obtaining information and collecting evidence in relation to an affair which is of the least possible consequence seems rather farcical. Their report must necessarily embody the fact of their having got completely euchred, somehow or other. The knowledge of the matter seems to be narrowed down to two individuals, White and Ramsdell of the Tribune. These have testified before the committee that they did not procure it either from a Senator or any officer or employee of the Senate. They, however, declining to answer questions as to the name of the person from whom it was obtained, and whether they paid for it, were arraigned before the bar of the Senate, on Tuesday, for contempt.

And suppose they are found guilty, what of it? The Senate should dismiss the case with perhaps a reprimand, and at once proceed to the business for which it has been convened. It was unwise to attempt to withhold the contents of the treaty from public knowledge, inasmuch as the people are the interested parties, and the Senate in our opinion should not act upon the reports of the Commission or any of its points, until it is advised in relation to the opinions of those whom it is to effect. The press being the medium through which the voice of the people is proclaimed, it would seem as though no great harm was done in transmitting the document in question, as it facilitated the thorough discussion of it prior to the Senate's action upon it.

SOME of the democratic papers accuse the republican press of unfairness and injustice towards the democratic party, in constantly asserting that a copperhead victory means the overthrow of the 14th and 15th amendments to the Constitution and the disfranchisement of the colored people in the South; the complainers saying that nothing of the kind could occur, and that the issues on which the republicans are harping are "dead," and ought to be buried. That these issues should be dead is admitted, and that but for the constant efforts of the democrats to galvanize them into life they would long ago have been decently interred; but the republican party cannot impart wisdom to the democracy, and so long as the latter persist in fighting the political battle on the platform of State sovereignty and a white man's party, they have no right to complain if their opponents assert that the "dead issues of the war" are the "living issues" of the present day. The moment that the democratic party accepts the results of the war as finalities — negro suffrage and civil equality among them—that moment the republican party must make a great advance or run the risk of a defeat; the republicans are powerless to keep the war issues alive for a single day after the democrats decide to let them die. But the democratic press of the South and a large part of the coppery sheets at the North, spend a great deal of energy in denouncing the amendments as unconstitutional and revolutionary,—and thus of course void; and the republicans have a right to assume that the first act of the "constitutional" democracy, if they should again secure control of the national government, would be to declare the amendments void and remand the laborers of the South to a serfdom nearly as bad as the slavery from which they were freed by the democratic attempt to destroy the Union.

THE government Press of Canada give an equivocal support to the Treaty of Washington, while the opposition papers are very decided in their disapproval, holding that to grant the citizens of the United States the right to fish in Canadian waters may make it unnecessary for the American government to adopt a policy of reciprocity with Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, and the journals that represent the French population of Ontario are in favor of rejecting all parts of the treaty affecting Canada. The Toronto Globe says: Apparent separation in any matter of policy between the Dominion and the Mother country should, if possible, be avoided, but these questions must be looked at from the Canadian as well as the imperial point of view, not selfishly nor ungenerously, but with strict regard to the present and future interest of our own people.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

On Saturday a son of P. W. Rowell of London, aged four years, fell into a tub of boiling water, and was so badly scalded that no hopes are entertained of his recovery.

On the 5th, in Walpole, Mrs. Ellen J., wife of James Nash, was sick with a fever and Mr. N., having been broken of his rest for several nights, went to sleep at his wife's request. He awoke about eleven o'clock and found that Mrs. N. was not in bed. On summoning the neighbors she was found dead in a brook that ran near the house, and was very high from the late rains. She was thirty-two years of age, and leaves several young children.

It rumored that George Nutter, the forger, was arrested on the arrival of the steamer Nestorian at Liverpool, and is now in custody on his way home.

David Heath, of Colebrook, is said to have a heifer, two years old, measuring seven feet and seven inches, and weighing 2300 pounds.

Mr. James Swallow of Nashua, who is eighty-eight years old, and was made a Mason sixty-four years ago last November, aspires to the title of the oldest member of the Order in this State.

IN the U. S. Senate on Monday that body refused to take up the resolution heretofore offered, providing for reporting in confidence of the debate of the treaty of Washington by the official reporters of the Senate, said report to be subject to future disposition by that body. One of its objections against the resolution was that the debate would be thereby prolonged, as Senators might desire in some future time to see their speeches in print, and thought it best to complete action on the treaty as soon as practicable.

On motion of Mr. Vickers, it was resolved that the committee on judiciary be requested to examine and report whether the members of the senate are entitled to mileage at the present special session.

The Senate, Tuesday, ordered its doors to be closed. Mr. Carpenter made a statement that certain witnesses summoned before his investigating committee had refused to answer certain question propounded to them, and he wanted authority to compel them to do so or be brought before the bar of the Senate for contempt. Much earnestness was displayed by several Senators on this question, and the debate continued until a late hour.

EXECUTION OF A MURDERER.—A man named James Jamison alias McBeath, was hung by a mob at Helina, Nebraska, for the murder of Henry Locke. He confessed the crime, but objected to being hanged because he was unprepared to die. The crowd not feeling in a mood for commuting his punishment, strung him up, but the rope broke, and it is stated that he coolly smoked his pipe while they were repairing it for a second trial! He must have been a great smoker.

FRANCE.—The bombardment of Paris continues and the troops advance slowly. The column of Vendome was to have been destroyed yesterday with great ceremony. The women of Paris have made another demonstration in front of the Hotel de Ville.

HON. Horace Greeley is making a tour through the South, and will probably tell them "what he knows about farming" and other matters, ere he returns.

THE SLIPPER MANIA.—The spring and summer of 1871 will, doubtless, exceed all past experience in the prominence which may be attained with a rush by one line of goods. Modified croquets and Marie Antoinettes, made as showy as possible, with bows, slides and fancy stitching, are the favorites, selling largely in the Southern market, quite actively in the Western, and in fair demand at home. Every firm in the business has something new to exhibit and the retailers are stocking up all over the country.

A very nice pair of "Eugenie," "Empress," or "Cinderilla" slippers will cost a lady $3.50, which, with necessary hose, at from $5 to $9 per dozen makes the cost of dressing the feet greater than when the Polish boot reigned supreme; yet the popularity of slippers is somewhat due to an idea prevailing of their cheapness. From $3.50 prices go up to $16. The latter price is for a handsomely inlaid specimen of hand work made to order for stage use, and also in high favor in some other quarters.

When the mania has somewhat abated, it would not be surprising if the old buskin of twenty years ago came into fashion.

Colors are not preferred this season for ladies—not for the street—misses and children will wear pearl and buff. One firm in Boston is manufacturing 2500 pairs daily.

Every shoemaker in New England who can make a ladies' slipper, has at present all he can do.—Shoe and Leather Record.

—Butter may be kept sweet for a long time by placing in the kettle a few slices of fresh onion.

—Onions are a healthy diet for dyspeptics.

—Sago puddings are healthy and may be eaten with cream.

—A diet exclusively of bread and milk will cure chronic diarrhœa.

—She is in Tennessee now, a Revolutionary pensioner, 160 years old, and has taken the name of Dinah Vick.

—There is a married girl in Danville, Ill. whose age is twelve years and six months. The husband is forty.

—Beef tea, essence of beef, soups, etc., are more difficult to digest by a weak stomach than solid food.

—Piles may be cured by taking half a teaspoonful of sulphur and a teaspoonful of molasses on retiring.

—An ointment made of lard and fresh worm-wood leaves will cure chapped hands.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

YOUNG ladies beware of the injurious effects of Cathartics and Purgatives containing Mercury, Calomel, and other deleterious drugs. In a short time they enervate and destroy the system as well as the complexion. If you would have a fresh, healthy and youthful appearance, use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA and HELMBOLD'S CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS. They are purely vegetable; a pleasant purgative, and cause neither nausea or griping pains.

WILL open in a few days, Terhune's New York Hat, Cap, Fur, and Gents' Furnishing Goods Store, 37 Congress Street, (Franklin House!) The handsomest and cheapest assortment of goods in the city. TTu&Sat

THE WORLD is tender footed as a class. Whatever shall answer best for wet weather and dry, for sea and shore, is bound to be popular whether or no; and it would be a bootless attempt stemming the great popularity gained by the Cable Screw Wire Boots and Shoes in the six months just passed. They claim much, but the public has endorsed that claim.

The all-gone feeling which people sometimes speak of, is caused by want of proper action of the liver and heart. These may be assisted, and the bowels regulated, by Parson's Purgative Pills in small doses.

Address R. V. Pierce, M. D., 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y., and get a pamphlet on Catarrh free, or send sixty cents and get Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. $500 reward is offered by the proprietor for a case of Catarrh which he cannot cure. Sold by druggists. Cut this out, as you may never see it again.

Corn and flour are staple articles; but not more so than Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, where known. It is good for children or adults, for any internal soreness of the chest or bowels, and the best Pain Killer prepared, under whatever name.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Persecuted Organ.

The human stomach has been a shamefully persecuted organ. There was a time when for every dereliction of duty it was punished with huge doses of the most disgusting and nauseous drugs. In vain it rejected them, and literally returned them upon the hands of those who administered them. They were forced upon it again and again, until its solvent power was thoroughly drenched out of it.

The world is wiser now than it was in that drastic era, when furious purgation and mercurial salivation were what Artemus Ward would have called the "main bolt" of the faculty, in cases of dyspepsia and liver complaint.

The great modern remedy for indigestion and biliousness is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a preparation which has the merit of combining a palatable flavor with such tonic, aperient and anti-bilious properties, as were never heretofore united in any medicine.

It has been discovered, at last, that sick people are not like the fabled Titans, who found prostrated, they rose from the earth twice as vigorously as before. When an invalid is prostrated by powerful depleting drugs, he is apt to stay prostrated; and the debilitated being aware of the fact, prefer the building up to the knocking down system of treatment.

Hostetter's Bitters meets the requirements of the rational medical philosophy which at the present prevails. It is a perfectly pure vegetable remedy, embracing the three important properties of a preventive, a tonic, and an alterative. It fortifies the body against disease, invigorates and revitalizes the torpid stomach and liver, and effects a most salutary change in the entire system, when in a morbid condition.

In this country where the enfeebling temperature renders the human organization particularly susceptible to unwholesome atmospheric influences, the Bitters should be taken as a protection against epidemic disease.

Grand Concert—Henry C. Barnabee.

THE weather was cold enough last Monday night to form ice at the West end of the city, and frost was seen on hill and in dale.

AUCTIONEER Wendell will sell to-day a large assortment of good Furniture, and the House No. 45 Daniel Street, on the premises. See advertisement.

AMONG the general improvements of the building on the corner of Market Square, will be the covering of the exterior with plastic material, an imitation of freestone.

WE are informed that there was a great discrepancy in the weight of the cargo of pig-iron, which was recently discharged at this port, from the brig "Hannah G.," and that the matter is being investigated.

NAVAL Lieut. Commander Geo. E. Wingate of this city, has been detached from the Ajax at Washington and granted sick leave.

U. S. steamer Ticonderoga is daily expected at this yard for coal.

Chaplain Frank B. Rose, U. S. N. has been ordered to report for duty at this Naval Station.

A little lad of eight years named O'Donnell, whose parents reside at the West End in Brewery Lane, was run over on Monday by one of the heavy brewery teams, and had his thigh broken besides being badly injured about the head and face. The boy in attempting to climb upon the cart, caught his foot in some portion of it, and after struggling in vain to extricate himself, let go his hold and fell beneath the wheels. Fortunately the team was laden with empty barrels instead of full ones, or he would have been crushed to death. The driver knew nothing of the affair until his attention was called to it by the shouts of the boy's comrades.

MICHAEL FOLEY, a young man employed in the Kearsarge Mill, had his right hand drawn into the picker Monday afternoon and terribly lacerated, so that amputation of the thumb and three fingers was necessary. The operation was performed by Dr. Whittier, at his office, and occupied about two and a half hours. Foley himself had fortitude enough to throw off the belt and stop the picker, but the shock to his system was so great that he was obliged to lie down and sleep before the surgeon would go to work on his hand, and he is far from certain of saving the remnant of it even now, the palm being shockingly torn and mangled. Over forty stitches were taken by the surgeons.

EDITORS are human, as a rule. They love good substantial food and drink, and improve all honorable means to obtain the same. Being thus human, they have desires and impulses corresponding with those of the whole Adamic family. Possessing these feelings, they, in common with some of the rest of us, get led astray sometimes. Not from the path of virtue. O no. But from the place of their birth, perchance, or from their business, families, or friends. These thoughts are suggested to us by the sudden departure of the editors and proprietors of the CHRONICLE; the former, baited by the tempting luxury of a ride in a Pullman car, having joined the Directors' Excursion to Bangor, and the latter, joining that better portion of himself — which he promised to "love, cherish and obey,"—having meekly fled to Gotham. And we may here express the hope that their respective trips may be as pleasant and as enjoyable to them, as the fact of their absence is to those whom they have condescendingly left in charge.

We are pleased to remark, in this connection, that, unlike the editors of the New York Tribune,—who it is reported, recently locked up their office and hung out a bulletin advertising themselves as having gone on a spree—unlike those illustrious journalists, our editorial corps have started in (as the saying is) for a sober and rational kind of a time. One, at every mental recurrence of which in after life, will cause emotions of pleasure to spring up within them, thus proving an oasis in the memory of their journey across the desert of life. And let us hope that they may return to their respective posts invigorated and cause the CHRONICLE to feel the humanity with which we have credited them, by giving its readers a full and vivid description of their journey, and the incidents connected therewith.

ALL base ball players who are interested in organizing a Club, are requested to meet at Union Hall, this (Wednesday) evening at 7 1-2 o'clock.

THE Marine Band gave an open air concert, last evening, at Haymarket Square. The excellent music, and the beautiful evening secured the attendance of a large audience.

MR. Oliver H. Philbrook, of Rye, recently became the possessor of a wonderful chicken, with four legs. It was brought to this city for exhibition, but being too young to leave the maternal wing, it met with an untimely end.

THE recent high winds together with the dusty condition of our streets will probably prove the truth of the old adage that "tis an ill wind that blows no one any good," by bringing out the street sprinklers. Contributions are being solicited by some of our enterprising citizens, and thus far they have received liberal responses.

THE fishing schooner Celia was successfully drawn up on the new marine railway at the ship-yard of John Neal, Esq., Kittery Foreside, on Tuesday, being the first to occupy this new arrangement for examining vessels. It is said that Messrs. Neal & Co. proprietors of the railway enterprise, intend soon to have steam power applied to the crab which is now moved by horse power.

THE concert by Mr. Barnabee, advertised for Thursday evening, May 18th, will be one of the best he has ever given in this city. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Barry are well and favorably known here, and Mr. Fessenden has a fine reputation. These, with the inimitable Barnabee and Mr. Dow, one of the best pianists in Boston, will give the citizens of Portsmouth a rare and enjoyable evening's entertainment.

LAST Sunday afternoon as the City Marshall and Assistant Entwistle were looking after the police interests in the outskirts of the city, near the Powder House they observed a boy driving a horse attached to a buggy, furiously towards the city. The boy was taken into custody; and the team proved to be the property of Mr. Wm. Moses of Rye. Mr. Moses had ridden into the city to church, and hitched his horse in the street. The boy had borrowed the team as he stated, to take a little ride. After being forgiven by Mr. Moses, he was allowed to depart.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—U. S. vs. John Smith, indicted for distilling liquors without license. Verdict guilty. Deft. sentenced to imprisonment for six months and to pay a fine of $1000.

U. S. vs. Lorenzo H. French, for wholesaling liquors without sufficient license. Case taken from the jury.

U. S. vs. Sanborn & Stone, for Manufacturing lumber without a license so to do. The defendants were let off on their own recognizance, and the case referred to a full bench.

U. S. vs. Willard Colby, for keeping a Stallion without a license was fined $30.

A friend at our elbow who is not possessed of that amount of modesty which becometh an editor, suggests the following remarks:—We are aware that it is customary for the people, when new and able editors arrive, to shower upon them numerous and valuable presents. As a general thing we are opposed to this practice, on principle; but in the present case we are willing to yield a point, and if any of our numerous admirers feel inclined to send in fruits, oysters, boquets of choice flowers, bundles of greenbacks or anything else, they can carry out the wishes of their hearts without fear of being scathed by denunciatory articles from our facile pen.

THE sudden death of young Wilson which we chronicle in another column, is a sad blow to the parents of the deceased, as well as to a large circle of friends. He is said to have been a bright and promising young man of strict integrity, and possessed a moral character above reproach. He was in the employ of Messrs. Foster Shores & Co. and attended to his duties on Monday evening, as usual. On Tuesday morning, he complained of feeling unwell and sent word to his employer to that effect. Growing worse his friends became alarmed at his symptoms and summoned a physician, but it was of no avail, as he lived only an hour. The difficulty is said to have been rheumatism of the heart.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

THE Directors' Excursion train of seven cars arrived in this city about twenty minutes of eleven, and left here shortly after, having on board many distinguished railroad men, besides members of the press from New York, Boston and elsewhere, together with invited friends of the Directors. Among those who joined the excursion at this station may be mentioned Ex-Gov. Goodwin, President of the P. S. & P. R. R., Hon. Frank Jones, Capt. Fairfax, Executive Officer at the Navy Yard, Messrs. Marston and Miller of the CHRONICLE, and many others. The engine "Kearsarge" drew the train as far as Portsmouth, where it was relieved by the "Fessenden" which will probably take the excursionists through to Bangor. Supt. Prescott was on board the train, which fact is a sufficient guarantee of a successful trip. The Pullman cars, four in number, were magnificent. Our space forbids a description of them at this time. A friend at our elbow thinks it singular that some of our wide-awake citizens should adopt sleeping cars for an excursion.

The Pullman excursion train from Boston over the Eastern, Portland, Saco and Portsmouth railroads, reached Portland at 12:25, seventy minutes behind the published time. The delay was occasioned by overheated axles and other consequent disarrangements.

POLICE COURT, May 16th,— Wm. Hurley was fined $8,76 for an assault upon his wife. This is the second time within a week that this Hurley has been arraigned for the same offence. The evidence disclosed the most brutal treatment of the poor woman, and it would seem that the severest penalty of the law should have been inflicted.

The case of Robert Shillaber and Mr. Larkin against Mr. Kelliher, who after several attempts, recovered his cows from custody of the above named gentlemen, who were driving them to the Pound for being found on the Railroad track on Sunday, was dismissed. The evidence showed that the fence which separated Mr. Kelliher's land from the railroad was down. Other indictments of similar cases were postponed to the 29th of May, for the decision of the Judge on some questions which would more clearly define the action of Mr. Shillaber in such circumstances.

—A little son of Wm. Thompson in Worcester had one of the fingers of the left hand cut off by a hay cutter. He was taken to a physician, who found the bone sticking out so much beyond the flesh as to require the cutting off of a small piece more. —Illinois has strange ways, even of committing suicide. In Warrensburg, recently, Mrs. Alice Day discovered her husband had another wife, and shot herself dead. The husband, who was in prison for bigamy at the time, when he heard of the self-murder of one of his consorts, was so overcome by sorrow and remorse that, having nothing else within reach, he swallowed a box of hooks and eyes, a bottle of hair dye, a brass breastpin, several pieces of glass, six vest buttons and a small penknife. These miscellaneous articles did not prove fatal; but at last accounts Day complained of indigestion.

A Curious lawsuit is pending in Detroit, to determine the right of property in a finger which was once a part of Mr. Chas. Marshall, the plaintiff, but is now in the possession of the defendant, a gentleman of the same city. A circular saw took off the finger some time ago, and as it could not be replaced, Marshall did not take the trouble to find it. The defendant did find it, and, taking it home, put it in a jar of spirits for preservation. He is fond of miscellaneous curiosities, and means to make this a nucleus of a private museum. The lawyers say that the question of title is entirely new, and that there is much to be urged on each side.

Renovating old Fields.—Where farmers lack a supply of dressing, they can greatly improve their run-out fields by adopting the following method. In the fall take your most run-out fields and turn it over nicely about eight inches deep. The following spring, as soon as it gets warm and dry enough to work, give it a thorough harrowing, the more the better. Next sow on three bushels of oats to the acre, then give it a good harrowing, then sow on a liberal quantity of clover and herdsgrass, and then give it a good rolling and your work is done, unless you choose to spread on plaster or ashes, which will greatly benefit both oats and grass.

Mow it two or three years after, then turn it over again. Be sure and not mow it more than three years. When you turn it over the second time you will find a fine, rich, mellow soil, caused by the rotting of the turf, then you can either plant it or go through the same process of sowing and seeding down to grass. Thus one will be enabled greatly to improve his farm, with but a small outlay.

Consumption,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck, in his own case has proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To this faith of which he made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functional yet disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Pedophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Digestion is now progressing, without its previous torture. Digestion becomes healthy, and for the first time seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier that ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It secretes and ripens the long imperiled and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and yet in a manner and time the malady is vanquished, the rotten tissue that it occupied is renovated and made pure, and Health, in all its dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was"

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

To despair of cure shows a want of faith and humility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is wrong. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these memorable words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowned man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my night fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was then, and I am yet, after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them. First, create appetite. Or returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the deficiency at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these mortal symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a specific bacteric against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE METHODIST, of New York, has for 36 years been edited with marked ability by Rev. Dr. Crooks. Its publishers have just added to its editorial corps, Rev. Abel Stevens, an equally experienced journalist, and author of the best History of Methodism extant. They have also engaged contributions and sermons from Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, whose success and popularity as a preacher, writer and lecturer, are almost unexampled, and whose free Tabernacle in Brooklyn, with its congregation of over 3,000 people, is one of the marvels of the age. Rev. Henry Ward Beecher has a Lecture Room Talk every week.

The Methodist abounds in good things, is never dull or dry, has stories, poetry, hints for farmers, and something for everybody. Mrs. Willing's great serial story is almost ready. TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.

Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient.

And for this reason: It is an exact counterpart of one of the most valuable natural medicines in the world. We refer to the great Seltzer Spring of Germany, to which thousands of the dyspeptic of the Fatherland, rheumatic, and the victims of venal diseases resort annually, and return to their homes convalescent or cured. The aperient is one of the first, and by far the most successful of all the efforts made to reproduce, in a portable form, the popular mineral waters of Europe. Seek that you purchase only the genuine article.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with the Patent Office, of which I am intimately conversant. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, passessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfb16

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINTS, in the City. Also Dealer in GROCERIES AND PROVISIONS, No. 16 & 18 Cabot Street, The cheapest place to buy Meats and Groceries in the city. mh7

AN EVENT EXTRAORDINARY.—At 8 o'clock yesterday morning a carriage was driven to the Tribune office. A coachman and a russet leather trunk lettered "H. G." sat upon the box. As soon as the carriage stopped it was seen by old Mr. Jenny of the Tribune editorial staff. Old Mr. Jenny was of course crazy until he had heard who the carriage was for. A small boy told him it was for Mr. Greeley, whereupon old Mr. Jenny dashed up the stairs leading to Mr. Greeley's room, and breathlessly informed him of the fact that the carriage was waiting. Mr. Greeley stopped writing, drew his spectacles from his nose, put a wide-brimmed hat on his head back side foremost, slipped his arms into a brown spring overcoat, leaving the collar turned under, seized a small leather bag, and sloped for the counting-room.

"Tell Sam," said he to old Mr. Jenny, "not to take any lottery advertisements while I'm gone, and to watch the quack ads. I'm going to Texas."

The last words reached old Mr. Jenny's ears as Mr. Greeley struck the sidewalk. On approaching the carriage, Mr. Greeley stopped as if he had forgotten something. Old Mr. Jenny saw him. He rushed to his side.

"And tell Whitelaw," said Mr. Greeley' while his eyes beamed on old Mr. Jenny, "that he had better watch Hassard's letters from Boston, for he is a Catholic, and he might say something that our country readers wouldn't like. For I'm going to Texas. And tell Whitelaw," continued Mr. Greeley, as old Mr. Jenny was about to rush into the office, "that I want him to watch the papers and print the official election returns from Alaska, because our people expect to see them. Tell him to put them in nonpareil half-measure, like the election returns from Connecticut. For I'm going to Texas. And, Ephraim, tell Whitelaw," continued Mr. Greeley, as old Mr. Jenny made another attempt to dash into the office, "not to print any more —— stuff about abducted girls or panel houses. Our people have got enough of that sort of thing. For I'm going to Texas."

Here old Mr. Jenny succeeded in getting into his carriage. Old Cleve, his brother-in-law, took a seat at his side. Two friends of the Poor Boy of the Mohawk occupied the seat opposite.

The carriage was rapidly driven to the New-Jersey Railroad depot, at the foot of Cortland street. The four passengers, the russet leather trunk, the wide trimmed hat, and Mr. Greely were safely deposited in the ticket office. Old Cleve paid the driver. Mr. Greely started vacantly for a moment at the ticket agent. Suddenly collecting himself, he felt in four pocket consecutively, and then seemed to again lose himself in thought. After a mental rally, he fished up a through ticket on the Pan Handle line for Cincinnati, and approached Dick Shields, the baggage clerk.

"I want that check trunked to—to—to Cincinnati," said Mr. Greeley, hesitatingly, "for I'm going to Texas."

The friends of the Poor Boy of the Mohawk here bid the philosopher goodby and Old Cleve and Mr. Greely went on board the ferry-boat Jersey City.

The broad-trimmed hat and the russet leather trunk sailed in the same vessel. At the Jersy City depot there was a brief delay; but promptly at half past eight o'clock, Mr. Greely, who was going to Texas, got into Conductor Gus Gardner's train and was whirled away. He will arrive in New-Orleans on Sunday, and will dine with the representatives of the press. On Tuesday he will go to Galveston and thence to several smaller towns, arriving in Houston about the 23d, where he will deliver an address before the State Agricultural Society.

A GOOD ONE.—There are a good many railroad stories told, many of which are quite amusing, but none more so than the following:

A stranger got into the cars of a N. Y. C. R. R. train at Albany. When the train arrived at West Albany he hailed the conductor, and in a stuttering voice inquired; "Is th—th—this Pal—Pala—Palatine?" "No," replied the gentlemanly conductor, "I'll inform you when we arrive there." At Schenectady the stranger made the same inquiry, and received a like answer. At Amsterdam and Fonda he repeated his inquiry, much to the discomfort of mind of the conductor, who thought the man ought to remember that he would be informed of the fact when he did arrive at that station which the stranger was so anxious to reach. At last the train again stopped, and the conductor desirous to accommodate the stuttering passenger, took pains to find him, and inform him that "This is Palatine, sir,"—to which the stranger stutteringly replied; "Th—tha—thank you, sir. The doc—doc—doctor to—to—told me to ta—ta—take a pi—pi—pill when I got he—he—here." And he did so. The passengers (who had rode during the trip and had observed the stranger's anxiety) broke out in a roar of laughter and the conductor (through somewhat "put out") "slid out on his ear."

The Grape-Juice Pill is composed of fluid extract Catawba grape-juice and FLUID EXTRACT RHUBARB. Useful in all diseases requiring a cathartic remedy, and far superior to all other purgatives, such as salts, magnesia, &c. SAFE FOR AND TAKEN BY CHILDREN; NO NAUSEA; NO GRIPING PAINS; BUT MILD, PLEASANT, AND SAFE IN OPERATION.

Two bottles of the Fluid Extract of Sarsaparilla and one bottle of the Grape-Juice Pills are worth their weight in gold to those suffering from bad blood, poor complexion, headache, nervousness, wakefulness at night, costiveness and irregularities, and to those suffering from broken and delicate constitutions it will give new blood, new vigor and new life.

The Catawba Grape Pills are done up with great care and in handsome bottles, and will surpass all those vended in wooden boxes and carelessly prepared by inexperienced men, comparing with the French and English style of manufacturing.

THURSDAY, MAY 17, 1871.

NEW YORK MORALS.—We are not of that class who think the world is growing worse from day to day, yet we are decidedly of the opinion that the morals of the city of New York are not only daily becoming more and more corrupt, but that they are rapidly approaching a condition which will be unendurable, and compared to which the ancient cities of the East, of fire and brimstone repute, appear in unsullied purity. Of Gotham, we one day read of a brutal and unprovoked murder in a street car, the next day of an assault upon an unprotected lady, and an attempt to take the life of one who undertook to defend her person; and still another case of murder wherein a brute appears who has thrown his wife out of a three-story window to the pavement below. New York can also vie with any other city in the world in the production of a class of roughs who sally forth on special occasions, appropriating steamboats and railroad cars to their control, knock down conductors and managers, rob passengers, whether male, female or children,—and after gratifying their notions in one way and another leave for some other field of operation, in defiance of the laws of the state, or the laws of decency.

These facts render a person's chances of life in that locality, of considerable uncertainty, should his business compel him to go the rounds of the city, and likewise cause reflecting minds to inquire where and how will these daily outrages be stopped? Certainly no moral suasion will affect such characters as those to which we have alluded. The law alone it would appear must be relied upon, and yet, when we remember in how many instances the statutes are of no avail, on account of corrupt policemen, attorneys and judges standing in the way, of the conviction of criminals, it seems idle to think of appealing to such a tribunal. Nothing short of a vigilance organization, such as California once boasted of, would answer to meet the requirements of the present exigency, and effectually intimidate these bullies and roughs. Let one hundred respectable citizens associate themselves together with a determination of stopping these acts of violence, and, seizing two or three of the offenders, make an example of them, the remainder, true to their cowardly instincts, would quickly take the hint and govern themselves accordingly. We admit that such a proceeding might be regarded as a retrograde movement in the science of moral reform, or in the light of legal jurisprudence; but we think it would have a salutary effect in checking the tide of evil which threatens to engulph the city.

IN the U. S. Senate, on Tuesday, in accordance with the terms of the resolutions adopted, warrants were issued for the arrest of Messrs. White and Ramsdell by the sergeant-at-arms, to be severally brought to the bar of the Senate.

A resolution was agreed to, requesting the President, if not inconsistent with the public interest, to communicate to the Senate copies of all correspondence in the State department in relation to the ship Hudson and schooner Washington, the property of citizens of Connecticut, seized by British authorities in the Falkland Islands in 1854, and also report of Lieutenant Lynch or other naval officers, on file in the Navy department, on the same subject.

Senator Ferry of Connecticut and Senator Logan of Illinois took their seats for the first time this session. Senators Brownlow of Tennessee, Johnson of Virginia and Kellogg of Louisiana are absent from the city.

The Senate opened its doors on Wednesday having decided to conduct the examination of the Tribune correspondents in open session.

The Sergeant-at-Arms appeared at the bar with the prisoners, in compliance with the Senate resolutions directing this to be done.

THE office of Messrs. Shaw & Bradley, agents for Adams express at Columbus, Ohio, was broken into by burglars at two o'clock Wednesday morning. Messrs. Shaw & Bradley, who were asleep on the premises, were chloroformed by the burglars, who broke open the safe and decamped with $60,000. No clue has yet been found to the whereabouts of the robbers.

Ruloff, the murderer, will be hung at Binghampton, N. Y., at noon to-day. The execution will take place in the yard of the jail.

IT will be doubtless be interesting to coal consumers to learn that the miners' strike in Pennsylvania is practically at an end, and that within a day or two all hands, with the exception of those in one district, will resume work. The long suspension of labor at the mines, must effect the price of coal during the coming season, although some of those who ought to know assert the contrary, giving as a reason that there was a large surplus of the article mined at the commencement of the recent strike, sufficient to fill the gap.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

YOUNG ladies beware of the injurious effects of Cathartics and Purgatives containing Mercury, Calomel, and other deleterious drugs. In a short time they emcrvate and destroy the system as well as the complexion. If you would have a fresh, healthy and youthful appearance, use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA and HELMBOLD'S CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS. They are purely vegetable; a pleasant purgative, and cause neither nausea or griping pains.

THE WORLD is tender footed as a class. Whatever shall answer best for wet weather and dry, for sea and shore, is bound to be popular whether or no; and it would be a bootless attempt stemming the great popularity gained by the Cable Screw Wire Boots and Shoes in the six months just passed. They claim much, but the public has endorsed that claim.

The all-gone feeling which people sometimes speak of, is caused by want of proper action of the liver and heart. These may be assisted, and the bowels regulated, by Parson's Purgative Pills in small doses.

Address R. V. Pierce, M. D., 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Cut this out, as you may never see it again.

Corn and flour are staple articles; but not more so than Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, where known. It is good for children or adults, for any internal soreness of the chest or bowels, and the best Pain Killer prepared, under whatever name.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Persecuted Organ.

The human stomach has been ashamefully persecuted organ. There was a time when for every dereliction of duty it was punished with huge doses of the most disgusting and nauseous drugs. In vain it rejected them, and literally returned them upon the hands of those who administered them. They were forced upon it again and again, until its solvent power was thoroughly drenched out of it.

The world is wiser now than it was in that drastic era, when furious purgation and mercurial salivation were what Artemus Ward would have called the "main holt" of the faculty, in cases of dyspepsia and liver complaint.

The great modern remedy for indigestion and biliousness is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a preparation which has the merit of combining a palatable flavor with such tonic, aperient and anti-bilious properties, as were never heretofore united in any medicine.

It has been discovered, at last, that sick people are not like the fabled Titans, who found prostration so refreshing that, when knocked down, they rose from the earth twice as vigorously as before. When an invalid is prostrated by powerful depleting drugs, he is apt to stay prostrated; and the debilitated being aware of the fact, prefer the building up to the knocking down system of treatment.

Hostetter's Bitters meets the requirements of the rational medical philosophy which at present prevails. It is a perfectly pure vegetable remedy, embracing the three important properties of a preventive, a tonic, and an alterative. It fortifies the body against disease, invigorates and revitalizes the torpid stomach and liver, and effects a most salutary change in the entire system, when in a morbid condition.

In this country where the enfeebling temperature and derangeing human organization particularly susceptible to unwholesome atmospheric influences, the Bitters should be taken as a protection against epidemic disease.

ANOTHER WIFE MURDERED.—William Rand, a porter in the dry goods house of E. M. Taylor of Franklin street, New York city, quarreled with his wife on Tuesday at his residence, 102 Reade steet, and threw her out of the third story window. He then attempted to escape, but was arrested at the door, and taken to the Chambers street police station. He asserted that the women had fallen out of the window. Subsequently he retracted this assertion, but confessed that he and his wife had long lived on bad terms. The murder was discovered by the neighbors, who heard the woman's cry as she fell. When they reached the tenement house in which the tragedy occurred they found the door locked, but in a short time the murderer came to the door and tried to escape. The woman died at 11.45.

THE first of the new bonds were delivered to the registrar of the Treasury yesterday, and subscribers are being supplied in the order of their names upon the list. The first bond for one thousand dollars was issued to Senator Sherman, his name heading the subscription list. The printing bureau at the Treasury thus far has completed about two million of dollars' worth of bonds of the denomination of one thousand, and nearly six million dollars' worth of registered bonds of the denomination of ten thousand. The work of completing the bonds and forwarding them to subscribers will be pushed forward rapidly, and it is thought by the middle of next week all the subscribers will be supplied. The bonds of the smaller denominations will be ready to-morrow or next day.

THE silly farce of discussing the question of committing to prison two newspaper reporters who were the agents in giving the Washington treaty to the public, is being enacted by the United States Senate. It looks particularly bad to see such a body so employed in a free government like ours, when in monarchical Great Britain the treaty is being openly discussed, and the British people are indulged in the opportunity of pronouncing their opinion on its provisions.

THE President will soon, at the request of General Sherman, direct the issuance of a general order from the War Department for the guidance of officers who may be called on to use the forces under their command to enforce the provisions or penalties of the Ku-Klux bill.

BASE BALL. — The Haymakers of Troy defeated the celebrated Boston club on Tuesday, by a score of 29 to 14. Alas! what a pity.

A London dispatch says Miss Burdett Coutts has been raised to the peerage, with the title of Baroness Coutts.

UP to 2 P. M. Wednesday, only nine jurors had been obtained in the Foster murder trial.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

New Advertisements to-day.

Suburban Residence at Auction.

THERE are certain individuals in this city who have the presumption to call themselves men, yet nightly stalk out from their homes and station themselves in doorways and recesses on the public streets for the purpose of watching females, and if a favorable opportunity offers, especially should the lady be unprotected—step along by her side, making some indecent remark, that is, if their cowardice should permit them. There is no term in the English vocabulary that will properly qualify these bipeds. The best adjective to apply that we know of, is that which comes straight out from the shoulder with a three hundred pound force and takes up its lodging in one of the eyes, no matter which.

But while it detracts nothing from the despicable meanness of the habit mentioned above, there is another class of the opposite gender that are equally culpable, and to a great degree responsible for the presence of the cowards alluded to. These silly females may be seen any evening pacing Congress Street up and down, smirking and exchanging glances with the doorway blockaders for the purpose of listening to the obscene remarks and rude jests of the latter. Hence, the stupid door loafer, not having brains enough to discriminate between the habitual street-walker and the lady who has ventured out for an evening walk, bodly insults the latter, and renders our principal thoroughfares unsafe for a lady to walk in unprotected.

We cannot tell how it might be with us in case some female in whom we might be interested should get insulted by the nuisances aforementioned, but it seems, viewing the matter from our stand point (as ministers say) that there might be some one who would require careful nursing for a few weeks. It might be otherwise, though; we won't boast, till the show is over.

WHILE the Grand Jury of the U. S. Circuit Court, now in session in this city, were enjoying a temporary leave of absence, some of them proposed visiting the Navy Yard, never having witnessed such an institution, probably. Accordingly they took passage on the little steamer Emerald which hourly plies to and fro across the river, and one of their number wishing to enjoy the luxury of a smoke, asked the pilot if it was allowed. He replied, "yes, if you will go forward, up in the eyes of her." The smoker started aft to find the aforesaid eyes when he was informed by one of the boatmen of their exact locality. When passing the fire-room he looked in to see the machinery of the boat and while gazing intently at this mechanical department some wag in the pilot house comprehending the situation, thundered through the speaking tube which communicates with the engine room, "how many pounds of steam does she indicate?" "Only thirty," was the reply. "Put in a keg or two of that powder, and see if you can get some speed on her" came the order. It is unnecessary to add that our friend immediately lifted himself out of that engine room and made for the "the eyes of her" in double quick time. He couldn't be persuaded to go back on that boat although his comrades tried to ridicule the idea of employing powder as a means of suggesting rapid locomotion. It was of no use. You couldn't fool him!

ARRANGEMENTS for the proper observance of Memorial day are being perfected. Rev. C. M. Dinsmore is to deliver the oration and a double quartette will furnish the music. The annual occurrence of these occasions when the loyal people of this country unite in paying graceful tribute to the memory of their departed heroes, should, in our judgement, be observed by a suspension of all business, and we trust that in this city the public schools will be dismissed, and the stores closed, for at least, half of the day.

A fine specimen of a row-boat can be seen at the boat shop of Robert G. Green on Ladd's wharf. It was built for A. D. Whitehouse Esq., cashier of the First National Bank in Gonic. It is tastefully finished and connoisseurs will take pleasure in seeing this beautiful model.

REV. Mr. Pottle of Kittery will preach in the Methodist Chapel on Daniel Street on Friday evening. The Society in this city is enjoying a religious interest. All are invited.

THE delay in the repair of the Stone crusher, is caused by the time required to prepare the mould for the casting, which weighs 4500 pounds. The breakage was caused by defect in the iron, it being chilled too soon.

THE Pullman Palace Car excursion train reached Bangor about nine o'clock Tuesday evening. The intention had been to spend an hour in Augusta and reach Bangor about six, but the train was delayed by heated journals, so that some parts of the programme had to be omitted. The three presidents of the lines forming the through route were present, as well as most of the directors of all the companies. One of the parlor cars was left at Augusta on account of injuries caused by the heating of journals. Both the cars of this class were new, having been built by the Taunton Car Company.

Dinner was served in the dining-cars, and speeches by several gentlemen followed. Ex-Governor Goodwin, President of the Portland, Saco and Portsmouth Railroad Co., presided. This was not only the first through train to Bangor for Boston, but it was the first Pullman train ever run over these roads, and naturally excited a great deal of curiosity among the people along the line. It is the intention to put the night train on the roads between Bangor and Boston next Monday, the 20th. Parlor cars will be run through on day trains. Wednesday the party made an excursion over the European and North American Railway to Mattawamkeag, the present terminus.

WE are informed that the work on the Chapel, which is being built at Kittery Foreside under the auspices of the Universalists, is being rapidly pushed forward so that the house will be dedicated about the first of July. Those who have interested themselves in this movement deserve much credit for the persistency which they have manifested in endeavoring to overcome all obstacles, and have a house creditable to themselves and the town.

BUSINESS is unusually active at Railroad Wharf and vicinity in the discharging of coal and loading it on board of cars for Manchester, Boston and elsewhere. It really looks like old times to see vessels lying two or three deep at the wharves waiting their turn to unload. And yet there is room for more.

THE Street Sprinkler commenced operations Wednesday. Only those on the north side of Congress Street have contributed towards it, and as watering one half of the street is of no advantage, they will have to double their contributions or dispense with its benefits.

AN article in our Wednesday morning's issue, calling attention to the concert to be given by Mr. Barnabee, inadvertently stated it would be on the evening of Thursday, May 18th. It should have been May 25th, as stated in the advertisement.

LOBSTERS are very abundant. One man having caught no less than 350, on Tuesday evening.

Mackerel are also numerous with our fishmongers, and very large.

A "domestic adviser" in this city, lately left her mistress because she was not allowed to receive her company in the library.

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 2½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. f24d WaS

TRY IT!

How well we remember in days that are gone,
The feelings we felt as we saw the cork drawn—
The disgust—the recoil
From "Cod Liver Oil,"
Dealt out to poor souls in the days that are gone!
But who could complain
Of this to be ta'en?
It swallows as easy as sparkling Champagne—
Does "Marvins' Deodorized Oil."

E. A. JOY

Has Fitted up a Spacious and Elegant SEWING MACHINE ROOM directly over his Music Store and employs a competent young lady to take charge of the same. A cordial invitation is hereby extended to all the ladies (not having good Sewing Machines of their own) to bring in lots of work and learn to make it up on the Machines. This will cost nothing whether a Machine is purchased or not. MR. JOY'S business in the Sewing Machine line is very rapidly increasing, which enables him to make the above generous offer.

His long experience in this branch qualifies him to be an excellent judge of the goods he sells; and as he has had the Agency of all kinds offered him at different times it is reasonable to suppose that the Best SEWING MACHINES may always be had at the SEWING MACHINE EMPORIUM, No. 9 PLEASANT ST., nearly opposite the Post Office, Portsmouth, N. Morning Chronicle.

A BELLIGERENT QUAKER.— In Columbia county, Ohio, resides an old fellow renowned for his belligerent disposition, who is known as Friend Shavey. Born and bred a Quaker, he was long since read out of meeting on account of his quarelsome propensities; but he still pertinaciously clings to the plain clothes and plain language of his early days, possibly as a protection against the wrath he was continually provoking by his overbearing and irritating demeanor. He is always the owner of the crossest dog in the neighborhood, the most troublesome, breachy steers etc., and is continually in hot water with some of his neighbors in consequence of the depredations committed by his unruly stock.

A short time since, Van Amburg's menagerie, traveling through Columbia, was obliged to pass his residence. A little before daylight, Nash the keeper of the elephant, Tippo Saib, as he was passing over the road with his elephant, discovered this pseudo Quaker, seated upon a fence by the roadside, watching a bull which he had turned upon the road, and which was pawing and bellowing, and throwing up dust generally. In fact, from the fury of the animal's demonstrations, one would really have taken him for one of the identical breed that butted a locomotive off a bridge.

"Take that bull out of the way," shouted Nash, as he approached.

"Proceed with thy elephant," was the reply.

"If you don't take that bull out of the way he'll get hurt," continued Nash, approaching, while the bull redoubled his belligerent demonstrations.

"Don't trouble thyself about the bull, but proceed with thy elephant," retorted friend Savery, rubbing his hands with delight at the prospect of a scrimmage—the old fellow having great confidence in the invincibility of his bull, which was really the terror of the whole country around.

Tippo Saib came on with his uncouth, shambling gait; the bull lowered his head and made a charge directly at the elephant. Old Tippo, without even pausing in his march, gave his cow-catcher a sweep, catching the bull on the side, crushing in his ribs with his enormous tusks, and then raised him about thirty feet in the air, the bull striking upon his head as he came down, breaking his neck, and killing him instantly.

"I'm afraid your bull has bent his neck a little," shouted Nash, as he passed on.

"Bent the devil!" shouted old Shavey, with a troubled look at his defunct bull. "Thy elephant is too heavy for my beast, but thee will not make so much out of the operation as thee supposes. I was going to take my family to thy show but I will see thee and thy show blowed to blazes before I will go one step; and now thee may proceed with thy elephant and be ——— please,"— the "please" being added as Shavey took a second look at the proportions of the stalwart elephant keeper.

NOT A MAN.—A wag, happening to go into the shop of a tailor just as the latter was mending an old garment with new cloth, thus addressed the knight of the bodkin:—

"You are no man, and I can prove it by the highest authority."

"How so?" inquired the unsuspecting tailor, as he plied the needle with redoubled activity.

"I should like to hear the evidence of your assertion."

"You shall be accommodated, sir," says the wag, asking at the same time if he recollected of ever having read the passage in the New Testament which declares that no man putteth a piece of new cloth on an old garment.

—The Emperor of Germany is reported to be a practical printer. All the members of the royal family of Prussia are required to learn some trade, and William chose typography as the most desirable craft, and spent three years at the case.

—An enterprising ice-cream maker in Chicago, advertises: "Families supplied by the quart or gallon, and delivered in any part of the city." Those wishing large families will find this an excellent opportunity.

—First collier (loquitur)—"There bin a foire (explosion) at Jackson's pits." Second collier—"Moy feyther worked there." First collier—"Oy, and he's blowed a' to pieces." Second collier—Boy gum? whoy, he'd got moy pocket knoife wi' 'im!"

—It is stated that in vaccinating, Dr. Jenner continually renewed the matter from the cow, and was, moreover, cautious concerning the constitution and general health of the patient, often refusing to perform the operation, if any cutaneous eruption was noticed.

—A little boy had a great liking for the water. His mother told him not to go on the wharves or near the water, "For Freddy, if you should get drowned, we should never know whatever became of you." "Oh, yes, you would 'cause it would be in the papers."

—A Buffalo paper prints the following letter from one of its old and prompt-paying patrons: "Please discontinue my paper from the time that I have paid up to. I do not stop the paper because I do not want it, but to get rid of an intolerable old bore that intrudes himself in my house, regardless of time or circumstances, to sit for an hour or two, three or four times a week, to read my papers, and who is a thousand times more able to take a dozen of papers for himself than I am to take one. If the nuisance is stopped I shall send for the paper again."

Consumption,
By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the want of known and indisputably proved means of cure. These near and dear to family and friends are stepping the fearless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, would not have perished. Dr Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the great two agents with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbid action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophyllum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucoid deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It purifies from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, prepares and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more distress, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to a suffering child. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of pathenigs it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten tissue that occupied it is removed and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and every case is in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement of the facility of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed; attended by my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then I was a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and tried, the remedies which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of it in a yellow pottage every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "and on looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a valuable preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

THE METHODIST, of New York, has always been edited with marked ability by Rev. Dr. CROOKS. Its publishers have just added to its editorial corps, Rev. ABEL STEVENS, an equally experienced journalist, and author of the best History of Methodism extant. They have also engaged contributions and sermons from Rev. T. DEWITT TALMAGE, whose success and popularity as a preacher, writer and lecturer, are almost unexampled, and whose free Tabernacle in Brooklyn, with its congregation of over 3,000 people, is one of the marvels of the age. Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER has a Lecture Room Talk every week.

THE METHODIST abounds in good things, is never dull or dry, has articles for children, hints for farmers, and something for everybody. Mrs. Willing's great serial Story is almost ready. They offer for the price of one year's subscription ($2.50) to send THE METHODIST from now until July 1st, 1872. Specimen copies free. 114 Nassau Street, New York. m3

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS.
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,
Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.
They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.
FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.
FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn or womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.
They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?
—IF SO, USE THE—
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.
It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.
I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers who may season, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and who have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints. We have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.
I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

The Chronicle.

THE following essay is the production of a lad who aspires to become a newspaper writer. He evidently has talent, and we advise him to persevere and he will undoubtedly rival Mark Twain or—any other man:

The Turf.—The turf is quiet, but rising in the general estimation. The turf on the Rockingham Park is nice. I don't mean the Rockingham Bank where they make money, but the "Rockingham House," where they are going to make it.

It doesn't look well to see grass growing in the streets. I am told that the Board of Trade is favorably inclined to that method of raising it. I am not, I asked a man why the place where horses trot is called "the Turf." He said it was because of the color of grass and it must be so flat, too. I don't see any explanation in that.

It's wicked to trot horses, and to bet. Ask a minister if it isn't. I'll bet two to one he'll say it is.

Matching pennies is innocent amusement, and is profitable too, it learns little boys how to count.

A horse spavined himself once, racing on the hard ground. If it had been on turf, perhaps he wouldn't have done it. So Turf is a good thing. Her name was Lady Thorne. She lives in New York, and isn't well in consequence of it. I don't mean in consequence of New York, but on account of the sprain. It's wicked to trot a spavined horse, because a horse can't speak when he wants peppermint. Peppermint is a nice medicine. You must rub it on the outside hard. It is good for spring-halt. We use it at our house. Oysters won't grow on Turf. The Turf is destined to become a great benefit to the race.

THE COURTSHIP OF THE SEALS.—As soon as a female reaches the shore, the nearest male goes down to meet her, making meanwhile a chucking noise like that of a hen to her chickens. He bows to her and coaxes her, until he gets between her and the water, so that she cannot escape him. Then his manner changes, and, with a harsh growl, he drives her to a place in his harem. This continues until the lower row of harems is nearly full. Then the males who are higher up select the time when their more fortunate neighbors are off their guard, to steal their wives.

This they do by taking them in their mouths, and, lifting them over the other females, and carefully placing them in their harems, carrying them as cats do their kittens. Those still higher up pursue the same course, until the whole space is occupied. Frequently a struggle ensues between two males for the possession of the same female, and both seizing her at once, pull her in two, or terribly lacerate her with their teeth. When the space is all filled, the old male walks around, complacently reviewing his family, scolding those who crowd or disturb the others, and fiercely driving off all intruders. This surveillance always keeps him actively occupied.—Darwin's Descent of Man.

MOSQUITOES.—These little pests will soon be here, and eveybody who is bothered by them should cut out and save the following recipe, furnished by a correspondent for their extermination: "Take of gum camphor a piece about one-third the size of an egg, and evaporate it by placing it in a tin vessel holding it over a lamp or candle, taking care that it does not ignite. The smoke will soon fill the room and expel the mosquitoes. One night I was terribly annoyed by them, when I thought of and tried the above, after which I never saw or heard them that night, and next morning there was not one to be found in the room, though the window had been left open all night."

—"Shuddering violins" is the happy thought of a Michigan critic who went to a Thomas concert.

—Bathing the head once a day in fresh milk, will prevent the hair from falling out and turning grey.

—John M. Francis, editor and proprietor of the Troy Times, has been nominated as Minister to Greece, vice Tuckerman.

—The Chicago Republican has so many libel suits on hand that it suggests a mass-meeting of the people having suits against it.

—Gail Hamilton says: Girls born to wealth are ready enough to be idle, ready enough to be ignorant, and more ready still to be frivolous.

—One ounce of blood-root in a quart of vinegar, and a tablespoonful taken three times a day, will cure jaundice and diseases of the liver.

—In damp and moist weather all fluids and drinks taken, should be cold; as they prevent opening the pores and inducing colds, as hot drinks do.

THE PALACE-CAR EXCURSION.

BANGOR, May 17.

The Railroad excursionists arrived here last evening at half-past eight o'clock, and are quartered at the various hotels and on the cars. Twenty-four of the 130 passengers slept soundly in the sleeping cars. The trip thither, though generally a tedious one, was as pleasant as good company and generous treatment could make it. After passing South Berwick Junction, the entire company sat down to a bounteous repast, Ex-Gov. Goodwin presiding. The efficient caterers were kept busy during the entire trip as new comers joined the excursionists, and the repeated attacks on the larder failed to dispose of the edibles and liquids it contained. The managers seemed to have omitted nothing in their endeavors to entertain their guests, and the members of the press pronounce the arrangements faultless. The latest luxuries of the season formed the dessert placed before them, strawberries and cream, and wines being liberally patronized.

The Pullman cars are perfection—and are far ahead of what our ideas of perfection in railroad carriages were, until we saw them. But to be fairly judged of, it is necessary that they should not only be seen but travelled in. The richness and elegance of the furnishing and fittings is but a small part of their merit; the almost perfect freedom from dust and jar while running, and the excellent arrangement of the internal economy, which gives the passenger every convenience enjoyed in the best appointed hotel, seems to leave no room for further improvements in railroad cars. The sleeping berths are commodious and comfortable, and travellers will appreciate the difference between sleeping in one of them and snoozing it out on an upright, narrow seat. Fire is securely guarded against. Gasoline lights and hot water warms each car, and the chairs and sofas are as easy to occupy as they are rich to look at. There is no use for one person to try to give another any idea of the luxurious richness of these cars by merely describing them—the only way to know how splendidly they look is to take a look through them, and there is but one way to learn how easy they are to travel in, and that is by travelling in them. The man who planned the first Pullman Palace Drawing-room and Sleeping Cars, and the corporations that adopt the elegant and costly carriages on their roads, deserve to be prayed for by the travelling public as benefactors of a class hitherto very hardly used.

The two Parlor cars, named the "Jupiter" and the "Saturn," which are to run with the day trains, were built at Taunton, Mass., by S. Whitney Reamer, Esq., and are probably the finest "palaces" in the country, or indeed, in the world. The exterior is finished and decorated in the highest style, while the interior is almost fairy-like in its gorgeous upholstery and adornment. These cars are divided into five compartments, which are thrown together by passages and doors or separated at will, the rooms at each end, where gentlemen may retire and smoke, being furnished with easy chairs upholstered with gilt-embossed leather; next at one end, two family compartments, and in the centre the main compartment or parlor, all furnished with sofas and easy chairs of the most comfortable pattern, upholstered with scarlet and drab plush. The wood work is of satin wood, black-walnut and other choice material, artistically carved and panelled; the sides are hung with spacious mirrors multiplying the extent and reflecting the beauties of the scene; the windows are draped with rich curtains; the softest Axminster covers the floor; elegant hangings and frescoing adorn the sides and ceiling, and rich chandeliers, burning gas, are suspended at intervals, lighting up the interior into a scene of enchantment.

Every element of comfort and convenience seem combined in these cars, in the parlors, dressing-rooms, wash rooms, water closets, etc. The system of heating is excellent and the ventilation is so arranged that all the air is forced through water, freeing it from dust and cinders before entering the apartments. The cost of each sleeping car is about $20,000; how much more the parlor cars cost we cannot say, but it must be a considerable sum.

Along the route, there were crowds at every station eager to inspect the beautiful Pullman cars. The efforts of the Eastern Railroad Directors to please the travelling public are thoroughly appreciated by the people along the line, and as the train whizzed swiftly by the stations or stopped at the cities, it was greeted with cheers and the waving of handkerchiefs by the delighted thousands. The new drawing room cars were the centre of attraction and caused also a detention of the train beyond the time decided on. This being their first trip, the axles heated badly and we regretfully left the "Saturn" at Augusta.

The delegation from New Hampshire includes Judge James H. Butler and son of Nottingham, our own Ex-Gov. Governor Goodwin, Capt. D. M. Fairfax, U. S. N., Chief Engineer David B. Macomb, U. S. N., Paymaster A. E. Watson, U. S. N., Paymaster W. W. Williams, U. S. N., Hon. Frank Jones, Messrs. Frank Jones, 2d, Manning Emery and others whose names we fail to call to mind. Among the very numerous press-gang, comprising editors or reporters from many of the leading papers of the Northern and Eastern States, but three New Hampshire papers are represented; the Portsmouth Journal by Mr. Brewster, the Great Falls Journal by Mr. Edward Fernald, and the Chronicle.

Bangor supports but one daily paper, The Whig & Courier, though the city has 18,296 inhabitants. The Bangor House, O. M. Shaw, proprietor, at which we are stopping, is the largest and most central hotel in the city and is well kept. Its clerk, Mr. William S. Baker, proved an old acquaintance, having been clerk at the Franklin House with the late Willis Barnabee, fifteen years ago. As a city, Bangor has its imperfections, needing a Street Commissioner. It abounds in plank walks, sewers enough apparently to take in man and beast, and dust that one can hardly rid himself of. But Bangor is a live go-ahead community, whose business interests are properly identified with the good of the whole. The view from Thomas hill is very fine. The ladies are the pride of the Bangorians, who may well boast of their beauty.

We are off for Mattawamkeag this morning, over the European & North American Railroad, one of whose chief-main-springs is James W. Emery, Esq.

Second Day.—At nine o'clock the railroad men and their guests mustered at the Bangor end of the European & North American Railroad, and the cars were backed in to receive them—not the Pullman cars, which are "narrow gauge," but the regular "broad gauge" cars of the E. & N. A. "All aboard—go ahead," and we moved off towards Mattawamkeag, the extreme end of railroad travel as yet. Passengers settled themselves for a sixty miles' ride, some at the window, some at the morning papers, and two editors and two naval officers in our car to a game of euchre.

Suddenly, while the train was going about four miles an hour, a big bumping commenced; men's heads jerked about, and the car bobbed up and down, glass shivered, and a man pulled on a signal rope hard enough to have jerked the engineer right back into our car had he been fastened to the end of the line. The euchre party had been playing the game before, and had the tally of games scored down on a shingle; and as the car commenced to bump, one of the naval officers exclaimed; "We're off the track! Look out for the cards! We're three to your two! Where's that shingle?" While the rest of the occupants of the car were clearing out, the "euchrists" were gathering up their cards, and then firmly holding the shingle, the officer leisurely left the now stationary car, followed by his companions. The car had been thrown off by a switch, and was soon replaced on the track; and then the excursionists were whirled away to Mattawamkeag over a finely graded, smooth-running road, with rails five and a half feet apart. A fine view of Mount Katahdin in the distance, and the numerous rivers and bridges, with the immense crop of stones, logs, shingles and cord wood along the line of the road, and conversation, cigars and a little euchre in the cars, occupied the attention of the party until the train stopped at Mattawamkeag, the "jumping off place," a half hour before noon. This place is situated at the junction of the Mattawamkeag and Penobscot rivers, 58 miles up the river from Bangor and 56 miles from the border. The party lunched and then inspected the new bridge, the log jams and every point of interest in this picturesque region.

The European & North American R. R. is being rapidly constructed and hopes are entertained of its completion by June, 1872, when this will be the shorter route from Halifax to New York by 40 hours. The Steamer John A. Peters, a stern-wheeler of very primitive construction, Capt. Chesley commanding, took the party down the Penobscot to Lincoln Centre, a distance of 12 miles. The Peters draws but two feet and paddled over the rapids like the wind, her skillful pilot steering her successfully by jams of logs, hidden rocks and debris that would much disturb a nervous man. The numerous islands on the river were passed quickly, and the party stopped at Lincoln Centre for half an hour for the arrival of the train from Mattawamkeag, which took all hands back to Bangor on time, a 15 minutes' stop at Orono giving opportunity for the inspection of Walkers' Mills, the most extensive on this Continent. These Mills are 450 feet in length and cut up 30,000,000 feet of lumber annually. There are forty gangs of saws, and the rapidity with which they were worked kept the feeders continually on the jump—at which it was remarked that a Navy Yard workman would feel ill to witness it. The logs are hauled from the river, five at a time, out into boards, clapboards, shingles, etc., in the twinkling of an eye, and loaded on rafts for transportation to tide water in ten minutes' time. So great is the daily wear of the saws, a man is kept continuously at work filing them by machinery.

Third Day.—The party left Bangor, homeward bound, Thursday morning at 8.40, highly satisfied with their explorations. The train was run express through, with but few stoppages. Near Kendall's Mills a halt was made, and the block-house built in 1754 was duly inspected. It was the first dwelling built in Maine, and is located on the river bank, commanding the approaches from the junction of two streams. The house was built of sturdy timbers that have stood the ravages of old Father Time, wonderfully. Its timbers are filled with bullet holes, indicating the severe attacks made on it by the Indians in olden times. The ride to Portland was not at all tedious, the cars being models of easy and cosy conveyances. During the trip the speed was increased until the self-possessed passengers found themselves whirled along at the rate of a half dozen miles in five minutes.

Shortly after two o'clock, P. M., the train reached Portland and the excursionists were taken to the Falmouth Hotel in coaches. Refreshments seem to have been the order of each day, but the Eastern Railroad managers were not satisfied with their record yet, and the affair culminated with a dinner prepared by the proprietors of the Falmouth and consequent after-dinner speeches, which detained the guests until 5 o'clock.

J. B. Brown, Esq., presided and introduced Mayor Kingsbury, who welcomed the excursionists to Portland, as its Chief Executive. Ex-Gov. Ichabod Goodwin was greeted with a storm of applause, a worthy tribute to a worthy man, whom all delighted to honor. The Governor acknowledged the handsome reception by well chosen remarks that every one knew came from the heart. He reviewed the progress of railroad enterprise and felt proud of being President of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire, the first railroad built in the State.

Its extension and junction with the Portland, Saco & Portland R. R. was a long-looked for result and the wedding of the Eastern with the P. S. & P. was only a continuation of the policy which would soon give us a route across Maine and into the provinces, which advantage could not be estimated. The Governor sat down amid another expression of the kindly regard in which he is held by his fellow citizens of Maine and New Hampshire.

President Geo. M. Brown of the Eastern, Dr. Geo. B. Loring of Salem, Mass., and Gen. Sam. J. Anderson, President of the Portland and Ogdensburg R. R. followed, and the exercises closed by the delivery of a rhythmic account of the adventures of the party (written after Bret Harte's "Heathen Chinee") by Mr. James Redpath of Boston.

The excursion train arrived in Portsmouth about 7 o'clock, making the trip from Portland in one hour and forty-five minutes. The participators in the excursion are of but one opinion; and that is that Superintendent Prescott, Gov. Goodwin, Conductor Batchelder and the Eastern Railroad Directors never know how to do anything by halves. The three days' excursion just over will be remembered as one of the most enjoyable affairs of a life-time.

THE New York Tribune promises to double the salaries of their correspondents during the time of their arrest and detention by the Senate. The petty inquisition with which the Senate has been engaged of late has been out of date for a number of years.

GORHAM, Me., ten miles from Portland, had many buildings burned May 18. Engines were sent from Portland.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Corn and flour are staple articles; but not more so than Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, where known. It is good for children or adults, for any internal soreness of the chest or bowels, and the best Pain Killer prepared, under whatever name.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Persecuted Organ.

The human stomach has been ashamefully persecuted organ. There was a time when for every dereliction of duty it was punished with huge doses of the most disgusting and nauseous drugs. In vain it rejected them, and literally returned them upon the hands of those who administered them. They were forced upon it again and again, until its solvent power was thoroughly drenched out of it.

The world is wiser now than it was in that drastic era, when furious purgation and mercurial salivation were what Artemus Ward would have called the "main holt" of the faculty, in cases of dyspepsia and liver complaint.

The great modern remedy for Indigestion and biliousness is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a preparation which has the merit of combining a palatable flavor with such tonic, aperient and anti-bilious properties, as were never heretofore united in any medicine.

It has been discovered, at last, that sick people are not like the fabled Titans, who found prostration so refreshing that, when knocked down, they rose from the earth twice as vigorously as before. When an invalid is prostrated by powerful depleting drugs, he is apt to stay prostrated; and the debilitated being aware of the fact, prefer the building up to the knocking down system of treatment.

Hostetter's Bitters meets the requirements of the rational medical philosophy which at present prevails. It is a perfectly pure vegetable remedy, embracing the three important properties of a preventive, a tonic, and an alterative. It fortifies the body against disease, invigorates and revitalizes the torpid stomach and liver, and effects a most salutary change in the entire system, when in a morbid condition.

In this country where the enfeebling temperature renders the human organization particularly susceptible to unwholesome atmospheric influences, the Bitters should be taken as a protection against epidemic disease.

Sprinkling Carts, &c., For Sale.
Auction—H. F. Wendell.

REV. Rufus W. Clark, jr., of this city has accepted a call from Columbus, Ohio.

THE alarm of fire, Thursday evening, was occasioned by the burning of bushes near Coffin's woods at Sagamore Creek.

JOHN HURLEY, a boy 15 years old, was badly injured by attempting to get on the P. S. & P. train on Wednesday evening as it was entering the depot in this city at half past five.

MR. Leander Garland of Newcastle, has built a beautiful row-boat which is pronounced by the rowing fraternity a clipper. He thinks she will be hard to beat. Look out for a 4th of July challenge.

A BOY about 7 years old, deaf and dumb, got on Conductor Towle's train, Wednesday morning, going to Boston, who transferred him to Conductor West, at North Hampton. He was brought to this city in the half past five train of Thursday evening, and placed in the hands of City Marshal Kent, who took him to his house and kept him over night. He is an intelligent looking lad, and created considerable sympathy. He was taken to the Alms House and will remain there until something can be heard relative to the whereabouts of his friends.

WE have received a bouquet of beautiful flowers, tastefully arranged, with a tiny note concealed therein which contains the following legend:—"Please accept these rare 'exhorticks,' culled by Rhoda." How the rugged duties of the editorial life are cheered by these delicate attentions! We assure the fair "Rhoda" that her "rare 'exhorticks'" are gratefully received, and will inspire us to renewed effort to so perform the duties of our position, that when again some gentle "Rhoda" wishes to cheer our pathway, she will cull the flowers a little closer, and so give us for dinner our favorite dish at this season—dandelion greens.

OUR FALLEN HEROES.—We are glad to observe that there is a growing disposition on the part of the public, as year after year rolls round, to commemorate more generally the annual occasion of strewing with flowers the graves of our soldiers, thus keeping their deeds fresh in memory. We believe, also, that it should not be associated in the mind with a mere holiday incident, but rather be regarded in the light of a common bereavement which claims the attention of all; a holocaust furnished as the purchase fee of liberty to all.

We must ever bear in mind that all the labor bestowed in assisting the different posts in procuring flowers, getting carriages for the maimed soldiers on memorial day, or helping the cause in any manner which local circumstances may suggest, cannot be commensurate with the sacrifice made by those whose memories we endeavor to cherish. And, keeping this one fact in view, it will profit us to cheerfully lend a helping hand to the proper observance of the day. Oftentimes the failure on the part of the people to recognize the importance of the ceremonies attending Decoration day is a matter of thoughtlessness, rather than intentional neglect. But duty requires us not to forget that there exists in many communities a class of individuals who stand ready to improve the first opportunity presenting itself to subvert the achievements and results of the late fierce struggle which cost the country the lives of those heroic ones whose resting-places we annually visit.

When we hear men speak slurringly of our dead boys in blue, (as they sometimes do, where they dare to,) when we listen to allusions to the late rebellion in a manner which would imply that it was simply an unfortunate mistake wherein both parties were equally wrong, we infer that our diligence should not be slackened but rather doubled in the matter of keeping sacred the remembrance of our fallen, and the cause for which they gave their lives. There is an old saying that "we should forget and forgive," but we believe that while we may extend the hand of forgiveness we should not forget the specious doctrine which occasioned such bloody strife, lest forgetting, we might be compelled to fight the battle over again.

Let us remember too, in connection with this coming memorial anniversary, the widows and children of those who yielded their lives for their country, and let not one of them lack any of the comforts of life or that sympathy which they may justly claim at the hands of surviving friends.

HON. Joseph B. Adams of this city has been been appointed U. S. Deputy Marshal by Gen. James W. Patterson, U. S. Marshal.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—U. S. vs. Barney McDermott, a wholesale liquor dealer in Concord, for not keeping form No. 52 of the internal revenue service. He was acquitted, there not being evidence to prove that he was required to keep that form. The court adjourned at 11 o'clock, Thursday morning.

MASONIC.—The annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of New Hampshire took place in Concord, on Wednesday, May 17, and continued through Thursday. The officers for the ensuing year are: M. W. Grand Master, John R. Holbrook of Portsmouth; R. W. Dep. Grand Master, N. W. Cumner of Manchester; R. W. Grand Junior Warden, John A. Harris of Concord; R. W. Grand Treasurer, Daniel R. Marshall of Nashua; R. W. Grand Secretary, Abel Hutchins of Concord.

U. S. SENATE.—The debate on the treaty question, Wednesday, was protracted and general, but not specially interesting. Senator Wilson spoke in behalf of the largest liberty of the press and against the theory that newspapers were under any obligation to keep State secrets. He and Mr. Sumner voted steadily for all modifications of the original resolution and on the main question in the negative. Just before the final vote was taken the latter arose and briefly showed the absurdity and unprofitableness of the whole proceeding, and proposed to abandon it. Mr. Tipton made a dry, humorous speech, throwing ridicule over the whole investigation and keeping Senate and galleries convulsed with laughter.

The resolution as amended was finally passed by a vote of 42 to 14, when the newspaper criminals, as Mr. Tipton dryly called them, were summoned to answer the first interrogatory. Both asked till to-morrow noon to prepare a written reply, which was freely accorded them, when they were released on parole, and at five o'clock the Senate adjourned. The affair is the chief topic of discussion in Washington. Outside sympathy seems to be with the two correspondents, who are regarded justly as martyrs to their professional honor.

The investigation seems likely to continue indefinitely. The postponement of action on the treaty is very disappointing, not only to the administration, but to many Senators. On the other hand, it satisfies those Senators who have been apprehensive of too great haste in the consideration of that important compact, as well as those who wish to prepare speeches on the subject.

As the laborers and miners working at the Briggs shaft, in Scranton, Pa., were returning to their homes on Wednesday evening escorted by a small squad of soldiers, they were assaulted by a crowd of about 200 Welsh miners, who threw stones and other missels at them. Two of the laborers were struck, one on the breast, and the other on the leg, by large stones, upon which a soldier levelled his gun at one of the assailants and fired, killing Benjamin Davis and David Jones, Welshmen. The laborers were peaceable, molesting no one, and not even replying to the insults which were showered upon them by their assailants. The soldiers only retaliated when they were assaulted with stones. Only one shot was fired,—that which killed the two men. Public opinion fully justifies the act, and it is hoped that it will have a salutary effect upon that class who have instituted a reign of terror and lawlessness.

FRANCE.—The mad vandals who have possession of Paris, and who have recently destroyed the column Vendome, deserve, as they receive, the execrations of the whole civilized world. The spectacle of the Place Vendome crowded with ladies and gentlemen to witness the destruction of this magnificent work of art, was sad indeed. While bands of music are playing, and demagogues are haranguing the mob, all lovers of the beautiful stand aghast as the glorious column sweeps slowly to the ground.

The Prussians have given the Versaillists four days in which to take Paris, at the end of which time they will try it themselves. They have compelled the Communists to evacuate Fort Vincennes.

Minister Washburne has requested protection from Prussia, and will doubtless get it.

A movement is on foot in the Assembly to overthrow Thiers.

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost more than the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 30 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. 124dWaS

Ladies of Portsmouth and Vicinity.

E. A. JOY

Has Fitted up a Spacious and Elegant SEWING MACHINE ROOM directly over his Music Store and employs a competent young lady to take charge of the same. Morning Chronicle.

The following lines were written by Mr. Geo. W. Thompson in memory of his friend and associate, the late Edward F. Wilson:—

DEAD! DEAD!

The shades of eve come calmly down,
Upon the village and the town;
While golden clouds float in the sky,
And winds go murmuring with a sigh—
Dead! Dead!

The lowing herds, the tinkling bell,
The watch-dog's bark, all seem to tell,
That one dear friend has passed away,
And I must sadly, sadly say—
Dead! Dead!

The little bird on yonder tree
Trills low its plaintive melody,
While from afar, an answering strain—
Floats on the air, the sad refrain—
Dead! Dead!

Far from the city's distant towers,
I hear the town-clock chime the hours
That mark the closing of the day,
And sadly seems to me to say—
Dead! Dead!

I hear afar the sullen shocks,
Of Ocean dashing o'er the rocks;
And plainly hear the ocean moan
With wild, mysterious, plaintive tone—
Dead! Dead!

I watch the stars, as one by one
They gleam, and show the day is done;
And as they light the dark'ning skies,
They seem to weep for him that lies—
Dead! Dead!

And thus, all nature sadly weeps
For him, that coldly, calmly sleeps
In death. Oh! Ed., come back to me!
Stay! Stay!—alas it can not be!
For he is—Dead! Dead!

—Canadian lumbermen, engaged in driving timber, this season, can command $25 to $30 a month and their board, and, as a consequence, the farmers find it so difficult to obtain help that they are compelled to leave a good deal of their soil uncultivated.

—Fasten a nail or key to a string and suspend it from your thumb and finger, and the nail will oscillate like a pendulum. Let some one place his open hand under the nail, and it will change to circular motion. Then let a third man place his hand upon your shoulder, and the nail becomes in a moment steady. The "why" of this experiment is not known, but it is very rarely a failure.

—A Massachusetts paper tells of a colored woman who had lately been converted, but was so unfortunate as to fly into a passion over the misdoings of one of her friends. Her mistress remarked upon the impropriety of such conduct in the case of one about to join the church, and received this frank response: "I have 'sperienced religion, and I'ts gwine to join the church; but Miss B., I'll scald dat nigger fust!"

—If it were necessary to cite a case to show how advertising pays, we might mention how last week this paper alluded to the income of A. T. Steward, amounting to the sum of $2.92 per minute. In less than twenty-four hours half a dozen men called at his establishment to borrow his income for a few minutes. He was down town at the time or he might granted their request. N. Y. Democrat.

Consumption,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proven that whenever skillful medicine vitally reaches, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing.

The Pulmonic Syrup and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbid action of the liver, and then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up, and resumes from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous torture. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be in action. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be checked. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is ripe enough, and the rotten tissue that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained health, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in the southern of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course of their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about as much as they can, and that as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To those after such a disease of the lungs, it is probably in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is useful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the friends of his own cure was to the effect in words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; I was given up by my friends; I was as far as they heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me, effecting a yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. Under this treatment I soon have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Fellow-sufferer—invalid—and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses. Of these matters and other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Of returns, health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough ceases, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these mortal symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

VEGETINE,

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

THE METHODIST, of New York, has always been edited with marked ability by Rev. Dr. CROOKS. Its publishers have just added to its editorial corps, Rev. ABEL STEVENS, an equally experienced Journalist, and author of the best History of Methodism extant. They have also engaged contributions and sermons from Rev. T. DEWITT TALMAGE, whose success and popularity as a preacher, writer and lecturer, are almost unexampled, and whose free Tabernacle in Brooklyn, with a congregation of over 3,000 people, is one of the marvels of the age. REV. HENRY WARD BEECHER has a Lecture Room Talk every week.

THE METHODIST abounds in good things, is never dull or dry, has stories for children, hints for farmers, and something for everybody. Mrs. Willing's great serial story is almost ready. They offer for the price of one year's subscription ($2.50) to send THE METHODIST from now until July 1st, 1872. Specimen copies free. 114 Nassau Street, New York. m3

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawf8t6

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paint and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

THE FASTEST HORSE.—The fastest horse in the world has appeared in California. The horse, which turns out to be a hack of doubtful lineage, having been recently transferred from a butcher's cart, has recently come into possession of ex-Governor Stanford of that State, and can trot his mile in 2:15. The following is copied from a Sacramento paper:

The chances are that that the celebrated horse Dexter will have the back seat before long. Yesterday morning, at the Park, the mysterious "Stanford horse" was driven around the track, in a sulky, by "Yank" Smith, who has the animal in charge. The first half mile was trotted over at moderate speed, but on the last half mile Smith let him out, and he crossed the score in 1:07. Keeping right on, at a slower trot, till the last half mile was reached, the wonderful horse was again urged to his speed, and made the last half mile in 1:07 1-4. His time was noted by several reliable and experienced parties, among whom may be mentioned Charley Shear and George Gilbert. Leland Stanford, the owner of the horse, was also on the ground. There is no doubt about this time having been made, and it is the fastest on record. A well known sporting gentleman, who saw the trial, offered to wager $1,000 that he could take the horse for a week and drive him a mile in 2:15. The horse has a somewhat romantic history, and, like many bipeds in this country, his elevation from hard work and obscurity to fame and ease has been rapid and remarkable. Not many months since he did service in a butcher cart in this city, and was sold for the paltry sum of $150. Stanford paid $3,000 for him, and could probably get $30,000 for his bargain. The pedigree of the horse is in dispute, but those who have the best reason to know state that he is a St. Clair.

QUEER NAMES.—The Welsh Calvinists, it appears, indulge in eccentric names, borrowed from Scriptural works and titles—as for example, the name of Mahershalalhashbaz, which is borne by an unfortunate citizen of Bridgend. At Tremadoe, there is an Hosanna, and a Sinai at Llandiad; also a Selah, near Monmouth. The oddities of Old Testement nomenclature are clearly attractive to some for their own sakes; there are twins in the Welsh registers named respectively Huz and Buz. But, further, the titles of the bad characters of the Bible are not infrequently selected and given to children, such as Absalom, Cain, Delilah, Herod and Pharaoh. The most preposterous title taken from the Bible occurs in the registers as belonging to the father of a child whose birth was recorded not long ago, after civil registration began in Great Britain. It must, therefore, have been given by some minister of religion at baptism, or, at any rate, it was not bestowed under the auspices of a government officer. It is no less painful appellation than that of Eli Lama Sabachthani. An Acts Apostles is also to be found in the registers, and a Faithful Cumi. A request was recently made to a Norfolk registrar to enter a child's name as Verily. On inquiry, it turned out that the parent, ignorantly familiar with the Scripture's expression, "Verily, I say unto you," believed that verily was the title of the person addressed! In this case the advice of the registration officer was followed, and a more sensible name adopted.

Not many years ago a mother took her child to a registrar in Manchester, that its birth might be recorded. When asked what name she intended to give her baby, she answered Alpha Omega. The registrar properly inquired whether she had duly considered the matter, and whether it was her deliberate intention to inflict upon the infant such extraordinary titles. "Certainly," she replied, "the child is my first, and I hope it may be my last."

BASE BALL.—There is an uncertainty about base ball which has often defeated apparently safe calculations, and which continues to do so in a most unaccountable way. It occurred to nobody that the Haymakers would beat the Red Stockings two to one, and after that unexpected event it was not reasonable to anticipate a like defeat of the Haymakers by the Harvards, who had been soundly thrashed by the Red Stockings a little while before. All this has occurred, nevertheless. On Wednesday, the college boys met the conquerors of the Red Stockings and after a tough struggle vanquished them—15 to 8. The Haymakers were defeated by headwork.

"Papa, why is that called a job office?" "Because, sonny, it takes so much patience to run it."

—Why will next year be like last? Because last year was 1870, and next year will be 1872 (too).

—About 500,000 barrels of oil, worth $3 a barrel, is the average monthly production of Pennsylvania.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, MAY 20, 1871.

VALLANDIGHAM appeared at the Montgomery county convention at Dayton, Ohio, May 17, and framed one of the most comprehensive democratic platforms ever constructed. It was adopted by acclamation. The resolutions, among other things, claim that "the republican party is no longer a Union party," which is a frank acknowledgement by Vallandigham and his friends that the party of which that gentlemen has been a shining light for years has been a disunion party, as its opponents charged but which they strenuously denied. "An open confession is good for the soul."

POLITICAL.—John M. Harlan is the Republican candidate for Governor of Kentucky.

The Massachusetts House of Representatives have rejected a resolution to confer suffrage upon women. The vote was a tie.

The Republicans gained nearly 1000 votes at the recent election in Indianapolis over the vote of last year.

It is said that there is a majority of two in the Senate oppesed to the ratification of the Treaty of Washington.

The ability of the Southern people themselves to put down the disorders in the South is manifest by the incident reported from Pontotoc, Miss. A masked party of forty is said to have entered the town to drive out the editor of a radical paper. The citizens met them, killed one, and the others fled.—N. Y. Star.

This is correct, but the point is that such has been the terrorism prevalent in the South, it was not safe for anybody who disapproved the lawlessness to show light until assurances were given that the United States army stood at their backs.—Boston Advertiser.

FRANCE.—The Versailists have occupied Clichy, and a sharp engagement has been fought at Asnieres.

The Versaillists attacked Fort Montrouge, but reinforcements reached the garrison while the fighting was in progress, and the attack was not only repulsed but several cannons were captured from them.

In March, 1870, Samuel Flint, Labor Reform candidate for governor, received 7,369 votes. In March, 1871, Lemuel P. Cooper received 776.

There was a destructive fire at Epping, Friday, as we learn from the Western Union line.

The Glen House at the White Mountains has been sold at auction to Joseph Grafton for $90,000.

CALIFORNIA advices state that the Pima Indians routed a camp of hostile Apaches on the 3d of May, 50 miles north of the Pima reservations in the Final mountains, killing 28 and capturing four prisoners. The Apaches admitted that they were on the warpath, and had been drawing rations from Camp Grant. A detachment from the garrison at Fort Bascom, Arizona, lately surprised and captured near the Texas line 52 hostile Indians with 700 cattle and ponies.

A boat containing three young men went over the Horse Shoe Falls at Niagra, May 18th. Their names and residences are unknown.

MRS. Burnside, a daughter of Senator Cameron, was struck with paralysis on the 18th, at Harrisburg, Pa., and is not expected to live.

JOHN GOMINGER, an octogenarian, died in Philadelphia recently, leaving sixteen children, sixty eight grandchildren, eighty-eight great-grand-children, and two great-great-grand-children, a total progeny of 174.

—Mrs. Pierson of Chicago, Mrs. Samuel Pruyn of Albany, Miss Crosby of Poughkeepsie, missionaries to Japan, left New York city, May 18, for San Francisco and Yokohama.

—It is said of a late physician that he was waited upon one day by a neighbor to come and see a child sick with the croup. "Oh, certainly," replied the doctor; "If there is a thing I pride myself on in my profession, it is the treatment of that disease." As the doctor stepped out a moment, to make ready, his waiting visitor was somewhat taken aback to hear him say to his wife "Sarah" what do you do for the croup?"

GRIEVOUS DESTITUTION.—Vineland is the name of that unfortunate little city of 10,000 inhabitants, down in the piney and sandy region of Southern Jersey; un-refreshed are these ten thousand throats with the cordials of a single grog-shop. In police expense, Vineland is contemptible, not able to get the figure up above seventy-five dollars for the whole of last year. For six months the overseers of the poor have had no business at all. The courts have had just one assault and battery case. No fire department has Vineland; only one house burnt down last year.—Boston Times.

OLD TIME CHRONICLES, No. 33.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

THE JENNESS FAMILY OF DEERFIELD, Third Paper.—The last number was a notice of Thomas Jenness, Esq., (son of Judge Richard Jenness,) also the family of said Thomas Jenness. Now an account of the late Hon. Benjamin Jenness will be given.

Benjamin Jenness was a son of Judge Richard Jenness and half brother to Esq. Thomas, they having two mothers. He was born in Deerfield and lived on the South Road. He married Miss Darest on the north side at a place called Coffeetown. Mr. Jenness after a time opened a tavern where he did a good business. The stage from Concord to Portsmouth passed that road. This for many years was driven by that knight of the whip S. B. Marden, familiarly called "Sandy," whose care for passengers and cheerful countenance ensured the safety and delight of all who rode in his charge. Then there was a great amount of travel with other teams on that road.

The following are the offices he filled. He might have been one of the Selectmen, but we have no information as to that. He was a deputy sheriff from 1818 to 1830. In 1830, he was appointed High Sheriff of Rockingham County and held the office five years. He was the successor of Hon. Clement Stover of Portsmouth in this office. Up to about the time Mr. Jenness was High Sheriff it was customary for this officer to appear in Court with a sword. Mr. Jenness was the first we saw without it. But at Court time he wore a cockade on his hat as a sign of his authority. After retiring from this office he was Deputy Sheriff again to 1853, in all about 30 years.

He was Representative of Deerfield in 1827, '28 '29 and then again in 1839 and '40. In 1837 and '38 he was Senator of District No. 2. In 1845 he was Councillor.

Mr. Jenness was a man of great energy and gave earnest attention to all the business in which he engaged and was faithful to his constituents in the offices he held. He won the confidence and esteem of the multitudes. He voted in every annual election after coming of age and also every Presidential Election. His son A. L. Jenness was Representative of Deerfield in 1853 and '54. A sister of Hon. B. Jenness, Hannah, was the wife of a Mrs. Sanborn and these were the parents of Hon. Peter Sanborn, who was Representative of Deerfield two years, and has been State Treasurer since 1857. His brother Col. Richard Jenness Sanborn has represented Deerfield in the Legislature. Hon. Benjamin Jenness died suddenly Jan. 23d of the present year, aged 83.

SOUTH NEWMARKET, May 15.

THE TARLTON FAMILY—Messrs. Editors:—I have collected for publication in your ancient and excellent paper, the following remarkable historical facts in regard to this family, to wit: On the 15th day of March last, Mrs. Mercy Jenness, who was the widow of the late Hall J. Jenness, Esq., a man of much notoriety in Newmarket, and who held several offices of public trust, and responsibility, died at South Newmarket aged 72 years. She was a daughter of the late Samuel Tarlton of said South Newmarket, one of the most excellent and highly esteemed of men that ever lived in that neighborhood. Of his children six in number, the seventh having died in infancy, the death of Mrs. Jenness was the first that took place in the space of 76 1-2 years. Mr. Tarlton's father, Stillman, died suddenly at the age of 62 years, leaving seven children whose ages at death were as follows: Margaret, aged 87 1-2 years, Samuel, 85 1-4, Hannah, aged 81, William, 82, Mary 82, John 75 and Sarah 75. Average 81 1-7 years.

His grandfather, Elias Tarlton lived in Rye, and when he was upwards of 91 years of age walked from there to South Newmarket to spend Thanksgiving with his grandson, the said Thomas Tarlton, and returned to Rye the next day in the same way, the distance being about twelve miles; and when he was upwards of 92 years of age and only a few days before his death he walked from his home in Rye to Newcastle to see his brothers, from there to Portsmouth, took dinner with a grand-daughter and from there home, a distance of in all of nine miles; remarkable performances for one of his great age. Of the children of this good and upright man, Samuel Tarlton. Samuel H. Tarlton now of South Newmarket is one, and probably is well-known throughout the county of Rockingham. He was an engineer on the Eastern R. R., about four years, had charge of the P. S. & P. R. R. repair shop in Portland, two years, and of the motive power used in the construction of the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad, and is now one of the directors of the Swamscot Machine Company.

The writer has been well acquainted with this extraordinary and excellent family (against no one of whom did any one ever cast any suspicion, or a dog move his tongue) more than sixty years. DAVID MURRAY.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

LADIES of Portsmouth, come at once to the Kearsarge House, and see Mrs. Pierce, of No. 6 Clinton Place, New York. She is here for purpose of teaching cutting and basting dresses, by S. T. Taylor's system; the only perfect one in the world. Mr. Taylor will explain his principle to as many as may be in the parlor, Saturday evening, at 8 o'clock.

HANOVER STREET, Boston, is now its finest business thoroughfare. The AMERICAN HOUSE, thereon, is not only one of the largest but one of the best hotels in the country for families, business men, or tourists.

WILL open in a few days, Terhune's New York Hat, Cap, Fur, and Gents' Furnishing Goods Store, 37 Congress Street, (Franklin House.) The handsomest and cheapest assortment of goods in the city. TTh&Sat

There are several kinds of worms which trouble horses; the pin-worm (pointed at both ends) are the most common and most dangerous. Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders will in a few days eject the worms, and the horse will begin to thrive.

Factories and machine shops should not be allowed to run a day without Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. In case of a sudden accident, an immediate use of it may save weeks of suffering, and perhaps a limb, or even life.

Address R. V. Pierce, M. D., 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y., and get a pamphlet on Catarrh free, or send sixty cents and get Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. $500 reward is offered by the proprietor for a case of Catarrh which he cannot cure. Sold by druggists. Cut this out, as you may never see it again.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Household Tonic.

The efficacy of Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters as a specific for recruiting the enfeebled body and cheering the desponding mind has passed into a proverb. In the United States, where this marvelous tonic has borne down all opposition and eclipsed all rivalry, the demand for it has annually increased in a heavier and heavier ratio for years, until at last, the regular sales of this preparation exceed those of all other stomachics combined. Eminent members of the medical profession and hospital surgeons without number have candidly admitted that the pharmacopoeia of the faculty contains no prescription that produces such beneficial effects in dyspepsia, general debility and nervous diseases, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. To use the language of a venerable physician of New York, "The Bitters are the purest stimulant and the safest tonic we have. But the uses of the great vegetable antidote are much more comprehensive than such praise would imply. As a preparatory antidote to epidemic disease, a genial stimulant, a promoter of constitutional vigor, an appetizer, a stomachic, and a remedy for nervous debility, no medical preparation has ever attained the reputation of Hostetter's Bitter's. It is the household tonic of the American people, and in all human probability will be so for centuries to come. The magnates of science recognize its merits; and that it is emphatically the medicine of the masses, is proved by its vast and ever increasing sales."

Mr. George O. Dearborn has been appointed by the Postmaster-General relief route-agent on the railroad between Portsmouth and Concord and on the Boston and Maine Railroad.

IT is asserted that burned coffee and charred ivory, when mixed with cod-liver oil will effectually destroy the unpleasant taste and odor of the latter.—Medical Gazette.

There is no "unpleasant taste and odor" to Marvin's Cod-Liver Oil,

IN giving the names of the Portsmouth delegation attending the recent Pullman car excursion, we omitted Capt. William L. Dwight, Dr. John H. Boardman and Frank W. Miller, Esq. That we should have missed naming Mr. Miller, in particular, is a trifle singular, considing the fact that he established the CHRONICLE and ran it for eighteen years.

WE are authorized to say by Mr. E. B. Towle that his stock of Trophy Tomatoes is nearly exhausted. The remaining lot will be sold at $1 per box. A premium of $10 will be paid to the person raising the largest and smoothest tomato from plants bought of Mr. Towle, or through his dealers, the tomatoes to be left at Henry M. Clark's store for exhibition and comparison.

MR. McCarthy the plumber, whose advertisement we publish this morning, is a skillful workman, and fully competent to anwer all orders in his line—of which the fact that he has just completed the great job of plumbing the entire new Rockingham House in a successful and satisfactory manner, is sufficient evidence. He will be found a fair and courteous man, and we take pleasure in recommending him to favor and patronage.

THE marine railway at Kittery Foreside is doing a brisk business. The schooner Celia was floated off on Thursday, and tug-boat Clara Batemen drawn up for examination on Friday. The latter will probably be scraped, her leaky seams calked, and the vessel painted from her keel up to her water line before she is floated. Messrs. Neal & Co. deserve much credit for constructing such a desirable convenience to shipmasters and vessel owners as the above-mentioned railway.

Communicated.

WHERE IS THE STREET SPRINKLER? Are the last three days of unendurable dust to be prolonged through the summer? If the city has failed in its duty, let not the citizens fail of the comfort of well-watered streets through the coming season. With increased accommodations for summer visitors and sojourners, let us not disgust them by the condition of our streets. During the short time in which our climate allows open windows and doors, is it wise or well to tolerate any nuisance that must keep them shut! The season of living in our houses well aired is short enough at best, and while it does last, let us make the most of it.

We hope the comfort of last summer is not quite forgotten, and though the clouds are likely to be on duty more faithfully than then, we cannot afford to part with the more punctual and constant and enterprising services of Mr. William Plaisted. INCHES.

CHURCH Hill is a quiet neighborhood, notwithstanding the residents of Bow Street are always on a bender.

NAVAL Constructor Thomas H. Webb arrived at the Navy Yard on Friday, and at once entered upon the duties of his position.

OUR thanks are due to the corps of volunteers who so successfully edited the Chronicle in the absence of its regular force. They know how to do it, and, knowing, did it well.

THE deaf and dumb boy who came to this city on Wednesday, has been claimed by Elizabeth Martin of Portland, Me., who telegraphed the City Marshal, Friday evening, "send on my deaf and dumb boy."

A delegation of Mt. Sinai Encampment, I. O. O. F., of this city, nine in number, were the guests of Mt. Washington Encampment at Manchester, Thursday evening, and their scrip wasn't passable while there. All had a jolly good time.

ASTRONOMICAL.—On Sunday evening, the 21st inst., the planet Jupiter and the Moon will be in conjunction, and at about 9 o'clock their distance apart will be only a hand's breadth. It will be worth looking at if the sky be clear. On Monday evening, Venus will likewise be in conjunction with the Moon. The Moon apparently will be about one foot from Venus in the western heavens at 9 o'clock.

City Councils—May 15.

IN Board of Aldermen, the Committee on Fire Department reported that Campbell, Whittier & Co. would repair the Steamer Dearborn for $1100. The Committee were authorized to have the engine repaired if advisable.

The Mayor was authorized to provide traps for cess-pools.

A petition was received from Daniel Mason, asking permission to erect a mill over the water in the dock at the end of Vaughan Street. Referred to Committee on City Lands & Buildings.

THE Council chose Samuel R. Gardner, President pro tem.

The Committee on 2d reading of bills reported an amendment to the Appropriation bill, reducing the amount for Streets and Common Sewers from $8000 to $6000. The amendment was adopted and the bill passed.

An ordinance fixing the pay of Assistant Marshals at $680 and of Policemen, Watchmen and Constables at $720 per year each, was passed.

ON Monday next the Eastern road conductors will take charge of their trains in Boston, running through to Portland without change; the same from Portland to Boston. The present conductors of the P. S. & P. will run through trains to Boston, and it is presumed that all the conductors of the P. S. & P. will be retained on the road in the same capacity as now, either on short trains or express. And one very important change that the Eastern road makes for the benefit of the traveling public is their lightling express train, leaving Boston in the morning, one hour after the half past seven A. M. train, and arriving in Portland at the same hour of the early train, 1-2 past 12, making the time four hours between Boston and Portland; this gives the Southern and Western travel that comes by boats or rail an opportunity for breakfast and one bour more to get to the depot. That the introduction for this train will be appreciated by the travelling public is already spoken of in business circles, and the great increase of popularity of the Eastern road is wholly due to its management. The officers of the Eastern road are always on the alert and ready to make any and every charge without regard to expense in cars and running of trains that the public demand. The lightning express train will make no stops between Portsmouth and Kennebunk.

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis; for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 60 per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

A GOOD OFFER TO THE Ladies of Portsmouth and Vicinity.

E. A. JOY

Has Fitted up a Spacious and Elegant SEWING MACHINE ROOM directly over his Music Store and employs a competent young lady to take charge of the same. MR. NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

The house and two barns of James Jackson of New Hampton, were totally destroyed by fire on the 7th. Some furniture was saved and the cattle in the barns. Loss $3500; insurance unknown. The origin was accidental.

David Murray, Esq., of Newmarket, belongs to a hardy and prolific family. When he was 18 1-2 years old he was the oldest, and his brother Ebenezer the youngest of fifty grandchildren, on his mother's side, born between Oct. 4, 1786, and April 10, 1815, at which time only six of his grandfather's eight children were married. Afterwards seventeen more grandchildren were born, and all within three-fourths of a mile of their grandfather's residence. Mr. Murray was in Concord Wednesday attending the Grand Lodge, of which he was a member in 1828. He also represented Newmarket in the Legislature in 1831-2-3, and has been a most valuable citizen through a long life, with the promise of many years before him yet.

The following are the particulars in regard to the drowning of young Culver at Phillips Academy at Exeter, on Tuesday afternoon. Several of the students were bathing in the river above the dam about five o'clock when one of them, named Andrew Culver, suddenly threw up his arms, exclaiming that he was giving out, and sank. He came to the surface two or three times, and Charles Bell, a fellow-student, went to his assistance and got him part way to the shore, but was unable to save him. The water was quite cool, and it is supposed that the deceased, who was but an ordinary swimmer, became exhausted. The body was recovered after remaining in the water about an hour. Culver was a young man of much promise, about 17 years old, and belonged to Brooklyn, N. Y.

Frank B. Lord, Esq., of Washington, D. C., a native of South Newmarket, has recently been visiting his native town and State. He is 83 years old and, appears as smart as men at 65. He was a soldier in the war of 1812, and was on duty at Washington at the time that city was sacked by the British.

Tuesday, the 16th, the up train on the North Weare Road ran off the track, owing to a misplaced switch. Three or four men were badly bruised, but not otherwise hurt.

The Northern Railroad holds its annual meeting in Phenix Hall Concord, May 25; the Merrimack and Connecticut Rivers Road, at Phenix Hotel, May 25; the Manchester and Lawrence in Smyth's Hall, Manchester, May 26; the Montreal at Plymouth, May 29; and the Concord at Phenix Hall, May 30.

Mr. Alvin Dexter of Boston has purchased the Indian Head House, lands, farms and stables in Nashua, for which he pays $40,000.

In the celebrated case of Ordway vs. Haynes, for malpractice, Judge Sargent has ordered judgment, but a bill of exceptions has been filed by Ordway's counsel, which will go before the full bench, and may result in a fourth trial of this bitterly-contested case.

Dr. Lookup Evans, the notorious illegal practitioner of New York, has been convicted for assault with intent to commit manslaughter in the second degree, the jury having been out all night, and sentenced to three years and six months in the State prison at Sing Sing. His name will be Lockedup Evans hereafter.

NATURE'S REMEDY.

VEGETINE,

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

THE METHODIST, of New York, has always been edited with marked ability by Rev. Dr. CROOKS. Its publishers have just added to its editorial corps, Rev. ABEL STEVENS, an equally experienced journalist, and author of the best History of Methodism extant. They have also engaged contributions and sermons from Rev. T. DEWITT TALMAGE, whose success and popularity as a preacher, writer and lecturer, are almost unexampled, and whose free Tabernacle in Brooklyn, with its congregation of over 3,000 people, is one of the marvels of the age. Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER has a Lecture Room Talk, and something for everybody. Mrs. Willing's great serial story is almost ready. They offer for the price of one year's subscription ($2.50) THE METHODIST Magazine from now until July 1st, 1872. Specimen copies free. 114 Nassau Street, New York. m3

Consumption, ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE, By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever methods of treatment exist, they will vainly, by his medicines and his directions for their use, be quickened into manhood, vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the latter, and then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It assumes its functions promptly. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Digestion is now progressing, without its previous tortures. Disease begins to retire, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the imposed and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time and space the diseased and the rotten tissue that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is folly. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these broad words:

"I many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then I was given over by my physicians as dying; I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public; they brought me a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, night sweats and pains and stitches all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was given up by my family as my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; these medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them. First, crave appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the depurating at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweats abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a family or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawf6t6

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE— AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in or during it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them unsuccessful by reason of their being adulterated, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

The Chronicle.

THE last of Ruloff was his execution at Binghamton. He met his fate "without whining." As he had said he would, he faced his death with the stoicism of an Indian, but without the Indian's faith in a future existence. He had nothing to say on the scaffold; he had no delay to ask with the rope around his neck; he had declined any assistance in the preparations of his toilet for the hangman; he had refused any religious advice or consolation on the brink of the dark valley: he had lived the life of an outlaw, and he "died as the fool dieth." Yet this man wanted to live if only a few weeks longer, professedly to finish his great work on the origin of languages, but really because even to him the life of an outlaw under the sentence of the gallows had its attractions, and death had its terrors. When informed that his last hope was gone and that his last day in this life had come he was excited into a violent rage, and devoted the day mainly to cursing and swearing against his counsel and the Governor and all concerned in his case, not forgetting his victim and his confederates in the crime which had caught him and brought him at last to his just deserts.

This Ruloff was a strange character. He was a scholar and ambitious of distinction, yet by nature he was a villain and devoted to crime. He wanted to flourish as a gentleman and a savant while pursuing the career of the burglar and the murderer. By day he cultivated the arts and graces of polite society, while by night he professionally consorted with thieves and felons, whose only education was that of the State Prison. His vicious nature drew him into crimes apparently without an object beyond the excitement of the dangers they involved and the pleasure which it gave him to murder.

It is seldom that we meet with such a diabolical villain outside the Paris Commune, and he is wholly destitute of the political excuses of the Jacobin fanatic. We can imagine no incentive to the mysterious murder of his wife and child in the outset of his guilty career, in 1846, except as a monomania for human blood. The story is that in the night he murdered the mother and her babe, and, putting them in a chest, with their bodies bound round with iron wire to prevent their rising, sunk them in the deep water of Cayuga Lake, where their remains lie to-day. As their bodies could not be found the crime of murder could not be fixed upon Ruloff in this case; but he was tried and convicted and suffered ten years at hard labor in the State Prison for the abduction of his wife, the circumstantial evidence of the murder being regarded as morally, if not legally, conclusive.

He was tried for the murder on the expiration of his State Prison term, but there was still lacking the evidence to convict him. With frequent narrow escapes for burglaries and other crimes, he is at last, by some remarkably keen detectives, captured as one of the gang of burglars concerned, last August, in the murder of young Mirrick, in a store in Binghamton. The bodies of two of the burglars had been found in the river, drowned in their efforts to escape after the murder. They had been severely wounded in their fight with Mirrick and his fellow clerk, or by the third and chief burglar, Ruloff, in the river, to get them out of the way, and some of the articles found upon them furnished the clue to Ruloff's detection, arrest, trial and conviction of the murderer of Mirrick.

Now, for these and other crimes of Ruloff, with his qualifications, advantages and opportunities for comfortably supporting himself and family in honest pursuits, we can supply no motives except those resulting from a naturally vicious nature and disordered mind, improperly trained and delighting in the dangers and excitements of murders and burglaries, and believing that the life of a man is like that of a dog in this world, and that there is no future existence or responsibility for either. There was no escape for such a villain from the hangman, considering the method which controlled his madness; but still there is something of value to society furnished from his shocking career and his miserable ending, in the moral that the ruffian by nature needs something more than Greek and Latin to save him from the State Prison and the executioner.—N. Y. Herald.

A Chicago paper says:—

A little matter of business came under our notice one day last week, which shows how the telegraph and the rail car accomplish results, with a little brain and muscle in combination. The ocean and land telegraphs brought to this city by 9.30 A. M., an order from Liverpool of the same morning at 11 A. M., for the purchase of 5000 bushels of wheat. At 11 A. M. here the reply had started back announcing that the order was filled, and at 4 30 P. M. the whole quantity of wheat was in the cars of the Blue Line, and had actually started on its way to Boston, whence it would take a steamer for its destination.

MONDAY, MAY 22, 1871.

THE committee on the Ku-Klux outrages held an adjurned meeting, May 19, and appointed, as a subcommittee to sit in Washington during the summer, Senators Scott, Poole and Blair, and Representatives Poland, Stevenson, Coburn, Beck and Van Trump. This committee will sit for the reception of testimony till the 20th of September, when the full committee will again assemble. The democrats are opposed to going South, so the copperhead charge that the republicans would oppose such a course from fear that no evidence of outrages could be found, while the democrats would favor it, amounts to nothing.

THE British Provinces are disgusted with the treaty of Washington, or at least so much of it as relates to the fisheries, and the provincial legislators say they will never submit to it, let the mother country make what arrangements she likes. This is sad to contemplate, just as peace seemed so close at hand.

—The New Haven Democrats are seeking to creep out of a very small hole, by claiming that the ballot stuffing and stealing in the Fourth Ward of that city was the work of professional gamblers, who had bet on English. The fact that they can't lay their hands on the offenders would seem to indicate that according to their own story gamblers and democrats are most wonderfully alike.—Exchange.

AT the present rate of progress, Foster, the murderer of Mr. Putman in a New York street car, will never be hung, as he will die of old age before his trial is concluded. Several large panels of talesmen have been exhausted and only eleven men found who are willing to sit on the scoundrel. On the 20th, 200 talesmen were gone through, but the required juror was not among them. Another panel of 350 has been ordered.

A violent tornado and hail-storm passed over a belt of land one mile wide in New Kent county, Va., May 19. Trees and houses were blown down, persons on the road were knocked senseless by the hail-stones. Hail was found in some places nine inches deep. The crops are entirely destroyed. Four years ago a similar tornado passed over the same belt of land. We should imagine that real estate would be cheap in that neighborhood.

THOSE who sorrowed because Mace and Coburn were not allowed to kill each other the other day will find consolation in the fact that the citizens of Kansas City, Mo., where the fight is announced to take place on June 2d, have arrived at the deliberate conclusion that it is their duty to go out with pistols and shoot the roughs on sight. It is a pleasing task to record such a sensible decision by the western men, and will be a still more pleasing one to announce that they have done their duty thoroughly.

EMMA CLANE, age 16 years, died in New York May 18 from a pistol-shot wound inflicted by herself. The day previous she was to have been married, and with her parents and friends was in the church waiting for the expected bridegroom, one George Reed, who failed to come, and Emma, her relatives and friends returned home. The girl, overcome with grief, admitted that Reed had seduced her under a promise of marriage. She requested to be left alone, and soon afterward the report of a pistol was heard. Her parents rushed to her room and found she had shot herself in the breast. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Reed.

WILLIAM A. GLOVER, a man who is married and very well off, and lives in a fine brown-stone-front-house on East Forty-Second Street, New York, with his wife and child; and who the officer making the arrest says "has acted like a thorough gentleman while in his hands, and is a very courteous and agreeable companion," is now in jail in Boston, charged with complicity in the famous Boylston Bank robbery of Nov. 20, 1869. The detectives have been after him for a long time, and knew where he lived, but he is a cunning personage and well protected by political influence. He was caught shortly after leaving his brown-stone-front house on the 19th.

THE body found on May 12, by the Hudson River fishermen, near Poughkeepsie, has been recognized as that of Jack Stevens, a notorious river-steamer sneak-thief, who, having been detected in an attempt to rob a passenger, had jumped overboard with a life-preserver and drowned.

THE Hudson Highland Suspension Bridge Company has begun operations. The books for subscriptions to the capital stock, which is fixed at $2,500,000, were formally opened May 17, and the bridge will be begun early in the summer and probably be finished before the 4th of July, 1875. The place selected is from Anthony's Nose on the east bank of the Hudson, four miles above Peekskill and forty-three miles from New York, across to Fort Clinton, on the west bank, four miles below West Point. This is the narrowest part of the Hudson River between New York and Albany. The bridge will be in one span of 1600 feet from shore to shore. Comparatively little masonry will be required in the abutments, as the solid granite mountain basis on either side affords natural support. The length of the bridge between the towers will be 1666 feet; total length, including approaches, 2449 feet; height above the water level, 155 feet; safe working load for the trains, 2400 tons; safe load for highways, 2880 tons; load that would break the bridge, 25,171 tons. There will be twenty main cables in four systems, each cable being about 14 inches in diameter and composed of a new steel combination wire in many strands. The total weight of iron and steel used will be 1750 tons, with a suspended weight of 9651 tons. There will be two decks or floors, the upper for the railroad, the lower as a highway. The elevation above the water level is far higher than the tallest masts of passing vessels. An immediate connection is to be made with Erie, Hudson River and other railroads, and no favoritism or preference will be shown to any road, as all will be charged so much toll for each car.

THE Washington Republican, which is the recognized organ of the administration, defies the Senate by publishing a full report of what transpired in Executive session, Friday, including a brief debate on the best way of getting out of the muddle without loss of dignity. This confirms the report that the President as well as the Vice President sympathizes with the imprisoned correspondents.

A twelve-oared launch belonging to the United States steamer Resaca, carrying the mails from Chipiguana to Panama, 120 miles, was capsized on the 8th instant off Chippilla Island, and Charles Bradenhall, seaman, and letters and documents and $1000 in specie lost. Lieutenant-Commander Barclay was in command of the launch, and after struggling with the waves for four hours he, with his men, succeeded in righting the boat. After great suffering the party reached Panama on foot, having lost the launch, on the 12th. The operations of the surveying expeditions are almost finished. The two exploring parties met at the end of April and selected for the depression a spot near Paya. After a thorough survey the lowest elevation was found to be 716 feet. In landing, Com'r Selfridge merely reconnoitered the locality and estimated the altitude of Diorde with a pocket compass. The actual survey has just been completed, which settles the question. Tunneling is recommended. The feasibility of this route is unfavorably regarded.

Great Falls runs a Street Sprinkler successfully.

Charles Montgomery, a brakemen on Brown's John's River Railroad at Whitefield, fell under a car loaded with logs on the 18th, and was instantly killed, the car cutting off his head and crushing his left leg. He was a native of Leeds, Canada, aged 24 and unmarried.

The Great Falls Journal says four miles of track was laid on the Conway extension last week.

A Great Falls trader recently received 17,750 lbs. of cheese in one day. What a brainy people the G. F.-ians must be.

Nashua had a disastrous fire, Saturday morning. It caught in C. W. Holman's new candy manufactory and burned it and the Dr. Eldredge House on Main Street, a large house owned by Gen. Israel Hunt and other residences. Mr. Holman's loss is $20,000; insured for $1200. The total loss is about $30,000. Twelve families were rendered homeless.

Samuel Kennison, of Great Falls, broke his collar bone by a fall, on the 19th.

The latest advices from Buenos Ayres state that the daily death rate had decreased from 700 to 300, but that three-fourths of the inhabitants had died or left the city.

In less than a week it hadn't an exchange on its list, and the paper was compelled to come out, for once, with some original matter in it. That editor says he will not make any more such foolish threats.

The Household Tonic.

The efficacy of Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters as a specific for recruiting the enfeebled body and cheering the desponding mind has passed into a proverb. In the United States, where this marvelous tonic has borne down all opposition and eclipsed all rivalry, the demand for it has annually increased in a heavier and heavier ratio for years, until at last, the regular sales of this preparation exceed those of all other stomachics combined. Eminent members of the medical profession and hospital surgeons without number have candidly admitted that the pharmacopœia of the faculty contains no prescription that produces such beneficial effects in dyspepsia, general debility and nervous diseases, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. To use the language of a venerable physician of New York, "The Bitters are the purest stimulant and the safest tonic we have. But the uses of the great vegetable antidote are much more comprehensive than such praise would imply. As a preparatory antidote to epidemic disease, a genial stimulant, a promoter of constitutional vigor, an appetizer, a stomachic, and a remedy for nervous debility, no medical preparation has ever attained the reputation of Hostetter's Bitter's. It is the household tonic of the American people, and in all human probability will be so for centuries to come. The magnates of science recognize its merits; and that it is emphatically the medicine of the masses, is proved by its vast and ever increasing sales."

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the MASTER E. E. BRADBURY, U. S. N., lately promoted and placed on the retired list, has been assigned to active duty on U. S. Receiving Ship Ohio, at Boston.

POLICE COURT, Saturday.—Jerry Long, having been drinking pretty freely, was brought before Judge Odell, fined $8.76, and not having the scrip was sent up.

BY the tables of population in another column, which we copy from the Journal, it will be seen that Portsmouth has an excess in the number of females over that of males, of 739 in a total of less than 9300.

THE Aldermanic Committee on Fire Department have concluded to repair Steamer Dearborn at a cost not to exceed $1100. Rather poor economy, considering that a new second-class machine that would be more useful could be purchased for $3500.

AT the annual meeting of the Universalist Parish, last week, Messrs. Joseph P. Morse, Thos. E. O. Marvin and William A. Vaughan, Jr., were chosen Wardens. Mr. William J. Laighton, Clerk for thirty three years, declined re-election and Mr. Alpha Senter was chosen.

MR. DANIEL MASON is to put up a steam planing, sawing and turning mill immediately, on the space hitherto occupied by Mr. Daniel H. Spinney as a wood yard, having purchased the ground for that purpose. We wish him luck, as we do to every one who increases the business of the city.

BARNABEE, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Barry and others gave a concert at Lynn, on the evening of May 16. The Lynn Reporter says it was one of "as fine entertainments as ever were given in the city;" and adds, "if any went to the concert in a state of ill-humor, they certainly went away feeling very differently. for H. C. Barnabee was there, and by his inimitable humorous delineations excited the risibilities of the audience to the fullest extent." Barnabee's quartet sing at the Temple, Thursday evening.

"THERE is not a Republican paper in New Hampshire that dare publish the letters and editorials in the Tribune on those important matters. We challenge the Portsmouth organs of the government, to print the evidence of such papers as the Tribune or the N. Y. Post. They dare not do it."

The above is taken from the end of a column in the "copper horn," devoted mainly to extracts from an article in the N. Y. Tribune, on Ku-Klux outrages in the South. We don't know how many organs the government may have in Portsmouth, but we do know that the Chronicle is our paper, and nobody's else. However, we waive that just now; and premising that the Tribune and Mr. Greeley, deservedly high though they stand, cannot think for us and do not always think as we do, (Mr. Greeley thought it a fine thing to go bail for the traitor Davis,) nor make us believe just what they like any more than can the N. Y. Sun or our local Lyre,—we notice a perfect parallel between the latter's challenge to the republican press to fill their columns with statements they do not credit and with arguments they regard as sophistries, and the bold defiance the famous "Orator Hanley" used to hurl at the British Episcopal dignitaries. The "Orator" was a noisy religious mountebank, who wanted to—and did—make money by his "cheek." He had a huge building in London, called Hanley's Oratory; and during the week he would issue handbills and distribute them all over the city, stating that "Orator Hanley challenges the Archbishop of Canterbury to meet him on the public forum of the Oratory, in presence of the Mind of London and discuss the question of the Apostolic Succession." The challenged dignitary, who probably never heard of the Orator, or if he did, only as a canting demagogue, of course never noticed his bluster; and after the Orator, at the appointed hour, would present himself and vainly call for his antagonist, he would announce that "Orator Hanley has plainly shown to the assembled Mind of London that the Archbishop of Canterbury dare not measure his strength in argument on the doctrine of the Apostolic Succession, with one whom he thus tacitly acknowledges his superior." Our friend the Lyre is very like Orator Hanley.—And while we think of it, how long is it since the democracy have regarded everything in the Tribune as gospel? 'Twas not always thus.

WEDNESDAY evening, May 17, an old house in Newington, owned by Mr. Howe and occupied by two poor families, was burned. The loss is small, but falls heavily, on the poor people who have been rendered houseless.

FOUR young base ballists were captured by the police on Sunday, at Peirce's field, just as they were commencing a "friendly game," and locked up. The party numbered six, but two escaped. One of the captured ones ran into a pond near at hand, but was surrounded by an officer and obliged to yield himself a prisoner. The captives were released after a few hours' confinement.

AT a primary school in this city, recently, the teacher invited a caller to ask the scholars questions. One little one was selected, and the following colloquy ensued;—"Who is President of the United States?" "Joe Adams." "Who is Governor of New Hampshire?" "The Republican Governor is James Pike; Weston is ours." "Who do you love best." "God." "Who do you love next to him." "The Virgin Mary."

From the Portsmouth Journal.

THE CENSUS OF PORTSMOUTH.—We are indebted to the courtesy of Mr. Walter S. Gilman, of the Census Office in Washington, for the following tables, giving a full report of the population of Portsmouth. About 350 clerks are now busy at the Census Office, under a very efficient Superintendent, making up the different statistical reports of the 9th census. When finished it will probably be the most complete enumeration ever made. The publication will be in three octavo volumes, and part of the copy is now in the printers' hands. One hundred and sixty thousand copies are to be printed.

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis for temporary or permanent investment, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 6 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for re-investment.

All marketable Securities taken in exchange free of Commission and Express charges. f24dWaS

Westminster Review for April, American Reprint, from Leonard Scott Publishing Company, 140 Fulton Street, N. Y.; $4 per year. This issue has articles on the American Republic, its Strength and its Weakness; Battles in the Church; Public School teaching; France, the Jesuits, and the Tientsin Massacre; Army Organization, &c.

Edinburgh Review for April, Am'n Rep., from Leonard Scott Pub. Co., 140 Fulton Street. N. Y.; $4 per year. The Galaxy has additional chapters of its three serials; a second article on Lee's Campaign; another on the Criminals of New York; two or three short stories; a sketch of Guizot; some good "drift-wood," much "scientific miscellany," and good matter in its other editorial departments.

The Lady's Friend for June is a splendid number. The steel-plate represents the meeting of Mary, Queen of Scots and Elizabeth, in the garden of Fotheringay Castle. Price $2.50 a year, which also includes a large steel engraving. Published by Deacon & Peterson, Philadelphia.

Our Young Folks for June has three chapters of Mr. Trowbridge's "Jack Hazzard and His Fortunes," with illustrations; a full page illustration by Lucy Gibbons Morse; an instructive illustrated article on "A Drop of Water," and other articles, several of them handsomely illustrated, making it a very entertaining number.

The Atlantic for June is a very attractive number, and includes among its contributions, besides chapter six of "Our Whispering Gallery," a poem from Whittier, and one from Lucy Larcom; the second chapter of "The Capture of Fort Fisher," and of "Mountaineering in the Sierra Nevada;" and other articles of interest.

THE CUSTOM-HOUSE BROKER'S BOY. The Custom-house broker's boy is a wonderful creation of artificial humanity—one of the most curious parasites, indeed, which, like a barnacle, fasten on the great carcass of commerce. His chief business is to take an entry and travel through the intricate passages of the building, and get the proper officials to put on the entry the proper checks; and they do this difficult work after the manner a Skye terrier hunts a rat. They know all the different "divisions" in the building whether of the Collector, Naval Officer, or Surveyor. They know the particular value of these departments, and the clerks at the head of them, whom they designate among themselves not by their names, but by some supposed personal peculiarity. Hence their language is very technical, and only understood among themselves. They have all the "cheek" of a full blossomed broker, added to a want of reverence for any thing on the earth, or under it, which is frightful to contemplate.

They can be seen, in business hours, running about from "division to division," flaunting a paper in front of their faces, yelling and whistling, and calling to each other. Reaching the desired desk, they rudely squirm in front of some old gentleman, and others of more juvenile appearance, "waiting their turn," thrust their "documents" in the clerk's face, and are waited on instantly to get them out of the way. At the precise hour of 3 P. M. they mysteriously disappear. We have spent much time and observation to see a Custom-house broker's boy after that hour, but all in vain; and we have sometimes nearly admitted the conclusion that they are packed away, when not officially engaged, in some of the old vaults which in Wall Street are said to yawn under the temples dedicated to Mammon.—Harper's Magazine for June.

THE mystery surrounding the suicide of the lady at the Stevens House, New York, on April 29, is cleared up, she having been recognized as Mrs. K. E. Harrington, whose maiden name was Eliza B. Seldon, niece of Lieut.-Gov. Seldon and Gen. Cass. She went on the stage when young, and married Andrew Harrington, who became a gambler, deserted her three years ago, and is now thought to be in New Orleans.

—More glory for Chicago—her noble heroes, the "White Stockings"—yesterday batted and caught more balls than the eminent "Olympics" of Washington. The world will now resume business. Mail.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.

Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient.

And for this reason: It is an exact counterpart of one of the most valuable natural medicines in the world. We refer to the great Seltzer Spring of Germany, by which thousands of the dyspeptic, the bilious, the rheumatic, and the victims of venal diseases resort annually, and return to their homes convalescent or cured. The Aperient is one of the first, and by far the most successful of all the efforts made to reproduce, in a portable form, the popular mineral waters of Europe. See that you purchase only the genuine article.

NATURE'S REMEDY.

VEGETINE,

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

THE METHODIST, of New York, has always been edited with marked ability by Rev. Dr. CROOKS. Its publishers have just added to its editorial corps, Rev. ABEL STEVENS, an equally experienced Journalist, and author of the best History of Methodism extant. They have also engaged contributions and sermons from Rev. T. DE WITT TALMAGE, whose success and popularity as a preacher, writer and lecturer, are almost unexampled, and whose free Tabernacle in Brooklyn, with its congregation of over 3,000 people, is one of the marvels of the age. REV. HENRY WARD BEECHER has a Lecture Room Talk every week.

The METHODIST abounds in good things, is never dull or dry, has stories for children, hints for farmers, and something for everybody. Mrs. Willing's great serial story is almost ready. They offer for the price of one year's subscription ($2.50) to send THE METHODIST from now until July 1st, 1872. Specimen copies free. 114 Nassau Street, New York. m3

Consumption,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the remediless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have died.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two medicines which he administers when the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in Dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Hence, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's oldest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressive, without any previous ferments. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indigent father to suffering humanity, Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature must be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased products of disease. The lungs are renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and in almost every case, by all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and attended by nine my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at a straw, I heard of, and adopted the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me, and I consider that I owe my life to them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint bowl full of matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever and night sweats left me, and I began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. My cough left me entirely, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., will continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken to increase the efficacy; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Second, make the lungs healthy. Third, welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the discipline at once be of good cheer. Good blood or healthy follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be required as a popularly accepted household companion in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawlebi6

NEW PUBLICATIONS RECEIVED.

The children's favorite magazine, The Nursery, closes its ninth volume with the June number, which is just out, and is every way an excellent number. Its illustrations are gems in their way, and its articles are full of life and interest. Mr. Shorey has had great success with The Nursery, and well deserves it.

The June number of The Radical has a leading essay on "The Doctrine of Immortality in the Light of Science." Another article treats of "Natural Selection in regard to Man." The writer, without affirming that either Mr. Wallace or Mr. Darwin is absolutely right, asserts that "if natural law accounts for the origin of any species at all, it accounts for the origin of man."

The Monthly Novelette for June embraces in its list of contents a guerrilla story, the experience of a Michigan cavalry soldier in the late war, a sea story, half a dozen adventures and love stories, poetry, engravings, etc. The July number will be altered in form, and increased to 128 pages of reading matter, but the price will remain the same, $2 per year, or 20 cents per number. Thomes & Talbot, 63 Congress Street, Boston.

The Little Corporal for June closes volume twelve of this valuable Juvenile. The next number begins a new volume, and also a new story, by Emily Huntington Miller, entitled, "Summer Days at Kirkwood." Terms, $1.50 a year. John E. Miller, Publisher, Chicago, Ill.

The White Stockings of Chicago and the Olympics of Washington played a second game on Friday in Chicago. At the close of the eighth inning the White Stockings had failed to score a run, but in the ninth inning, by terrific batting, coupled with errors by the Olympics, they scored nine runs (six earned), placing them five ahead. The Olympics in the ninth inning made three runs, losing the game by a score of nine to seven. The excitement was intense, and the game is regarded as one of the most remarkable on record.

APRIL, MAY and JUNE,

Catawba Grape-Juice Pills

AND HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED

Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla.

Helmbold's Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla

AND HELMBOLD'S

FLUID EXTRACT GRAPE-JUICE PILLS,

ARE THE BEST AND MOST RELIABLE.

One bottle of Helmbold's Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla equals in strength one gallon of the syrup or decoction as made by druggists; and a wine-glass added to a pint of water equals the celebrated Lisbon Diet Drink—a delightful and healthful beverage.

The Grape-Juice Pill is composed of Fluid Extract of Catawba Grape-Juice and Fluid Extract Rhubarb.

Useful in all diseases requiring a cathartic remedy, and far superior to all other purgatives, such as salt, magnesia, &c.

Helmbold's Grape-Juice Pill

is not a patented pill, put up as those ordinarily vended, but THE RESULT OF TEN YEARS' EXPERIMENTING, AND GREAT CARE IN PREPARATION. SAFE FOR AND TAKEN BY CHILDREN. NO NAUSEA, NO GRIPING PAINS, BUT MILD, PLEASANT, AND SAFE IN OPERATION. TWO BOTTLES OF THE FLUID

EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA

AND ONE BOTTLE OF

The Grape-Juice Pills

ARE WORTH THEIR WEIGHT IN GOLD TO THOSE SUFFERING FROM BAD BLOOD, POOR COMPLEXION, HEADACHE, NERVOUSNESS, WAKEFULNESS AT NIGHT, COSTIVENESS, AND IRREGULARITIES, and to those suffering from broken and delicate constitutions, it will give new blood, new vigor, and new life.

THE CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS

are done up with great care and in handsome bottles, and will surpass all those vended in wooden boxes, and carelessly prepared by inexperienced men, comparing with the English and French style of manufacturing. All of

H. T. HELMBOLD'S

PREPARATIONS ARE PHARMACEUTICAL, NOT A SINGLE ONE BEING PATENTED, BUT ALL ON THEIR OWN MERITS.

To dispel any impression or prejudices that might exist in the minds of many against my Preparations from the publicity given, through advertising, and that I am and have been a Druggist for a period of 20 years—and more conclusively to prove this—see letter

TUESDAY, MAY 23, 1871.

THE Lyre man is filed because we don't choose to allow him to select matter for the Chronicle. Well, we can't help it. We know he thinks he is the only man in these parts who can edit a paper properly, having read his statements to that effect so often that we are not likely to forget it. But we prefer the authority of the democratic Louisville Courier-Journal, a southern paper, which openly says that it is folly to deny the existence of Ku-Klux outrages or to charge them to the radicals, to the authority the Lyre condescendingly offers us.—The brilliant editor also informs us that "the doctrines [the Apostolic Succession] which the Archbishop [of Canterbury] sneered at and dare not try to refute, were adopted by the church and are now universally adopted by it." This information is indeed new to us, as we always thought it was "Orator Hanley" who ridiculed the Apostolic succession, and dared the Archbishop to publicly discuss it. But if he says it was the other way it must be all right. Explain some more, please.

THE Ohio democracy, in their county conventions, are generally endorsing the new Vallandigham platform. Whether the new party—for the Vallandigham platform throws aside every principle for which the old democratic party has been fighting for many years—will take a new name or not, is not stated; but the Ohio democrats have made more progress towards deserving the name they have so wrongfully borne, by this one step, than they have made before since the day of Andrew Jackson. Now let them declare that every dollar of the national debt and not a dollar of the rebel one shall be paid, and no question ever raised as to rebel bounties and pensions, and they will then stand nearly abreast of the republican party in declaration of principle, however much behind it they may be in their public record.

GOV. JEWELL, of Connecticut, in his recent message to the Legislature of that State, says: "I desire to call the attention of the General Assembly to the fact that, while our legal rate of interest is but six per cent., very little money is in fact loaned at that rate, except from the school fund. Millions of dollars annually leave this State (Connecticut) not so much for a higher market, as for a market where a higher rate is legalized. Such a state of things appears to be detrimental to our best interest." Gov. Jewell's remarks apply to New Hampshire, as well.

THE Campaign in Kentucky is to be a lively one. The Democrats are on the stump with their best speakers. At the late local elections the Republicans made many gains, and the Democrats evidently think that a vigorous canvass is necessary to enable them to hold their own even in Kentucky.

The Republicans have nominated a ticket of contessedly first-class men, notwithstanding the odds against them. If they may not win, they propose to deserve success.

MRS. FAIR thinks she will live to dance on the grave of the judge before whom she was tried. So she would if she could get a fair shot at him.

THE workshop and engineers' building at the Naval Academy were partly destroyed by fire early Sunday morning. The loss is estimated at $30,000.

TWENTY masked men in Missouri recently made an attack on U. S. officers, to rescue two illicit distillers from their custody. Several shots were exchanged and one of the officers wounded, but the prisoners were lodged in jail.

OFFICIAL reports of the military authorities of Arizona on the late massacre of Apaches at Camp Grant, charge that the Indians are peacefully engaged on their reservations and are entitled to the protection of the United States as prisoners of war, and that the whole number killed was only eight men. The butchery is denounced as simply an unprovoked murder.

EARL DE GREY, Sir Stafford Northcote and General Schenck will sail for Europe on Wednesday, May 24. There seems no doubt of the ratification of the treaty by the Senate by a very large majority, and it is thought that General Schenck will be able to carry it with him on Wednesday. All the amendments offered in committee were promptly voted down by a large majority, and its opponents have lost all hope of doing anything effective.

MR. JOHN PEARSON, Jr., the well known Newburyport baker, is constantly putting new kinds of biscuit in the market, and shows an enterprise and versatility in his line that explains why he is so successful. He is now putting up an A 1 quality of Pilot Bread and Spice Biscuit that tempt customers, who purchase once, to keep them always in their families. Food is necessary to all, and the individual who prepares healthful food in most palatable manner is a public benefactor. Vive la Pearson!

FRANCE.—At last the Versailles forces have entered Paris. A combined attack was made Sunday afternoon, and they stormed the city at two points simultaneously. The insurgents had abandoned Malakoff and Montrouge and were flying in the utmost disorder. The Versailles forces now hold every position which they captured, while the federalists are perfectly demoralized, and the leaders have skulked away. The ramparts have been abandoned by the insurgents. The reign of terror continues; the archbishop of Paris and other clergymen are to be executed.

THE Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad is taking measures to extend its track from West Ossipee to Conway, and work will soon be commenced on that part of the line. The Northern terminus of this road is at Gorham, connecting with the Grand Trunk in that town. The road passes close to the Glen House, and that property, it is estimated, would be enchanced in value $50,000 by the opening of this route from the mountains to the beaches. When the road is completed, passengers can make a round trip from Boston to the Mountains via the B. C. & Montreal Railroad, and return by this route, all the way by rail, except the descent from Tip Top, Mount Washington, to Glen House.

The Household Tonic.

The efficacy of Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters as a specific for recruiting the enfeebled body and cheering the desponding mind has passed into a proverb. In the United States, where this marvelous tonic has borne down all opposition and eclipsed all rivalry, the demand for it has annually increased in a heavier and heavier ratio for years, until at last, the regular sales of this preparation exceed those of all other stomachics combined. Eminent members of the medical profession and hospital surgeons without number have candidly admitted that the pharmacopœia of the faculty contains no prescription that produces such beneficial effects in dyspepsia, general debility and nervous diseases, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. To use the language of a venerable physician of New York, "The Bitters are the purest stimulant and the safest tonic we have. But the uses of the great vegetable antidote are much more comprehensive than such praise would imply. As a preparatory antidote to epidemic disease, a genial stimulant, a promoter of constitutional vigor, an appetizer, a stomachic, and a remedy for nervous debility, no medical preparation has ever attained the reputation of Hostetter's Bitter's. It is the household tonic of the American people, and in all human probability will be so for centuries to come. The magnates of science recognize its merits; and that it is emphatically the medicine of the masses, is proved by its vast and ever increasing sales."

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in the highest. It is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface not easy to be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINTS, in the City. Also Dealer in

Two days of warm weather has started things. The clerk of the weather is desired to pour on more water.

THE handsomest sign on Market Street is that of the Andes Insurance Co., of which C. A. Hazlett is Agent.

THE report that Henry R. Stoddard brought that last lot of horses from Canada, to be used on the Portsmouth horse railroad, is indignantly denied.

THE Middle Street (Baptist) Church was closed on Sunday, the pastor being in Chicago. Messrs. Alden and J. C. Carr are attending a Baptist convention there.

WE are glad to see our old friend Samuel W. Moses, Esq., sufficiently recovered from his severe illness, lasting several months, to resume business.

STEAM Fire Engine Dearborn went up to Boston on Monday night's freight train. The machine is to be repaired at Boston Highlands by the makers, Campbell & Whittier.

IT is reported that Mrs. Marcy, of the Unitarian choir, will be obliged to suspend singing for six months, her physician insisting that it is necessary for the full recovery of her health.

THAT goat roams at pleasure and is a public pet. As a butter of bags in the rear of tinmen's vehicles, he has no equal. His perseverance is remarkable, and therein lies his safety.

ABOUT 125 members of the different Lodge of Odd Fellows in Portsmouth, attended the funeral of James L. Johnston of Eliot, Sunday afternoon. The deceased was a member of N. H. Lodge, of this city.

THERE'S much growl about the dust, when it comes. The dust flies and the Sprinkler wets some of it down, only (of course) where he is paid to do it. It's another example of doing things by the halves, which suits nobody.

THERE were 75 confirmations at the Catholic church on Sunday. An attempt to have Canon Welch removed, failed, all but six of the Society favoring him. The Bishop stated that the Sisters of Charity would return in less than six months.

SHOULD the old city building be struck by lightning some night when Judge Bufford et als are out of it, there might be a creditable City Hall erected, ere the youngest inhabitant of Portsmouth grows gray-headed. An earthquake is not expected.

IT is said nothing will delay the completion of the Dover & Portsmouth Railroad in 1872, should the legislature pass the bill allowing Dover and Portsmouth to guarantee the interest on its construction, which will be proposed at the session, next month.

MISS ADDIE RYAN sailed for Europe on Wednesday in the Russia to perfect herself in her musical studies. She has many friends in this city in public and in private life, who are confident that she will improve her rich, natural and acquired abilities during her absence.

THERE is but a small amount of crushed rock on hand, which causes delay in the necessary repairs of streets. Most of the rock crushed previous to the breakage of the crushing machine has been used on Islington Street, where the heavy brewery teams pass. It is hoped that repairs on the machine will be completed by the first week in June.

THOSE good old tunes at the Sunday evening Praise Meeting in the North Church rang out finely. The soul that cannot appreciate such grand music as Pleyel's Hymn, must be a small one. The public interest in these meetings is great, as the packed house Sunday evening, testified; and the continuance of them as contemplated will doubtless be productive of much good.

MAIL agents have a provoking habit of carrying the New York and Boston mails for this city to Portland, occasionally. Another case of this kind occurred Saturday evening, and hundreds of citizens went from the Post Office grumbling. The officials here are in no wise to blame, but the route agents are the means of a deal of trouble by these repeated cases of carelessness.

WE are pleased to receive items of news from reliable sources, and thank many kind friends for their zeal in our behalf. A very few persons however, have seen fit to give us items that have proved false or contain some misrepresentation. If they have any true friendship for us, it will suit much better in the future should they confine themselves to facts or send their "news" elsewhere.

THOMAS TARLTON, Esq., of Newcastle, died on Monday at the age of 64 years. He had been prominent in town affairs, had held various town offices, and represented Newcastle in the legislature. In 1866 and 1867, he ran as the Democratic candidate for State Senator in this District, being defeated by Hons. Darius Frink and Ezra A. Stevens. The funeral of Mr. Tarlton will take place Wednesday after, noon.

MICKY LOWREY of Boston came to town on Monday to clean out the Portsmouth police force, he says. He threatened the life of Mr. Samuel Staples at Spring Market, after sweeping Mr. Staples' lobsters from their resting place to the ground. Officers Davidson and Stearns took him to the Police station, after a scuffle in which Davidson grounded him. Mickey has $1,10 remaining with which to "keep up his courage up."

MR. G. L. CUSHING, the well known and skillful violinist, left this city Monday morning, May 22, for St. John, N. B., where he has a three months' engagement to play in a theatrical orchestra, of which Mr. Muller, also well known here, is leader. With two such performers, the patrons of the St. John theatre will have first-class music; and the best wishes of many of our citizens will accompany Mr. Cushing, who has won the esteem of a large circle of friends during his residence among us.

AMONG those who have pledged aid towards the erection of the Universalist Church at Kittery, are Gov. Perham of Maine, I. Hanscom, Esq., U. S. N., Chief of Bureau of Construction and Repair, Gen. Samuel F. Hersey of Bangor, Hon. Charles Kimball of Portland, and Mr. J. G. Harvey, of this city, in memory of the late Rev. T. Starr King. The Kittery Society is but recently organized, yet they hope to have their church free when it is completed; and any contribution, however small, will be thankfully received.

AN old subscriber has handed in a report of the Parish meeting of the Universalist Society, too late for our use, as we have already published one account of it; but we take pleasure in quoting from his report the statement that "under the ministry of our excellent pastor, Rev. George W. Bicknell, the Society is harmonious and of course most prosperous; nearly every pew and seat in the church is rented and what is better still, well filled during divine service; connected with the Society is one of the largest Sunday Schools in the city, in which much interest is manifested, and to the prosperity of which Mr. Bicknell's efforts have largely contributed; and a good choir furnishes sweet music on the Sabbath. The fine new organ gives very general satisfaction."

THE twelfth juryman for the trial of Foster in New York has been selected.

DEATHS.

In Newcastle, May 22, THOMAS TARLTON, Esq., aged 64 years.

In this city, Mr. J. R. SWEETSER, aged 36 years. His remains were taken to Biddeford, Me., for interment.

THE PATENT RIGHT SWINDLE.—Among the many swindling operations of the day, the patent right dodge, which has been several times referred to in this paper, is largely practiced on farmers. The following note is a copy in use by these sharpers. It will appear at first sight to be perfectly simple, and no person wishing to take an agency for any of the many patents would hesitate to sign it;

One year after date, I promise to pay A. Sharp or order two hundred and seventy-five dollars for value received, at ten per cent. per annum, payable at Smithfield, Pa. SMITHFIELD, PA., April 15, 1871.

Witness; JOHN DOE. JOHN SMITH, Agent for A. Brown. beaver ten dollars when I sell by machines, said ten dollars, when due, to

Now, having [illegible] the above carefully, and supposing it to be all right for $10, just cut it in two between the two words or and beaver in the first line and you find that the left hand piece is a perfect note for $275. Having induced a farmer to accept an agency as specified in the original note, and having obtained his signature, the sharper departs. He then carefully cuts off the right hand portion, proceeds to the nearest broker or banker, to whom he offers to sell the note at a discount, on the plea of needing the money. The signer is generally a responsible person, and well known to the business men of the village, and the note is purchased. When the note becomes due it is presented for collection, and as the signatures are indisputable the horrified farmer is compelled to pay $275 when he supposed he owed only $10.—Great Falls Journal.

A COLORED HERMIT.—Even the Boston gentlemen of color participate with the white savans of the Hub in their lofty disdain of the talent of New York. A friend, happening to be caught in that city over Sunday, thought he would take a glimpse at some of the churches. Stepping inside the porch of an A 1 meeting-house, the sexton, colored, approached respectfully, and said: "Will you have a seat, Sah? Happy to show you to one, Sah. Plenty seats this morning, Sah."

"No, thank you; can't stay but a moment; just stopped at the church. What is the name of the clergyman?"

"That, Sah, is the Rev. Dr.——"

"Fine preacher, isn't he?"

"Well, Sah, peoples has different notions 'bout preachers."

"But he seems quite animated?"

"Yes, Sah; consid'ble animated."

"And appears to have talent?"

"Well, Sah, as I said afo,' peoples has such different notions 'bout preachers. Dar's some dat thinks he's mighty good on de words. I tink myself he's a fair man, sah—a fair man, but not of de prima facie class. He's a good man, Sah, a wellmeanin' man, but not a talen'ed man. He's a New York man, Sah!"—Harpers Magazine for June.

—The halo of New Jersey's glory has left her. Her Ichabod hath departed. The Camden and Amboy road, the pride of the State and the ruler of Legislatures, has been ceded to Pennsylvania; and Tom Scott, like Commodore Stockton of old, carries the little borough in his breeche pocket. Of the four great railroads monopolists east of the Rocky Mountains, all of whom are bending their energies altogether to the possession of the great Pacific route — Vanderbilt, Scott, Garrett and Fisk—Scott seems to be far ahead. The lease of the Camden and Amboy gives him yet another lift, and, with his Legislative and Senatorial influence brought into requisition, we expect to see this rising Pennsylvanian strutting around ere long not only with a Pacific Railroad in his breeches pocket, but even with Vanderbilt and his Central strapped over his shoulders, Garrett and his Baltimore and Ohio snugly ensconced in his portmanteau, and Fisk and Erie stowed away in his vest pocket.—N. Y. Herald.

—New Orleans has no newspaper that sells for less than ten cents a copy, and announcement is made that one is to be started to be sold for four cents.

—We are told that "in London a child is born every five minutes." How grateful our children should be that their lot is not cast in England. We don't see how a child that is born every five minutes gets time to play marbles, learn its A B Cs, throws stones, or pursues any other juvenile study. Those Britishers do have the queerest customs—don't they?

NATURE'S REMEDY.

VEGETINE,

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

THE METHODIST, of New York, has always been edited with marked ability by Rev. Dr. CROOKS. Its publishers have just added to its corps, Rev. ABEL STEVENS, an equally experienced journalist, and author of the best History of Methodism extant. They have also engaged contributions and sermons from Rev. T. DEWITT TALMAGE, whose success and popularity as a preacher, writer and lecturer, are almost unexampled, and whose free Tabernacle in Brooklyn, with its congregation of over 3,000 people, is one of the marvels of the age. Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER has a Lecture Room Talk every week.

THE METHODIST abounds in good things, is never dull or dry, has stories for children, hints for farmers, and something for everybody. Mrs. Willing's great serial story is almost ready. They offer for the price of one year's subscription ($2.50) to send THE METHODIST from now until July 1st, 1872. Specimen copies free. 114 Nassau Street, New York. m3

Consumption,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the unconscious slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would have been spared untimely death.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines, can be rallied for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-asserting, self-evidencing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the agents through which the cure of the most fatal malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. The Mandrake Pills act on these tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the mandate of the action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's most potent vegetable purgatives. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and noxious deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without the usual tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is soon to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to a suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased matter in the lungs. In the first gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten tissue ejected, the lungs renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this season of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased. The reason is because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet: they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: and, in fact, so far gone that all my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of a remedy; I got it, and it saved my life; now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel the pectoralis my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so good that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much, it so much gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "and found I was within a few pounds my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the simple instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite; 2d, by returning health hunger is the most wholesome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be required as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50 a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

E. A. JOY

Has Fitted up a Spacious and Elegant SEWING MACHINE ROOM directly over his Music Store and employs a competent young lady to take charge of the same. A cordial invitation is hereby extended to all the ladies (not having good Sewing Machines of their own) to bring in lots of work and learn to make it up on the Machines. This will cost nothing whether a Machine is purchased or not. If you do not buy now, you will at some future time; for the day is not far distant when a SEWING MACHINE will be considered as indispensable as a Cook-Stove. Come as often and stay as long as you please.

MR. JOY'S business in the Sewing Machine line is very rapidly increasing, which enables him to make the above generous offer.

His long experience in this branch qualifies him to be an excellent judge of the goods he sells; and as he has had the Agency of all kinds offered him at different times it is reasonable to suppose that the Best SEWING MACHINES may always be had at the SEWING MACHINE EMPORIUM, No. 9 PLEASANT ST., nearly opposite the Post Office, Portsmouth, N. H. Twelve Different Kinds to Select from. mh7

TRY IT!

How well we remember in days that are gone,
The feelings we felt as we saw the cork drawn—
The disgust—the recoil
From "Cod Liver Oil,"
Dealt out to poor souls in the days that are gone!
But who could complain
Of this to be ta'en?
It swallows as easy as sparkling Champagne—
Does "Marvins' Deodorized Oil."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

The figures of the State treasurer for the financial year ending May 31, show a reduction of the State debt of $427,000. The treasurer reckons that with careful legislation, the reduction next year will reach $500,000.

The assessors have figured up the valuation of Dover to be $4,784,276; rate of taxation, 2.22; number of polls, 2,109; number of persons taxed, 2,740; number of dogs taxed, 398.

James J. Griffin, of East Kingston, has sent the editor of the Exeter News-Letter a mess of "Early Rose" potatoes grown this year. Some of them measured one inch and a half in diameter.

Mrs. Chas. B. Hall of Dover attempted suicide by shooting herself with a revolver, Monday. She will recover. Family troubles caused the act.

A wood lot at East Canaan, owned by Horace Chase of Nashua, was burnt over on Wednesday, the damage being estimated at $2000. The fire had not been extinguished on Friday, and other property was in danger. It was caused by an old man burning brush on an adjoining lot.

The stable of Mr. Wentworth in Rochester was burned on Friday, together with two large dwelling houses belonging to J. W. Springfield, and another with out buildings attached, owned by William Rand. At one time there were eleven buildings on fire besides those consumed, and fears were entertained for the safety of the whole village. A despatch was sent to Dover for a fire steamer, which was sent up on an extra train. Loss, $10,000.

Mr. Jacob Green of Keene was thrown from his team on Saturday, receiving fatal injuries.

Coos county's debt is stated to be $87,452.26.

FRANCE. — Over 80,000 Versaillists have entered Paris. They marched in all night, through six gates, and met with but slight resistance. The barricade was not defended, and no mines exploded. The Versaillists are now moving on the Hotel de Ville, where the communists will make their last stand. Thiers was enthusiastically received by the assembly, and announced that severe punishment would be meted out to the principal insurgents. Gen. McMahon's headquarters are in the heart of the city.

The communists are charged with having broken open the vaults beneath the church of the Holy Trinity, and thrown the coffins and bodies into a ditch. Auber's remains were among them, and are now undistinguished among the mass.

Gen. Lenoir has been shot on a charge of treason to the commune. The reign of terror is near its end.

The Versaillists have occupied the Place Vendome, the Tuilleries, to Hotel de Ville and Montmartre. The enthusiasm among the delivered population of Paris is immense. The whole city is in possession of the government troops.

THE Kentucky Election will be held on the 7th of August, and in spite of the immense majorities the Democrats have recently had the Republicans are going to work in earnest and not without hopes of electing one or two of their nominees. The candidate for Governor, Gen. John M. Harlan, is a lawyer of eminent ability, living in Louisville. He served in the beginning of the rebellion as Colonel of the Tenth Kentucky Infantry, and was promoted for gallant conduct to be Brigadier General, but resigned in 1863 to be elected Attorney-General of the State on the same ticket with Gov. Bramlette. Up to that time he had been conservative in politics; but shortly afterward he became a thorough-going Republican. He is a large, fine-looking man, such as Kentucky is proud of, and an admirable popular orator. He will make a lively canvass. The candidate for Treasurer is Gen. Speed S. Fry, who killed Zollicoffer in the battle of Mill Spring.

IN the supreme court at Worcester, Mass., May 22, Reuben and Samuel Perris, Daniel Potter, Charles Gleason, James M. Welsh and Dan Dockerty alias Dan Potter alias John Bull, were arraigned, charged with robbing the Grafton bank. They pleaded not guilty, and in default of bail in $50,000 each were remanded to jail to await trial.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 24, 1871.

THE Lyre is in distress. Vallandigham has opened a new path in which lies the only hope of the Democratic party. In that path the party must tread or once more enter a Presidential campaign discouraged and disheartened. The new departure hurts the copper horn, as it is a reminder that its course and the course of the party it represents is of necessity condemned by the sudden somersault. Progress is a new thing in its hum-drum existence. Monotony has trained it to accustomed ruts that have seemed to paralyze its energies, and, flat on its back, it has looked above, dreaming that it was the world's motive power, and that the stars came in view just for the sake of exhibiting themselves to it, the power that moved the world.

All this time the copperheads have been riding backwards, passing the stations of Compromise, War, Freedom and Peace. The first was a traitorous switch, the second its natural consequence, while the third was the necessary track to bring order out of chaos to the safety of the fourth.

The progress of the copperhead party would have been small, had it been due to its own efforts. It has been dragged by the Republican Union party out of sight of Compromise and War into the blessings of Freedom and Peace. "Out of sight, out of mind," says Vallandigham; but says the Lyre, "We must turn our eyes backward for the sake of the light of experience. We must judge the future by the past. * * We are proud of our record."

Therein lies the trouble. The Democratic party has a record. If its principles were right in 1861, they are right in 1871. If they are right now, their abandonment—a confession that the Republicans were right—is mere policy. Men and nations are judged by their acts. Vallandigham and his followers are either hypocrites or becoming believers in the old adage that "honesty is the best policy." In the one case they are deceptive for the purpose of getting control of the government; in the other they are ashamed of the past and "going back" on their record of ten years.

The Republican party has a record, also: a noble record, of which its every member feels proud. No abandonment of principle, no lusty forgetfulness of its history from its formation, is even suggested. "Now," say Vallandigham's followers, "let's bury past issues; the way is paved before us by the Republican party; we will take a parallel route and get abreast of them." And for what? Success only. "Abandon the record of the past and fight our old enemy on its own principles." And in those days the people will enquire concerning the manner in which the Democracy have used their one talent, and will say to the party which is proud of its record, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

IN the Senate, May 22, Mr. Wilson offered a resolution that Messrs. White and Ramsdell be discharged at the close of the session, and Mr. Sumner one that they be discharged at once. Both resolutions went over under the rules. Just before the end of the session and while Garrett Davis was speaking, Vice-President Colfax was attacked with faintness, and before he could be assisted to his room fell heavily to the floor. He was caught by the clerks and carried out of the chamber. Medical aid was promptly summoned, but the physicians say that his case is quite critical. Mr. Colfax had been complaining of vertigo during the afternoon.

Mr. Colfax being unable to preside on Tuesday, Mr. Anthony was chosen President pro tem..

THE entire business portion of the town of Bradford, New Dominion, including all the stores, the town hall and one hundred houses, was burned, May 22. Over 60 families are left homeless, with children half clad. The loss cannot be less than half a million. Some estimate it at a million.

THE Republican attempt to change the divorce laws in Indiana has been defeated by the Democrats of the Legislature of that State; so the old laws remain, and Indiana continues to be a good stamping-ground for all people who are unhappily married.

THE New Dominion government wants to pay its share and have the storm signal service extended to that country.

THE evidence for the defence in the Foster case at New York closed Tuesday.

THE JURY SYSTEM.—Our present jury system is being discussed by the press all over the land, but I have yet to see the first paper which has felt called upon to devote itself to championing the custom of penning up "twelve honest men (or blockheads) in a box," as a "bulwark of liberty." It is certain that we are approaching a crisis in the jury system, and the sooner it comes the better; the absurdity of supposing that a dozen illiterate laborers, or even a dozen editors wholly unused to courts, can decide on the credibility of witnesses and the relative value of contradictory evidence, better than a bench of judges or even a single judge, after a lifetime spent in studying character and sifting evidence before the tribunals, is every day becoming more apparent; and an institution that was of immense value long ago but is worse than worthless now, seems in a fair way to become at no distant date a thing of the past, or at least to be purged of some of its most ridiculous features.

At the commencement of the Fair trial in San Francisco, the judge gave orders that the jury should not be permitted to go to their homes during the recess of the court before the submission of the case to them. This order was evidently given to prevent the possibility of bribery, and showed a desire on the part of the judge to secure a just verdict. But it was also a tacit acknowledgment of the immense imperfections of the jury system, which could render such a proceeding necessary. Does any one suppose a bench of New Hampshire judges would need to be thus locked after, lest they be tampered with? The mere thought excites a laugh. An exchange, commenting on this Fair-Crittenden case, says "the administration of justice to criminals should not be accompanied by gross injustice to everybody else, and jurymen who are imprisoned should be entitled to damages." So they should; but still better would it be to entrust a verdict to men who could not be suspected, and would therefore not need imprisonment.

Another absurdity in the jury system, as it is carried out in some States, is the selection of fools or plodding blockheads to sit on juries, to the exclusion of everything in the shape of an intelligent man; to read the papers disqualifies a man as a juryman—and with any man at the present day who does not read them, intelligence can only be conspicuous by its absence. Fancy twelve men who "never read the papers" engaged in deciding an important case, involving property or life, on contradictory evidence, after listening to the arguments of learned counsel in which each side has shown the other to be wholly in the wrong in this particular case and immense rascals generally, followed by a charge from His Honor which has extinguished the last faint glimmerings of intelligence in the muddled minds of the twelve honest men! The N. Y. Globe says, concerning the selection of a jury to try Foster, the Putnam murderer:—

The law which expects jurymen to be idiots is absurd. For some days past we have seen the farce going on in this city, of excluding from the jury box all intelligent men who have any opinions, as if a final judgment is to be made from a newspaper report. As the matter stands, we should be sensible, and set apart a certain number of the rising generation to be educated for the jury box. Let them be fed on non-stimulating pap, and confined in some place where it will be impossible for them to receive an impression. In this way their minds would be in the condition of a sheet of fool's cap.

The New Bedford Evening Standard has the same idea, as the following extract shows:—

Perhaps the best way to obviate the evil, if the law is to be continued, will be to establish a juror's asylum. Let the Legislature provide a commodious building in some retired part of the country, in which those liable to become jurors shall be compelled to reside for a fixed term. Let them be well-supplied with all the luxuries of life, with suitable means of amusement, with a good library of classic authors, none less than half a century old, but let all newspapers and magazines from which any information could be obtained of passing events, be rigidly excluded. When a case came to be tried they could be withdrawn from their retreats, and appear in blissful ignorance and with perfectly unbiased minds, and a panel could be made up in no time. Unless some plan of this kind is devised, idiocy will continue to be the best recommendation for a juryman.

How far our New Hampshire courts go in regarding stupidity as a necessary qualification for jurymen, I don't know; but I believe no distance at all, having once been drawn on a jury myself—come to think of it, though, I didn't sit. But even with intelligent New Hampshire juries, we occasionally read of verdicts being overruled as being "against law and evidence," and experience shows that to obtain a just verdict in a case where political prejudice is brought to bear is well nigh impossible; the twelve honest men will disagree, no matter how conclusive the evidence offered them. The whole jury system, taken at its best, is now but a mummy,—a relic of another age and respectable only for its antiquity.

The Household Tonic.

The efficacy of Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters as a specific for recruiting the enfeebled body and cheering the desponding mind has passed into a proverb. In the United States, where this marvelous tonic has borne down all opposition and eclipsed all rivalry, the demand for it has annually increased in a heavier and heavier ratio for years, until at last, the regular sales of this preparation exceed those of all other stomachics combined. Eminent members of the medical profession and hospital surgeons without number have candidly admitted that the pharmacopœia of the faculty contains no prescription that produces such beneficial effects in dyspepsia, general debility and nervous diseases, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. To use the language of a venerable physician of New York, "The Bitters are the purest stimulant and the safest tonic we have. But the uses of the great vegetable antidote are much more comprehensive than such praise would imply. As a preparatory antidote to epidemic disease, a genial stimulant, a promoter of constitutional vigor, an appetizer, a stomachic, and a remedy for nervous debility, no medical preparation has ever attained the reputation of Hostetter's Bitter's. It is the household tonic of the American people, and in all human probability will be so for centuries to come. The magnates of science recognize its merits; and that it is emphatically the medicine of the masses, is proved by its vast and ever increasing sales."

THE organization called "The Hoochecookochee Boys from Apalachicola" is said to be composed of idiots whose principal object is to capture old friends on their return to this city and get them drunk. The society "bent" too much, Monday evening, and the victim they had in tow was the soberest youngster in the crowd.

IT is a long time since our citizens were favored with a first-class concert, and we hope Barnabee's heart may be gladdened by being welcomed to-morrow evening by an audience limited only by the capacity of Temple Hall. Howard M. Dow, the pianist, seems to be regarded as a necessary adjunct when Barnabee is announced, and is a prime accompanist. He who has not heard and seen Barnabee should not let this opportunity pass. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Barry are favorites, sweet singers, who will be gladly greeted. Mr. Fessenden is highly spoken of as the possessor of a fine tenor voice and a capacity for using it.

AMONG the pensioners of the war of 1812 who have recently visited this city for the purpose of securing their allotments, is Col. John Meserve of Rochester. The Colonel is 86 years of age, yet his appearance indicates him about 60. He took a lively part in seven encounters with the Indians in 1812, and as proof that his ardor for fighting was not dampened thereby, we may mention the fact that so earnest was he to engage in helping suppress the late rebellion, that he endeavored to pass himself off as being nine years younger than he really was, that he might pass examination. He failed to convince the enlistment officer that he was so young as he claimed to be, and was obliged to stay at home. He had six grandsons in the war for three years, however.

IS IT ECONOMY?—In the Board of Aldermen on Thursday evening last it was voted to repair the steamer Dearborn at an expense not to exceed $1100. There are a few facts connected with the history of this steam fire engine that we will place before the public which perhaps may better enable our citizens to decide the question in reference to the economy of the proposed scheme.

The original cost of the steamer alluded to was $4500. Three of this pattern were built, and only three. Two were purchased at Roxbury, which have since been sold (the steamers, not the citizens, although it may be conceded that the latter were recently badly sold) for the sum of $500 each. The other (Dearborn 1) has been a useless piece of property to our city ever since her arrival hither, having rendered effective service on hardly any occasion. If there has been a fire where water was not abundant she could not be used for the lack of water. If water was plenty there was trouble with her valves or some other portion of her machinery, so that she has not been available except in a few instances. Now the city is to expend $1100 in repairing her, and when these repairs have been made the additional weight to the machine will be about five hundred pounds. Add to this the fact that the construction of the draught attachment being such as to cause the strain to come upon some portion of the gearing in such a manner as to occasion leakage every time she is drawn to a fire, and what have we but an elephant which we know not what to do with? It is supposed that the Committee on Fire Department acted in accordance with their ideas of economy, but with the limited information we possess of the matter we are unable to comprehend it.

THE infant son of James Melville, performing in Lent's Circus, fell from a horse while riding in Portland, and was badly injured.

WE take the following from the report of the Teachers' committee, published in the Freedmen's Record. In speaking of Schools in South Carolina, it says:

We have still the Shaw school in Charleston, under Mr. Sumner's care, with four Northern and three Southern teachers. The corps of teachers has been very efficient this winter, and the school has been in fine order. The thoroughness of Mr. Sumner's methods makes this the model school, which we are most anxious to keep up to its present high standard. It is far more important to secure for future teachers those who are thoroughly trained in the elementary branches, than those who have a smattering of Latin and Geometry. We cannot yet expect this perfection of method in Southern schools, and we feel it to be very important to preserve such shining examples. We hope we shall be able to continue this school under its present instructors for some years to come.

Miss Carrie Haley, of this city, is one of the teachers in the school above referred to, which takes its name from Col. Robert G. Shaw, of the 54th Mass. Regiment.

THE editor of the Saco Independent, "Andrew Jackson," was off with the excursionists last week. His substitute thus coolly remarks: The unusual excellence of our paper this week must be attributed to the fact that the editor has gone away. He had an invitation to go to Bangor and Mattawamkeag and other places down east with unpronounceable names on the Great Pullman Car Excursion train, and about the same time he got a notion in his head that he was born in Winthrop about a hundred years ago, and we wouldn't wonder if he had been seen at the Winthrop centennial celebration in that good old town. He thoroughly disguised himself before leaving, by putting on a new hat, and we fear his identity may be questioned. His friends down east, if he has any, are requested to treat him well, and not hurry him home.

THERE was a large fire in Baltimore, May 22, which caused the loss of $230,000, and a member of the city government was killed by the explosion of an engine.

Morning Chronicle.

HOW TO STOP THE KU-KLUX.—Now we are to take courage, and we are to press home on the executive the prompt use of this measure of power which a reluctant Congress has granted him. I believe that the nation stands to-day just where Gen. Butler stood in New Orleans when he arrested Mumford. History repeats itself. Butler stood in New Orleans with less than four thousand troops. Man after man had trampled the United States laws under his feet, and pardon had been begged of the northern general by soft-headed men on his staff and influential citizens of New Orleans, until at last the unsobdued rage of the gamblers and rebels of the city came to the conclusion that Butler did not punish because he did not dare to punish. There had not been a man hanged in New Orleans for seventeen years, and when they saw the flag trampled upon and offensive committed against law, and the guilty man walk out pardoned from the court-martial, they said to themselves the government dare not assert itself. Finally Mumford insulted the flag. The northern general arrested and convicted him, and, if we may read his record, he probably said to himself: "This is as good an instance as any other to try the great question whether I rule this city or the gamblers rule it;" and if you will read the history of that affair you will find that the crowded streets were literally packed with men ostentatiously displaying revolvers and bowie-knives, and loud-mouthed in their threats and sympathy with Mumford, who actually dismayed the staff of the general to that extent that they informed him they did not believe he could afford to risk the punishment of Mumford. Every leading man in the city informed him that order would be at an end if he attemped such an act. His own closest friends told him he would not survive it six hours, while the friends of the prisoner assured him with mocking gladness that he need not have any fear of death, that he was as sure of life as any man that wore the national uniform. Eleven o'clock struck and the condemned man was launched into eternity, and in thirty minutes afterward there was not a human being to be seen in the streets of New Orleans. Silence like the grave reigned within a wide radius from headquarters, and for a month a woman might have carried bags of gold on her undefended person at midnight through the remotest suburbs of the city. At last the defiant spirit of the assassins learned that they had a master. (Applause.)

Now I want Grant to go down into Georgia or South Carolina, and not arrest two men such as the telegraph told us were arrested the other day, "of disreputable character"; I want him to go down to arrest some ex-general who counts his acres by thousands, numbers his wealth with millions, and who stands enshrined in the loving admiration of half the South. I want him to track him to his lair in this nest of assassins, and then arrest him at midnight, try him by sunrise and hang him before the sun is an hour high—(applause)—and when it is done Georgia and South Carolina will learn unmistakably that they have a master. You never will hear of ku-klux again except in the nursery legends. It is a state of war—absolute, perfect war—and what is wanted is the same war power, and if you have not got it these ten States will cower under this wide-spread association, and in 1872 Delaware and Indiana and all the wavering States will side with them, and Democrats will enter the White House, and you will have your war to fight over again. (A voice, "Double.") The first session of Congress, if it does not pass one vote of a doubtful character, by its very discussions will send the national credit down fifty per cent. When you have done that you cannot fight again, for you cannot borrow money, and the South knows it; and this is only the rebellion fighting you in your own uniform. You have got to meet it with the same weapons. Now I do not know whether Gen. Grant will follow this course, but I have no doubt of the counsel of the ablest man that stands near him in the Congress of the United States, and that is the man who hung Mumford in New Orleans. (Applause.) I think Chas. Sumner never said a truer word, and I would rob it of all insult or aggravation if it had say, than when he said that if Gen. Grant would put his whole heart into grappling with the ku-klux question as he did into his policy with regard to San Domingo, we shall not have one ku-klux existing in ninety days. If every man who speaks the English language in the whole United States learned beyond the possibility of a mistake that the President was terribly in earnest, and that he would trample down everything that stood in his way, except the Constitution, in order to reach his object, the first wind of the blow that convinces the cowards of Carolina that Grant is terribly in earnest will crush out the ku-klux. (Applause.) It does not need an army, it does not need a hundred men. You do not need to deluge the South with blood. You do not need five lives taken; but they must be lives of the topmost line; lives that stand out like the peaks of the Alps above society; not the grovelling rubbish down in the valleys which men make tools of to push forward to bear the results if harm comes.—Wendell Phillips.

Michael Buckley and John Warren of Nashua on Sunday afternoon got into a dispute, when Warren stabbed Buckley, it is feared fatally. The victim is a young man, and Buckley is an old man of sixty.

Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient.

And for this reason: It is an exact counterpart of one of the most valuable natural medicines in the world. NATURE'S REMEDY.

VEGETINE,

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

THE METHODIST, of New York, has always been edited with marked ability by Rev. Dr. CROOKS. Its publishers have just added to its editorial corps, Rev. ABEL STEVENS, an equally experienced journalist, and author of the best History of Methodism extant. They have also engaged contributions and sermons from Rev. T. DEWITT TALMAGE, whose success and popularity as a preacher, writer and lecturer, are almost unexampled, and whose free Tabernacle in Brooklyn, with its congregation of over 3,000 souls, is one of the marvels of the age. Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER has a Lecture Room Talk every week.

THE METHODIST abounds in good things, is never dull or dry, has stories for children, hints for farmers, and something for everybody. Mrs. Willing's pattern sheet is almost ready. They offer for the price of one year's subscription ($2.50) to send THE METHODIST from now until July 1st, 1872. Specimen copies free. 114 Nassau Street, New York. m3

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors dosed, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

A GOOD OFFER TO THE Ladies of Portsmouth and Vicinity.

E. A. JOY

Has Fitted up a Spacious and Elegant SEWING MACHINE ROOM directly over his Music Store and employs a competent young lady to take charge of the same. A cordial invitation is hereby extended to all the ladies (not having good Sewing Machines of their own) to bring in lots of work and learn to make it up on the Machines. This will cost nothing whether a Machine is purchased or not. If you do not buy now, you will at some future time; for the day is not far distant when a SEWING MACHINE will be considered as indispensable as a Cook-Stove. Come as often and stay as long as you please.

MR. JOY'S business in the Sewing Machine line is very rapidly increasing, which enables him to make the above generous offer.

His long experience in this branch qualifies him to be an excellent judge of the goods he sells; and as he has had the Agency of all kinds offered him at different times this remarkable fact is supposed that the Best SEWING MACHINES may always be had at the SEWING MACHINE EMPORIUM, No. 9 PLEASANT ST., nearly opposite the Post Office, Portsmouth, N. H. Twelve Different Kinds to Select from. mh7

How well we remember in days that are gone,
The feelings we felt as we saw the cork drawn—

It swallows as easy as sparkling Champagne—
Does "Marvins' Deodorized Oil."

A CURIOUS BIRD.—A Calcutta correspondent sends us an anecdote of that singular bird, the adjutant, or gigantic crane, which may be a novelty to some of our readers. He says that his attention was attracted one morning by an unusual turmoil in the "compound," or out-door premises of the house in which he lived. Looking out of the window, he saw an adjuntant, evidently unable to remount on his wings, standingly helplessly amid a company of at least a hundred crows, whose vociferation seemed to express anything but delight at the presence of their gigantic fellow-biped.

The adjutant, from his usefulness as a scavenger of all work, is a gentlemen very much humored about Indian homesteads; and this one in particular, as was his wont, had been lingering outside the cook's room for any unconsidered trifles which the servants might think fit to throw out. A few crows, however, getting wind of the affair, with the sagacious notion that they might pick up a few chance scraps on their account, were soon on the scene of action. Hunger has no compunctions; and at last, one of them more venturesome than the rest, approaching more closely than actual prudence would have dictated, ventured to dispute the possession of a bone with the adjutant. The question was not long in abeyance; for, in a few moments, the adjutant—leaving the bone for subsequent discussion—seized the crow hip and thigh, and swallowed him at one gulp.

This summary act seems to have aroused the indignation of the other crows, who by their cries soon brought together numbers of others from every quarter; and for a good two hours they never ceased—some from the ground, others from a neighboring wall—to badger their voracious foe, scolding him to the top of their lungs, and tantalizing him by approaching as close as they dared, extending a claw or a wing to almost within his reach, and suddenly withdrawing it as he attempted to seize them. And this unequalled vengeance they continued for two or three mornings.

The adjutant is one of the most voracious and carnivorous birds known; and the enormous quantity which it can devour may be judged of from its size. From tip to tip of his wings, when stretched out, it measures about fourteen or fifteen feet, and it is five feet high when standing erect. Well-founded stories of its voracity, however, are by no means uncommon. With the adjutant, all is fish that comes to net.

Everything is swallowed whole. In the stomach of one a land tortoise ten inches long, and a large male black cat, have been found entire. A shin of beef, broken asunder, serves an adjutant for but two morsels; and a leg of mutton, five or six pounds' weight, if he can purloin it—for he is a terrible thief—is no more than a fair ordinary mouthful. Fortunately, the courage of the adjutant is not equal to its greediness; for a child, eight or ten years old, can scare it with a common switch. Once a Week.

TOADS DROWNED BY FROGS.—A gentleman in Lynn, while passing round a pond in that city a few mornings since, witnessed a singular scene, which he describes as follows:

Around the margin of the pond, in the water, there was a large collection of common toads; close beside them was an equally large gathering of bullfrogs; and a battle between the two was in progress. The frogs, being the most powerful, were busily engaged in drowning the toads. One or more frogs would seize a toad and hold his head under the water until he was drowned. Sometimes a frog would find that he was overmatched, and then he would utter a peculiar sound, when one or more of his comrades would come to his aid, and the toad was sure to go under, never to rise again. This battle continued for several minutes, until the toads were completely "cleaned out," when the frogs joined in one triumphant croak, as though they had achieved a victory over mortal enemies. The scene was a most singular one, and such as is rarely witnessed.

—A Pittsburg woman playfully woke her husband by pouring vitriol in his face. In a prison cell she sits while he goes one eye on her.—Boston Post.

—The Indianapolis News has this advertisement which indicates that somebody's hair is coming out badly:—"Reward.—The finder of a set of light colored curls will be rewarded by leaving the same at this office."

—The gentlemen who were wont to come north of the Ohio with John Morgan, for the purpose of purchasing horses and hens when the owners were not present, talk of raising a monument over his untimely grave.

—Mortimer Jones, of an interior town in Illinois, was recently tarred and feathered by his fellow citizens, because he thought proper to play croquet 24 hours after his wife died, and he has brought the matter before a jury to know if these things can be.

In Brooklyn, N. Y., two colored men (father and son) quarrelled about a white woman claimed by the father as a wife and by the son as a mistress. The father was fatally cut with a razor.

In Connecticut, during a period of eight years, according to President Woolsey, of Yale, the divorces foot up 2910; marriages, 33,227—a ratio of 1 to 11. What's the need of going to Chicago to be uncoupled?

The republicans in the Spanish Cortes and the Carlists created a great excitement on Monday, the 22d, the former by a resolution declaring King Amadus' election void and the latter by a resolution declaring Carlos to be the rightful king.

Great fires are raging in Paris in all directions. The Tuilleries palace is totally destroyed.

A despatch from Washington states that the condition of Vice President Colfax is very critical. His physicians say there are many chances against his recovery. President Grant manifests great solicitude on the subject, and at the date of the despatch was preparing to visit the Vice President at his room in the Capitol.

Custom-House Smugglers.—Very young infants and small children are used as instruments for smuggling. On one occasion an immigrant family, man and wife and two nearly grown-up daughters, presented themselves. They were very affable and easy in their manners, and without much trouble to them, were pronounced "all right;" and while the proper proceedings were in progress for their dismissal, one of the officers saw a handsome little boy standing alone, and struck by his attractive appearance, and not knowing to whom he belonged, he spoke to the child, and attempted to "skylark" with him. The officer was surprised to find that the child could not bend his body. On examination it was found that his clothing was quilted with valuable articles of silk manufacture and silver spoons. The little fellow belonged to the family, the members of which had just been pronounced "all right."

A gentlemanly-looking but poorly clad passenger, from his intelligent expression of face and agreeable manners, was treated with marked consideration. The officers were so easily satisfied that he was honest, that they took no special notice of a small "lap-cloth," much worn, which was hanging on his arm. A detective, at the time "off duty," noticed a carriage waiting for some person, and asked the driver for whom it was intended, and Jehu pointed to the passenger who was approaching with the lap-cloth, as usual, on his arm. There was something apparently inconsistent in having a carriage for such a man. A suspicion being excited, the officer seized the lap-cloth. On a critical search it was found to be lined or padded with Brussels lace, that sold at public auction for eleven thousand dollars.

The fool smuggler is illustrated by a man, said to be from the western part of the State of New York, who got a diamond worth sixteen thousand dollars safely through without paying the duties. This gem he sold for its value, and subsequently "bragged of his smartness." The fact came to the knowledge of the Government, and the proceeds of the sale were confiscated.

As smugglers, women are more successful than men. The complications of their dress favor the business. The modern "chignon" was for a time a most excellent depository for smuggled goods. A woman is remembered who was so successful that she was constantly crossing the ocean for the purpose, and in a few years acquired a handsome competency. It is a strange metamorphosis that these adventurers sometimes undergo when caught in their work. Some years since a very pretty woman, remarkable for a full bust, broad hips, and plethoric person generally, presented herself for examination. She was very polite and affable, and came near escaping detection. But the female detective then employed at Castle Garden no sooner put her eyes on the rotund figure of the "object" under inspection than she invited the "party" to a private interview. It was incredible what a change was soon effected. Suffice it to say that the apparently well-fed and portly dame of a few moments before, stripped of innumerable dry-goods, stepped into public gaze reduced to a wonderfully thin and rather skeletonized individual. As there is no penalty for smuggling on the person except forfeiture, she went sorrowfully away. Our laws are even more merciful than this; for all goods thus seized can be redeemed, though confiscated, by the payment of an honestly made appraisement.—Harper's Magazine.

Sore Head in Poultry.—The first symptoms are a watery and frothy collection of matter in the eye, often accompanied by warts or sores on the head. If not attended to, the formation of a white, tough matter begins inside of the eye lid, and always below the eye, accompanied by considerable inflammation. The swelling increases rapidly, frequently extending to the inside of the throat, which becomes ulcerated. The fowl becomes blind in one, or both eyes—as the disease sometimes attacks only one eye at a time—and death ensues. The disease is highly contagious, and frequently sweeps the poultry yard, if not arrested.

Poultry thus affected should at once be placed in a coop by themselves. Make a strong brine in an old cup, or some other suitable vessel, and wash the head at least twice a day, using a soft rag. Suffer the brine to go into the eye, as it seems to arrest the formation of the hard tough matter alluded to. It sometimes occurs that this formation has already taken place before the disease is discovered. In such cases I sharpen a piece of chip, and by carefully inserting it between the eye and the lid remove it entirely. If not removed by an operation, though the eye become cured, there will always be an unsightly protuberance. If the head and gills have warts on them, the scabs should be removed by a pocket knife, previous to washing. I do not remember of ever losing but one case, under this treatment, though I have often had to feed them by hand for two or three days, on account of blindness from swelling; and this case was so far gone when I took it in hand, that ulcers had formed in the windpipe. In addition to the above treatment, the nostrils must be kept free of matter by pressing with a rag outward along the beak.—Rural Carolinian.

The Prussians have paid England for the colliers sunk by them in the Seine.

The statement that Bonner would race Dexter against the "San Francisco horse" is false. Mr. Bonner writes, "under no possible circumstance would I allow a horse belonging to me to compete in a race of any kind." That's explicit enough.

—The Queen of Holland washes her own china.

Cheap Superphosphates.—There is no doubt that under the present system of farming, the lands of this country are becoming gradually exhausted. Every successive year brings smaller crops, because it diminishes the fertility of the soil. Only a small portion of what is taken from the ground in the shape of grain and fruits and grasses is restored in the shape of manures. Dairy and grazing districts are partial exceptions; but even in them more manure is wasted than saved, while in gardening or grain-growing it is utterly impossible to make as much natural manure as is required to keep the soil in its primitive fertility. To supply this deficiency it has been found necessary to resort to artificial manures. These fertilizers are prepared in various ways and are of as various merits. Some of them are nearly worthless, except to the manufacturer, who often succeeds in palming off a cheap and spurious article for a time, and thus makes his fortune. Such impositions have aroused suspicions against commercial manures of all kinds, and have thus tended to check their use. This result is certainly to be regretted. Although the dairyman or the grazier can, as a general thing, safely trust to his compost heap and animal manure, artificial fertilizers are indispensable to gardeners, and directly or indirectly to grain-growers.—Utica Herald.

The Household Tonic.

The efficacy of Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters as a specific for recruiting the enfeebled body and cheering the desponding mind has passed into a proverb. In the United States, where this marvelous tonic has borne down all opposition and eclipsed all rivalry, the demand for it has annually increased in a heavier and heavier ratio for years, until at last, the regular sales of this preparation exceed those of all other stomachics combined. Eminent members of the medical profession and hospital surgeons without number have candidly admitted that the pharmacopœia of the faculty contains no prescription that produces such beneficial effects in dyspepsia, general debility and nervous diseases, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. To use the language of a venerable physician of New York, "The Bitters are the purest stimulant and the safest tonic we have. But the uses of the great vegetable antidote are much more comprehensive than such praise would imply. As a preparatory antidote to epidemic disease, a genial stimulant, a promoter of constitutional vigor, an appetizer, a stomachic, and a remedy for nervous debility, no medical preparation has ever attained the reputation of Hostetter's Bitter's. It is the household tonic of the American people, and in all human probability will be so for centuries to come. The magnates of science recognize its merits; and that it is emphatically the medicine of the masses, is proved by its vast and ever increasing sales."

BARNABEE'S Concert this evening. Secure your seats early. Tickets for sale by Preston, Thacher, and Butler & Laighton.

THE Gardner Place, corner of South and Lafayette Roads, was sold on Wednesday by Auctioneer Morse to S. S. Frye for $1500.

THE funeral of the late Thomas Tarlton of Newcastle was attended by a large delegation of Odd Fellows from this city, with the Cornet Band.

THE Odd Fellows were addressed by Rev. A. J. Patterson at the Temple, Wednesday evening, the occasion being the 27th anniversary of Piscataqua Lodge.

THE high winds of the last few days have made it dangerous for the unpracticed in boat sailing. Two youngsters sailing towards the Sagamore on Wednesday morning, had their boat upset; but fortunately, being close to he shore, soon righted themselves and the boat and escaped with a slight wetting.

U. S. Relief Steamer Speedwell towed schooner Sea Pigeon of Calais, Me., from the lower harbor to Railroad wharf, Tuesday morning. The Sea Pigeon was blown ashore on "The Sisters," during the high wind of Tuesday afternoon. She struck bow on, about 2 o'clock, and immediately filled. She has a cargo of 2000 sleepers, now unloading. The vessel is nearly submerged.

THE Lynn Light Infantry, (Co. D,) Capt. George T. Newhall, will visit this city, June 9th, accompanied by the American Brass Band of Providence, R. I., remaining two days in this vicinity. They go to Frost's Point in the afternoon of the 9th, and will visit the Navy Yard the following day. They are to make the Rockingham their headquarters and will leave for home immediately after taking dinner on the 10th.

CHARLES MAIN, Esq., has a four acre lot of winter Rye on the Ocean Road, leading from Lafayette Road to the Greenland depot, from which he has brought us specimens measuring four feet and three inches! The land was last year reclaimed from pasture, is high and dry, and had not been cultivated for fifty years. Mr. Main put on a layer of ashes only, and thinks such a record for the 24th of May will do. We know of no other locality in this vicinity where Rye is over a foot high.

THE increased freight traffic over the Eastern Railroad has compelled the building of more side tracks. Two turnouts have been made on either side of the track between the Plains Bridge and Peter Emery's house, and one on the P. S. & P. Railroad at Butler's Crossing in Kittery, at which points the local freight trains will pass instead of Portsmouth. A new engine-house has been completed at Newburyport and several acres of land have been purchased for the same object at South Berwick Junction, and if it is concluded to run the fast trains between Boston and Portland with three engines, instead of two as now, locomotives for the purpose will be kept at Newburyport and South Berwick.

WE have been called upon by a gentleman (named Reynolds, if we remember aright,) who is procuring subscriptions for a fine picture of George Washington, as W. M. of Alexandria (Va.) Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons. The scene represented is the interior of the Lodge room, and among the brethren present are Franklin, Jefferson, Lee and others, eminent in Masonry and in history, copied from authentic portraits. Washington is represented as wearing the apron presented him by Madame Lafayette, and holding in his hand the marble and gold gavel used by him in laying the corner stone of the Capitol. The picture is a chromo, finished with the brush, and is one of the few masonic pictures we have seen that are worthy a place on the parlor wall; and it has an additional value from the fact that the old Lodge (where the furniture and working tools which were there when Washington was master had been sacredly preserved, some of them being shown in this picture,) has been recently destroyed by fire. Mr. Reynolds will canvass the city, more particularly among the masonic fraternity, for a few days, exhibiting the picture and taking orders.

A nice yoke of cattle on the shambles at Dennett & Russell's to-day, from David Philbrick's farm, Hampton; live weight 5440 lbs.

THE annual meeting of the P. S. & P. Railroad Company, will be held at the Company's hall in Kittery, on Monday, the fifth day of June at eleven o'clock A. M.

GREENOUGH, JONES & CO., of Boston, have issued a Directory of Portsmouth for 1871–72, in similar style as that of 1869–70, and copies are being delivered to subscribers. Foster Shores & Co. have them for sale. Price $1.25.

WE saw on Wednesday a stalk of rhubarb twenty-four inches long, and with the attached leaf over three feet, the growth of three days only! It grew in the garden of Mr. A. Pearson, who thinks a foot of growth in a day is pretty good for high.

THE Portsmouth correspondent of the Boston Journal telegraphs that a proposed prize fight at the Shoals on Wednesday between Collins and Edwards, didn't come off, and closes by saying, "Such arrangements had been made here by the law officers, that had the fight come off in this vicinity all the persons participating, either as principals or lookers on, would have regretted their action hereafter." How high ish dat?

P. S.—It seems that the prize fighters had no idea of coming this way. The fight was to have occurred at Huntington, Long Island, but was broken up by the police.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

Morning Chronicle.

THE NEW LINE TO THE BRITISH PROVINCES.—The grand excursion last week into Eastern Maine, under the auspices of the Directors of the Eastern and Maine Central Railroads, points toward a far greater accomplishment than the novelty of a Pullman Palace train for the first time run into the Pine Tree State, or a mere pleasureable excursion to witness the quality and resources of a remote section of the State of Maine; or even witness what harmonizing of railroad interest in the way of rapid through connections can do for public accommodation. All these things were seen and appreciated as admirable by the railroad gentlemen and representatives of the press, who last week journeyed to the extreme eastern limits of the line of railroads in Maine, under circumstances as luxurious and comfortable as the wit of car builders has yet contrived the world over for passenger travel. The significance, however, the value of what was shown in this trip from Boston to Mattawamkeag, on the Penobscot river, to which point the European & North American Railroad is finished and in through connection with this city, is, that the time of transit is now shortened two hours between Boston and the Province of New Brunswick; that the passage will be done by night express in Pullman cars, and that it is the promise by another year, of an extension of the same rapid and superb accommodation, from New York to Halifax, via Boston, Portland, Bangor & St. John, N. B.

The distance from Halifax by land, all the way around the bay, to St. John, N. B., is 260 miles, and the rails ever this line are, it is expected, to be ready for the cars during 1872; from St. John to Bangor the distance is 205 miles—113 of these are in Maine. Between these two points a through line is now in operation by rail, with exception of a gap of less than 60 miles by steamer, which will be in running order for cars by next September. From Bangor to Portland the distance is 138 miles; from Portland to Boston, 108 miles, thence, 236 to New York. Thus the entire distance by continuous line of rail between Halifax, the extreme point on the continent nearest to Europe, of the steamers, and the city of New York, will be 947 miles, which will be performed in about forty hours by express night and day Pullman trains. In other words, passengers may exchange the tedium, delay, risks and sea discomfort of nearly one-third the whole voyage to and from Europe, and this most trying portion of it all, for the comfort, luxury and speed of the pleasantest style of public land carriage known. It is gratifying to record also, that to Eastern gentlemen of the United States will the tribute be due for this important international accomplishment. The European and North American Railroad Company, between Bangor and St. John, is controlled in the State of Maine. The whole line, aided by grants from New Brunswick and the State of Maine, is being built by twenty associates, who are that corporation, and who hold the Province portion of 92 miles under a lease for 999 years.

But the consequence of establishing this direct line to the Provinces of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, with its quickening facility of passage and freight communications between the great points on both sides the Atlantic, does not measure all its value. Under recent arrangements the line into and across the British Province makes favorable connections in Maine with the Maine Central Railroad, which now unites in itself all the direct roads across the State from Portland to Bangor under an intelligent, liberal management. This really trunk line of the State crosses the Androscoggin at Brunswick, the site of Bowdoin College, a busy town, and connected by rail with Bath, a fine commercial port. Crossing country to the Kennebec, the Maine Central follows the bank of that river nearly forty miles, passing ice houses which represent an investment of a half million dollars, numerous saw mills and two of the greatest water powers of New England, at Augusta and Kendall's Mills, intersecting at this latter place railroad lines from up river and elsewhere. Augusta, the capital of Maine, lies midway on this river line. The industrial interests in the vicinity are large and growing. The ice business developed within a few years furnishes a large traffic; the amount in store for the season is 300,000 tons, of the most superior quality. The land in the valley of the Kennebec, all through, is excellent and the lumber interest—employing more money than ever before, with improved system and economy—is second only to that of the Penobscot. The investments of the Sprague for manufacturing at Augusta may now be counted by millions; and they are still building. Their cottons are now sent to Providence, R. I., to be printed.

On reaching the Penobscot, below Bangor, the Maine Central and its connections, the European and North American, follow the river about seventy miles, and here, beside a variety of minor trade interests, comes in the large city of Bangor, where the number of vessels entering is second only to Boston in all New England. The lumber product of Maine is seven hundred millions of feet. Over one-third of this belongs to the Penobscot. The largest saw mills in the world are here, and the same comparative estimate will shortly be put upon the enormous tanneries which are met on this line of road through the balance of the route to St. John. Moreover, the finest land in the whole State—the Aroostook lands—lay to the north of the European and North American road, and must bye and bye yield to it freight for transportation. This portion of the Pine Tree State is sometimes spoken of as an unknown land, but it has only to be visited to be found smiling with thrift, enterprise, progress, as well as teeming with unbounded natural elements of wealth. And now that it is to be opened at both ends by this great international thoroughfare, we may look for an immediate realization of the marvellous promise made at the inauguration of the grand project in 1850, when at the celebration in Portland we remember that the Yankee and Britisher eloquently pledged heart and hand to its accomplishment.—Boston Journal.

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

THE METHODIST, of New York, has always been edited with marked ability by Rev. D. Curry, D. D. Its publishers have just added to its editorial corps, Rev. ABEL STEVENS, an equally experienced Journalist, and author of the best History of Methodism extant. They have also engaged contributions and sermons from Rev. T. DEWITT TALMAGE, whose success and popularity as a preacher, writer and lecturer, are almost unexampled, and whose free Tabernacle in Brooklyn, with its congregation of over 3,000 people, is one of the marvels of the age. Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER has a Lecture Room Talk every week.

THE METHODIST abounds in good things, is never dull or dry, has stories for children, hints for farmers, and something for everybody. Mrs. Willing's great serial story is almost ready. PRACTICAL APPLICATION OF

HAMLET'S SOLILOQUY

To insure or not to insure? That is the question. Whether 'twill be nobler for my family to suffer The stings and arrows of outrageous fortune Or by taking policy against those daggers, And, by insuring, end them? To fret, to fear, No more; and by a policy to end The heartache and the thousand natural shocks That flesh is heir to. Yes, my application 's Devoutly to be wished; apply, insure, And pay the premium! ay—there's the rub For in that time what premiums may come Before I shuffle off this mortal coil Does make the sense, tightens my purse, And makes me rather pay the bills I have Than fly to others I know not of. Thus does assurance make brutes of us all.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfebl6

A GOOD OFFER TO THE Ladies of Portsmouth and Vicinity.

E. A. JOY

Has Fitted up a Spacious and Elegant SEWING MACHINE ROOM directly over his Music Store and employs a competent young lady to take charge of the same. A cordial invitation is hereby extended to all the ladies (not having great Sewing Machines of their own) to bring in lots of work and learn to make it up on the Machines. This will cost nothing whether a Machine is purchased or not. If you do not buy now, you will at some future time; for the day is not far distant when a SEWING MACHINE will be considered as indispensable as a Cook-Stove. Come as often and stay as long as you please.

MR. JOY'S business in the Sewing Machine line is very rapidly increasing, which enables him to make the above generous offer.

His long experience in this branch qualifies him to be an excellent judge of the goods he sells; and as he has had the Agency of all kinds offered him at different times it is reasonable to suppose that the Best SEWING MACHINES may always be had at the SEWING MACHINE EMPORIUM, No. 9 PLEASANT St., nearly opposite the Post Office, Portsmouth, N. GONE.—Among the saddest losses that the country has had to mourn for some time is the destruction of the colonial and revolutionary buildings by fire at Alexandria, Va., Friday. The country is just getting old enough to cherish warmly the memories and relics of its young days, and when it is known that among the houses destroyed by this fire were the Masonic lodge of which Washington was master, and the old colonial court-house, in which his provincial troops were quartered in 1754, from the door of which Braddock marched to his defeat in 1755, and in which ex-President Washington gave his last vote, in 1799, a feeling of genuine sorrow likely to come over our hearts. We could better have spared many richer and grander edifices. These relics are the things that certify the truth of history, and in this age of iconoclasm, when it is argued that William Tell and Shakesphere are myths, there is no certainty that ere long some irreverent enemy of the past may not propose to prove is that there was no such person as George Washington. The old revolutionary flags in the court-house were saved, however,—the flag of Washington's body guard, the flag of Paul Jones and that of a company of Alexandria, continents. These lessen the misfortune in some degree, but it is a greater loss than busy Yankeeland of to-day has time to brood over, this loss of the grand old landmarks of the revolutionary days.—Exchange.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, MAY 26, 1871.

THE Treaty of Washington was ratified by the Senate at ten minutes before 11 o'clock, May 24, by a vote of 50 to 12, all amendments being rejected.

PARIS.—The city is in the hands of the government forces, but the communists have burned every palace and public building they could, and barricade fighting was brisk and bloody on Tuesday and Wednesday. But this seems to be nothing more than the last stroke of desperate men for revenge, and we may hope that the wearying accounts of misrule and fighting are nearly ended. The Hotel de Ville has been blown up by the insurgents, and fires are raging in various parts of the city. It is reported that Minister Washburne has interceded for amnesty to the communists.

The streets are strewn with insurgent corpses. Desperate fighting still goes on. Two thirds of the Louvre has been burned. Rochefort has been captured.

THE high joints were treated to something to eat (and drink, possibly,) by Cyrus W. Field, the evening before their departure for England. They sailed on Wednesday, the 24th.

MR. THOMAS EARLE, whose attempted abduction of two of his children from the custody of their mother created much excitement and led to his arrest and confinement in the Massachusetts State Lunatic Asylum, at Worcester, several weeks ago, died in that institution on Wednesday morning, the 24th.

THE "big Injuns" in Washington are going around sight-seeing. They have visited the navy yard, been astonished at the big guns and warlike stores, and have so far capitulated to civilization as to purchase black silk hats, which, worn with buffalo-skin robes, moccasins and war-paint, completes a costume more novel than elegant.

THE proposed fight for the championship of the light-weights between Edwards and Collins came to even a more inglorious termination than the Mace-Coburn. They were followed down the Long Island shore by 150 police on a tug, and before they had arranged the preliminaries the whole crowd was captured and taken to the Toombs in New York. Edward's trainer was committed in default of bail, and Judge Dowling informed him that the days of prize fighting were over.

THE second game of base ball of the national championship series, between the Boston nine and the Washington Olympics May 24, resulted in a tie, each nine scoring four and then agreeing to quit, after nine innings. The Bostons scored four runs in the third inning, which was all they did score in the game; the Olympics scored one in their first inning, one in the eight and two in the ninth—and not a single run was earned by either side during the game.

THE Medical Association of the District of Columbia has decided that a black skin incapitates any man from becoming a trustworthy physician, black-balled a negro physician of good standing and character, and then clinched this action by rejecting a resolution to permit members of the association to consult with negro physicians who are not members. The association next proceeded to black-ball one Dr. Cox, because as a member of the board of health, he had consulted with a homœopathist who was a fellow-member. It seems a little odd that allopathic doctors should so constantly play the role of Mrs. Partington sweeping back the Atlantic ocean, and be always resolving "that we are the saints." "No doubt but ye are the people, and wisdom shall die with you."

AN infamous scoundrel, James Rielly alias Orland Valentine, was arrested as a pickpocket in New York, May 24. A contract and a number of letters were found on his person, showing that he had an engagement with a man in Connecticut to send from New York each week to Connecticut five young girls, who, on arriving there, were to be placed in houses of prostitution.

THE finances of Hayti, which have always been in a terrible condition, are now worse off than ever, and a crisis is imminent.

PHOENIX, R. I., had a $100,000 fire on Wednesday, May 24. One man was injured, supposed fatally.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

A few days ago, as Mr. Edward Coolidge, of Chester, was driving a herd of cows through Raymond, one of them, in attempting to pass, by some means gouged out Mr. Coolidge's eye with her horn. Mr. Coolidge had previously lost his other eye, and has a wife and three small children and an aged couple dependent upon him.

A young chap in Chichester went fishing a few nights since, and at a late hour started for his paternal roof. The night proved to be dark; the lad's courage soon gave out; he lost his way, and at last he took to a tree and set up a most unearthly screeching for help. In due course of time assistance arrived, when it was found he was not sixty rods from his home.

The dwelling-house and barn owned by widow Sarah Rundlett, in Campton, was consumed by fire on Friday night. No insurance. Incendiary.

Hon. E. A. Straw of Manchester has been appointed by the President one of the commissioners from New Hampshire for the centennial celebration in 1876 at Philadelphia. Asa P. Cate of Northfield is the other.

The contributions for Exeter Academy amount to nearly $54,000.

The gross receipts of the Northern R. R. last year were $1,063,440.61; expenses $877,567.43. Net income, $185,773.18. The following Directors are chosen: Onslow Stearns, John A. Burnham, George W. Nesmith, Uriel Crocker, Josiah Minot, Joseph W. Clark, Charles F. Choate, all of whom had 4965, being the whole number of votes.

VICE PRESIDENT COLFAX was much better on Thursday.

YALE college boat club has voted not to accept any future challege from Harvard.

JOHN MORAN, the Stoughton murderer, has been found guilty of murder in the second degree.

PRESIDENT GRANT will visit Bangor on the occasion of opening the European & North American Railroad to St. John, N. B., Oct. 11th.

THE Merrimac stables in Boston were burned, with several other buildings, May 24. Fifteen horses were burned, out of 200. Loss $25,000; insurance small.

REFEREES have awarded the daughter of Mr. James M. Burbank, of Saco, $200 and costs for damages caused by injuries received from a dog belonging to Mr. Simon Milliken.

WILLIAM FOSTER, the murderer of Putnam, in New York, has been convicted of murder in the first degree. The jury recommended mercy. Foster received the verdict without any signs of emotion.

WILL the Nashua Gazette give a lucid explanation of its statement that the withdrawal of Senators from the Senate Chamber "would be tantamount to a resignation?" A Senator could not leave while the Senate is in session, long enough to buy a plug of tobacco, could he? Such "logic" is used by the Democratic newspapers of the day, who seem to think their readers destitute of common sense.

REMARKABLE SPECIFIC FOR CANCER. Ben. Perley Poore, the veteran Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal, gives special prominence in his dispatches to a statement of the wonderful success which Dr. D. W. Bliss, a Washington physician, has met with in using a decoction of the bark of the cunderango bush as a specific for cancer. He states that a few pounds of this bark was forwarded by our Minister at Ecuador, where it is found in the interior, and it has produced almost magical results, Mrs. Matthews, the mother of Vice President Colfax, being one of those afflicted by cancer who have been benefited by it. Dr. Bliss regards it as much of a specific in diseases of the blood depending upon the defective condition of the pabulum, as quinine is in fermentive diseases. He has sent his assistant, Dr. Keene, to Ecuador to obtain a supply of this panacea, and expects him back with it about the first of July. Meanwhile he will report to the regular medical journals the result of his experiments.

—A couple of chicken merchants in Troy, named Blake and Gaffney, held a convention over a hen, which each claimed, but being unable to agree upon any line of action, Blake seized a base-ball bat and gave Gaffney three taps on the head, which had the effect to send Gaffney home and Blake to jail.

—A fire proof fence can be made by following these directions: "Make a wash of one part fine sand and one part of wood ashes, well sifted, and three parts lime ground up with oil, and mix them well together. Apply this to the fence with a brush—the first coat thin, the second thick. This adheres to the boards or planks so strongly as to resist either an iron tool or fire, and is, besides, impenetrable by water."

—Thiers' mansion in Paris was worth $400,000.

—A colored man was arraigned before one of the Camden courts, a short time since, charged with the larceny of some wood. When called on to plead to the indictment he said:—"I bought the wood, and dat I knows I did; but to save my soul from the gallis I cannot tell the man I bought it of, kase I bought it in the dark. I guess I'll plead guilty."

—The late Dr. Nelson, who wrote the "Cause and Cure of Infidelity," also wrote the familiar hymn, "My days are gliding swiftly by." To many the fact will have peculiar interest that it was written in a Missouri swamp, close by the Mississippi river, while the Doctor was hiding from the blood-hounds of the Fugitive Slave Law, until he could cross the river into Illinois.

The Household Tonic.

The efficacy of Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters as a specific for recruiting the enfeebled body and cheering the desponding mind has passed into a proverb. In the United States, where this marvelous tonic has borne down all opposition and eclipsed all rivalry, the demand for it has annually increased in a heavier and heavier ratio for years, until at last, the regular sales of this preparation exceed those of all other stomachics combined. Eminent members of the medical profession and hospital surgeons without number have candidly admitted that the pharmacopœia of the faculty contains no prescription that produces such beneficial effects in dyspepsia, general debility and nervous diseases, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. To use the language of a venerable physician of New York, "The Bitters are the purest stimulant and the safest tonic we have. But the uses of the great vegetable antidote are much more comprehensive than such praise would imply. As a preparatory antidote to epidemic disease, a genial stimulant, a promoter of constitutional vigor, an appetizer, a stomachic, and a remedy for nervous debility, no medical preparation has ever attained the reputation of Hostetter's Bitters. It is the household tonic of the American people, and in all human probability will be so for centuries to come. The magnates of science recognize its merits; and that it is emphatically the medicine of the masses, is proved by its vast and ever increasing sales."
